Members of the Board,
I am submitting this comment to oppose the proposed revisions to the minimum qualifications and experience for the Director, Wellness and Mental Health position.
Based on the accompanying organizational chart, this role is identified as the district's mental health leadership position. The title itself, Director, Wellness and Mental Health, establishes clear responsibility for leadership, oversight, and accountability of the district's mental health system.
The responsibilities assigned to this position include oversight of mental health services, prevention and intervention initiatives, compliance with state and federal mental health mandates, and coordination with healthcare providers and state agencies. These are not general administrative functions; they require specialized mental health knowledge, training, and professional preparation.
Despite this, the proposed revisions weaken the minimum qualifications by allowing candidates without a formal mental health background, while making mental health credentials and certification merely preferred. This creates a clear misalignment between the role's title, its responsibilities, and the qualifications required to perform it effectively.
A Director of Wellness and Mental Health must have the professional expertise necessary to ensure fidelity to evidence based practices, accurately interpret mental health requirements, and provide credible leadership to district and school based mental health professionals. Educational leadership experience may support the role, but it cannot replace foundational mental health training and a relevant graduate degree.
For these reasons, I respectfully urge the Board to reject the proposed changes to the minimum qualifications and ensure that this position requires a mental health background, training, and degree consistent with its role, responsibilities, and impact on student well being.
Thank you for your consideration.

2.7.2 IT Security. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary within this Agreement, VENDOR shall:

2.7.2.1 Ensure that, at all times, all of its employees who have access to any education records during the term of their employment shall abide strictly by its obligations under this Agreement, and that access to education records is limited only to its employees that require the information to carry out the responsibilities under this Agreement and shall provide said list of employees to SBBC upon request; and

2.7.2.2 Safeguard each education record through administrative, physical and technological standards to ensure that adequate controls are in place to protect the education records and information in accordance with FERPA's privacy requirements; and

2.7.2.3 Notify the SBBC Information Security & Assurance Director immediately upon discovery of an electronic breach of confidentiality of education records by telephone at 754-321-0300, and email at privacy@browardschools.com; and take all necessary notification steps as may be required by federal and Florida law, including, but not limited to, those required by Section 501.171, Florida Statutes; and

2.7.2.4 Fully cooperate with appropriate SBBC employees, including Privacy Officer and/or Information Technology employees to resolve any privacy investigations and concerns in a timely manner; and

2.7.2.6 Be responsible for any fines or penalties for failure to meet breach notice requirements pursuant to federal and/or Florida law; and

2.7.2.7 Provide SBBC with the name and contact information of VENDOR's employee who shall serve as SBBC's primary security contact and shall be available to assist SBBC in resolving obligations associated with a security breach of confidentiality of education records; and

2.7.2.8 Purge education records from any media once the media is no longer in use or is to be disposed; and

2.7.2.9 Return, at SBBC's request, all education records to SBBC (at no additional cost to SBBC and in a format that is compatible with SBBC's information technology systems) upon termination of this Agreement or purge the education records in compliance with the applicable Florida Retention Schedules and provide SBBC with a written acknowledgment of said disposition. All education records remain the property of SBBC and any party contracting with SBBC serves solely as custodian of such information pursuant to this Agreement and claims no ownership or property rights thereto.

2.7.3 Liability. VENDOR shall, for itself, its officers, employees, agents, representatives, contractors, or subcontractors, fully indemnify and hold harmless SBBC and its officers and employees for any violation of this section, including, without limitation, defending SBBC and its officers and employees against any complaint, administrative or judicial proceeding, payment of any penalty imposed upon SBBC, or payment of any and all costs, damages, judgments, or losses incurred by or imposed upon SBBC arising out of a breach of this covenant by the party, or an officer, employee, agent, representative, contractor, or sub-contractor of the party to the extent that the party or an officer, employee, agent, representative, contractor, or sub-contractor of the party shall either intentionally or negligently violate the provisions of this section or of Sections 1002.22 and/or 1002.221, Florida Statutes.

2.7.4 The obligations under this section shall survive the termination of all performance required or conclusion of all obligations existing under this Agreement.

2.10 Assessment of Data Protection Controls.

2.10.1 VENDOR or any of VENDOR's subcontractors with access to SBBC data shall provide an attestation stating VENDOR and/or VENDOR's subcontractors with access to SBBC data have undergone a third-party assessment of their cybersecurity controls and that the cybersecurity controls being used comply with acceptable cybersecurity standards. This attestation shall be provided to SBBC within ten (10) calendar days after the Effective Date of this Agreement and before the commencement of services by VENDOR or any of VENDOR's subcontractors with access to SBBC data under this Agreement.

2.10.2 At a minimum, the audit shall show what controls are utilized for all of the following actions:

2.10.2.1 Protecting SBBC against unauthorized access, unauthorized disclosure, and damage.

2.10.2.2 Reducing the risk of compromise of the availability, integrity, confidentiality, and privacy of the provided SBBC data.

2.10.2.3 Ensuring SBBC student and/or employee personal information is collected, used, retained, disclosed, and disposed of in a manner to meet VENDOR's objectives while also ensuring the data is protected from unauthorized use or disclosure.

2.10.2.4 Monitoring compliance with established security controls.

2.10.3 VENDOR and/or VENDOR's subcontractors with access to SBBC data under this Agreement shall, at minimum, annually complete a third-party assessment of their cybersecurity controls showing compliance with acceptable cybersecurity standards. VENDOR shall provide SBBC an attestation of continued compliance by VENDOR and/or VENDOR's subcontractors with access to SBBC data within ten (10) business days of written request by SBBC.

2.11 Inspection of VENDOR's Records by SBBC. VENDOR shall establish and maintain books, records, and documents (including electronic storage media) related to this Agreement. All of VENDOR's Records, regardless of the form in which they are kept, shall be open to inspection and subject to audit, inspection, examination, evaluation and reproduction, during normal working hours, by SBBC agent or its authorized representative. For the purpose of such audits, inspections, examinations, evaluations, and reproductions, SBBC's agent or authorized representative shall have access to VENDOR's Records from the Effective Date of this Agreement, for the duration of the term of the Agreement, and until the later of five (5) years after the termination of this Agreement or five (5) years after the date of final payment by SBBC to VENDOR pursuant to this Agreement. SBBC's agent or its authorized representative shall provide VENDOR with reasonable advance notice (not to exceed two (2) weeks) of any intended audit, inspection, examination, evaluation, and reproduction. SBBC's agent or its authorized representative shall have access to the VENDOR's facilities and to any and all records related to the Agreement, and shall be provided adequate and appropriate workspace in order to exercise the rights permitted under this section. VENDOR shall comply and cooperate immediately with any inspections, reviews, investigations, or audits deemed necessary by the Florida Office of the Inspector General or by any other state or federal officials.

2.12 Notice. When any of the parties desire to give notice to the other, such notice must be in writing, sent by U.S. Mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the party for whom it is intended at the place last specified; the place for giving notice shall remain such until it is changed by written notice in compliance with the provisions of this paragraph. For the present, the parties designate the following as the respective places for giving notice:

To SBBC:	Superintendent of Schools The School Board of Broward County, Florida 600 Southeast Third Avenue Fort Lauderdale, Florida 33301
With a Copy to:	CTACE Curriculum Supervisor The School Board of Broward County, Florida 1701 NW 23rd Avenue Fort Lauderdale, FL 33311
To VENDOR:	Tiggbee, LLC 22431 Antonio Pkwy, A160-202 Rancho Santa Margarita, California 92688

2.13 Affidavit Regarding the Use of Coercion for Labor and Services. Pursuant to Section 787.06(13), Florida Statutes, VENDOR, when executing, renewing, or extending an agreement with SBBC must provide an affidavit signed by an officer or representative of VENDOR under penalty of perjury stating that VENDOR does not use coercion for labor or services as defined in that statute. The submission of a false affidavit may subject VENDOR to civil penalties, attorney's fees, and/or costs. Any Agreement with SBBC shall be terminated by SBBC without recourse if VENDOR is found to have submitted a false affidavit. Any delays in delivery or service under this Agreement arising out of, as a result of, or in connection with VENDOR's use of coercion for labor or services as defined by Section 787.06(13), Florida Statutes, is not a Force Majeure event under this Agreement.

2.14 Certification Regarding Scrutinized Activities. Section 287.135(2)(a), Florida Statutes, prohibits a company from bidding on, submitting a proposal for, or entering into or renewing an Agreement for goods or services of any amount if, at the time of contracting or renewal, the company is on the Scrutinized Companies that Boycott Israel List, created pursuant to Section 215.4725, Florida Statutes, or is engaged in a boycott of Israel. Section 287.135(2)(b), Florida Statutes, further prohibits a company from bidding on, submitting a proposal for, or entering into or renewing an Agreement for goods or services over One Million Dollars and 00/100 Cents ($1,000,000.00) if, at the time of contracting or renewal, the company is on either the Scrutinized Companies with Activities in Sudan List or the Scrutinized Companies with Activities in the Iran Petroleum Energy Sector List, both created pursuant to Section 215.473, Florida Statutes, or the company is engaged in business operations in Cuba or Syria. Entering into this Agreement constitutes certification by VENDOR that it is not listed on any of the following: (a) the Scrutinized Companies that Boycott Israel List, (b) Scrutinized Companies with Activities in Sudan List, or (c) the Scrutinized Companies with Activities in the Iran Petroleum Energy Sector List. VENDOR further certifies that it is not engaged in a boycott of Israel or engaged in business operations in Cuba or Syria. VENDOR acknowledges that pursuant to Section 287.135, Florida Statutes, the submission of a false certification may subject it to civil penalties, attorney's fees, and/or costs. VENDOR further understands that any Agreement with SBBC for goods or services of any amount may be terminated at SBBC's option if VENDOR (a) is found to have submitted a false certification, (b) has been placed on the List of Scrutinized Companies that Boycott Israel, or (c) is engaged in a boycott of Israel. And, in addition to the foregoing, if the amount of the Agreement is One Million Dollars and 00/100 Cents ($1,000,000.00) or more, the Agreement may be terminated at SBBC's option if VENDOR is found to have submitted a false certification, has been placed on the Scrutinized Companies with Activities in Sudan List or the Scrutinized Companies with Activities in the Iran Petroleum Energy Sector List, or has been engaged in business operations in Cuba or Syria.

2.15 Background Screening. VENDOR shall comply with all requirements of Sections 1012.32, 1012.465, 1012.467, and 1012.468, Florida Statutes, and all of its personnel who (a) are to be permitted access to school grounds when students are present, (b) will have direct contact with students, or (c) have access or control of school funds, will successfully complete the background screening required by the referenced statutes and meet the standards established by the statutes. Personnel who are subject to background screening include all of VENDOR's non-exempt employees, representatives, agents, and sub-contractors performing duties under this Agreement who meet any of the three (3) descriptions listed above. This background screening will be conducted by SBBC in advance of VENDOR or its personnel providing any services under this Agreement. VENDOR shall bear the cost of acquiring the background screening required by Section 1012.32, Florida Statutes, and any fee imposed by the Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) to maintain the fingerprints provided with respect to VENDOR and its personnel. The parties agree that the failure of VENDOR to perform any of the duties described in this section shall constitute a material breach of this Agreement entitling SBBC to terminate this Agreement immediately for cause and with no opportunity required to permit VENDOR to cure such default and no further responsibilities or duties for SBBC to perform under this Agreement. VENDOR agrees to indemnify and hold harmless SBBC, its officers and employees from any liability in the form of physical or mental injury, death or property damage resulting from VENDOR's failure to comply with the requirements of this section or with Sections 1012.32, 1012.465, 1012.467, and 1012.468, Florida Statutes. SBBC issued identification badges must be worn at all times when on SBBC property or when performing services for SBBC and must be worn where they are visible and easily readable.

2.16 Public Records. Any party contracting with SBBC is required to (a) keep and maintain available for public inspection any records that pertain to services rendered under this Agreement; (b) provide the public with access to public records on the same terms and conditions that SBBC would provide such records and at a cost that does not exceed the cost provided in Chapter 119, Florida Statutes or as otherwise provided by law; (c) ensure that public records that are exempt or confidential and exempt from public records disclosure requirements are not disclosed except as authorized by law; and (d) meet all requirements for retaining public records and transfer, at no cost to SBBC, all public records in that party's possession upon termination of its Agreement with SBBC and destroy any duplicate public records that are exempt or confidential and exempt from public records disclosure requirements. All of such party's records stored electronically must be provided to SBBC in a format that is compatible with SBBC's information technology systems. Each party shall maintain its own respective records and documents associated with this Agreement in accordance with the records retention requirements applicable to public records. Each party is responsible for compliance with any public documents request served upon it pursuant to Section 119.07, Florida Statutes, and any resultant award of attorney's fees for non-compliance with that law. Each party acknowledges that this Agreement and all attachments thereto are public records and do not constitute trade secrets.

IF A PARTY TO THIS AGREEMENT HAS QUESTIONS REGARDING THE APPLICATION OF CHAPTER 119, FLORIDA STATUTES, TO ITS DUTY TO PROVIDE PUBLIC RECORDS RELATING TO THE AGREEMENT, CONTACT THE CUSTODIAN OF PUBLIC RECORDS AT 754-321-1900, RECORDREQUESTS@BROWARDSCHOOLS.COM, RISK MANAGEMENT DEPARTMENT, PUBLIC RECORDS DIVISION, 600 SOUTHEAST THIRD AVENUE, FORT LAUDERDALE, FLORIDA 33301.

2.17 Proprietary Information.

2.17.1 Any documents or materials submitted to SBBC shall be open for inspection by any person in accordance with Section 119.07, Florida Statutes, except as otherwise exempted from disclosure by applicable law. A party contracting with SBBC must clearly mark, label, designate, or identify any portions of any documents or materials it provides to SBBC which are claimed to be confidential and exempt from public inspection, provided that the confidential or exempt portions of such documents or materials are clearly marked with specific citations of law that provide the asserted confidentiality or exemption. A contracting party's failure to identify any confidential or exempt portions of documents or materials or to specify the law establishing their confidential or exempt status is a waiver of confidential or exempt status for any such unidentified or unsupported portions of any documents or materials.

2.17.2 If SBBC receives a public record request for documents or materials in its custody under this Agreement which have been properly marked as confidential or exempt, SBBC will notify the contracting party of the public records request. The notice shall state that the requested materials will be produced by SBBC to the requesting party within ten (10) calendar days of the date of the written notification, unless the contracting party has initiated an action at its sole cost and expense in a court of competent jurisdiction to preclude the release of the requested materials. The contracting party shall name the party requesting the documents or materials as a defendant and will not name SBBC as a party to the action, but will provide SBBC with notice of such proceedings. The contracting party agrees to indemnify SBBC for any costs, expenses, and attorney's fees SBBC may incur with regard to any legal proceedings and judgments that may arise from the request for the contracting party's public records that are subject to claims of confidential or exempt status. A failure to timely initiate the legal action required by this paragraph is a waiver of any claim that the requested information is confidential and exempt from public disclosure. The contracting party waives any cause of action against SBBC for the release of materials pursuant to a public records request except for any claims based upon the intentional or grossly negligent conduct of any employee of SBBC.

2.18 Liability. This section survives the termination of all performance or obligations under this Agreement and is fully binding until such time as any proceeding brought on account of this Agreement is barred by any applicable statute of limitations.

2.18.1 By SBBC. SBBC agrees to be fully responsible up to the limits of Section 768.28, Florida Statutes, for its acts of negligence, or its employees' acts of negligence when acting within the scope of their employment and agrees to be liable, up to the limits of Section 768.28, Florida Statutes, for any damages resulting from said negligence.

2.18.2 By VENDOR. VENDOR agrees to indemnify, hold harmless and defend SBBC, its agents, servants and employees from any and all third party claims, judgments, costs, and expenses including, but not limited to, reasonable attorney's fees, reasonable investigative and discovery costs, court costs, and all other sums which SBBC, its agents, servants, and employees may pay or become obligated to pay on account of any, all and every claim or demand, or assertion of liability, or any claim or action founded thereon, arising or alleged to have arisen out of or due to the products, goods, or services furnished by VENDOR, its agents, servants, or employees; the equipment of VENDOR, its agents, servants, or employees while such equipment is on premises owned or controlled by SBBC; or the negligence of VENDOR or the negligence of VENDOR's agents when acting within the scope of their employment, whether such claims, judgments, costs, and expenses are for damages, damage to property including SBBC's property, and injury or death of any person whether employed by VENDOR, SBBC, or otherwise.

2.19 Insurance Requirements. VENDOR shall comply with the following insurance requirements throughout the term of this Agreement:

2.19.1 General Liability. VENDOR shall have and maintain General Liability insurance with limits of not less than $1,000,000.00 per occurrence for Bodily Injury/ Property Damage; $1,000,000.00 General Aggregate; and limits of not less than $1,000,000.00 for Products/Completed Operations Aggregate.

2.19.3 Verification of Coverage. Proof of the required insurance must be furnished by VENDOR to SBBC's Risk Management Department by Certificate of Insurance within fifteen (15) calendar days of the date of this Agreement. All certificates (and any required documents) must be received and approved by SBBC's Risk Management Department before any work commences to permit VENDOR to remedy any deficiencies. After the award, you will receive an email with a link to upload (drag and drop) your certificate of insurance.

2.19.4 Required Conditions. Liability policies must include the following terms on the Certificate of Insurance:

2.19.4.1 The School Board of Broward County, Florida, its members, officers, employees, and agents are added as additional insureds.

2.19.4.2 All liability policies are primary of all other valid and collectable coverage maintained by The School Board of Broward County, Florida.

2.19.4.3 Certificate Holder: 600 SE 3rd Ave.-11th Floor, Fort Lauderdale, FL 33301.

2.19.5 Cancellation of Insurance. VENDOR is prohibited from providing services under this Agreement with SBBC without first obtaining the minimum required insurance coverage and must notify SBBC within two (2) business days if required insurance is cancelled.

2.19.6 SBBC reserves the right to review, reject or accept any required policies of insurance, including limits, coverages, or endorsements herein throughout the term of this Agreement.

2.20 Equal Opportunity Provision. The parties agree that no person shall be subjected to discrimination because of age, race, color, disability, gender identity, gender expression, marital status, national origin, religion, sex or sexual orientation in the performance of the parties' respective duties, responsibilities and obligations under this Agreement.

2.26 Annual Appropriation. SBBC's performance and obligations under this Agreement is contingent upon an annual budgetary appropriation by its governing body. If SBBC does not allocate funds for the payment of services or products to be provided under this Agreement, this Agreement may be terminated by SBBC at the end of the period for which funds have been allocated. SBBC shall notify the other party at the earliest possible time before such termination. No penalty accrues to SBBC if this provision is exercised, and SBBC is not obligated or liable for any future payments due or any damages as a result of termination under this section.

2.27 Excess Funds. Any party receiving funds paid by SBBC under this Agreement agrees to promptly notify SBBC of any funds erroneously received from SBBC upon the discovery of such erroneous payment or overpayment. Any such excess funds shall be refunded to SBBC, together with any applicable statutory interest.

ARTICLE 3 – GENERAL CONDITIONS

3.1 No Waiver of Sovereign Immunity. Nothing herein is intended to serve as a waiver of sovereign immunity by any agency or political subdivision to which sovereign immunity may be applicable or of any rights or limits to liability existing under Section 768.28, Florida Statutes. This section survives the termination of all performance or obligations under this Agreement and is fully binding until such time as any proceeding brought on account of this Agreement is barred by any applicable statute of limitations.

3.2 No Third-Party Beneficiaries. The parties expressly acknowledge that it is not their intent to create or confer any rights or obligations under this Agreement in or upon any third person or entity. None of the parties intend to directly or substantially benefit a third-party by this Agreement. The parties agree that there are no third-party beneficiaries to this Agreement and that no third-party is entitled to assert a claim against any of the parties based upon this Agreement. Nothing herein shall be construed as consent by an agency or political subdivision of the State of Florida to be sued by third parties in any matter arising out of any Agreement.

3.3 Independent Contractor. The parties to this Agreement are acting in the capacity of independent contractors and not as an officer, employee, or agent of one another. Neither party or its respective agents, employees, subcontractors, or assignees shall represent to others that it has the authority to bind the other party unless specifically authorized in writing to do so. No right to SBBC retirement, leave benefits, or any other benefits of SBBC employees exists as a result of the performance of any duties or responsibilities under this Agreement. SBBC is not responsible for Social Security, withholding taxes, contributions to unemployment compensation funds or insurance for the other party or the other party's officers, employees, agents, subcontractors, or assignees.

3.4 Default. The parties agree that, if either party is in default of its obligations under this Agreement, the non-defaulting party shall provide to the defaulting party (30) calendar days' written notice to cure the default. However, if said default cannot be cured within said thirty (30) calendar day period and the defaulting party is diligently attempting in good faith to cure same, the time period will be reasonably extended to allow the defaulting party additional cure time. Upon the occurrence of a default that is not cured during the applicable cure period, this Agreement may be terminated by the non-defaulting party upon thirty (30) calendar days' notice. This remedy is not intended to be exclusive of any other remedy, and each and every such remedy is cumulative and in addition to every other remedy now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or by statute or otherwise. No single or partial exercise by any party of any right, power, or remedy hereunder precludes any other or future exercise thereof. Nothing in this section shall be construed to preclude termination for convenience pursuant to section 3.5.

3.5 Termination. This Agreement may be terminated with or without cause by SBBC during the term hereof upon thirty (30) calendar days' written notice to the other parties of its desire to terminate this Agreement. In the event of such termination, SBBC is entitled to a pro rata refund of any pre-paid amounts for any services scheduled to be delivered after the effective date of such termination. SBBC has no liability for any property left on SBBC's property by any party to this Agreement after the termination of this Agreement. Any party contracting with SBBC under this Agreement agrees that any of its property placed upon SBBC's facilities pursuant to this Agreement shall be removed within ten (10) business days following the termination, conclusion, or cancellation of this Agreement and that any such property remaining upon SBBC's facilities after that time shall be deemed to be abandoned, that title to such property shall pass to SBBC, and that SBBC may use or dispose of such property as SBBC deems fit and appropriate.

3.6 Compliance with Laws. Each party shall comply with all applicable federal, state and local laws, SBBC policies, codes, rules, and regulations in performing its duties, responsibilities, and obligations pursuant to this Agreement.

3.7 Place of Performance. All of SBBC's obligations under the terms of this Agreement are reasonably susceptible of being performed in Broward County, Florida and are payable and performable in Broward County, Florida.

3.8 Governing Law and Venue. This Agreement shall be interpreted and construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Florida. Any disputes, controversies, or legal problems arising out of this Agreement and any action involving the enforcement or interpretation of any rights hereunder shall be submitted exclusively to the jurisdiction of the State courts of the Seventeenth Judicial Circuit of Broward County, Florida or to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida. Each party agrees and admits that the state courts of the Seventeenth Judicial Circuit of Broward County, Florida or the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida has jurisdiction over it for any dispute arising under this Agreement.

3.9 Entirety of Agreement. This document incorporates and includes all prior negotiations, correspondence, conversations, agreements, and understandings applicable to the matters contained herein and the parties agree that there are no commitments, agreements or understandings concerning the subject matter of this Agreement that are not contained in this document. Accordingly, the parties agree that no deviation from the terms hereof is predicated upon any prior representations or agreements, whether oral or written.

3.10 Binding Effect. This Agreement is binding upon and inures to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns.

3.11 Assignment. Neither this Agreement nor any interest herein may be assigned, transferred, or encumbered by any party without the prior written consent of the other party. There shall be no partial assignment of interests under this Agreement including, without limitation, the partial assignment of any right to receive payments from SBBC.

3.12 Captions. The captions, section designations, section numbers, article numbers, titles, and headings appearing in this Agreement are inserted only as a matter of convenience, have no substantive meaning, and in no way define, limit, construe, or describe the scope or intent of such articles or sections of this Agreement, nor in any way affect this Agreement and shall not be construed to create a conflict with the provisions of this Agreement.

3.13 Severability. If any one or more of the sections, paragraphs, sentences, clauses, or provisions contained in this Agreement is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, illegal, unlawful, unenforceable, or void in any respect, such does not affect the remaining portions of this Agreement and the same remain in full force and effect as if such invalid, illegal, unlawful, unenforceable, or void sections, paragraphs, sentences, clauses, or provisions had never been included.

3.14 Preparation of Agreement. The parties acknowledge that they have sought and obtained whatever competent advice and counsel necessary for them to form a full and complete understanding of all rights and obligations herein and that the preparation of this Agreement has been their joint effort. The language agreed to herein expresses their mutual intent and the resulting document shall not, solely as a matter of judicial construction, be construed more severely against one of the parties than the other.

3.15 Amendments. No modification, amendment, or alteration in the terms or conditions contained herein is effective unless contained in a written document prepared with the same or similar formality as this Agreement and executed by each party hereto.

3.16 Waiver. The parties agree that each requirement, duty and obligation set forth herein is substantial and important to the formation of this Agreement and, therefore, is a material term hereof. Any party's failure to enforce any provision of this Agreement is not a waiver of such provision or modification of this Agreement unless the waiver is in writing and signed by the party waiving such provision. A written waiver is only effective as to the specific instance for which it is obtained and is not a continuing or future waiver.

3.17 Force Majeure. Neither party is obligated to perform any duty, requirement, or obligation under this Agreement if such performance is prevented by fire, hurricane, earthquake, explosion, wars, sabotage, accident, flood, acts of God, strikes, or other labor disputes, riot or civil commotions, epidemics, pandemics, government regulations, and the issuance or extension of existing government orders of the United States, the State of Florida, or local county and municipal governing bodies, or by reason of any other matter or condition beyond the control of either party, and which cannot be overcome by reasonable diligence and without unusual expense ("Force Majeure"). In no event shall a lack of funds on the part of either party be deemed Force Majeure.

3.18 Rights and Remedies. The duties and obligations imposed by this Agreement and the rights and remedies available thereunder are in addition to and not a limitation of any duties, obligations, rights and remedies otherwise imposed or available by law.

3.19 Survival. All representations and warranties made herein, indemnification obligations, obligations to reimburse SBBC, obligations to maintain and allow inspection and audit of records and property, obligations to maintain the confidentiality of records, reporting requirements, and obligations to return public funds survive the termination of this Agreement.

3.20 Agreement Administration. SBBC has delegated authority to the Superintendent of Schools or her/his designee to take any actions necessary to implement and administer this Agreement.

3.21 Counterparts and Multiple Originals. This Agreement may be executed in multiple originals, and may be executed in counterparts, each of which is an original, but all of which, taken together, shall constitute one and the same Agreement.

3.22 Authority. Each person signing this Agreement on behalf of either party individually warrants that he or she has full legal power to execute this Agreement on behalf of the party for whom he or she is signing, and to bind and obligate such party with respect to all provisions contained in this Agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have made and executed this Agreement upon the date of the last signature below.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

First Amendment to the Agreement with Capella University, LLC.

Board Meeting Date: June 9, 2026

Requested Action: Approve the First Amendment to extend the agreement between Capella University, LLC and the School Board of Broward County, Florida (SBBC) for one additional year to continue the cooperative program for the field placement of selected students.

General Information

The following information outlines the governing authority, districtwide implications, historical background, strategic alignment with the 2027 goals and guardrails, and the anticipated measurable outcomes and return on investment related to this agenda item.

District-zone impact/Board Member: District-wide
School Board Policy Requirement	• Not applicable
Statutory Requirement	• Not applicable
If the School Board votes "Yes"	• SBBC will be able to partner with Capella University, LLC for an additional year to provide student teaching/internship, practicum, and/or field experience placements, supporting the recruitment of future school counseling and school psychology professions.
If the School Board votes "No"	• SBBC will not extend the agreement with Capella University, LLC for an additional year. This decision will impede our ability to accommodate internship, practicum, and/or field experience placement requests, which will limit opportunities to recruit future school counseling and school psychology professions.
Alignment to the 2027 Strategic Goals and Guardrails	• Guardrail 3: School Support
Measurable Outcome(s)/Return on Investment	• This partnership will expand clinical and internship opportunities for Capella University teacher candidates while supporting SBBC's efforts to identify and recruit highly qualified future educators. Outcomes will be measured by the number of candidates placed in Broward County schools and the percentage who transition into instructional positions within the District.

Background/History

An agreement between a college or university and SBBC is required to place any internship, practicum, or field experience participants. SBBC partners with colleges and universities in Florida and other states to provide undergraduate and graduate students with meaningful, hands-on experiences as they pursue degrees across various majors and fields of study. Through these partnerships, students gain practical experience in real-world educational settings while completing degree requirements. SBBC shall obtain written consent from each participating student's parent or legal guardian, or from the student if the student is 18 years of age or older, prior to disclosing any education records for the purposes outlined in this Agreement.

School Impact, Stakeholder Engagement, and Implementation Considerations

This section outlines how the proposed item will impact schools, including the selection and prioritization process where applicable, as well as stakeholder and end-user input. It also addresses technology and capital asset life cycles, replacement planning, and any additional operational details necessary to provide the Board with a comprehensive understanding of implementation.

Impact on Schools	Field experience enables interns to improve their strategies and adapt to the varied needs of students, resulting in more effective learning experiences. As these interns introduce innovative approaches and new ideas in the classroom, they foster a culture of continuous improvement within the schools. This interaction enhances the interns' professional development and positively impacts student engagement and learning outcomes, which can strengthen the overall effectiveness of educational programs in Broward County.
School Selection /Prioritization	The field experience students may choose up to three schools for their placement, and SBBC schools can also request the placement of these students.
Community/ Stakeholder Engagement	Stakeholder engagement for Field Experience involves collaboration among college interns, SBBC school counseling supervisors, university supervisors, and consideration of SBBC students' needs. Field placements are determined based on college interns' input regarding program requirements and the support needed to achieve their academic goals. SBBC staff provides feedback on mentoring strategies to maintain quality service. University supervisors work closely with SBBC staff to ensure compliance with statutory and district policies while supporting effective supervision. The interests of SBBC students are represented through teacher and administrator feedback to safeguard confidentiality and maintain a positive learning environment. This collaborative approach to placement procedures, supervision guidelines, and professional development support ensures the successful implementation of the Field Experience program.

End-User Input	The Field Experience Program prioritizes SBBC students by ensuring placements provide high-quality support in a safe and positive learning environment. Placement decisions and supervision are aligned to student learning needs, confidentiality requirements, and district standards, resulting in well-supported pre-service interns who positively contribute to student outcomes.

NSU acknowledges that pursuant to Section 287.135, Florida Statutes, the submission of a false certification may subject it to civil penalties, attorney's fees, and/or costs. NSU further understands that any Agreement with SBBC for goods or services of any amount may be terminated at SBBC's option if NSU (a) is found to have submitted a false certification, (b) has been placed on the List of Scrutinized Companies that Boycott Israel, or (c) is engaged in a boycott of Israel. And, in addition to the foregoing, if the amount of the Agreement is One Million Dollars and 00/100 Cents ($1,000,000.00) or more, the Agreement may be terminated at SBBC's option if NSU is found to have submitted a false certification, has been placed on the Scrutinized Companies with Activities in Sudan List or the Scrutinized Companies with Activities in the Iran Petroleum Energy Sector List, or has been engaged in business operations in Cuba or Syria.

2.14 Background Screening. NSU agrees to comply with all requirements of Sections 1012.32 and 1012.465, Florida Statutes, as applicable. Dual Enrollment students attending courses at NSU are deemed to be post-secondary students under the Florida Department of Education's interpretation of the Jessica Lunsford Act. If applicable, required background screenings will be conducted by SBBC in advance of NSU or its personnel providing services on SBBC school grounds. SBBC shall bear the cost of acquiring such background screening required by Section 1012.32, Florida Statutes, and any fee imposed by the Florida Department of Law Enforcement to maintain the fingerprints provided with respect to NSU and its personnel. The Parties agree that the failure of NSU to perform any of the duties described in this section shall constitute a material breach of this Agreement entitling SBBC to terminate immediately with no further responsibilities or duties to perform under this Agreement. Nothing herein shall be construed as a waiver by SBBC or NSU of sovereign immunity or of any rights or limits to liability existing under Section 768.28, Florida Statutes.

2.15 Public Records. Any Party contracting with SBBC is required to (a) keep and maintain available for public inspection any records that pertain to services rendered under this Agreement; (b) provide the public with access to public records on the same terms and conditions that SBBC would provide such records and at a cost that does not exceed the cost provided in Chapter 119, Florida Statutes or as otherwise provided by law; (c) ensure that public records that are exempt or confidential and exempt from public records disclosure requirements are not disclosed except as authorized by law; and (d) meet all requirements for retaining public records and transfer, at no cost to SBBC, all public records in that Party's possession upon termination of its Agreement with SBBC for the applicable retention period and destroy any duplicate public records that are exempt or confidential and exempt from public records disclosure requirements. All of such Party's records stored electronically must be provided to SBBC in a format that is compatible with SBBC's information technology systems. Each Party shall maintain its own respective records and documents associated with this Agreement in accordance with the records retention requirements applicable to public records. Each Party is responsible for compliance with any public documents request served upon it pursuant to Section 119.07, Florida Statutes, and any resultant award of attorney's fees to the extent of such Party's non-compliance with that law. Each Party acknowledges that this Agreement and all attachments thereto are public records and do not constitute trade secrets.

IF A PARTY TO THIS AGREEMENT HAS QUESTIONS REGARDING THE APPLICATION OF CHAPTER 119, FLORIDA STATUTES, TO ITS DUTY TO PROVIDE PUBLIC RECORDS RELATING TO THE AGREEMENT, CONTACT THE CUSTODIAN OF PUBLIC RECORDS AT 754-321-2300, OPTION 5, RECORDREQUESTS@BROWARDSCHOOLS.COM, LEGISLATIVE AFFAIRS, PUBLIC RECORDS DIVISION, 600 SOUTHEAST THIRD AVENUE, FORT LAUDERDALE, FLORIDA 33301.

2.16 Proprietary Information.

2.16.1 Any documents or materials submitted to SBBC shall be open for inspection by any person in accordance with Section 119.07, Florida Statutes, except as otherwise exempted from disclosure by applicable law. A Party contracting with SBBC must clearly mark, label, designate, or identify entire documents or materials, or any portions of any documents or materials, it provides to SBBC which are claimed to be confidential and exempt from public inspection, provided that the confidential or exempt portions of such documents or materials are clearly marked with specific citations of law that provide the asserted confidentiality or exemption. A contracting Party's failure to identify any confidential or exempt portions of documents or materials or to specify the law establishing their confidential or exempt status is a waiver of confidential or exempt status for any such unidentified or unsupported portions of any documents or materials.

Docusign Envelope ID: 44B6B31C-2326-8413-832A-A38DABE98ADC

2.16.2 If SBBC receives a public record request for documents or materials in its custody under this Agreement which have been properly marked as confidential or exempt, SBBC will notify the contracting Party of the public records request. The notice shall state that the requested materials will be produced by SBBC to the requesting Party within ten (10) calendar days of the date of the written notification, unless the contracting Party has initiated an action at its sole cost and expense in a court of competent jurisdiction to preclude the release of the requested materials. In connection with any such action filed, the contracting Party shall name the Party requesting the documents or materials as a defendant and will not name SBBC as a Party to the action but will provide SBBC with notice of such proceedings. The contracting Party agrees to be responsible for any costs, expenses, and reasonable attorney's fees SBBC may incur with regard to any legal proceedings and judgments that may arise from the request for the contracting Party's public records that are subject to claims of confidential or exempt status. A failure to timely initiate the legal action required by this paragraph is a waiver of any claim that the requested information is confidential and exempt from public disclosure. The contracting Party waives any cause of action against SBBC for the release of materials pursuant to a public records request except for any claims based upon the intentional, negligent or grossly negligent conduct of any employee of SBBC.

2.17 Liability. To the extent permitted by Florida law, each Party agrees to be fully responsible for its acts of negligence or its agent's acts of negligence when acting within the course and scope of their employment under this Agreement. This section survives the termination of all performance or obligations under this Agreement and is fully binding until such time as any proceeding brought on account of this Agreement is barred by any applicable statute of limitations.

2.17.1 By SBBC. SBBC agrees to be fully responsible up to the limits of Section 768.28, Florida Statutes, for its acts of negligence, or its employees' acts of negligence when acting within the scope of their employment and agrees to be liable, up to the limits of Section 768.28, Florida Statutes, as worded or may be amended hereafter, for any damages resulting from said negligence.

2.17.2 By NSU. To the extent permitted by any Florida law and/or federal regulation, NSU agrees to be fully responsible for its acts of negligence or its agent's acts of negligence when acting within the course and scope of its employment under this Agreement, up to the limits of the required insurance limits stated in Section 2.18 below.

2.18.5 Verification of Coverage. Proof of the required insurance must be furnished by NSU to SBBC's Risk Management Department by Certificate of Insurance within fifteen (15) calendar days of the date of this Agreement.

2.18.6.3 Certificate Holder: The School Board of Broward County, 600 SE 3rd Ave.-11th Floor, Fort Lauderdale, FL 33301.

2.18.7 Cancellation of Insurance. NSU is prohibited from providing services under this Agreement with SBBC without first obtaining the minimum required insurance coverage and must notify SBBC within two (2) business days if required insurance is cancelled.

2.18.8 SBBC reserves the right to review, reject or accept limits, coverages, or endorsements herein as evidenced on certificates of insurance provided upon request throughout the term of this Agreement.

2.18.9 SBBC acknowledges without waiving its right of sovereign immunity as provided by Section 768.28, Florida Statutes that it is self-insured for general liability under state law with coverage limits of $200,000 per person and $300,000 per occurrence, or such monetary waiver limits that may change and be set forth by the legislature.

2.19 Equal Opportunity Provision. The Parties agree that no person shall be subjected to discrimination because of age, race, color, disability, gender identity, gender expression, marital status, national origin, religion, sex or sexual orientation in the performance of the Parties' respective duties, responsibilities and obligations under this Agreement.

NSU will also advise SBBC of any material changes to the NSU Student Handbook and such material changes shall be subject to the prior written approval of both parties.

ARTICLE 3 – GENERAL CONDITIONS

3.1 No Waiver of Sovereign Immunity. Nothing herein is intended to serve as a waiver of sovereign immunity by any agency or political subdivision to which sovereign immunity may be applicable or of any rights or limits to liability existing under Section 768.28, Florida Statutes. This section survives the termination of all performance or obligations under this Agreement and is fully binding until such time as any proceeding brought on account of this Agreement is barred by any applicable statute of limitations.

3.2 No Third-Party Beneficiaries. The Parties expressly acknowledge that it is not their intent to create or confer any rights or obligations under this Agreement in or upon any third person or entity. None of the Parties intend to directly or substantially benefit a third-party by this Agreement. The Parties agree that there are no third-party beneficiaries to this Agreement and that no third-party is entitled to assert a claim against any of the Parties based upon this Agreement. Nothing herein shall be construed as consent by an agency or political subdivision of the State of Florida to be sued by third Parties in any matter arising out of any Agreement.

3.3 Independent Contractor. The Parties to this Agreement are acting in the capacity of independent contractors and not as an officer, employee, or agent of one another. Neither Party or its respective agents, employees, subcontractors, or assignees shall represent to others that it has the authority to bind the other Party unless specifically authorized in writing to do so. No right to SBBC retirement, leave benefits, or any other benefits of SBBC employees exists as a result of the performance of any duties or responsibilities under this Agreement. SBBC is not responsible for Social Security, withholding taxes, contributions to unemployment compensation funds or insurance for the other Party or the other Party's officers, employees, agents, subcontractors, or assignees.

3.4 Default. The Parties agree that, if either Party is in default of its obligations under this Agreement, the non-defaulting Party shall provide to the defaulting Party (30) calendar days' written notice to cure the default. However, if said default cannot be cured within said thirty (30) calendar day period and the defaulting Party is diligently attempting in good faith to cure same, the time period will be reasonably extended to allow the defaulting Party additional cure time. Upon the occurrence of a default that is not cured during the applicable cure period, this Agreement may be terminated by the non-defaulting Party upon thirty (30) calendar days' notice. This remedy is not intended to be exclusive of any other remedy, and each and every such remedy is cumulative and in addition to every other remedy now or hereafter existing at law or in equity or by statute or otherwise. No single or partial exercise by any Party of any right, power, or remedy hereunder precludes any other or future exercise thereof. Nothing in this section shall be construed to preclude termination for without cause pursuant to Section 3.5 (Termination).

3.5 Termination. This Agreement may be terminated with or without cause by SBBC during the term hereof upon thirty (30) calendar days' written notice to the other Parties of its desire to terminate this Agreement. SBBC has no liability for any property left on SBBC's property by any Party to this Agreement after the termination of this Agreement. Any Party contracting with SBBC under this Agreement agrees that any of its property placed upon SBBC's facilities pursuant to this Agreement shall be removed within ten (10) business days following the termination, conclusion, or cancellation of this Agreement and that any such property remaining upon SBBC's facilities after that time shall be deemed to be abandoned, that title to such property shall pass to SBBC, and that SBBC may use or dispose of such property as SBBC deems fit and appropriate.

3.6 Compliance with Laws. Each Party shall comply with all applicable federal, state and local laws, SBBC and NSU policies, codes, rules, and regulations in performing its duties, responsibilities, and obligations pursuant to this Agreement.

3.7 Place of Performance. All of SBBC's obligations under the terms of this Agreement are reasonably susceptible of being performed in Broward County, Florida and are payable and performable in Broward County, Florida.

3.8 Governing Law and Venue. This Agreement shall be interpreted and construed in accordance with and governed by the laws of the State of Florida. Any disputes, controversies, or legal problems arising out of this Agreement and any action involving the enforcement or interpretation of any rights hereunder shall be submitted exclusively to the jurisdiction of the State courts of the Seventeenth Judicial Circuit of Broward County, Florida or to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida. Each Party agrees and admits that the state courts of the Seventeenth Judicial Circuit of Broward County, Florida or the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida has jurisdiction over it for any dispute arising under this Agreement.

3.9 Entirety of Agreement. This document incorporates and includes all prior negotiations, correspondence, conversations, agreements, and understandings applicable to the matters contained herein and the Parties agree that there are no commitments, agreements or understandings concerning the subject matter of this Agreement that are not contained in this document. Accordingly, the Parties agree that no deviation from the terms hereof is predicated upon any prior representations or agreements, whether oral or written.

3.10 Binding Effect. This Agreement is binding upon and inures to the benefit of the Parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns.

3.11 Assignment. Neither this Agreement nor any interest herein may be assigned, transferred, or encumbered by any Party without the prior written consent of the other Party. There shall be no partial assignment of interests under this Agreement including, without limitation, the partial assignment of any right to receive payments from SBBC.

3.12 Captions. The captions, section designations, section numbers, article numbers, titles, and headings appearing in this Agreement are inserted only as a matter of convenience, have no substantive meaning, and in no way define, limit, construe, or describe the scope or intent of such articles or sections of this Agreement, nor in any way affect this Agreement and shall not be construed to create a conflict with the provisions of this Agreement.

3.13 Severability. If any one or more of the sections, paragraphs, sentences, clauses, or provisions contained in this Agreement is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, illegal, unlawful, unenforceable, or void in any respect, such does not affect the remaining portions of this Agreement and the same remain in full force and effect as if such invalid, illegal, unlawful, unenforceable, or void sections, paragraphs, sentences, clauses, or provisions had never been included.

3.14 Preparation of Agreement. The Parties acknowledge that they have sought and obtained whatever competent advice and counsel necessary for them to form a full and complete understanding of all rights and obligations herein and that the preparation of this Agreement has been their joint effort. The language agreed to herein expresses their mutual intent and the resulting document shall not, solely as a matter of judicial construction, be construed more severely against one of the Parties than the other.

3.15 Amendments. No modification, amendment, or alteration in the terms or conditions contained herein is effective unless contained in a written document prepared with the same or similar formality as this Agreement and executed by each Party hereto.

3.16 Waiver. The Parties agree that each requirement, duty and obligation set forth herein is substantial and important to the formation of this Agreement and, therefore, is a material term hereof. Any Party's failure to enforce any provision of this Agreement is not a waiver of such provision or modification of this Agreement unless the waiver is in writing and signed by the Party waiving such provision. A written waiver is only effective as to the specific instance for which it is obtained and is not a continuing or future waiver.

3.17 Force Majeure. Neither Party is obligated to perform any duty, requirement, or obligation under this Agreement if such performance is prevented by fire, hurricane, earthquake, explosion, wars, sabotage, accident, flood, acts of God, strikes, or other labor disputes, riot or civil commotions, epidemics, pandemics, government regulations, and the issuance or extension of existing government orders of the United States, the State of Florida, or local county and municipal governing bodies, or by reason of any other matter or condition beyond the control of either Party, and which cannot be overcome by reasonable diligence and without unusual expense ("Force Majeure"). In no event shall a lack of funds on the part of either Party be deemed Force Majeure.

3.18 Rights and Remedies. The duties and obligations imposed by this Agreement and the rights and remedies available thereunder are in addition to and not a limitation of any duties, obligations, rights and remedies otherwise imposed or available by law.

3.19 Survival. All representations and warranties made herein, obligations based on respective liability obligations to reimburse SBBC, obligations to maintain and allow inspection and audit of records and property, obligations to maintain the confidentiality of records, reporting requirements, and obligations to return public funds survive the termination of this Agreement.

3.20 Agreement Administration. SBBC has delegated authority to the Superintendent of Schools or her/his designee to take any actions necessary to implement and administer this Agreement.

3.21 Counterparts and Multiple Originals. This Agreement may be executed in multiple originals, and may be executed in counterparts, each of which is an original, but all of which, taken together, shall constitute one and the same Agreement.

3.22 Authority. Each person signing this Agreement on behalf of either Party individually warrants that he or she has full legal power to execute this Agreement on behalf of the Party for whom he or she is signing, and to bind and obligate such Party with respect to all provisions contained in this Agreement.

ARTICLE 4 - ARTICULATION COMMITTEE

4.1 SBBC and NSU agree to utilize the Articulation Committee (the "Committee") to monitor the activities established by this Agreement, to recommend enhancements and other changes, and to generally promote articulation.

4.1.1 The Committee members and/or designees for SBBC shall be as follows:

4.1.1.1 Chief Academic Officer
4.1.1.2 High School Principal
4.1.1.3 Executive Chair Director of School Counseling
4.1.1.4 BRACE Director of Secondary Learning

4.1.2 The Committee members and/or designees for NSU shall be as follows:

Docusign Envelope ID: 44B6B31C-2326-8413-832A-A38DABE98ADC

4.1.3 The Committee will meet in September and February of each year and other times as needed. The Parties agree to abide by any applicable regulatory changes regarding college credit dual enrollment passed during the relevant fiscal year.

ARTICLE 5 - INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS AND PARENTS

5.1 SBBC will provide students and families with informational documents describing the educational benefits and eligibility requirements for the various program acceleration options as required per Section 1007.271(8), Florida Statutes, as well as a copy of the Dual Enrollment Transfer Guarantees as required by Section 1007.271(15), Florida Statutes.

5.2 Each high school curriculum guide will describe program acceleration options.

5.3 On an annual basis, SBBC will notify the parents of rising 9th graders regarding the importance of rigorous coursework such as Advanced Placement and Dual Enrollment courses.

ARTICLE 6 -APPROVED COURSES

6.1 Approved Courses for the Dual Enrollment Program are as follows:

6.1.1 CIS 1000C Introduction to Computer and Information Sciences, College of Computing, AI, and Cybersecurity – three (3) credits.

6.1.2 CIS 1530 Introduction to Cybersecurity, College of Computing, AI, and Cybersecurity – three (3) credits.

ARTICLE 7- STUDENT ELIGIBILITY, ADMISSIONS, REGISTRATION, AND GUIDELINES

7.1 NSU agrees to permit students enrolled in SBBC district schools, who have been verified by their school official as qualified, to enroll in the approved dual credit courses. NSU retains the right to change the GPA and minimum test score requirements for courses within its sole discretion in accordance with Florida Statutes. NSU will provide the SBBC Liaison (Supervisor of STEM+CS) with reasonable advanced written if a change is made to such requirements. Exceptions to these requirements may be granted on an individual basis if agreed upon in writing and signed by both Parties. Students participating in Dual Enrollment options must meet the following current initial student eligibility requirements:

7.1.1 Enrolled in a course of study which will fulfill requirements for high school graduation;

7.1.2 3.0 cumulative unweighted high school GPA;

Docusign Envelope ID: 44B6B31C-2326-8413-832A-A38DABE98ADC

7.1.3 One of the following minimum standardized test scores:

7.1.3.1 Composite PSAT 1110; or 7.1.3.2 Composite SAT score of 1000; or
7.1.3.3 Composite ACT score of 22

7.1.4 FSA (Florida Standards Assessment), most recent ELA Score and Mathematics Score: Level 4 or 5.

7.1.5 Satisfy any course prerequisites, including but not limited to placement exams and any other NSU enrollment requirements.

7.2 SBBC students must be enrolled in any grades 6 through 12 to be eligible for Dual Enrollment and meet the minimum scores for college readiness as determined by Rule 6A-10.0315, Florida Administrative Code. All prerequisite testing must be completed prior to enrollment. The student or parent/guardian is responsible for all testing fees. High school seniors are not eligible for Dual Enrollment during the summer term at the end of their senior year. Home Education students must submit a Legal Compliance and Eligibility Form for each term they enroll, validated by the SBBC Home Education Office, at the time of registration.

7.3 Other required documents needed in order to complete the Dual Enrollment admissions process include: (i) test score reports for approved standardized assessments such as ACT, SAT or the PERT or all sections of a recognized college placement test; and (ii) an official copy of the transcript will be provided by the high school for purpose of GPA verification.

7.4 Eligible students are subject to credit limits prescribed by law, the State Board of Education, the Florida Board of Governors, or any other applicable policy or legal authority. After earning sixty (60) Dual Enrollment credits or the student turns 19 years of age (whichever occurs first), the student may not be admitted to NSU as a Dual Enrollment student unless otherwise provided by law.

7.5 All Dual Enrollment students are responsible for officially withdrawing from classes they are no longer attending. Students must receive high school permission to withdraw from a Dual Enrollment course. The NSU Registrar's office must receive an official withdrawal from a Dual Enrollment course(s) by the deadline published by NSU. Students who do not officially withdraw from a class may receive a failing grade, which becomes a part of their permanent transcript records and could have a negative effect on future college admissions, scholarship opportunities, and/or financial aid.

7.6 If applicable, faculty instructors for applicable courses must adhere to the professional rules, guidelines, and expectations stated in the faculty handbook for NSU. All faculty members must meet or exceed the academic and professional preparation requirements for teaching at NSU. For SACS-COC accreditation purposes, postsecondary transcripts of all full-time or adjunct faculty teaching Dual Enrollment and early admissions courses must be on file with NSU, regardless of who actually employs them or pays their salary. It is the responsibility of the faculty to request official faculty credentials and transcripts be sent to NSU's Office for Human Resources. All Dual Enrollment instructors meet or exceed the minimum qualifications established by SACS-COC.

7.7 SBBC students must adhere to all NSU student handbook rules, guidelines, and expectations, including without limitation the NSU Student Code of Conduct.

ARTICLE 8 - ADDITIONAL STUDENT ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

8.1 If the student is projected to graduate from high school before the scheduled completion date of a postsecondary course, the student may not register for that course through Dual Enrollment/Early Admissions program. However, the student may apply for standard admission to NSU and pay the required registration, tuition, and fees if the student meets NSU's admissions requirements.

8.2 Regardless of meeting student eligibility requirements for continued enrollment, a student may lose the opportunity to participate in a Dual Enrollment course if, in NSU's sole discretion, the student is disruptive to the learning process such that the progress of other students, violates any NSU policies (including, but not limited to, NSU's Student Code of Conduct, attendance policies, or minimum requirements for submitted work), or if the efficient administration of the course is hindered. Students should adhere to the most current version of the NSU Student Code of Conduct. All NSU policies relating to its students for any course shall apply to the Dual Enrollment students.

8.3 Students enrolled in postsecondary instruction not creditable toward a high school diploma (continuing education and avocational courses) shall not be considered Dual Enrollment students. Students who choose to enroll in such courses must meet all standard admission requirements for the courses and shall be required to assume the cost of tuition, fees and instructional materials necessary for such courses.

8.4 Special Dual Enrollment credit programs may have admissions requirements that differ from those stated in this Agreement. Such Special Dual Enrollment credit programs are not included in this Agreement.

ARTICLE 9- UNIVERSITY COURSE EXPECTATIONS

Both NSU and SBBC will collaborate in notifying qualified students of the options to participate in Dual Enrollment, and will inform students and parents or guardians of university course level expectations, including, but not limited to the following:

Docusign Envelope ID: 44B6B31C-2326-8413-832A-A38DABE98ADC

9.1 Dual Enrollment courses must meet university curricular expectations and are at the same depth and rigor of non-dual enrollment university instruction, including those Dual Enrollment courses offered on the high school campus. While appropriate for college-level study, course materials and class discussions may reflect topics not typically included in secondary courses which some parents may find objectionable for minors. Courses will not be modified to accommodate variations in student age and/or maturity.

9.2 Students must maintain a 3.0 cumulative grade point average in other high school academic work and must earn a grade of "C" or better in each college level course in order to continue in the program. Semester hours for Dual Enrollment will be limited to three (4) semester hours in each full fall term and spring term. Students may be counted as full-time equivalent students for instruction provided outside the required number of school days if such instruction counts as credit toward a high school diploma. All courses must be at least three (3) credits and be taken for a letter grade, not Pass/Fail or Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory. Dual Enrollment students who receive a "C-" or lower will not be allowed to continue in the program; however, all grades are calculated in a student's GPA and will appear on their high school and college transcripts. Students earning a low grade or "W" in a Dual Enrollment course may find difficulty in meeting future college admissions requirements and the qualifications for financial aid/scholarships, including the Florida Bright Futures Scholarship.

9.3 Dual Enrollment students are required to abide by the same guidelines, academic standards and NSU policies outlined in the most current version of NSU's Student Handbook which contains the code of conduct, students' rights and responsibilities, grading and evaluation process, academic dishonesty, disciplinary procedures, as well as accommodations for students with disabilities. No exceptions to these guidelines will be made for Dual Enrollment students. It is the students' responsibility to attend all classes in which they are enrolled.

9.4 Students may not register for directed independent study courses, study abroad courses, graduate level course or courses for which prerequisites have not been met.

ARTICLE 10- TRANSMISSION OF STUDENT GRADES

10.1 SBBC and NSU must weigh Dual Enrollment courses the same as Advanced Placement, International Baccalaureate, and Advanced International Certificate of Education courses when honor grade point averages (HPA) are calculated. Alternative grade calculation or weighting systems that discriminate against Dual Enrollment courses are prohibited. Grades may be accessed by students through NSU's online record system. In addition, a transcript of grades is sent to each high school Dual Enrollment principal/designee at the end of each semester.

Docusign Envelope ID: 44B6B31C-2326-8413-832A-A38DABE98ADC

ARTICLE 11 – COSTS

11.01 NSU shall not charge SBBC nor any student(s) for tuition or any instructional materials for SBBC students enrolled in the Dual Enrollment courses specified in Section 5.01.

11.02 Students are responsible for providing their own computer and technology as needed to fully participate in Dual Enrollment courses.

11.03 Students shall pay the costs of official transcripts.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Second Amendment with Nova Southeastern University, Inc.

Board Meeting Date: June 9, 2026

Requested Action: Approve the request for the Second Amendment to extend the agreement with Nova Southeastern University for an additional year to continue the cooperative program for the field placement of selected students.

General Information

The following information outlines the governing authority, districtwide implications, historical background, strategic alignment with the 2027 goals and guardrails, and the anticipated measurable outcomes and return on investment related to this agenda item.

District-zone impact/Board Member: District-wide
School Board Policy Requirement	• Not Applicable
Statutory Requirement	• Yes, Section 1012.56 outlines the requirements for educator certification, which includes field experience. Additionally, Section 1004.04 addresses the requirements for teacher preparation programs, also highlighting the importance of field experience.
If the School Board votes "Yes"	• SBBC will be able to partner with Nova Southeastern University for an additional year to provide student teaching/internship, practicum, and/or field experience placements, supporting the recruitment of teaching, physical therapy, occupational therapy, Speech language pathology, school counseling, school psychology, audiology, and dietetics and nutrition professions.
If the School Board votes "No"	• SBBC will not extend the agreement with Nova Southeastern University for an additional year. This decision will impede our ability to accommodate student teacher/internship, practicum, and/or field experience placement requests, which will limit opportunities to recruit future teaching, physical therapy, occupational therapy, Speech language pathology, school counseling, school psychology, audiology, and dietetics and nutrition professions.

Alignment to the 2027 Strategic Goals and Guardrails	• Guardrail 3: School Support
Measurable Outcome(s)/Return on Investment	• This partnership will expand clinical and internship opportunities while enabling SBBC to identify and recruit high-quality candidates. Outcomes will be measured by the number of candidates placed in Broward County schools and the percentage who transition into employment roles within the District.

Background/History
An agreement between a college or university and SBBC is required to place any internship, practicum, or field experience participants. SBBC partners with colleges and universities in Florida and other states to provide undergraduate and graduate students with meaningful, hands-on experiences as they pursue degrees across various majors and fields of study. Through these partnerships, students gain practical experience in real-world educational settings while completing degree requirements. SBBC shall obtain written consent from each participating student's parent or legal guardian, or from the student if the student is 18 years of age or older, prior to disclosing any education records for the purposes outlined in this Agreement.

School Impact, Stakeholder Engagement, and Implementation Considerations

This section outlines how the proposed item will impact schools, including the selection and prioritization process where applicable, as well as stakeholder and end-user input. It also addresses technology and capital asset life cycles, replacement planning, and any additional operational details necessary to provide the Board with a comprehensive understanding of implementation.

Impact on Schools	The extension of this agreement allows interns to continue strengthening their services while adapting to the diverse academic and social-emotional needs of students, resulting in more effective support services. By introducing innovative approaches and fresh perspectives, interns help foster a culture of continuous improvement within schools. This collaboration enhances interns' professional development and positively impacts student engagement and well-being, ultimately improving the overall effectiveness of teaching, physical therapy, occupational therapy, Speech language pathology, school counseling, school psychology, audiology, and dietetics and nutrition services in SBBC.
School Selection /Prioritization	The field experience students may choose up to three schools for their placement, and SBBC schools can also request the placement of these students.
Community/ Stakeholder Engagement	Stakeholder engagement for Field Experience involves collaboration among college interns, SBBC teacher/intern supervisors/cooperating teachers, university supervisors, and consideration of SBBC students' needs. Field placements are determined based on college interns' input regarding program requirements and the support needed to achieve their academic goals. The SBBC staff provides feedback on mentoring strategies to maintain quality service. College supervisors work closely with SBBC staff to ensure compliance with district policies while supporting effective supervision. The interests of SBBC students are represented through administrator feedback to safeguard confidentiality and maintain a positive learning environment. This collaborative approach to placement procedures, supervision guidelines, and professional development support ensures the successful implementation of the Field Experience program.

End-User Input	The Field Experience Program prioritizes SBBC students by ensuring placements provide high-quality instructional support in a safe and positive learning environment. Placement decisions and supervision are aligned to student learning needs, confidentiality requirements, and district standards, resulting in well-supported pre-service educators who positively contribute to student outcomes.
Technology/Capital Expected Lifecycle/Replacement Cycle	Not applicable

Field Experience Placement Data:

During the 2024–2025 school year, the SBBC facilitated a total of 751 entry-level field experience placements, 481 practicum placements, and 160 internship placements. This demonstrates a strong commitment to integrating future occupational and physical therapists into the school system. Notably, 19% of the overall internship placements have already led to successful employment, highlighting the effectiveness of this program in addressing staffing needs.

Additionally, we will cultivate a pool of highly qualified teachers committed to making a positive impact in our schools, ultimately enhancing the quality of instruction and support available to our student population.
If the School Board votes "No"	• SBBC will not be able to strengthen its teacher recruitment and support student success. The district will miss the opportunity to recruit and train the next generation of educators, an essential step in addressing the academic and emotional needs of our students. Furthermore, we will not be able to cultivate a pool of qualified teachers dedicated to making a positive impact on our schools, and ultimately, we will not be able to enhance the quality of instruction available to our student population.

Alignment to 2027 Goals and Guardrails	• Guardrail 3: School Support
Measurable Outcome(s)/Return on Investment	• By July 2027, SBBC will achieve a 15% increase in college and university field experience agreements, including the newly established partnership with Tallahassee State College. This expansion is designed to reduce teacher vacancies by strategically guiding participating students toward full-time employment opportunities within our organization.

Background/History
An agreement between a college or university and SBBC is required to accept any internship, practicum participants, or field experience placements. Our Field Experience Program operates across borders, collaborating with colleges and universities in Florida and other states. This program provides both undergraduate and graduate students with practical experiences as they pursue degrees in various majors and fields of study. Through this partnership, field experience students can gain valuable hands-on experience while working toward a degree in teaching. SBBC shall obtain written consent from each participating student's parent or legal guardian, or from the student if the student is 18 years of age or older, prior to disclosing any education records for the purposes outlined in this Agreement.

School Impact, Stakeholder Engagement, and Implementation Considerations

This section outlines how the proposed item will impact schools, including the selection and prioritization process where applicable, as well as stakeholder and end-user input. It also addresses technology and capital asset life cycles, replacement planning, and any additional operational details necessary to provide the Board with a comprehensive understanding of implementation.

Impact on Schools	Field experience enables interns to improve their instructional strategies and adapt to the varied needs of students, resulting in more effective learning experiences. As these interns introduce innovative approaches and new ideas in the classroom, they foster a culture of continuous improvement within the schools. This interaction enhances the interns' professional development and positively impacts student engagement and learning outcomes, which can strengthen the overall effectiveness of educational programs in Broward County.
School Selection /Prioritization	The field experience students may choose up to three schools for their placement, and SBBC schools can also request the placement of these students.

Community/ Stakeholder Engagement	Stakeholder engagement for Field Experience involves collaboration among college interns, SBBC supervisors, university supervisors, and consideration of SBBC students' needs. Field placements are determined based on college interns' input regarding program requirements and the support needed to achieve their academic goals. SBBC staff provides feedback on mentoring strategies to maintain quality service. University supervisors work closely with SBBC staff to ensure compliance with statutory and district policies while supporting effective supervision. The interests of SBBC students are represented through teacher and administrator feedback to safeguard confidentiality and maintain a positive learning environment. This collaborative approach to placement procedures, supervision guidelines, and professional development support ensures the successful implementation of the Field Experience program.
End-User Input	The Field Experience Program prioritizes SBBC students by ensuring placements provide high-quality instructional support in a safe and positive learning environment. Placement decisions and supervision are aligned to student learning needs, confidentiality requirements, and district standards, resulting in well-supported pre-service educators who positively contribute to student outcomes.

The First Amendment with The University of Central Florida Board of Trustees

Board Meeting Date: June 9, 2026

Requested Action: Approve the request for the First Amendment to extend an agreement with The University of Central Florida for a cooperative program for the field placement of selected students.

General Information

The following information outlines the governing authority, districtwide implications, historical background, strategic alignment with the 2027 goals and guardrails, and the anticipated measurable outcomes and return on investment related to this agenda item.

District-zone impact/Board Member: District-wide
School Board Policy Requirement	• Not Applicable
Statutory Requirement	• Yes, Section 1012.56 outlines the requirements for educator certification, which includes field experience. Additionally, Section 1004.04 addresses the requirements for teacher preparation programs, also highlighting the importance of field experience.
If the School Board votes "Yes"	• The School Board of Broward County, Florida (SBBC) will be able to partner with the University of Central Florida for an additional year to provide student teaching/internship, practicum, and/or field experience placements, supporting the recruitment of future educators.
If the School Board votes "No"	• SBBC will not extend the agreement with the University of Central Florida for an additional year. This decision will impede our ability to accommodate internship, practicum, and/or field experience placement requests, which will limit opportunities to recruit future educators.
Alignment to the 2027 Strategic Goals and Guardrails	• Guardrail 3: School Support
Measurable Outcome(s)/Return on Investment	• Through this collaboration with the University of Central Florida, SBBC will host teacher candidates in field experience placements aligned with district instructional priorities. Measurable outcomes include candidate participation rates, program completion, and the number of program graduates who seek employment with SBBC.

Background/History

An agreement between a college or university and SBBC is required to place any internship, practicum, or field experience participants. SBBC partners with colleges and universities in Florida and other states to provide undergraduate and graduate students with meaningful, hands-on experiences as they pursue degrees across various majors and fields of study. Through these partnerships, students gain practical experience in real-world educational settings while completing degree requirements. SBBC shall obtain written consent from each participating student's parent or legal guardian, or from the student if the student is 18 years of age or older, prior to disclosing any education records for the purposes outlined in this Agreement.

This section outlines how the proposed item will impact schools, including the selection and prioritization process where applicable, as well as stakeholder and end-user input. It also addresses technology and capital asset life cycles, replacement planning, and any additional operational details necessary to provide the Board with a comprehensive understanding of implementation.

Impact on Schools	The extension of this agreement allows interns to continue strengthening their teaching strategies while adapting to the diverse academic and social-emotional needs of students, resulting in more effective support services. By introducing innovative approaches and fresh perspectives, interns help foster a culture of continuous improvement within schools. This collaboration enhances interns' professional development and positively impacts student engagement and well-being, ultimately improving the overall effectiveness of educators in SBBC.
School Selection /Prioritization	The field experience students may choose up to three schools for their placement, and SBBC schools can also request the placement of these students.
Community/ Stakeholder Engagement	Stakeholder engagement for Field Experience involves collaboration among college interns, SBBC teacher/intern supervisors/cooperating teachers, university supervisors, and consideration of SBBC students' needs. Field placements are determined based on college interns' input regarding program requirements and the support needed to achieve their academic goals. The SBBC staff provides feedback on mentoring strategies to maintain quality service. College supervisors work closely with SBBC staff to ensure compliance with district policies while supporting effective supervision. The interests of SBBC students are represented through teacher and administrator feedback to safeguard confidentiality and maintain a positive learning environment. This collaborative approach to placement procedures, supervision guidelines, and professional development support ensures the successful implementation of the Field Experience program.

End-User Input	The Field Experience Program prioritizes SBBC students by ensuring placements provide high-quality instructional support in a safe and positive learning environment. Placement decisions and supervision are aligned to student learning needs, confidentiality requirements, and district standards, resulting in well-supported pre-service educators who positively contribute to student outcomes.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Strategic Planning for State-of-the-Art Replacement Schools

Board Meeting Date: June 9, 2026

Requested Action: Direct the Superintendent of Schools to develop and present a plan to construct at least two state-of-the-art replacement schools through the consolidation and repurposing of existing campuses as part of the Redefining Our Schools process.

General Information

The following information outlines the governing authority, districtwide implications, historical background, strategic alignment with the 2027 goals and guardrails, and the anticipated measurable outcomes and return on investment related to this agenda item.

District-zone Impact/Board Member: Dr. Holness
School Board Policy Requirement	• N/A
Statutory Requirement	• N/A
If the School Board votes "Yes"	• The Superintendent of Schools will develop and present a plan, as part of the Redefining Our Schools process, to construct at least two state-of-the-art replacement schools through the consolidation and repurposing of existing school sites. The proposed plan will be presented to the School Board at a subsequent meeting for review and consideration.
If the School Board votes "No"	• No action will be taken to develop and present a plan for the construction of state-of-the-art replacement schools, and future facility planning will continue under existing processes without a Board-directed initiative tied to the Redefining Our Schools process.
Alignment to the 2027 Strategic Goals and Guardrails	• Guardrail 4, Accountability
Measurable Outcome(s)/Return on Investment	• The measurable outcome will be the development of a strategic plan to construct state-of-the-art replacement schools designed to enhance the overall learning environment and strengthen the district's ability to attract and retain students, contributing to increased enrollment in Broward County Public Schools. Additional benefits include modernized facilities, and improved campus conditions.

Background/History
Broward County Public Schools is experiencing a decline in student enrollment, with projections indicating that this trend is expected to continue. In response, the District is continuing to evaluate long-term strategies through the Redefining Our Schools process to better align its footprint, resources, and offerings with current and future enrollment trends.

As part of this process, the consolidation and repurposing of underutilized campuses present an opportunity to strategically reinvest in new, state-of-the-art replacement schools. These schools can serve as modern learning environments that reflect current educational needs, support innovative instructional practices, and expand facility offerings to remain competitive with charter schools and private institutions.

Developing a strategic plan for replacement schools will position the District to enhance the overall student experience, strengthen community confidence, and improve its ability to attract and retain students. By investing in high-quality, state-of-the-art facilities, the District can better compete in an evolving educational landscape and create opportunities to regain students who are choosing alternative options.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Districtwide Customer Service Action Plan

Board Meeting Date: June 9, 2026

Requested Action: Direct the Superintendent of Schools to conduct nationwide research of successful, data-driven customer service practices and develop a comprehensive, districtwide customer service action plan that establishes clear standards, training, and accountability across all levels of the organization, to be presented to the School Board no later than August 25, 2026.

General Information

The following information outlines the governing authority, districtwide implications, historical background, strategic alignment with the 2027 goals and guardrails, and the anticipated measurable outcomes and return on investment related to this agenda item.

District-zone Impact/Board Member: Dr. Holness
Statutory Requirement	• N/A
If the School Board votes "Yes"	• The Superintendent of Schools will conduct nationwide research of successful data-driven customer service practices and develop a comprehensive, districtwide customer service action plan. The plan will be presented to the School Board for review and discussion no later than August 25, 2026, with implementation to follow upon Board direction.
If the School Board votes "No"	• The Superintendent of Schools will not be directed to conduct research or develop a comprehensive, districtwide customer service action plan, and customer service efforts will continue under existing practices and guidelines.
Alignment to the 2027 Strategic Goals and Guardrails	• Guardrail 4, Accountability
Measurable Outcome(s)/Return on Investment	• The measurable outcome will be the development and implementation of a districtwide customer service action plan that establishes consistent standards, improves response times and follow-through, and enhances the overall customer experience across all levels of the District.

Background/History
Broward County Public Schools has implemented customer service initiatives, including the ABCs of Customer Service and districtwide survey tools, which have contributed to generally positive feedback across schools and departments. While these efforts have established a foundation for customer service, there is an opportunity to strengthen and build upon these practices across the district.

School districts and large organizations across the country, including leading educational institutions, often achieve strong customer service outcomes by using research-based, data-driven strategies and clearly defined service models. This directive directs the Superintendent to conduct extensive nationwide research of successful practices to inform the development of a comprehensive customer service plan for the District.

This item supports the development of a districtwide customer service action plan informed by proven national practices and data-driven approaches to establish clear standards, training, and accountability measures. The goal is to ensure a reliable, consistent, and high-quality customer experience across all levels of Broward County Public Schools.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Superintendent's 2026-2027 Revised Organizational Chart

Board Meeting Date: June 9, 2026

Requested Action:
Approve the revisions to the Superintendent's 2026-2027 Organization Chart.

General Information

The following information outlines the governing authority, districtwide implications, historical background, strategic alignment with the 2027 goals and guardrails, and the anticipated measurable outcomes and return on investment related to this agenda item.

District-zone Impact/Board Member: District-wide
School Board Policy Requirement	• Not Applicable
Statutory Requirement	• Not Applicable
If the School Board votes "Yes"	• Voting yes will ensure the General Counsel will be able to organize the legal team to provide the greatest support to schools while addressing the operational and succession planning needs of the District. It will align the organizational chart with the number of positions in the Food and Nutrition Services department currently funded for FY27.
If the School Board votes "No"	• Voting no will delay the ability of the General Counsel to organize the legal team to provide the greatest support to schools while addressing the operational and succession planning needs of the District. The organizational chart will not align with the number of positions in the Food and Nutrition Services department currently funded for FY27.
Alignment to the 2027 Strategic Goals and Guardrails	• Business Operations
Measurable Outcome(s)/Return on Investment	• The proposed revisions to the Board-approved organizational chart are expected to improve organizational and operational efficiency, enhance alignment with the District's Strategic Plan, and support effective allocation of resources in response to declining student enrollment and revenue, resulting in strengthened educational outcomes and operational effectiveness beginning in the 2026-2027 school year.

Background/History
Revision to Page Eleven – Chief Strategy & Operations Officer

The Board approved the Superintendent's 2026-2027 Organizational Chart as part of Item 1 as amended at the May 11, 2026, Special School Board Meeting. Page 11 reflects four of the eight departments within the newly created Strategy & Operations Division. The number of Area Supervisors in the Food & Nutrition Services department is being corrected to reflect the actual number of positions that are currently funded for the 2026-2027 school year. These positions were identified on the exhibit entitled District Position Summary – Revised that was included in the item. The Area Supervisor Special programs position is being changed from three to two, and the Area Supervisor position is being changed from seven to ten.

Background/History
Revision to Page Twenty-One – Office of the General Counsel

The Board approved the Superintendent's 2026-2027 Organizational Chart as part of Item 1 as amended at the May 11, 2026, Special School Board Meeting. Page 21 reflects an Administrative Counsel position reporting to the General Counsel. The proposed organizational change repurposes the current Administrative Counsel position into an Assistant General Counsel position. Following evaluation of the operational needs of the Office of the General Counsel and the ongoing restructuring of legal services, it was determined that the responsibilities previously assigned to the Administrative Counsel role can be effectively absorbed within the Assistant General Counsel structure while also providing greater flexibility to support the broader legal and operational needs of the District.

This change supports the Office's transition to a more centralized and collaborative legal services model, allowing attorneys to provide cross-functional support across multiple practice areas rather than operating within isolated assignments. The revised structure promotes operational efficiency, improved resource allocation, enhanced teamwork, and greater adaptability in addressing the evolving legal needs of the District. Additionally, the repurposed Assistant General Counsel role will retain the capacity to perform the former Administrative Counsel responsibilities while also handling expanded legal assignments and supporting additional departmental initiatives as needed.

Importantly, this organizational adjustment results in no additional cost to the District, as the repurposing of the position is being accomplished within the Office's existing budgeted positions and staffing structure.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Law Enforcement Mutual Aid and Interlocal Agreement for School Bus Infraction Detection System Enforcement

Requested Action:
Approve this Agreement between the Broward County Sheriff's Office ("BSO") and The School Board of Broward County, Florida, acting through the Broward County Schools Police Department ("BCSPD"), establishes a formal mutual aid and interlocal agreement pursuant to Sections 23.1225 and 316.173, Florida Statutes, for the enforcement of school bus stop-arm violations through a School Bus Infraction Detection System Program.

General Information

The following information outlines the governing authority, districtwide implications, historical background, strategic alignment with the 2027 goals and guardrails, and the anticipated measurable outcomes and return on investment related to this agenda item.

District-zone Impact/Board Member: District-Wide
School Board Policy Requirement	• Not Applicable
Statutory Requirement	• 23.1225 • 316.173
If the School Board votes "Yes"	• The District will be authorized to implement the School Bus Infraction Detection System Program in partnership with BSO, establishing a legally compliant framework for cross-jurisdictional enforcement of school bus stop-arm violations and enhancing student safety without direct financial impact to the District.
If the School Board votes "No"	• The District will be unable to implement the program as allowed by Section 316.173, Florida Statutes, and enforcement will remain limited to traditional officer-initiated actions without the expanded capabilities and coordination provided under the agreement.
Alignment to the 2027 Strategic Goals and Guardrails	• Guardrail 1: Safety
Measurable Outcome(s)/Return on Investment	• The program's measurable outcomes include increased detection and enforcement of school bus stop-arm violations, improved compliance with traffic laws, and enhanced student safety, supported by structured data collection, citation tracking, and required statutory reporting under Section 316.173, Florida Statutes. The return on investment is achieved through a cost-neutral agreement that leverages technology and interagency coordination to expand enforcement capacity, delivering value through risk reduction, operational efficiency, and improved public safety outcomes.

Background/History

Section 316.173, Florida Statutes, authorizes school districts to implement school bus infraction detection systems for the purpose of enforcing violations involving motorists unlawfully passing stopped school buses. The statute further requires school districts to enter into agreements with one or more law enforcement agencies to establish enforcement responsibilities and reimbursement provisions associated with operation of the program.

This Agreement establishes the operational and legal framework necessary for Broward County Public Schools and the Broward County Sheriff's Office to coordinate enforcement activities related to school bus stop-arm violations. The Agreement authorizes sworn law enforcement personnel and authorized enforcement officers to exercise law enforcement authority across jurisdictional boundaries consistent with Section 23.1225, Florida Statutes.

Under the Agreement, BCSPD will maintain administrative responsibility and the ability to enforce the school bus stop-arm enforcement program. The Agreement also establishes procedures governing notice of issuance, affidavits, administrative hearings, evidentiary review, data privacy, chain of custody, public records compliance, and reporting obligations.

Additionally, the Agreement requires the District to ensure compliance with all statutory implementation requirements, including required public awareness campaigns and installation of required signage before issuance of civil penalties.

The Agreement authorizes coordinated enforcement efforts across jurisdictional boundaries to improve student transportation safety, enhance roadway safety, and provide a legally compliant framework for automated enforcement of violations involving motorists unlawfully passing stopped school buses.

Approval of this item will authorize the District to implement and operate the School Bus Infraction Detection System Program in accordance with Sections 23.1225 and 316.173, Florida Statutes.

LAW ENFORCEMENT MUTUAL AID AND INTERLOCAL AGREEMENT FOR SCHOOL BUS INFRACTION DETECTION SYSTEM ENFORCEMENT

This Mutual Aid and Interlocal Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into pursuant to Section 23.1225, Florida Statutes, by and between the Broward County Sheriff's Office ("BSO") and The School Board of Broward County, Florida, acting through the Broward County Public Schools Police Department ("BCPSPD") (collectively, the "Parties").

WHEREAS, Section 23.1225, Florida Statutes, authorizes law enforcement agencies to enter into voluntary cooperation agreements for the provision of mutual aid and the enforcement of laws across jurisdictional boundaries;

WHEREAS, the Parties recognize the need for coordinated traffic enforcement efforts to promote roadway safety, reduce traffic-related injuries and fatalities, and ensure consistent enforcement of the traffic laws of the State of Florida;

WHEREAS, the Parties desire to authorize sworn law enforcement personnel and Traffic Infraction Enforcement Officers (F.S. 316.640(5)) to exercise full law enforcement authority across jurisdictional lines for the enforcement of applicable traffic laws, including the issuance of uniform traffic citations;

WHEREAS, such mutual aid and cooperation will enhance operational efficiency, maximize the use of available law enforcement resources, and improve public safety outcomes within Broward County;

WHEREAS, the School Board desires to implement a school bus infraction detection system program for the purpose of enhancing student transportation safety and enforcing violations of Sections 316.172 and 316.173, Florida Statutes; and

WHEREAS, Section 316.173, Florida Statutes, authorizes school districts to implement school bus infraction detection systems and requires the district to enter into an agreement with one or more law enforcement agencies to establish enforcement responsibilities and reimbursement of costs associated with such systems; and

WHEREAS, BSO possesses jurisdictional authority over traffic enforcement within Broward County, Florida; and

WHEREAS, the Parties desire to establish a comprehensive and legally compliant framework governing enforcement, adjudication, data handling, reporting, and interagency coordination consistent with Florida law;

WHEREAS, nothing in this Agreement is intended to limit the inherent authority of sworn law enforcement officers to enforce the laws of the State of Florida, but rather to formally document and authorize the exercise of such authority across jurisdictional boundaries in accordance with Section 23.1225, Florida Statutes. This includes the provisions of F.S. 1006.12(2)(b) which states that "[a] school safety officer has and shall exercise the power to make arrests for violations of law on district school board property or on property owned or leased by a charter school under a charter contract, as applicable, and to arrest persons, whether on or off such property, who violate any law on such property under the same conditions that deputy sheriffs are authorized to make arrests. A school safety officer has the authority to carry weapons when performing his or her official duties."

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants contained herein, the Parties agree as follows:

SECTION 1. PURPOSE AND NATURE OF ASSISTANCE

The purpose of this Agreement is to establish a voluntary cooperation written agreement for routine law enforcement assistance pursuant to Section 23.1225, Florida Statutes, whereby authorized personnel may exercise cross-jurisdictional authority within Broward County for the enforcement of applicable laws.

The nature of assistance provided under this Agreement shall include

(a) enforcement of violations of Sections 316.172 and 316.173, Florida Statutes, through a school bus infraction detection system program;

(b) issuance of uniform traffic citations, warnings, and notices of violation;

Authorized personnel acting pursuant to this Agreement shall have the same powers, duties, rights, and immunities as if acting within their employing jurisdiction, consistent with Florida law.

SECTION 2. PROCEDURES FOR AUTHORIZATION, OPERATION AND GEOGRAPHIC SCOPE

This Agreement shall constitute standing authorization for the provision of assistance without the necessity of case-by-case requests. However, program implementation and operational deployment shall be conditioned upon the School Board's certification that all statutory prerequisites, including system compliance, required signage, and public awareness measures, have been satisfied. BCPSPD shall maintain records of all enforcement actions undertaken pursuant to this Agreement and shall make such records available to BSO upon reasonable request. The Parties agree that assistance may be suspended, curtailed, or modified upon written notice in the event of equipment malfunction, legal noncompliance, public safety concerns, or material breach of this Agreement, and that each Party retains discretion regarding the extent and continuation of its participation.

Sworn law enforcement officers acting pursuant to this Agreement shall have the same powers, duties, rights, privileges, and immunities as if performing their duties within their employing jurisdiction, consistent with Section 23.1225, Florida Statutes.

The authority granted under this Agreement shall apply within the geographic boundaries of Broward County, Florida, and any jurisdictional areas in which the Parties are authorized to operate pursuant to law.

SECTION 3. GENERAL TRAFFIC ENFORCEMENT AUTHORITY

Authorized personnel acting pursuant to this Agreement may enforce applicable traffic laws within the participating jurisdictions, as provided in Florida Statutes 316.172 and 316.173.

All enforcement actions shall be conducted in accordance with applicable law and agency policies. This Agreement constitutes standing authorization for such enforcement across jurisdictional boundaries consistent with Section 23.1225, Florida Statutes.

SECTION 4. COMMAND AND SUPERVISORY RESPONSIBILITY

BCPSPD personnel acting pursuant to this Agreement shall remain under the command and control of BCPSPD for purposes of administrative enforcement of school bus stop-arm violations; however, BSO shall retain primary operational authority over general law enforcement activities within its jurisdiction.

SECTION 5. LIABILITY, WORKERS' COMPENSATION, AND PROPERTY RESPONSIBILITY

Each Party shall be responsible for the acts and omissions of its own officers, employees, and agents and shall retain all applicable sovereign immunity protections and limitations of liability under Florida law. Each Party shall be solely responsible for providing workers' compensation coverage for its employees and for any injuries sustained in the course of their employment. Each Party shall bear responsibility for damage to its own equipment and property used in connection with this Agreement. Nothing herein shall be construed as creating a duty to indemnify another Party beyond that permitted by law, nor shall this Agreement be deemed to waive any defenses or immunities available under Florida law.

SECTION 6. COMPENSATION AND REIMBURSEMENT

The Parties agree that, unless otherwise expressly provided in a written amendment to this Agreement, no compensation shall be owed by one Party to another for services rendered pursuant to this Agreement. The School Board shall be solely responsible for all costs associated with the implementation and operation of the school bus infraction detection system program, including but not limited to vendor services, administrative processing, mailing of notices and citations, evidentiary handling, and administrative hearing costs. Civil penalties collected under Section 316.173 and Section 318.18(5), Florida Statutes, shall be distributed as required by statute and contractual obligations, . In the event the Parties agree to reimbursement for specific services, such reimbursement shall be documented in a written amendment specifying the nature of services, rates, invoicing procedures, and payment terms.

SECTION 7. VIOLATION PROCESSING AND ENFORCEMENT PROCEDURES

Enforcement actions related to school bus infraction detection systems shall specifically comply with Section 316.173, Florida Statutes. Recorded violations shall be transmitted to the appropriate law enforcement personnel within the statutorily prescribed time period, and a sworn law enforcement officer shall review such evidence to determine whether a violation has occurred. Upon a determination that a violation has occurred, a notice of violation shall be issued by first-class mail within the time required by law and shall contain all statutorily required information, including the date, time, and location of the violation, the amount of the civil penalty, instructions for payment, and information regarding the right to contest the violation. The registered owner shall be afforded a period of sixty (60) days to respond by payment, request for hearing, or submission of an affidavit. In the event of noncompliance within the prescribed period, a uniform traffic citation shall be issued, transmitted by certified mail, and filed with the Clerk of Court in accordance with Chapter 318, Florida Statutes.

SECTION 8. AFFIDAVITS, REASSIGNMENT, AND ENFORCEMENT CONTINUITY

The agency issuing the citation shall implement procedures consistent with Section 316.173 governing affidavits submitted by registered owners asserting that another individual had care, custody, or control of the vehicle or otherwise establishing a statutory defense. Upon receipt of a valid affidavit within the required timeframe, the issuing agency shall take appropriate action, including dismissal where required by law or issuance of a notice of violation to the identified individual within the statutorily prescribed period. Procedures shall also be established by the issuing agency for handling denials, re-notification, and referral of false affidavits for enforcement in accordance with applicable law.

SECTION 9. ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS

Administrative hearings related to notices of violation issued pursuant to this Agreement shall be conducted through the Florida Division of Administrative Hearings ("DOAH") pursuant to a separate contractual arrangement between the School Board and DOAH. DOAH shall be responsible for maintaining the hearing docket, scheduling proceedings, and issuing orders consistent with applicable law. All hearings shall be conducted in accordance with the requirements of Section 316.173, including the application of a preponderance of the evidence standard and the provision of due process protections. All costs associated with administrative hearings shall be borne solely by the School Board. Appeals from final administrative orders shall be conducted in accordance with applicable law.

SECTION 10. UNIFORM TRAFFIC CITATIONS AND CLERK OF COURT

Citations issued pursuant to this Agreement shall be filed and prosecuted in the appropriate court having jurisdiction over the location where the violation occurred. Officers issuing citations shall comply with all applicable court procedures and requirements.

Uniform Traffic Citations issued pursuant to this Agreement shall be processed in accordance with Chapter 318, Florida Statutes, and shall be filed with the Clerk of Court for Broward County. The Clerk of Court shall perform all statutory functions associated with the processing, docketing, and disposition of such citations, and nothing in this Agreement shall be construed to alter or limit the duties of the Clerk.

SECTION 11. DATA GOVERNANCE, PRIVACY, AND RECORDS MANAGEMENT

All data, images, and recordings obtained through the school bus infraction detection system shall be used solely for traffic enforcement under Section 316.173 and, as expressly permitted by Section 316.173., Florida Statutes, for purposes of determining criminal or civil liability for incidents captured by the system incidental to such permissible use. Such data shall not be used for remote or general surveillance or unrelated purposes. The issuing agency shall ensure that personally identifiable information is obscured or redacted to the extent practicable and that access to such data is restricted to authorized personnel. All records shall be retained and destroyed by the issuing agency in accordance with statutory requirements, including the destruction of recordings within ninety (90) days following final disposition of the associated enforcement action. The issuing agency shall require that all vendors provide annual written certification confirming compliance with destruction requirements. The issuing agency shall ensure that motor vehicle owner information obtained in connection with the program is not be treated as vendor property and shall be used solely for authorized enforcement purposes. The issuing agency shall comply with Chapter 119, Florida Statutes, and shall coordinate responses to public records requests involving shared data.

The issuing agency shall establish and maintain procedures to ensure the integrity, authentication, and traceability of all evidence used in enforcement actions, including secure transmission, logging, storage, and retrieval of video and photographic records. Sworn law enforcement officers shall certify their review of evidence prior to issuance of notices or citations, and records shall be maintained to establish a chain of custody for evidentiary purposes.

SECTION 13. PROGRAM IMPLEMENTATION REQUIREMENTS

SECTION 14. COORDINATION WITH OFFICER-INITIATED ENFORCEMENT

The issuing agency shall implement procedures to ensure that automated enforcement under this Agreement does not duplicate or conflict with citations issued by law enforcement officers in the field. In circumstances in which a law enforcement officer issues a citation for the same violation at the time of the occurrence, automated enforcement shall not proceed.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit or restrict an officer's independent authority to initiate traffic enforcement actions, including the issuance of uniform traffic citations, outside of automated enforcement systems.

SECTION 15. REPORTING AND RECORD RETENTION

The School Board shall be responsible for compiling and submitting all reports required by Section 316.173, including quarterly reports to the appropriate state agency, and shall maintain all required records for a minimum of two (2) years. BSO shall cooperate in providing information necessary to complete such reports.

SECTION 16. TERM, TERMINATION, AND SUSPENSION

This Agreement shall become effective upon execution by all Parties ("Effective Date").

The term of this Agreement shall be for a period of five (5) years from the Effective Date and shall automatically renew for an additional two (2) years unless terminated by either party.

Either Party may terminate this Agreement without cause upon thirty (30) days' written notice to the other Party. Either Party may immediately suspend or terminate participation in the event of legal noncompliance, or public safety concerns.

Termination of this Agreement shall not affect any enforcement actions initiated prior to the effective date of termination, and such actions shall proceed to final disposition in accordance with applicable law.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Budget Report for the Period Ended April 30, 2026

Board Meeting Date: June 9, 2026

Requested Action:
Approve the Budget Report for the period ended April 30, 2026.

General Information

The following information outlines the governing authority, districtwide implications, historical background, strategic alignment with the 2027 goals and guardrails, and the anticipated measurable outcomes and return on investment related to this agenda item.

District-zone Impact/Board Member: District-wide
School Board Policy Requirement	This item is not specifically required by School Board Policy, but is statutorily required as described below. Regular monthly financial reporting supports the Board's fiscal oversight responsibilities and compliance with the District's financial management and fund balance policies.
Statutory Requirement	This item is required in accordance with Section 1011.06(2), Florida Statutes, which requires monthly statements to be submitted to the School Board showing the revenues, expenditures, and balances of the various funds of the District.
If the School Board votes "Yes"	The Board's approval ensures transparency and compliance with statutory financial reporting requirements and provides a complete record of revenues, expenditures, and fund balances. The report supports monitoring of fiscal trends and evaluation of budget performance.
If the School Board votes "No"	Failure to approve may delay public transparency, disrupt monitoring of fund balances and spending patterns, and risk non-compliance with Section 1011.06(2), Florida Statutes. It may also delay the use of financial information for budget amendments, year-end projections, and required state reporting.
Alignment to the 2027 Strategic Goals and Guardrails	Business Operations
Measurable Outcome(s)/Return on Investment	Provides financial transparency, supports statutory compliance, and enables oversight of budget implementation, fund balance levels, and long-term sustainability aligned with the District's Strategic Plan

Background/History
The FY 2025-26 budgets were adopted by the School Board on September 9, 2025. Following adoption, amendments are processed as necessary to reflect changes in revenues, expenditures, and funding allocations and are reported to the Board through monthly financial reports.

The attached Budget Report presents the adopted and amended budgets compared to actual revenues earned and expenditures incurred through April 30, 2026, and provides a point-in-time snapshot of the District's financial position. The April report includes updates associated with additional cost impacts. The net result of those updates was a positive $8.7 million impact on the general fund.

All financial activity is recorded in accordance with applicable accounting standards and is subject to annual independent external audit. When applicable, the report reflects budget amendments resulting from changes in funding sources, program needs, or operational requirements.

Agreement Terms and Financial Impact

The following information provides a detailed summary of the contract agreement summary, financial impact of this item, including funding allocation, budget authority, fiscal year expenditures, and any current or future financial obligations.

Table A: Agreement Summary, Multi-Year Analysis, and Procurement Method
This table summarizes the contract agreement terms, including the multi-year financial breakdown and total projected cost, and identifies the procurement method used in accordance with District purchasing requirements.

Contract Term:	Not applicable – no contract associated with this item
Multi-Year Agreement:	Not applicable
Procurement Method:	Not applicable – informational report only

Table B: Financial Impact, Funding Source, and Budget Authority
This table summarizes the financial impact of the requested Board action, including the contract agreement authority being approved and the budget sources supporting that request.

Budget Impact Summary Statement:
This item is informational in nature and does not authorize additional spending. The Budget Report reflects revenues earned and expenditures incurred through April 30, 2026, across all major District funds.

Based on financial activity recorded to date and approved budget amendments reflected in this report, the District continues to project a reduction in the General Fund's fund balance for FY 2025-26 compared to the adopted budget. This projected reduction reflects ongoing enrollment declines, related adjustments to State funding, and expenditure pressures within the fiscal year. These financial pressures are structural and require continued alignment of staffing and expenditure levels with enrollment trends.

To preserve fiscal stability and ensure compliance with the State's minimum 3 percent General Fund fund balance requirement, the District has implemented a hiring freeze and travel freeze and continues to review expenditure controls. In addition, the School Board approved the closure and consolidation of six schools, effective next school year, to better align facility utilization and operating costs with enrollment levels. Subsequent to the April 30 reporting period, the School Board also approved the Superintendent's 2026-27 organizational chart, which includes a reduction of approximately 1,000 central office positions as part of the District's continued effort to align staffing and operating costs with projected revenues and enrollment trends.

While current projections indicate the District will remain above the State's 3 percent minimum requirement at fiscal year-end, the available margin remains limited, with the projected combined Assigned and Unassigned General Fund fund balance at approximately 3.36 percent. This limited margin provides minimal flexibility to absorb additional financial pressures during the remainder of the fiscal year.

District leadership will monitor revenue collections, spending patterns, and fund balance levels and will continue to provide the School Board with updates through future budget reports.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

MOU – Division of Administrative Hearings (DOAH)

Board Meeting Date: June 9, 2026

Requested Action: Approve the Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") between The School Board of Broward County, Florida ("Board") and the Division of Administrative Hearings ("DOAH") to establish procedures and responsibilities for the adjudication of contested school bus infraction detection system violations pursuant to Section 316.173(6), Florida Statutes, and authorize implementation in conjunction with the Agreement between SBBC and BusPatrol America LLC.

General Information

The following information outlines the governing authority, districtwide implications, historical background, strategic alignment with the 2027 goals and guardrails, and the anticipated measurable outcomes and return on investment related to this agenda item.

District-zone Impact/Board Member: District-wide
School Board Policy Requirement	• N/A
Statutory Requirement	• Section 316.173, Florida Statutes, requires that school districts provide an administrative hearing process for contested notices of violation issued through a school bus infraction detection system. The MOU establishes a formal partnership with DOAH to provide Administrative Law Judges (ALJs) and ensure compliance with statutory hearing requirements.
If the School Board votes "Yes"	• If SBBC votes "Yes," the Board will enter into a formal Memorandum of Understanding with the Division of Administrative Hearings (DOAH) to provide Administrative Law Judges and a structured administrative hearing process for contested violations, ensuring compliance with Section 316.173, Florida Statutes, through a legally sufficient adjudication process. This MOU will operate in coordination with the Agreement between SBBC and BusPatrol, under which BusPatrol serves as SBBC's designee for administrative and operational functions, including the coordination of hearings. A "Yes" vote supports consistent, transparent, and legally compliant enforcement of school bus safety violations.

If the School Board votes "No"	• If the Board votes "No," the Board will lack a formalized administrative hearing framework through the Division of Administrative Hearings (DOAH) to adjudicate contested violations, requiring the District to identify an alternative legally compliant process to satisfy statutory requirements. This may result in delays, increased legal risk, and potential noncompliance with Section 316.173, Florida Statutes.
Alignment to the 2027 Strategic Goals and Guardrails	• Business Operations • Safe & Supportive Schools
Measurable Outcome(s)/Return on Investment	• The MOU will establish a compliant, efficient, and standardized administrative hearing process for contested violations, reducing legal and operational risk by ensuring adjudication is conducted by qualified Administrative Law Judges. • The MOU will support enforcement of school bus stop signal laws, enhancing student transportation safety, and provide a structured process for evidence submission, hearings, and issuance of final administrative orders.

Background/History

The Board is implementing a school bus infraction detection system pursuant to Section 316.173, Florida Statutes, through its Agreement with BusPatrol America LLC.

Under Section 316.172, Florida Statutes, any person operating a vehicle is prohibited from passing a school bus until the signal has been withdrawn, and Section 316.173(1)(a), Florida Statutes, permits a school district to install and operate a school bus infraction detection system for the purpose of enforcing these provisions, collectively referenced as the Florida Uniform Traffic Control Law. This effort follows SBBC's issuance of Request for Proposal RFP24-366: School Bus Infraction Detection Solution, dated May 13, 2024, through which proposals were solicited for the program.

To formalize this effort, SBBC is bringing forward for approval, at the same Board meeting, both an Agreement with BusPatrol America LLC, a Mutual Aid Agreement with Broward County Sheriff's Office, and a Memorandum of Understanding with the Division of Administrative Hearings (DOAH), reflecting a coordinated and comprehensive approach to program implementation.

Pursuant to Section 316.173(6), Florida Statutes, the District has the right to appoint a local hearing officer to administer the administrative hearing process for contested notices of violation and to issue final orders. The MOU with DOAH establishes the procedures and responsibilities for conducting these hearings, providing a comprehensive framework covering the coordination and scheduling of hearings, assignment of Administrative Law Judges, management of evidence and hearing records, and issuance of final administrative orders and appeal rights, including the assessment of costs not to exceed $250 pursuant to Section 316.0083(5)(e), Florida Statutes.

The MOU operates in conjunction with the BusPatrol Agreement, which designates BusPatrol as SBBC's designee to administer the operational aspects of the program, including coordinating the hearing process. This coordinated structure ensures that both the administrative and operational functions of the program are clearly defined and efficiently executed. Together, these two agreements provide a legally compliant and operationally sound framework for enforcing school bus stop signal laws, supporting SBBC's long-term commitment to students' safety and well-being during transportation.

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN THE DIVISION OF ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS
AND THE SCHOOL BOARD OF BROWARD COUNTY, FLORIDA

This Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") is entered into between the Division of Administrative Hearings ("DOAH") and The School Board of Broward County, Florida ("School Board"). This MOU outlines the procedures and responsibilities for conducting administrative hearings pursuant to Section 316.173(6), Florida Statutes, for contested notices of violation of Section 316.172(1)(a) or (b), Florida Statutes, in Broward County. This MOU is being adopted concurrently with, and shall be read in conjunction with, the Agreement between School Board and BusPatrol America LLC ("BusPatrol"), which was approved at the same Board meeting as this MOU. School Board has designated BusPatrol as its designee for operational and administrative functions under the school bus infraction detection system program, including coordination of the administrative hearing process described herein.

TERM

This MOU shall become effective on June 10, 2026, concurrent with the effective date of the Agreement between SBBC and BusPatrol, and shall remain in effect through June 16, 2029, unless terminated earlier as provided herein. The term of this MOU may be extended by mutual written agreement of the parties for up to two (2) additional one (1) year periods, and if needed, one hundred eighty (180) calendar days beyond the expiration of any extension period, consistent with the extension provisions of the Agreement between SBBC and BusPatrol. Any extension shall be memorialized in a written amendment executed by both parties.

This MOU shall terminate automatically and without further action by either party upon the earlier of: (i) the expiration or termination of the Agreement between SBBC and BusPatrol; or (ii) the termination or expiration of all interlocal agreements between SBBC and the applicable law enforcement agencies required for operation of SBBC's school bus infraction detection system program under Section 316.173(1)(d), Florida Statutes. Either party may also terminate this MOU upon thirty (30) calendar days' written notice to the other party.

PROCEDURES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Upon receiving a request to contest liability for a school bus infraction detection system Notice of Violation under Section 316.173, Florida Statutes, the School Board or its designee will issue a Hearing Request Response acknowledging the request and advising the petitioner that a Notice of Hearing will be sent. The Hearing Request Response shall state the amount of the fine and specific costs to be imposed if a violation is upheld, as calculated by the School Board or its designee and not exceeding the statutory maximum. It shall also describe the process for evidence submission and hearing cancellation.

The School Board or its designee will coordinate with DOAH to determine hearing dates, the number of administrative law judges ("ALJs") assigned, and the number of cases each ALJ will hear per hearing docket. The School Board or its designee will prepare each hearing docket and notify DOAH in advance of the hearing date.

DOAH shall provide an ALJ to preside over each hearing docket prepared by the School Board or its designee. The School Board or its designee shall provide each ALJ with access to the online system utilized by the School Board or its designee to store, access, and manage case-related materials, including evidence, docket information, correspondence, and orders.

At least thirty (30) days prior to the hearing, the School Board or its designee shall provide a Notice of Hearing to the petitioner containing the hearing date, time, hearing platform link, the amount of the fine and specific costs to be imposed if a violation is upheld, and instructions for submitting evidence at least three (3) days before the hearing. The School Board or its designee shall upload timely-submitted evidence into the online system before the hearing.

The School Board or its designee is responsible for coordinating and providing interpreter services and for handling requests for accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) related to the hearing process. The School Board or its designee shall include information in the Hearing Request Response and the Notice of Hearing regarding interpreter services and ADA accommodations.

The School Board or its designee may reschedule hearings upon request. The petitioner is permitted to reschedule the hearing once by submitting a written request at least five (5) days prior to the originally scheduled date.

If the School Board or its designee contests the rescheduling request, the contested request shall be referred to DOAH for a ruling by the assigned ALJ. The School Board or its designee shall notify DOAH of the contested request and shall upload the request and any supporting or opposing documentation to the online system for the assigned ALJ's review. The assigned ALJ shall review the request and enter a ruling in the online system indicating whether the request is granted or denied. The School Board or its designee shall issue an Amended Notice of Hearing reflecting the new hearing date and time if the request is granted, or shall issue a written notice or order informing the petitioner that the rescheduling request has been denied.

If the case is dismissed prior to the hearing, the School Board or its designee shall issue a Dismissal Letter, amend the docket, and send an amended docket to DOAH.

The School Board or its designee shall additionally provide the ALJ access to a virtual hearing platform (e.g., Zoom) and ensure that each hearing is recorded.

The ALJ shall review the evidence on the online system, hear testimony from the petitioner, law enforcement, and any other witnesses or evidence the ALJ determines to be relevant. The ALJ shall determine, as provided in Section 316.173(6), whether a violation of Section 316.172(1)(a) or (b), Florida Statutes, occurred. If a violation is found by a preponderance of the evidence, the ALJ shall uphold the notice of violation and require the petitioner to pay the fine and costs. The ALJ shall enter the findings and outcome into the online system maintained by the School Board or its designee.

The School Board or its designee shall issue a Final Administrative Order in accordance with the ALJ's findings. The Final Administrative Order shall include notice of the petitioner's right to appeal. The School Board or its designee shall handle all post-hearing enforcement, collections, and case closure.

PUBLIC RECORDS AND RECORDKEEPING

The School Board and its designee shall be responsible for compliance with Florida's public records laws, including Chapter 119, Florida Statutes, and applicable records retention requirements for all records associated with the school bus infraction detection system and the administrative hearings conducted pursuant to this MOU. This includes, but is not limited to, hearing recordings, evidentiary materials, notices, and other correspondence to and from petitioners, and Final Administrative Orders, all of which are stored and maintained on systems controlled by the School Board or its designee. DOAH is not the custodian of any records maintained in the online system, the hearing platform, or any other systems operated by the School Board or its designee. The School Board or its designee shall defend, indemnify, and hold harmless DOAH from any claims, demands, causes of action, damages, or penalties arising out of or related to the School Board's or its designee's failure to comply with Florida public records law or records retention requirements.

OTHER PROVISIONS

This MOU supplements the parties' existing Administrative Law Judge Services Contract, which governs compensation and other general terms. This MOU may be amended in writing by mutual agreement of the parties.

18. Entirety of Agreement. This document incorporates and includes all prior negotiations, correspondence, conversations, agreements, and understandings applicable to the matters contained herein and the parties agree that there are no commitments, agreements or understandings concerning the subject matter of this Agreement that are not contained in this document. 23. Preparation of Agreement. The parties acknowledge that they have sought and obtained whatever competent advice and counsel necessary for them to form a full and complete understanding of all rights and obligations herein and that the preparation of this Agreement has been their joint effort. The language agreed to herein expresses their mutual intent and the resulting document shall not, solely as a matter of judicial construction, be construed more severely against one of the parties than the other.

24. Amendments. No modification, amendment, or alteration in the terms or conditions contained herein is effective unless contained in a written document prepared with the same or similar formality as this Agreement and executed by each party hereto.

25. Waiver. The parties agree that each requirement, duty and obligation set forth herein is substantial and important to the formation of this Agreement and, therefore, is a material term hereof. Any party's failure to enforce any provision of this Agreement is not a waiver of such provision or modification of this Agreement unless the waiver is in writing and signed by the party waiving such provision. A written waiver is only effective as to the specific instance for which it is obtained and is not a continuing or future waiver.

26. Force Majeure. Neither party is obligated to perform any duty, requirement, or obligation under this Agreement if such performance is prevented by fire, hurricane, earthquake, explosion, wars, sabotage, accident, flood, acts of God, strikes, or other labor disputes, riot or civil commotions, epidemics, pandemics, government regulations, and the issuance or extension of existing government orders of the United States, the State of Georgia, State of Florida, or local county and municipal governing bodies, or by reason of any other matter or condition beyond the control of either party, and which cannot be overcome by reasonable diligence and without unusual expense ("Force Majeure"). In no event shall a lack of funds on the part of either party be deemed Force Majeure.

27. Rights and Remedies. The duties and obligations imposed by this Agreement and the rights and remedies available thereunder are in addition to and not a limitation of any duties, obligations, rights and remedies otherwise imposed or available by law.

28. Survival. All representations and warranties made herein, indemnification obligations, obligations to reimburse SBBC, obligations to maintain and allow inspection and audit of records and property, obligations to maintain the confidentiality of records, reporting requirements, and obligations to return public funds survive the termination of this Agreement.

30. Counterparts and Multiple Originals. This Agreement may be executed in multiple originals, and may be executed in counterparts, each of which is an original, but all of which, taken together, shall constitute one and the same Agreement.

31. Authority. This will include that they will not use steroids or other performance-enhancing substances (unless medically prescribed for/due to a specific illness or condition), illegal drugs, alcohol, tobacco, or vaping/electronic cigarettes. Both parties understand that participation of ineligible players will result in individual, team, and/or school sanctions, which may include forfeiture of the game.

7. Event of Emergency. LOWNDES shall ensure that all reasonable safety requirements and precautions are met prior to the commencement of the football games. Both parties will ensure that personnel appropriately trained in First Aid will be available and within close proximity to the athletes. This section survives the termination of all performance or obligations under this Agreement and is fully binding until such time as any proceeding brought on account of this Agreement is barred by any applicable statute of limitations.

10. Insurance Requirements.

The parties agree that no person shall be subjected to discrimination because of age, race, color, disability, gender identity, gender expression, marital status, national origin, religion, sex or sexual orientation in the performance of the parties' respective duties, responsibilities and obligations under this Agreement.

12. No Waiver of Sovereign Immunity. Nothing herein is intended to serve as a waiver of sovereign immunity by any agency or political subdivision to which sovereign immunity may be applicable or of any rights or limits to liability existing under Section 768.28, Florida Statutes and under Georgia law. This section shall survive the termination of this Agreement and the completion of all performance of obligations under this Agreement and is fully binding until such time as any proceeding brought on account of this Agreement is barred by any applicable statute of limitations.

13. No Third-Party Beneficiaries. The parties expressly acknowledge that it is not their intent to create or confer any rights or obligations under this Agreement in or upon any third person or entity. None of the parties intend to directly or substantially benefit a third-party by this Agreement. The parties agree that there are no third-party beneficiaries to this Agreement and that no third-party is entitled to assert a claim against any of the parties based upon this Agreement. Nothing herein shall be construed as consent by an agency or political subdivision of the State of Florida to be sued by third parties in any matter arising out of any Agreement.

14. No Joint Venture; Independent Contractors. Nothing contained in this Agreement shall be deemed or construed as creating a joint venture or partnership between the parties hereto. The parties to this Agreement are acting in the capacity of independent contractors and not as an officer, employee, or agent of one another. Neither party or its respective agents, employees, subcontractors, or assignees shall represent to others that it has the authority to bind the other party unless specifically authorized in writing to do so.

15. Termination. This Agreement may be terminated with or without cause by either party during the term hereof upon thirty (30) calendar days' written notice to the other party of its desire to terminate this Agreement. Any termination pursuant to this Section 15 shall be subject to the provisions of Section 16 below.

16. Liquidated Damages.

a) Damages to LOWNDES. SBBC agrees that in the event that it unilaterally cancels any football game contemplated herein (unless such cancellation is due solely to a Force Majeure event under Section 26 herein), it will pay LOWNDES liquidated damages for the cancelled game in the amount of Ten Thousand and 00/100 Dollars ($10,000.00), which sum shall payable to LOWNDES via traditional or e-check payable and due within thirty (30) calendar days of notification of the cancellation.

b) Damages to SBBC. LOWNDES agrees that in the event that it unilaterally cancels any football game contemplated herein (unless such cancellation is due solely to a Force Majeure event under Section 26 herein), it will pay SBBC liquidated damages in the amount of Ten Thousand and 00/100 US Dollars ($10,000.00), which sum shall be payable via traditional or e-check payable to SBBC and due within thirty (30) calendar days of notification of the cancellation.

c) Acknowledgement by Parties. The parties hereto acknowledge and agree that the sums payable under this Section 16 are intended as liquidated damages and not as penalties. The parties further acknowledge and agree that (i) the amount of loss or damages likely to be incurred as a result of the cancellation of a scheduled football game will be difficult to ascertain, (ii) the amounts specified in such subsections bear a reasonable relationship to and are a reasonable estimate of the probable loss likely to be incurred by the non-cancelling party in connection with any cancellation, and (iii) in agreeing to the foregoing liquidated damages clause, the parties wish to avoid the uncertainty and costs associated with the future determination of actual damages.

17. Compliance with Laws. Each party shall comply with all applicable federal, state and local laws, rules, and regulations in performing its duties, responsibilities, and obligations pursuant to this Agreement.

18. Entirety of Agreement. This document incorporates and includes all prior negotiations, correspondence, conversations, agreements, and understandings applicable to the matters contained herein and the parties agree that there are no commitments, agreements or understandings concerning the subject matter of this Agreement that are not contained in this document. Accordingly, the parties agree that no deviation from the terms hereof is predicated upon any prior representations or agreements, whether oral or written.

19. Binding Effect. This Agreement is binding upon and inures to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and assigns.

20. Assignment. Neither this Agreement nor any interest herein may be assigned, transferred, or encumbered by any party without the prior written consent of the other party. There shall be no partial assignment of interests under this Agreement including, without limitation, the partial assignment of any right to receive payments from SBBC.

21. Captions. The captions, section designations, section numbers, article numbers, titles, and headings appearing in this Agreement are inserted only as a matter of convenience, have no substantive meaning, and in no way define, limit, construe, or describe the scope or intent of such articles or sections of this Agreement, nor in any way affect this Agreement and shall not be construed to create a conflict with the provisions of this Agreement.

22. Severability. If any one or more of the sections, paragraphs, sentences, clauses, or provisions contained in this Agreement is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, illegal, unlawful, unenforceable, or void in any respect, such does not affect the remaining portions of this Agreement and the same remain in full force and effect as if such invalid, illegal, unlawful, unenforceable, or void sections, paragraphs, sentences, clauses, or provisions had never been included.

23. Preparation of Agreement. The parties acknowledge that they have sought and obtained whatever competent advice and counsel necessary for them to form a full and complete understanding of all rights and obligations herein and that the preparation of this Agreement has been their joint effort. The language agreed to herein expresses their mutual intent and the resulting document shall not, solely as a matter of judicial construction, be construed more severely against one of the parties than the other.

24. Amendments. No modification, amendment, or alteration in the terms or conditions contained herein is effective unless contained in a written document executed by each party hereto, with the exception that any modification, amendment, or alteration in the terms or conditions contained herein that necessitates SBBC Board approval, shall be prepared with the same or similar formality as this Agreement and executed by each party thereto.

25. Waiver. The parties agree that each requirement, duty and obligation set forth herein is substantial and important to the formation of this Agreement and, therefore, is a material term hereof. Any party's failure to enforce any provision of this Agreement is not a waiver of such provision or modification of this Agreement unless the waiver is in writing and signed by the party waiving such provision. A written waiver is only effective as to the specific instance for which it is obtained and is not a continuing or future waiver.

26. Force Majeure. Neither party is obligated to perform any duty, requirement, or obligation under this Agreement if such performance is prevented by fire, hurricane, earthquake, explosion, wars, sabotage, accident, flood, acts of God, strikes, or other labor disputes, riot or civil commotions, epidemics, pandemics, government regulations, and the issuance or extension of existing government orders of the United States, the State of Georgia, State of Florida, or local county and municipal governing bodies, or by reason of any other matter or condition beyond the control of either party, and which cannot be overcome by reasonable diligence and without unusual expense ("Force Majeure"). In no event shall a lack of funds on the part of either party be deemed Force Majeure.

27. Rights and Remedies. The duties and obligations imposed by this Agreement and the rights and remedies available thereunder are in addition to and not a limitation of any duties, obligations, rights and remedies otherwise imposed or available by law.

28. Survival. All representations and warranties made herein, indemnification obligations, obligations to reimburse SBBC, obligations to maintain and allow inspection and audit of records and property, obligations to maintain the confidentiality of records, reporting requirements, and obligations to return public funds survive the termination of this Agreement.

29. Agreement Administration. SBBC has delegated authority to the Superintendent of Schools or her/his designee to take any actions necessary to implement and administer this Agreement.

30. Counterparts and Multiple Originals. This Agreement may be executed in multiple originals, and may be executed in counterparts, each of which is an original, but all of which, taken together, shall constitute one and the same Agreement.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY
First Amendment to Recreation License Agreement

Requested Action:
Approve the First Amendment to Recreation License Agreement (RLA) between the School Board of Broward County, Florida (SBBC) and the City of Plantation (City), to delete Section 2.04(b), the Plantation Athletic League (PAL) Stadium and parking lot adjacent to Plantation Middle School in its entirety, along with Exhibit "B" from the RLA; and to include the deletion of other cited related Sections in their entirety from the RLA.

General Information

The following information outlines the governing authority, districtwide implications, historical background, strategic alignment with the 2027 goals and guardrails, and the anticipated measurable outcomes and return on investment related to this agenda item.

District-zone Impact/Board Member: District 5
School Board Policy Requirement	• None
Statutory Requirement	• None
If the School Board votes "Yes"	• The First Amendment to RLA will become effective, and Section 2.04(b), regarding the PAL Stadium and parking lot adjacent to Plantation Middle School, along with Exhibit "B", and other cited related Sections will be deleted in their entirety.
If the School Board votes "No"	• The First Amendment to RLA will not become effective, and Section 2.04(b), regarding the PAL Stadium and parking lot adjacent to Plantation Middle School, along with the attached Exhibit "B", and other cited related Sections will not be deleted in their entirety.
Alignment to the 2027 Strategic Goals and Guardrails	• Business Operations
Measurable Outcome(s)/Return on Investment	• The District will resume total authority for the use of stadium and the parking lot adjacent to Plantation Middle School.

Background/History:

Recreation License Agreements (RLA) (formerly referred to as Master recreation Lease Agreements (MRLA)) are long-term agreements between the SBBC and a local governmental entity. The RLA are structured to allow for the long-term continuous use of recreational facilities

(i.e., playgrounds, ballfields, handball and basketball courts, tennis courts, tracks, etc.) identified in the RLA by the pertinent local governmental entity. Historically, the RLAs come into fruition at the request of a local governmental entity seeking permission to access and utilize existing recreational areas and amenities contained on the grounds of a specific Broward County Public Schools (BCPS) campus, during specified days and times. Occasionally, the request by the local governmental entity entails the following:

1. To fund and make recreational improvements to existing BCPS recreational grounds/amenities and thereafter utilize the recreational amenities during designated days and times.

2. To construct new recreational amenities on the school grounds and thereafter utilize the recreational amenities during designated days and times.

The terms of the RLAs vary but typically range between 20 to 50 years.

On April 13, 2022, SBBC and the City (collectively, the "Parties") entered into a twenty-five (25) year RLA to allow the City to license and utilize a portion of Seminole Middle School, the PAL Stadium, and the parking lot located adjacent to Plantation Middle School. The subject area was referenced as Licensed Premises in the RLA and graphically depicted as Exhibit "A" and Exhibit "B" and attached thereto the RLA. Pertinent SBBC schools and the City have jointly and successfully utilized the Licenses Premises since the effective date of the RLA.

In a letter dated January 26, 2026, the City informed BCPS that due to anticipated budgetary constraints, including the continued failure of the PAL Tackle Football and Cheering programs not meeting prescribed City residency requirements, the City, pursuant to Section 3.05 of the RLA, was thereby providing SBBC with the ninety (90) days written notice stipulated in the RLA, to terminate the RLA in part, only as it relates to the PAL Stadium and the parking lot.

While the City's notice specifically referenced Section 2.04(b) of the RLA, this First Amendment to RLA also deletes the following in the RLA due to their relativity to Section 2.04(b):

1. Amended and replaced Section 2.02.

2. Section 2.06 in its entirety and replacing the Section with new language pertaining to:

    a. Proposed improvements to the licensed premises and the review and approvals of the plans for the improvements by the Chief Facilities Officer and Chief Building Official or their designees.
    b. The City's responsibility regarding the contractor hired to perform the improvements.
    c. Requirements regarding contractor's furnishing of surety payments and bond performance as required by Florida law.
    d. The City's sole responsibility to bear all costs regarding proposed improvements.

3. Sections 2.09(b) and 2.10 in their entirety.

Based on the timeframe of the written notice from the City, the termination of the related components of the RLA became effective on April 25, 2026. However, upon the termination as enabled by Section 3.05(c) of the RLA, all other provisions of the RLA including Exhibit "A", would remain in effect. Additionally, it should be noted that the term of the RLA is not affected by the First Amendment to RLA. Thus, the term of the RLA remains at 25 years.

School Impact, Stakeholder Engagement, and Implementation Considerations

This section outlines how the proposed item will impact schools, including the selection and prioritization process where applicable, as well as stakeholder and end-user input. It also addresses technology and capital asset life cycles, replacement planning, and any additional operational details necessary to provide the Board with a comprehensive understanding of implementation.

Impact on Schools	Historically, Plantation High School utilizes the PAL Stadium and the adjacent parking lot for its athletic activities. Thus, given the cessation of the City's use of the PAL Stadium may provide the school with the ability and latitude to utilize the stadium with minimal constraints.
School Selection /Prioritization	Not Applicable
Community/ Stakeholder Engagement	The principal of Plantation High School does not object to the termination of Section 2.04(b) of the RLA. However, the American Youth Football League (AYFL) utilized the PAL Stadium for several years via the City's RLA with SBBC and have expressed to BCPS staff that it would like to continue utilizing the Stadium and parking lot via a new agreement with SBBC. Discussions regarding the viability of AYFL desired continuous use of the PAL Field are ongoing, and the principal of Plantation High School is in the loop on these discussions.
End-User Input	The same as indicated immediately above.

Background/History
On April 21, 2026, KIPP TEAM and Family submitted a Notice of Intent ("NOI") and Performance-based Agreement ("PBA") to Broward County Public Schools to operate a School of Hope, KIPP South Florida.

Authority
The Schools of Hope initiative, including the Schools of Hope Program and the designation of Hope Operators, is authorized pursuant to Section 1002.333, Florida Statutes. A Hope Operator is defined as a nonprofit entity exempt from federal taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code that operates three (3) or more charter schools serving students in grades K–12 in Florida or other states and has demonstrated a sustained record of effectively serving students from low-income families. To obtain designation, an applicant must satisfy the statutory eligibility criteria and be formally approved by the State Board of Education ("SBE"). Currently, the SBE has designated six (6) Hope Operators statewide: Democracy Prep Public Schools, Inc.; IDEA Public Schools; Mater Academy; Success Academy; Renaissance/Warrington Preparatory Academy; and KIPP TEAM and Family, formerly known as KIPP New Jersey.

A Hope Operator may establish a School of Hope pursuant to Section 1002.333, Florida Statutes, if the following applies:

1. The School of Hope serves students from one or more persistently low-performing schools or students who reside in a Florida Opportunity Zone;
2. The School of Hope is located in a Florida Opportunity Zone or in the attendance zone of a persistently low-performing school or within a five (5) mile radius of such a school, whichever is greater. A School of Hope may be located outside of a Florida Opportunity Zone or persistently low-performing school attendance zone if the school district does not have underused, vacant, or surplus property available for the Hope Operator to use within a Florida Opportunity Zone or persistently low-performing school attendance zone; and
3. The School of Hope is a Title I eligible school.

As amended by Senate Bill 2510 (2025), Section 1002.333(1)(c), Florida Statutes, defines a "persistently low-performing school" by three criteria, the third of which applies beginning with the 2025–2026 school year:

1. A school that has earned three school grades lower than a "C," pursuant to Section 1008.34, Fla. Stat., in at least three of the previous five years that the school received a grade and has not earned a grade of "B" or higher in the most recent two (2) school years;
2. A school that was closed pursuant to Section 1008.33(4), Fla. Stat., within two (2) years after the submission of a notice of intent; or
3. A school that was in the bottom ten (10) percent in at least two (2) of the previous three (3) years for student performance on the end-of-year administration of the coordinated screening and progress monitoring system for

Grade 3 FAST English Language Arts or Grade 4 FAST Mathematics as prescribed in Section 1008.22(3)(a)2., Fla. Stat.

Process

Section 1002.333, Florida Statutes, and Rule 6A-1.0998271, Florida Administrative Code, require Hope Operators to use FLDOE's standard Notice of Intent (NOI) and Performance-Based Agreement (PBA) forms, which are incorporated by reference and may not be modified. While a school district may identify errors or omissions and allow the Hope Operator an opportunity to cure, such deficiencies do not relieve the District of its obligation to enter into a PBA. Upon receipt of a complete NOI and draft standard PBA, the district must execute the PBA within sixty (60) days; failure to do so requires the district to reduce administrative fees for all charter schools to one percent (1%) until the PBA is finalized.

The NOI and PBA do not identify a specific site for the location of the SOH; however, KIPP indicated that the school would be located within the applicable attendance zone or within a five-mile radius (whichever is greater) of Walker Elementary School, Tedder Elementary School, Lloyd Estates Elementary School, Robert C. Markham Elementary School, Royal Palm Elementary School, or Charles Drew Elementary School, or alternatively, within a federally designated Opportunity Zone in Broward County.

The Superintendent's Charter School Review Committee (Committee) reviewed the NOI and PBA for KIPP Team and Family in accordance with Rule 6A-1.099821, Florida Administrative Code, and have determined that the submission is complete.

The term of the agreement is for a period of five (5) years, commencing on July 1, 2027, and ending on June 30, 2032.

The information shall be made available to the District upon written request. However, such requests may not be made until after the October survey period. The School shall maintain documentation of each enrollment lottery conducted. Such documentation shall provide sufficient detail to allow the District to verify that the random selection process utilized by the School was conducted in accordance with Section 1002.333(5), Florida Statutes. Records must be maintained in accordance with applicable record retention laws.

I. Exceptional Student Education. Exceptional students shall be provided with programs implemented in accordance with applicable Federal, state and local policies and procedures; and, specifically, the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Sections 1000.05 and 1001.42(4) (l), Florida Statutes, and Chapter 6A-6, Florida Administrative Code. All School personnel involved with any aspect of the testing process must abide by State policies, procedures, and standards regarding test administration, test security, test audits, and reporting of test results. The School shall designate a testing coordinator and shall be responsible for proper test administration. K. Non-Renewal and Termination.

1. The District shall make student academic achievement for all students the most important factor when determining whether to renew or terminate this PBA. a. Failure to achieve the academic performance expectations set forth pursuant to Section J.1. of this PBA.

b. Failure to meet generally accepted standards of fiscal management.

c. Material violation of this PBA or violation of law.

2. The District shall notify the Governing Board in writing at least ninety (90) calendar days prior to non-renewing, or terminating this PBA.

a. A request for a hearing must be authorized by a vote of the Governing Board and be submitted pursuant to the Notice provisions of this Contract.

4. The District may immediately terminate this PBA pursuant to Section 1002.33(8)(d), Florida Statutes, if it sets forth in writing the particular facts and circumstances indicating that an immediate and serious danger to the health, safety or welfare of the School's students exists.

5. If the School elects to terminate or non-renew the PBA, it shall provide reasonable prior notice of the election to the District indicating the final date of operation as voted by the Governing Board at a publicly noticed meeting. A board resolution signed by the School's Governing Board chair and secretary, indicating support of this action, shall accompany the written notification provided to the District. 5. Upon notice of termination or non-renewal, the School shall not remove any public property from the premises.

L. Post Termination Provisions

1. The nonrenewal or termination of this PBA must comply with the requirements of Section 1002.33(8), Florida Statutes. 2. In the event of termination or non-renewal of this charter, any and all leases existing between the District and the School shall be automatically cancelled, unless the lease provides otherwise. In no event shall the District be responsible under any assignment of a lease for any debts or obligations of the School incurred prior to such assignment.

Any unencumbered public funds shall revert to the District or Department, as appropriate. Any unencumbered public funds from the School, district school board property and improvements, furnishings, and equipment purchased with public funds, or financial or other records pertaining to the School, in the possession of any person, entity, or holding company, other than the School, shall be held in trust upon the District's request, until any appeal is resolved. If the School's accounting records fail to clearly establish whether a particular asset was purchased with public funds, then it shall be presumed public funds were utilized and ownership of the asset shall automatically revert to the District.

M. Transportation

1. The School shall provide transportation to the School's students consistent with the requirements of Sections 1006.21-27 and 1012.45, Florida Statutes. The governing board of the School may provide transportation through an agreement or contract with the School Board, a private provider, or parents. Transportation may not be a barrier to equal access for all students residing within a reasonable distance of the school.

2. The parties may agree for the District to provide transportation to and from the School. If such agreement is reached, it shall be the subject of a separate contract. If agreement is reached with the District, the School may utilize, at the School's expense, the District's transportation services for extracurricular events, field trips, and other activities on the same basis and terms as other District-operated schools.

3. The School shall comply with all applicable transportation safety requirements. Should the School choose to implement its own transportation plan rather than contract with the District for transportation services, it shall submit a transportation plan to the District for review and approval. The School shall provide the District with the name of School's private transportation provider and a copy of the signed contract no later than ten (10) business days prior to the use of the service.

4. If the School submits data relevant to FTE funding for transportation that is later determined through the audit procedure to be inaccurate, the School shall be responsible for any reimbursement to the District and State arising as a result of any errors or omissions, misrepresentations or inaccurate projections for which the School is responsible. For any transportation FTE adjustment, which is attributable to error or substantial non-compliance by the School, the District shall deduct such assessed amount from the next available payment otherwise due to the School, without penalty or interest.

Any deficit incurred by the School shall be the sole fiscal responsibility of the School and the Sponsor shall have no liability for the same.

N. Indemnification

1. Any arrangement entered into to borrow or otherwise secure funds for the School, from a source other than the State or the District, shall indemnify the State and the District from any and all liability including, but not limited to, financial responsibility for the payment of the principal or interest.

2. Any loans, bonds or other financial agreements entered into by the School are not obligations of the State or the District but are obligations of the School and are payable solely from the sources of funds pledged by such agreement.

Section A: Mission Statement

1. Provide the mission and vision statements for the proposed School of Hope charter school. The mission is a statement of the fundamental purpose of the school, describing why it exists. The vision statement outlines how the school will operate and what it will achieve in the long term. The mission and vision statement provide the foundation for the entire proposal, and taken together, should illustrate what success looks like.

KIPP, the Knowledge is Power Program, is a national nonprofit network of college-preparatory, public charter schools educating elementary, middle, and high school students with a 20-plus year track record of preparing students in educationally underserved communities for success in college and life. KIPP schools currently operate in 21 states and the District of Columbia.

KIPP's mission is to create a respected, influential, and national network of public schools that are successful in helping students from educationally underserved communities develop the knowledge, skills, character, and habits needed to succeed in college and the competitive world beyond.

KIPP South Florida's mission is to create a network of schools in Broward County that instill in their students the desire and ability to succeed in college, in order to change the world.

The KIPP model that KIPP South Florida - Broward will follow has a proven record of providing students with the knowledge, skills, and character strengths needed for success through college and a choice-filled life. We do this first by cultivating a culture of high expectations for achievement and conduct, with a college-going focus and support tailored to each student's needs. Our students gain more instructional time throughout the school year through extended school days and additional instructional days. This allows for greater academic focus, a results-driven approach, and high-quality teaching delivered by educators who are committed to continuous learning and professional growth. Each student's progress is evaluated via bi-weekly mastery quizzes and quarterly student assessments, which allow for personalized intervention. Our network has custom-built dashboards to make this data actionable on a weekly basis. We collect hundreds of data points on each of our students throughout the year, and send them to parents weekly to keep them informed of their student's progress. Our students' families are also part of the KIPP experience--teachers and leaders conduct home visits to listen to the student's story and share KIPP's expectations as they enter the school (i.e. entry years); we host family events throughout the year to encourage regular involvement, and have resources for families in our schools.

KIPP's academic strategy is described in detail in Section B.

Section B: Academic Focus and Plan

1. Describe the proposed charter school's educational program.

KIPP South Florida - Broward's educational program focuses on preparing students for college and career.

We continuously work toward the following beliefs, which provide the foundation of our vision for literacy and math instruction and are consistent across all content areas in our schools. We have not yet sought accreditation but it is possible that over the course of the Performance Based Agreement (PBA) we will do so through the Southern Association of College and Schools.

Literacy

We believe literacy begins with foundational skills. We are believers in the science of reading and use the FLDOE tool to complete our District Comprehensive Evidence-Based Reading Plan which we have attached in the appendix (Attachment E) for a full description of our approach. We are currently in the process of updating this for high school, since we currently do not operate high schools, but will next year.

We believe that reading grants access to the world within, around, and beyond ourselves.
Our students know that reading broadens horizons, deepens knowledge, sparks curiosity, and inspires joy. So, in our classrooms and in their own lives, they are constantly interacting with a variety of relevant and rigorous texts that push their thinking and expand their understanding of the world. They read and write about text deeply to demonstrate mastery of the Florida BEST Standards and learn how to use literacy to build their own agency. Through reading with our students, we develop a greater appreciation for the vast potential, complexity, and beauty of the human experience, and we are all better for it. Our students are active, engaged readers, implementing metacognitive strategies to monitor their fluency and comprehension; connect their thinking to larger themes during read-alouds, shared reading, and close reads. They gain confidence and facility with texts at their grade levels, instructional levels, and independent levels, and our literacy approach consists of instruction in all three. Our students develop their own means of interacting with text, using annotation, note-taking, comprehension strategies, and thinking jobs as just a few of the many ways to build meaning as they read. They approach unfamiliar texts with the know-how necessary to access language, read critically, appreciate craft, and comprehend fully: they are not defeated by the words in front of them.

We believe in the power of the pen.
Our students find their own voices in writing, breaking from formulas and traversing all genres with skill and nuance. Our students learn to develop claims about text and the world at large, organize writing to best support those points, select and connect relevant evidence, and deliver thoughts clearly and skillfully. They appreciate the author's craft, recognizing it in anchor texts and honing their own techniques through close study and practice with vocabulary and grammar. They experiment and get creative in their writing. Graphic organizers—when used at all—are a means, not an end. Our students have a passion for precision, refining their written work through cycles of feedback and revision. They read and respond to their teammates' work, engaging in peer analysis and review. They practice writing in multiple formats, so that their thoughts are expressed as fluidly on the screen as they are on paper. Our students recognize that excellence in writing opens doors to college and career success.

We believe in discussing what we read, write, and think.
Our students regularly engage in critical, constructive discourse as an opportunity to present, support, and deepen their thinking. They discuss, they debate, and they revise their thoughts when presented with strong counterpoints. Our lessons include closing discourse and frequent discussion moments, and our students embrace the power of learning from one another, whether in whole groups or in partners. During these discussions, students regularly encounter questions like “why?”, “how do you know that?”, “evaluate your teammate’s thinking,” and “what evidence do you see for that claim?” They believe in the value of collaborating with teammates to push their own thinking and understanding. Through discourse, our students develop empathy and curiosity about what’s different, and develop the passion and knowledge to disrupt the status quo.

We believe teachers are at the heart of our students’ literacy success.
Our students love reading and writing, and so do we. So, we study the demands and the beauty of the standards, recognizing and refining thinking steps that get students to mastery. We also study the text and do the students’ work in advance, so that we can use that experience to plan strategically and encourage productive struggle. We ask students to do the intellectual heavy lifting on the essential questions, and we scaffold sparingly, because we believe in building our students’ independence. We urgently monitor our students’ discussion, writing, and thinking during lessons, so that we can swiftly respond to misconceptions and help them clarify their thinking during whole-class discourse. We read and respond to student writing with precise and meaningful feedback that helps them celebrate their strengths and understand how to improve. We close every lesson with students naming the transferrable takeaway and demonstrating mastery via independent, standard aligned exit tickets. Then, we design and monitor ongoing assessments and strategic reteaching to measure, produce, and recognize student growth. And because we know our students deserve to read at or above their grade level, we commit to relentless intervention to catch them up, until every one of our students can access grade level text.

Mathematics

We believe that math instruction should be engaging, and that there is value in productive struggle.
Our students solve engaging, challenging math problems in class. Their engagement is grounded in the challenge. Through the tasks put in front of them and the culture of collaboration in the classroom, our students fall in love with the study of mathematics. We reject “I do - we do - you do” teaching in which students watch a teacher solve a problem and then imitate the teacher’s approach. Instead, our math lessons require students to use what they know to attack a new problem that is one step beyond what they have ever done, but achievable with struggle. Our students articulate their process, even when that articulation is in itself a struggle. It’s not enough for them to be able to get the right answer - they must also be able to explain how they got it and why it is correct. To assist in mastering the concept, we believe in repetition of practice so students are able to execute the skill with automaticity.

We believe in thinking flexibly about math, and we encourage the use of multiple representations.
We know that the "one size fits all" approach to teaching mathematics does not work. Our curriculum encourages logical thinking and allows for a number of different, but equally valuable, strategies. Teachers plan lessons by considering all the strategies that students might use to attack the problem and consider how to explicitly draw connections between those strategies.

We believe learning deepens when students share their reasoning and critique the reasoning of others.
Our math classes are classrooms of questions and answers, of inquiry and explanations, of conjectures and justifications, and of written and oral discourse. We know that writing helps to clarify our thinking and that teaching another strengthens our own learning. So, our classrooms put vibrant student discourse front and center, in the form of meaningful partner and group work as well as whole group discussion. During these discussions, students regularly encounter questions like "why?", "how do you know that?", "evaluate your teammate's thinking," "how can you make your thinking visible?," and "can you prove it?"

We give students opportunities to learn math through context, rather than rules or "tricks."
We use realistic contexts to bring mathematics to life first – before moving to abstraction. For example, students get opportunities to make sense of fraction division by solving real-world problems and tasks (e.g. considering how to share 1⁄4 of a pie evenly between 3 friends) and then have the opportunity to make connections between the mathematics in each scenario as they explore strategies for solving fraction division, rather than simply teaching students, "Don't ask why, invert and multiply." We seize every opportunity to use math to explain the world, because we want our students to see the inherent beauty and interconnectedness of mathematics.

We believe in building conceptual and application-level understanding, and in mastering procedural skills. We also believe in incorporating meaningful, strategic, and on-going cumulative review.
All are essential for students to apply their knowledge to a range of problems. For this reason, our teachers blend conceptual understanding (e.g., the meaning of area and perimeter and how they are related) with a focus on mathematical skills (e.g., how to find the area and perimeter of plane figures) and approach opportunities to discuss and explore existing misconceptions with enthusiasm. We don't simply tell students what's right or wrong. We recognize that one of the most effective strategies for fostering mastery and retention of critical skills is daily, cumulative review. Teachers do this to keep skills sharp, review vocabulary, and reinforce both conceptual understandings and procedural fluency.

We believe in attaining a clear picture of mastery by the end of the lesson – for students and teachers.
Our teachers urgently monitor understanding throughout the lesson, collecting data on kid learning, and making instructional decisions based on that data. At the end of each lesson, everyone knows what the point of the lesson was. Lessons end with a summary: a teacher or a student summarizes what was learned from the lesson and reinforces connections between strategies and content. Students can tell whether they got it. We determine mastery not by whether or not students can do the same problem again, but whether they can apply that knowledge to another (and significantly different) problem. Exit tickets are used consistently to measure and monitor progress.

We believe teachers are at the heart of our students' success in mathematics.
Our students love math, and so do we. So, we thoroughly study each lesson. Prior to each lesson, we build a clear understanding of the mathematical concept, the specific learning expectations for our students, guided by the criteria for success and how and where these expectations fit into the larger unit. We work through the set of problems, tasks, and/or activities to create an exemplar that will support in identifying pivotal moments in the lesson and in recognizing the thinking skills required to be successful. We plan out how we will engage and hook students into the learning. We identify a key set of questions and expected student responses that centers on students' desired understandings and key takeaways. In identifying the heartiest questions, we recognize that less is more – and we prepare to engage in rich discourse around those questions. We consider the errors that students are likely to make and misconceptions that students are likely to have, and we prepare strategies and questions that address these errors and misconceptions. We identify how student mastery will be assessed, and we commit to reteaching students who have not yet mastered what they need to.

2. Describe the basic learning environment (e.g., classroom-based, independent study, blended learning), including rationale for class size and structure and how the learning environment supports and is consistent with the mission.

KIPP South Florida - Broward's learning environments will be characterized by high expectations for academics and character, a clear vision of "to and through college" for every student, and a positive culture among students and staff. The organization of the school creates a small school feel through personalization and highly supportive learning environments.

Extended Instructional Time
Extended instructional time provides KIPP South Florida - Broward students with more instruction and support through a longer week and year. Students will attend school for an average of 7.5 hours per day four days a week, with a fifth "early release" day each week to provide school faculty with time for collaborative planning, professional development, and data analysis.

Specifically, extended instructional time includes:

- A school day that runs from 8:00 am to 3:30 pm
- Supplemental programming beginning after the school day ends and running until 6:00 pm.

An early release day includes:

- A school day that runs from 8:00 am to 1:30 pm
- Teachers engage in professional development and content sessions from 2:00 pm to 4:30 pm every Wednesday.

The additional minutes and supplemental programming ensures every student has the instruction and individualized support needed to meet and exceed annual academic goals. This time also allows for mentorship of students building camaraderie and providing invaluable support for every student and his/her family. Extended time for staff means robust support and training to serve their students, including professional learning communities that collaborate in professional development and planning.

Common Expectations and Protocols

Expectations, tools, protocols, and routines aligned to the mission are common across KIPP South Florida - Broward Schools' classrooms, creating clarity for students. For instance, KIPP South Florida - Broward schools articulate expectations for classroom behavior (i.e., how a student demonstrates that s/he is listening), common whiteboard configurations, lesson planning templates, forms and protocols for teachers, and rubrics for assignments. Techniques described in Doug Lemov's Teach Like a Champion and John Saphier's The Skillful Teacher are the basis for teachers' instructional norms and strategies, providing a consistent feel and expectation for all students across all classrooms. We also administer regular standard mastery quizzes and facilitate a teacher analysis protocol using a data dashboard that updates in near real time to ensure data is driving instructional decisions. Our teachers also engage in rigorous internalization of the curriculum and content and our observed and provided feedback on content specific look-fors that, similar to the above mentioned pedagogical moves, are based in research (e.g. Hollis Scarborough's Reading Rope).

Small Groups and Individualized Instruction

KIPP South Florida - Broward's approach includes identifying the needs of students and tailoring instruction to meet each student's needs. In elementary school, small groups are a key way we personalize instruction, and in middle school, we continue that practice via guided reading and math instruction as needed, and/or personalized blended learning options tailored to meet students where they are.

KIPP South Florida - Broward is investing in a staff that includes Teachers in Residence, teachers who are developing their craft and who support the core classroom teachers in small group instruction. Focusing on small groups of students with similar needs allows teachers to adjust instruction to student data, reinforce concepts, and encourage advanced students to take on new challenges. Additionally, the frequent use of reliable, authentic assessment measures informs these flexible groupings, and classroom space will include leveled classroom libraries, separate tables to facilitate group work, and technology devices and other platforms for self-paced practice. The teacher in Residence program also provides an internal pipeline to ensure stronger retention and academic outcomes in year one of teaching.

Lastly, we hire reading interventionists and ESE teachers who support both push in and pull out instruction for both our students who are ESE classified or are in the lower 25% on the FAST reading assessment. Our ESE teachers are pulling our Tier 3 students for 80-120 minutes of additional reading instruction on top of the required ESE minutes.

Instructional Coaching

Each assistant principal will manage and support a group of teachers and share ownership over the success of students in those teachers' classrooms. Their responsibilities include regular teacher observation and feedback cycles; data analysis and disaggregation to help inform teachers' instructional strategies for both individual students and groups of students; and facilitation of content and data study meetings designed to help teachers further increase their own mastery of content and pedagogy. A teacher's weekly schedule includes dedicated time for guided data analysis with the assistant principal and subsequent planning, one-on-one meetings with their manager for coaching and feedback, and content team meetings to engage with peers to improve instruction. Our newest teachers will be participants in a professional development program tailored specifically for them to quickly accelerate both skills and content knowledge.

Intensive, College-Going Culture

KIPP South Florida - Broward's intentionality and consistency to provide a pathway to college graduation for all students sets it apart. Starting in kindergarten, students learn about and talk about college. Cohorts are named by their college graduation year (i.e., the founding kindergarteners will be the Class of 2041) and classes are named by the university the lead teacher attended (i.e., The University of Florida). We pair this with robust family involvement and support along the student's academic journey, which in early grades includes exposing families to the college-going process and financial planning and aid. We also offer our students the support of the KIPP Forward team, which provides guidance for college application and match and support to empower alumni to persist through to college graduation.

Class Sizes

Class size will be in accordance with s. 1003.03, calculated as the average at the school level.

3. Describe the school's curriculum in the core academic areas, illustrating how it will prepare students to achieve Florida standards, as provided for in Section 1003.41, Florida Statutes. Describe the primary instructional strategies that the school will expect teachers to use and why they are appropriate for the anticipated student population. Describe the methods and systems teachers will have for providing differentiated instruction to meet the needs of all students, including how students who enter the school below grade level will be engaged in and benefit from the curriculum and the formalized multi- tiered level of supports that will be provided to students who are performing below grade level.

All curriculum we use is on the approved list of Florida curriculum and BEST or NGSSS aligned. Below is a table that outlines for each academic area the core curriculum we are planning to use. More detailed high school curriculum is listed in detail under the high school section below.

English Language Arts Approaches and Structures

In grades K-2, we use Amplify CKLA which is composed of both Knowledge and Skills components built around the science of reading. Students receive 120 minutes of reading instruction, including 60 minutes of phonics. In addition, students have a 30-40 minute block of literacy intervention where they receive differentiated support based on assessments and DIBELs progress monitoring. We believe in the use of data and providing students with frequent opportunities to practice with real time correction from the teacher.

In grades 3-5, we use McGraw Hill Wonders. Students receive 90 minutes of ELA instruction aligned to the core curriculum. In addition students also have 35 minutes of differentiated reading intervention (based on assessment data and DIBELS progress monitoring data) and 35 minutes of a writer's workshop to help students develop analysis, critical thinking, and writing skills, as well as prepare students for state writing assessments.

In grades 6-8, we use SAVVAS My Perspectives. Students receive 90 minutes of ELA instruction as well as differentiated instruction on standards to ensure mastery. Reading and writing are woven together and are a part of the daily lesson structure.

With writing, we believe that the best way to build our students' capacity to understand author's craft in text is to develop their capacity as writers themselves. This means that our writing model will allow students to experiment as writers with the craft moves and techniques they encounter in their reading. Writing within genres requires students to think through how their moves as writers create impact. Our writing model will help to support the idea of our students falling in love with reading by developing their sense of themselves as both creators and consumers of engaging, meaningful text.

Students who are not grade level proficient are scheduled to receive additional differentiated instruction during daily intervention periods. During this time students have additional time on phonics instruction through mCLASS (as dictated by assessment data or DIBELS progress monitors), iReady support and guided reading interventions.

Math Approaches and Structures

We use Florida Reveal, Carnegie Math , and Cognitively Guided Instruction (CGI) for intervention through which students explore problems and concepts, and utilize discourse and evaluation to develop stronger conceptual understandings. We emphasize flexibility in problem-solving, and we rely on math routines to build procedural fluency and a deeper understanding of numbers and patterns. In addition to minutes dedicated to conceptual mastery, we also offer students time dedicated to spiraled review and reteach, based on the data we are garnering from formative and summative assessments given over the course of the year. Students receive 60 minutes of direct instruction and 30 minutes of differentiated intervention in elementary school. In middle school, students have 90 minutes of math instruction daily.

Science Curriculum

In Grades K – 8, we use materials and scope & sequence from SAVVAS Science, which is aligned to the Florida State Academic Standards for Science. The curriculum provides aligned, hands-on activities for students to engage in real-world science applications. In Grades 9 – 12, we use McGraw Hill for curriculum and Florida Miller & Levine for our Biology courses. In high school, we offer Physics, Chemistry, Biology, AP Environmental, AP Biology as the course options.

Social Studies Curriculum

For Social Studies, we use Gallopade and adjust as needed to ensure high quality history instruction, but also incorporate a number of elements that align more closely to our instructional vision, noted above. Our History curriculum thus includes at least one C3 inquiry per unit, allowing students to engage with rich, authentic text from or about a specific time period in order to discover more about the occurrences being described. We also include meaningful project-based-learning opportunities for students in our Social Studies curriculum, and include a current-events based lesson once a week. This mix of approaches in Social Studies offers our students the opportunity to learn key facts and skills, while also learning through inquiry and advocacy as well. In High School, our History courses use KIPP Foundation's AP for All curriculum. Our high school History courses are: AP World History and AP U.S. History. Additionally we will use these materials along with resources like Newsela and the History Alive! curriculum, which will be used as components of the social studies curriculum.

Combining these resources, the social studies curriculum will be reading intensive, and involve the analysis of primary and secondary sources with an emphasis on project-based assessments. It will also explicitly tie to character development and habits of mind necessary for success in college and beyond.

Cross-Curricular Instructional Strategies

Multiple Modalities of Instruction

KIPP South Florida - Broward will have common strategies, protocols and expectations, and will also support teachers to implement a range of modalities that keep students engaged and successful. Our extended time model is conducive to combining and integrating multiple instructional techniques throughout the day. Instructional methods that may be implemented at KIPP South Florida - Broward will include, but are not limited to:

- Direct instruction
- Small group and one-on-one tutorials
- Collaborative learning
- Seminar style learning
- Performance assessment
- Personalized and blended learning
- Socratic seminars and debates
- Inquiry-based instruction
- Blended learning

The effectiveness of these modalities will be evaluated when teachers review student assessment data and when leaders observe teachers so that practices can be refined to provide rigorous, standards-aligned lessons that engage all students.

Vertical and Horizontal Alignment

All content area curricula are vertically aligned with common practices and approaches. Prior to the start of the academic year, all teachers are provided with a scope and sequence for each content area that bundle standards across the year to ensure that all standards are covered. Each scope and sequence includes adequate re-teaching time and spiraling of foundational standards. Collaborative data analysis and planning meetings in content team meetings across grades allow teachers to share information about how students are mastering and retaining information as they progress to the next grade level, so every student can master the standards.

We do this work even with programs that are different. In grades K-2, Amplify CKLA has a knowledge component of the curriculum to assist with building directly aligned background knowledge by topics. The Achievement Director for grades 3-5 aligns topics and units from CKLA Knowledge to Wonders where there is overlap. Where there isn't sufficient overlay between the two curricula, Achievement Directors build in one to two project-based learning activities that allow for students to deepen their understanding and background knowledge on specific topics. Teachers are also required to plan one project-based learning activity for each unit within the school year.

For example, when reading a unit where students were introduced to voting, during the PLC, teachers planned a project-based learning activity where students learned the entire election process. Some students campaigned and ran for president in class. Then, students had the opportunity to vote for a president and vice president and during open house elected presidents gave an inauguration speech. This project both introduced students to the election process and government while building students' background knowledge for the unit.

Data-Driven Decision-Making and Planning

As described in greater detail in Section 5, KIPP's focus on results is manifested in frequent, reliable assessment measures, primarily consisting of formal assessments in each grade level and content area that are tracked in the school's data system. In addition to state-mandated assessments, students will participate in i-Ready testing for reading and math upon entering our schools and 3 times annually; quarterly benchmarks to assess mastery of the standards covered to that point; and weekly assessments (in either math or reading) to drive short-term instructional planning. We call these weekly assessments Cumulative Review Quizzes (CRQs). These assessments are comprised of the most assessed Teachers will work with their content teams and instructional coaches to analyze and monitor progress with these data and other data they surface (i.e., exit tickets and interim assessments) during weekly PD on Wednesday in order to inform individual student goals, design flexible small group structures and adjust their lessons to student needs. After analyzing the data with teachers, our instructional leaders and school leaders meet on a weekly basis in Data and Key Initiative (DKI) meetings to discuss what changes need to be made to curriculum, intervention, or coaching in order to meet student academic needs and close any gaps. At KIPP we believe in implementing a structured, consistent approach to analysis to ensure data effectively and reliably drives all decision-making.

For further clarification in grades K-1, students are not assessed weekly using STAR, DIBELS and i-Ready. For Tier 1 instruction, students take one assessment per week, either in math or ELA that is aligned to the BEST standards. This is a progress monitoring towards grade level standards, skills and content. For tier II academic interventions, According to the DIBELS Benchmark Assessment (taken three times per year, beginning of year, middle of year, and end of year) students who are considered reading significantly well-below grade level are progress monitored every two weeks on specific foundational reading skills using DIBELS short progress monitoring tool and students who are considered reading below grade level are progressed monitored once per month using short DIBELS progress monitoring tools. Students who are below grade level in math according to the STAR math and i-Ready Diagnostic assessment participate in the i-Ready growth monitoring check one per month for tier II academic interventions.

In addition, every 6 weeks we conduct an Instructional Review (IR) at each school. During this time school, regional and network leaders will observe every classroom and school-wide system (arrival, lunch, dismissal) to observe and collect data. This data is compiled with student assessment data, attendance, and school culture and time is held for guided analysis and collaborative planning to respond to this data. Schools then present an Improve Student Outcomes Plan to communicate how resources and support will be differentiated in an effort to respond to the IR data.

Partnerships with Families and Students for Goal Setting and Progress Monitoring

KIPP South Florida - Broward partners with our families in academics, and communicates frequently about student goals and progress. For instance, individual reading goals will be set during a family-student-teacher conferences, and quarterly standards-based report cards and semi-quarterly progress reports will be shared with families. This includes FAST results and i-Ready reports to show growth toward annual growth goals, DIBELS reports to show reading acquisition and growth through 8th grade. Students and families will be able to articulate student goals and what data communicates about progress toward goals to develop a shared ownership for that growth.

Instructional Strategies

Assessment and Data-Driven Decision-Making

At the beginning of every K-8 school year, each child's current reading level and target skills will be assessed using DIBELS assessments and i-Ready. These data, coupled with STAR results for K-2nd grade and FAST results for 3rd-8th grade students, will serve as the primary means of informing literacy instruction. Teachers will be supported in tracking literacy data throughout their classes to inform flexible intervention groups and leaders will rely on these data to drive teacher coaching and professional development.

Students who do not meet literacy benchmarks will receive targeted support, including push-in services, small group instruction, individualized interventions from an ESE or intervention teacher, preferential seating, a modified curriculum, adapted assignments, and extended instructional time. Use of blended learning tools, such as iReady, IXL, and Progress Learning provide another means of individualized practice that aligns with assessment data. Students may also receive tutoring individually and in small groups during the school day and after school. In elementary and middle school, students who are behind grade level reading receive various interventions, including small group reading instruction, adaptive blended learning platform support (like I-Ready MyPath), and ongoing DIBELS testing and mCLASS lessons.

In high school, students engage in a robust SAT prep experience to ensure they can reach the goal of a 1010 on the SAT by the end of their junior year. An SAT composite score of 1010 is recognized as a national benchmark for college readiness, and expands the potential opportunities for financial aid and scholarships.

Students begin taking diagnostic and practice SAT tests and sample sections in 9th grade, and take full-length pre- and post- released SAT at the beginning and end of 9th, 10th, and 11th grades. Our high school teachers use the data from these practice tests to inform instruction in our content courses, embedding SAT content in the curriculum they already teach, as well as in targeted small-group practice on skills and strategies specific to the SAT format. Every student has individual check-ins about their ACT progress throughout 9th, 10th, and 11th grades.

Data Driven Reading Intervention

During the intervention block, the teacher will utilize data (standard aligned assessment and DIBELS progress monitoring) to differentiate for students including direct instruction, frequent practice and feedback on lagging skills, computer adaptive learning, and research backed reading and writing practices to any academic gaps. We fully embrace the science of reading and teachers pull small groups and utilize DIBELS progress monitoring data to provide direct instruction and multiple at-bats using mCLASS materials. This reading model provides strategies that are supported by recommended lessons, texts, and instructional practices to target a specific skill. Our approach to intervention supports all learners and was specifically developed to address the best practices of sheltered immersion for ELLs and literacy acquisition and development for struggling students. The approach allows teachers to target skill development by developing student ability in phonemic awareness, phonics and alphabetic principle, fluency, and comprehension.

Small groups are skill-based and are formed using the most recent data sets. Teachers triangulate summative data, formative data, and classroom observation to form small groups for reading and math interventions to form small groups on a recurring basis are initially level based and then teachers are using the most recent data to differentiate based on skill. With the knowledge of students' achievement levels, teachers use that as an overarching goal as they progress monitor towards grade level standard mastery.

Vocabulary Development

Research shows that students with greater vocabularies are better readers and more successful learners. Thus, KIPP South Florida - Broward will incorporate direct vocabulary instruction through the Wordly Wise curriculum in literacy and across content areas for all grade levels. The focus on vocabulary goes beyond word walls and building schema through vocabulary as a pre-reading exercise. All teachers utilize a multisyllabic decoding routine and the Marzano six-step approach to build students' vocabulary across content areas:

1. Provide a description, explanation, or example of the new term
2. Ask students to restate the description, explanation, or example in their own words
3. Ask students to construct a picture, pictograph, or symbolic representation of the term
4. Engage students periodically in activities that help them add to their knowledge of the terms in their vocabulary notebooks
5. Periodically ask students to discuss the terms with one another
6. Involve students periodically in games that enable them to play with terms

Differentiated Instruction

KIPP South Florida - Broward schools are designed to serve students who enter school significantly below grade level. KIPP South Florida - Broward welcomes all students, regardless of need, and provides the necessary support to ensure all students are achieving academically. As outlined above, each student will be assessed annually in grades K-8 at the beginning of the year using DIBELS and i-Ready assessments in reading and i-Ready in math (aligned to the Florida standards). These specific assessments have been chosen in large part because of the accuracy, alignment to state testing, and availability of data by strand, subgroup, and individual. Frequent data collection and analysis for each student enables staff to ensure that those students who enter below grade level have specific growth areas identified and targeted from the start.

In addition to these assessments, weekly assessments are built into lesson plans and reported through a custom dashboard so they can be analyzed as part of each teacher's weekly coaching session. The daily intervention block in all grades and flexible groupings used within extended instructional periods all provide robust time for instruction that is differentiated according to each student's needs. Summer programming provides foundational skill spiraling and multiple modalities of essential skills to enrich every student's start. In addition, the common lesson plan format requires teachers to outline how each lesson is differentiated for specific student needs, learning styles, and standards mastery.

A number of the school structures described previously are part of the supports for struggling students in engagement and mastery of the curriculum, which include but are not limited to:

- KIPP Literacy Framework, with literacy emphasized across the curriculum and four annual assessments to guide instruction and interventions
- Flexible, differentiated small groups
- Extended learning time
- i-Ready test and quarterly benchmark assessments, with use of this data to drive instruction, interventions, and student groupings
- Frequent formal and informal family communication that provides information and strategies for supporting academic growth at home
- Curriculum and instructional strategies that have been demonstrated to affect significant gains for students behind grade level

Because the school will administer academic instruction with a differentiated approach, gifted students and others exceeding standards will also be challenged within the instructional program.

Response to Intervention (Tiered Support)

KIPP South Florida - Broward will align with the Florida Department of Education's Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) through a Response to Intervention (RtI) model that provides students who are performing below grade level the interventions they need to master standards. We have attached our MTSS Guide (Appendix F). For students unable to meet behavior and academic goals with the differentiation strategies outlined above, the system of support at KIPP South Florida - Broward will be organized into tiers according to the needs of students.

Each school will have a Program Specialist who serves as the Student Support Team (SST) Coordinator and facilitates all SST meetings when a student is being considered for movement between tiers.

When a referral for evaluation is being considered, the Regional School Psychologist will participate in the SST meeting to provide input and ensure that consent for evaluation is comprehensive and aligned to all identified areas of concern.

Academics:
Each school has Grade Level Chairs who lead grade-level data review meetings. These teams meet at least four times per year, following each intervention cycle, to review student progress monitoring data. During these meetings, students are considered for movement between tiers based on their individual response to intervention.

Students being considered for Tier 3 must have a minimum of six weeks of Tier 2 intervention data, along with additional relevant data points. This information is compiled and submitted to the Program Specialist, who schedules and facilitates an SST meeting with the parent and teacher. During this meeting, data is reviewed and, if appropriate, a Tier 3 intervention plan is developed, which includes both school-based and at-home supports.

If the student demonstrates limited or inconsistent progress, a follow-up SST meeting is convened by the Program Specialist, including the parent, teacher, and Regional School Psychologist, to consider referral for evaluation.

Behavior:
A similar MTSS process is followed for behavior, with clearly defined criteria for more immediate escalation when warranted. In cases where behaviors significantly disrupt the learning environment over time or involve physical aggression, movement to Tier 3 is not contingent upon completing a full six-week Tier 2 cycle.

Students may be fast-tracked to Tier 3 behavioral interventions (including consideration for FBA/BIP) if they meet any of the following criteria:

- More than three behavioral referrals within a six-week period
- Involvement in a severe physical altercation resulting in significant harm to self or others
- Daily, severe disruption of the learning environment for five consecutive days

The school implements clearly defined decision rules for both academic and behavioral MTSS:

Academic MTSS:
After a six-week Tier 2 intervention cycle, students demonstrating minimal progress, stagnation, or regression based on progress monitoring data will be considered for Tier 3 interventions through the SST process.

Behavioral MTSS:
For non-disruptive behaviors (e.g., non-compliance, off-task behavior, sleeping), students must have at least six weeks of Tier 2 intervention data. If progress is insufficient, the teacher submits a referral (including intervention data and relevant background information) to the Program Specialist, who schedules and facilitates a Tier 3 SST meeting. The School Counselor is included as a member of the team for behavioral cases.

All MTSS interventions and progress monitoring data—both academic and behavioral—will be documented in FOCUS. This ensures that district personnel have real-time access to student data for review as needed.

Parents are formally notified and actively involved throughout the MTSS process.

For Tier 2, a notification letter is sent to parents via FOCUS informing them that their child is receiving Tier 2 interventions, including the focus and goals of those supports.

For Tier 3, parents are invited to participate in the SST meeting where movement to Tier 3 is considered. During this meeting, all Tier 2 data is reviewed, and the rationale for more intensive interventions is clearly explained. A Tier 3 intervention plan is then developed collaboratively, outlining both school-based and at-home strategies. All participants, including the parent, sign the plan to indicate agreement and commitment to implementation with fidelity.

KIPP South Florida - Broward will establish objective, measurable goals for students each year and at progress checkpoints throughout each year. The frequent, reliable access to data to assess progress toward these checkpoints enables teachers to determine what tier of support is necessary. The in-class differentiation described above is the first tier of support, and it is implemented across classrooms to meet the needs of varied learners who have different learning styles, foundational skills, and needs. The clear systems, structures, and expectations at KIPP provide the first tier of support for behavior. The second tier of supports is addressed in small, flexibly grouped pull-outs based on assessment data. This daily intervention period ensures time is protected for the second tier of support for those students who need it. This time also enables the school to provide different types of challenges to those students who are already meeting and exceeding goals. Behavioral supports for tier 2 include individualized student behavior plans. Tier three interventions provide small group or one-on-one support through push-in or pull-out models to provide a more micro-level of intensive support for academics and/or behavior. These groups meet at a time that provides additional instructional time, which could occur during an enrichment period, or other time during the instructional day that provides additional time in that content area.

The RtI team for the school will include the school leader, applicable staff from the leadership team, grade level chair, teachers, and any other school site staff member who has been trained in the RtI process. Because all students have allocated intervention time and assessments throughout the year, the RtI team will convene specifically to review individual students and subgroups that have been flagged by teachers or leadership. The team will evaluate and plan adjustments to interventions to ensure the multi-tiered system of support meets the needs of its students.

The guidance and models for multi-leveled tiers of support and RtI as implemented across Florida schools will be followed at KIPP South Florida - Broward and facilitated using assessment and data systems, extended instructional time, and a flexible staffing model that allows for small groups of students to work with more intensive support throughout the day. Because the school model is being developed to address the needs of learners who are likely to enter behind grade level, the infrastructure and systems of the school are tailored to the RtI process and do not require supplementation to provide multi-tiered support.

As outlined above, the KIPP approach and specific strategies proposed are research- and practice-proven to support the attainment of state standards for low-income students of color. Teachers and leaders have ongoing access to information about each student's standard mastery because students are assessed on Florida standards using frequent, reliable means during the year. We ensure the effective use of data by implementing weekly professional development sessions and one-on-one coaching, common lesson plan templates, effective curricula and protected time for guided data analysis and planning. Small groups further facilitate learning.

Specific strategies that will support the target population's attainment of state standards include, but are not limited to:

- Extended instructional time (additional minutes in core content areas, slightly longer day/year)
- Data-driven sessions planned around standards mastery and goals for each student
- Robust data tracking system that presents individual, cohort, and subgroup views of standards mastery
- Standards-based report cards
- Weekly individual teacher coaching and guided planning in response to the prior week's assessment data
- Flexible groupings of students during a designated intervention block that provides targeted instruction on specific standards based on quarterly data
- Quarterly benchmarks in all contents areas and i-Ready three times annually
- Professional development days to evaluate data and learn strategies to address standards data throughout the year
- Small student to teacher ratios, push-in support, frequent small group and individualized instruction
- Common expectations and practices across classrooms and grade levels
- Inquiry-based investigations and other culturally relevant modalities aligned to the specific population enrolled

Because every student participates in daily extended instructional time in core content areas, as well as a flexibly grouped intervention period to target specific standards from the prior week's assessment, every student has individualized instruction that is planned around that student's standards mastery. In the event a student scores a Level 1 or Level 2 on the FAST ELA or FAST Mathematics, a problem solving process will be used to diagnose the nature of the student's difficulty and determine the appropriate type and intensity of remediation required. Students will be enrolled in intervention courses that align with their needs in either reading, math or both. The Next Generation Sunshine State Standards and Florida BEST Standards are the basis of the entire school program and the assessments are designed to assess student growth toward mastery and inform instruction to ensure mastery.

Math Curriculum

We McGraw Hill Florida Reveal curriculum, for Grades K – 5. In grades 6 - 10 we use Carnegie Math. We offer Tier 2 and 3 math intervention in these grades that is supported by IXL and iReady for a minimum of 150 minutes weekly. In grades 11-12 we have chosen approved curriculum and texts that are approved by the FDOE, since Carnegie currently does not produce an approved precalculus and calculus offering. We have also made, and continue to make, surgical changes to our scope and sequence provided by the curriculum designers that are driven by student data and align to our state tests and further develop conceptual understanding in early grades.

Math Acceleration

For all students who earn a FAST PM 3 score of 3 or higher we accelerate them by enrolling in Algebra in 8th grade. Currently, we do not offer Geometry in MS, but are exploring this pathway.

- If the curriculum is fully developed, summarize curricular choices (e.g. textbooks) by core subject, as provided for in Section 1003.01(14)(a), Florida Statutes, and the rationale for each. Include as Attachment B, a sample course scope and sequence for a core subject for each division (elementary, middle, and high school) the school would serve.

High School: Independent Reading Period for Students on Reading Intervention

We have a structured approach to reading intervention in our high school grades, specifically in Grades 9 and 10. We utilize time during the Composition or Seminar block for students who are significantly below grade level in reading to receive a structured intervention akin to Guided Reading, as well as additional practice towards skills on the SAT exam which is a benchmark towards college readiness.

Students in grade 9-10 are identified as needing reading intervention based on their FAST reading achievement levels. All students who are level 1 and 2 will have an intensive reading course using Read 180, an evidenced based curriculum approved by FDOE. These students will be progress monitored monthly using the built in screeners and progress monitoring assessments within the curriculum. Students are only exited from reading intervention once they achieve a level 3 or higher on the FAST PM3 at the end of 9th and 10th grade so that they are on track towards graduation readiness.

High School Course Offerings

The following core content courses are provided as our core course offerings to ensure students are on track to graduate from high school within four years with a 24 credit hour track. We will do this through our schedule and course progression which follows a block schedule for each semester. We will support students with the required number of elective offerings. We will only offer the 18 credit track to students who are struggling to complete the 24 credit track on time as a possible option to graduate on time. KIPP South Florida - Broward High Schools believe that AP for All ensures that we orient all curriculum at our high schools towards a college-level bar. We require students to take multiple AP courses so that our kids get lots of chances to engage in college-level coursework during their high school careers. Our approach to AP for All means that students will enroll in least one AP-level course in each discipline (English & Rhetoric, History, Math, and Science) over the course of their high school careers.

The role of AP for All Teachers:

Our AP teachers know and teach to and beyond the Advanced Placement bar. In order to truly understand the bar and the demands of the exam and syllabus, AP teachers are required to participate in professional development with the College Board or the KIPP Foundation annually, and they participate in AP grading and norming with frequency.

Extracurriculars:

We will survey students, families and staff and then build out after-school sports and extra-curricular activities, particularly for high school students, in a manner that reflects their interests. We will partner with community based organizations (CBOs), arts organizations and athletic providers to ensure that our offerings are high-quality and reflective of our community's preferences. We will focus early on quality, not quantity, and then build toward a menu of offerings that are high-quality, comprehensive and diverse over time. Our vision is to develop "citizen-leaders" that are not only equipped to pursue their personal passions, but also willing and able to care for their community, and our broader society. We care and fight for something bigger than ourselves. We view extracurricular programs and competitive athletics as a core component of our mission to prepare our students for successful, fulfilling lives. Extracurriculars and athletics teach many of life's most important lessons through being a teammate, working together toward a shared goal and learning to graciously accept victories as well as defeats. These lessons are essential to the well-rounded education of tomorrow's citizens that will lead within and beyond Broward.

- If the curriculum is not yet fully developed, describe any curricular choices made to date and proposed curricular choices (e.g. textbooks, etc.) and explain the plan for how the curriculum will be completed between approval of the application and the opening of the school. This should include a timeline, milestones, and individuals responsible for included tasks. Also, describe the focus of the curriculum plan and explain how the curriculum will be implemented. Include what core subject areas will be offered and provide evidence on how the curriculum will be aligned to Florida standards.

All curriculum changes must go through an adoption process to be vetted for standards alignment and decisions will be made by the network to ensure quality and alignment. All adopted curriculum must be on the approved list from the Florida Department of Education.

4. Provide a sample daily schedule and school annual calendar, including the annual number of days and hours of instructional time as Attachment C. (Note: if approved, the Governing Board will formally adopt an annual calendar)

As mentioned in Section A, a core part of KIPP's approach is to provide more instructional minutes. Our school day for K-8 runs from approximately 8:00 to 3:30 PM for 135 days and 8:00 to 1:30 PM for 47 days, which translates to a total of almost 317 additional instructional hours (or ~42 additional instructional days). We work to align as closely as possible to the academic calendar of the district we operated in to support student attendance. (See Attachment C for more details on these numbers).

Sample daily schedules for K-5, 6-8 and 9-12 grade levels are also located in Attachment C.
In addition to an extended day and a few additional school days to the calendar year. KIPP adds a few days at the beginning of the school year for new grades entering our schools. While these days are non-attendance bearing, this orientation allows for students to acclimate to the school environment and internalize the school's expectations for students, while not taking away from the instructional time during the regular school year.

Additionally KIPP is committed to providing additional instructional time for students who need it. This means that KIPP will often provide after school tutoring hours to extend the day, Saturday school or Break Academies to provide additional instruction during fall and spring breaks, and field lessons to enrich the classroom instruction. Lastly KIPP offers Extended School year during the summer. This program is not only open to students with ESY as part of their IEP, but to targeted students in need of remediation and support to be successful in the following year.

A sample calendar for the 2025-26 school year is located in Attachment C. The calendar includes 183 days of instruction, including one (1) day of orientation for new to KIPP students.

Section C: Financial Plan

1. Provide as Attachment D, an operating budget covering each year of the 5-year term that contains revenue projections, expenses, and anticipated fund balances. The budget should be based on the projected student enrollment indicated in Section G.

An operating budget for the first five years of the organization is attached as Attachment D. The operating budget assumes the first campus, a K-12 facility, opens in 2027-28 - the first year of the school's operations.

Our revenue model assumes FEFP funding in accordance with the student population of neighboring schools in Broward County. Federal funding streams (e.g. Title funds, IDEA) are not assumed but expected. Additional commensurate expenditures would follow and federal funding streams

Our revenue model assumes no capital outlay dollars.

Our revenue model assumes a modest amount of fundraising/Charter School Program (CSP)/Schools of Hope. As a sub grantee "consortium member" under the KIPP Foundation, the national KIPP organization, KIPP schools have a lengthy track record with CSP awards. These revenue sources are currently modeled under very conservative assumptions and have potential to increase with increased need on the expense side. For example, there is no debt service or facilities cost currently modeled. Should the need for significant improvements arise, we believe these funding sources can be significantly increased.

The expense model reflects the first school opening in 2027-28 and serving grades K-2 and 6, and growing steadily in year 2 (year 5 in the 5-year budget term).

2. Describe who will manage the school's finances and how the school will ensure strong internal controls over financial management and compliance with applicable financial reporting requirements.

The governing board of directors of KIPP Miami Inc. d/b/a KIPP South Florida is ultimately responsible for the financial management and oversight of the organization. KIPP Miami Inc. d/b/a KIPP South Florida operates under a Charter Management Organization (CMO) agreement with KIPP TEAM & Family to provide financial management and oversight services, and KIPP TEAM & Family is responsible for meeting its obligations under this agreement. The KIPP South Florida Managing Director of Schools (instructional leader in the region) and Managing Director of Operations (non-instructional leader of the region) are responsible for the day-to-day budget and fiscal management, with KIPP TEAM & Family's finance team providing weekly support as well as bi-monthly progress monitoring, reporting and oversight. In addition, the finance team will provide regular budget updates to the KIPP Miami, Inc. d/b/a KIPP South Florida board. The efficacy of this arrangement is further guaranteed by third-party annual audits and the ongoing oversight of the KIPP Foundation, who evaluates the school's organizational and fiscal health as part of its annual evaluation.

By establishing these levels of operational and fiscal management, the school ensures that best practices to safeguard funds and maintain fiscal health are implemented. The positions with primary responsibility for KIPP South Florida's finances will be the KIPP Miami, Inc. d/b/a KIPP South Florida governing board, the KIPP South Florida Managing Director of Operations, the KIPP South Florida Managing Director of Schools, and the KIPP TEAM & Family (CMO) finance department. Although the school leader and school operations leader have authority to initiate some small purchases and will participate in the crafting of the annual budget, they are relieved of the day-to-day responsibilities of fiscal oversight to focus on the academic program of the school. The CMO will provide comprehensive back office services to allow the KIPP South Florida leadership team to focus primarily on academics.

Specifically, KIPP TEAM & Family as CMO is primarily responsible for long-term financial modeling; supporting the management team with annual budgeting and budget management; providing accounting, purchasing, accounts payable, and accounts receivable services; financial reporting; and development of internal controls.

Internal Controls

KIPP Miami Inc. d/b/a KIPP South Florida's governing board is ultimately accountable for stewardship of public funds and oversight of the fiscal solvency of the School of Hope. KIPP South Florida is committed to administering public funds with utmost integrity. All employees will be expected to comply with all relevant federal and state laws, as well as the guidelines and directives appropriate to their particular position. Intentional violation of such laws will subject violators to corrective action, including the possibility of termination of employment.

Rigorous internal control policies and accountability procedures implemented both at the school sites and at the KIPP South Florida organization, and appropriate segregation of duties will be followed to safeguard the administration of all funds. The internal controls will be in line with all state requirements.

Examples of internal control policies that will be in place are:

- Student and employee records
- Payroll
- Process for financial reporting
- Deposits and writing checks
- Capital acquisition
- Segregation of responsibility
- Risk management

A clear accounting of the source and use of all public dollars will be administered that will allow the proper authority, be it state or federal, to ascertain how its funds were utilized in the operation of the school.

3. Explain the mechanisms the governing board will use to monitor the school's financial health and compliance.

The Managing Director of Operations of KIPP South Florida will submit an annual budget for the School of Hope to the board of KIPP South Florida during the spring of each year. The organization's annual fiscal period runs from July 1 through June 30. The KIPP South Florida governing board must approve the annual budget by June 30 of each fiscal year.

KIPP Miami Inc. d/b/a KIPP South Florida's board will exercise financial oversight and ensure effective management and compliance through these practices:

- Reviewing bi-monthly and/or quarterly budget-to-actual-to-projections and discuss variances and management actions to manage budget to goals
- Reviewing monthly/quarterly financial reports at full board meetings
- Reviewing draft and approving final Annual Plan & Budget
- Approving financial model, business plan and long-range financial sustainability plan
- Approving annual audited financial statements; provides oversight over required policies and controls. Hold annual meetings with independent auditors to review audit findings prior to recommending for approval to the full board.
- Approving new bank accounts, debt and other new financial commitments
- Approving fiscal policies
- Reviewing and approving major real estate and facilities agreements and commitments
- Reviewing annual and multi-year fundraising plans

4. Describe the school's plans and procedures for conducting an annual audit of the financial operations of the school, pursuant to s. 218.39, F.S.

Pursuant to s. 218.391, F.S., the governing board will establish an RFP process for selecting an auditor to conduct the annual audit. The RFP will include such factors as the ability of personnel, experience, and the ability to furnish the required services in a timely manner. The RFP process will be publicly announced to multiple firms, especially firms familiar with charter school accounting. After the set deadline, the proposal will be reviewed by the ad-hoc audit committee and the audit firm will be selected by the governing board. The board and executive director will oversee the process and the audit will be conducted in accordance with the applicable GAAP provisions, and will verify the accuracy of KIPP South Florida's financial statements, attendance and enrollment accounting practices, and internal controls. KIPP South Florida will provide any information necessary for the auditor to complete the audit for the fiscal year.

5. Describe the method by which accounting records will be maintained.

KIPP South Florida will record and provide accounting records according to the procedures prescribed in the most recent publication of Financial and Program Cost Accounting and Reporting for Florida Schools, specifically Generally Accepted Accounting Principles.

We will follow the Financial and Program Cost Accounting and REporting for Florida Schools (Redbook) standards. We will ask the provider to outline the procedural safeguards in place to ensure records will be stored and backed up properly for safe keeping. Copies of all invoices and checks will be maintained electronically.

In addition to the financial records, the school will be diligent about ensuring all paperwork is completed and stored properly. The Managing Director of Operations will ensure that all contracts, warranty, purchasing documentations, and business records are appropriately stored. Inventory records will be maintained and capitalized items will be tagged and added to the capitalized inventory list when received.

6. Describe how the school will ensure financial transparency to the public, including its plans for public adoption of its budget and public dissemination of its annual audit and financial report.

The School will begin its annual budgeting process three months prior to each school year, including regular revisions and maintenance of a long-term financial model. As per Section 1002.33(9)(h), F.S, budgets will be provided to the Sponsor upon approval by the school's board of trustees. Pursuant to Section 1002.33(9)(p), F.S., the school will maintain the budget on its website.

Unaudited financial statements will be prepared and submitted to the Sponsor regularly, as well as to the school's governing board, for review and approval.

Annual Audited Financial Statements are presented to the governing board upon completion, and submitted to the Sponsor and auditor general per reporting requirements.

The school will prepare and file the IRS Form 990 on an annual basis, ensuring that the public is able to review financial records, including donations, statement of expenditures and highly compensated employees.

Section D: Goals and Objectives for increasing student achievement for the students from low-income families

1. Describe the expected incoming baseline of student academic achievement of students from low- income families who will enroll in the school. Based upon the expected incoming baseline performance, describe the school's goals for academic growth and improvement that students are expected to show each year and the rationale for those goals.

We are targeting building schools within the five-mile radius of the PLPs listed below as well as the below targeted economic opportunity zones. We anticipate that most of the students we enroll will be performing below their peers on state tests, as has been our experience in Miami and other communities that KIPP serves.

Based upon current demographics of the above targeted communities within a 5-mile radius surrounding the PLP, we anticipate that 80-90% of KIPP South Florida - Broward families will be eligible for free or reduced priced lunch, with a majority eligible for free lunch.

Our ultimate goal for each cohort of students who start with us in Kindergarten is to outperform the state and the district by the time they reach 10th grade. We will set specific performance targets for each grade and subject in the manner and timelines prescribed by the state's performance-based contract model. We will receive performance data on our incoming students in tested grade levels at the beginning of each year. KIPP South Florida will then propose academic targets for annual growth based on each student achieving a learning gain on that state assessment that year based on previous performance and beginning of year assessments. Given that most of the students we would be targeting in these communities come from disadvantaged backgrounds and that many proficiency rates are lower than the state average from neighborhood schools, we would work to remediate through our instructional model.

2. Describe how the school's academic goals and objectives for improving student learning will be revised if the actual incoming baseline is substantially different than the expected baseline. Describe how success will be evaluated, and the desired overall results to be attained through instruction.

We have a rigorous annual goal setting process. As a part of our multiyear strategic planning process, targets are set to ensure overall performance is on track to meet or exceed state averages on assessments. Annually, we engage in a bottoms up approach to goal setting to ensure every student meets the goal of annual yearly progress and acquires a learning gain on the state assessment. Students who are below grade level will receive targeted intervention designed to close skill gaps and ensure they are on track to meet goals. Through the above-mentioned Instructional Reviews, we also review data and work with schools to draft Improve Student Outcomes Plans that result in differentiated resources and support to adjust instruction, coaching, and intervention to ensure students are on track to meet their annual goals.

3. Describe any mission-specific educational goals and targets for the school not captured by state accountability requirements. State goals clearly in terms of the measures or assessments the school plans to use.

In addition to the goals outlined by the state's accountability requirements we believe deeply in having a positive, community-oriented school culture. We regularly track the following related to school climate:

- Student participation in school wide incentives
- Student discipline (referrals, suspensions) using DeansList platform
- ADA
- Student persistence YOY
- Walkthroughs of school wide systems and SEL learning (using internal rubrics)
- Staff engagement (TNTP and Q12)
- Student and Family Culture and Climate (School Community Diagnostic)

Section E: Community Outreach

1. Explain what steps, if any, have been taken to engage with parents and community leaders to help the Hope Operator to understand the unique strengths and challenges of the students.

To gain a deep and authentic understanding of the unique strengths and challenges facing students and families in Broward County, KIPP will prioritize intentional, sustained engagement with parents, caregivers, and community leaders throughout the planning and implementation process.

KIPP is committed to developing strong partnerships with mission-aligned organizations that serve youth and families in historically underserved communities across Broward County. We would look to partner with organizations like the Boys and Girls Club of Broward and the United Way. Additionally we look to build relationships and connections directly in the communities we will be serving by outreaching and connecting with local HOAs. Through our neighborhood and community outreach, we will look for connections to additional organizations and ensure that we have the feedback and input to help develop our schools to be responsive to the needs of the community. These organizations bring a wealth of knowledge, cultural understanding, and community trust—making them invaluable thought partners in shaping a school environment that is responsive to local needs.

Additionally we have started to build a relationship with Broward County Public Schools' charter office, district office and board members who have all offered some community insight. We plan to continue and strengthen our partnership with BCPS to ensure that we are meeting the needs of families and the community.

2. Explain upcoming and ongoing community outreach efforts.

We are continuing to build relationships in Broward County. Our goal is to become part of the fabric of the neighborhood through our community outreach efforts. We will implement a series of grassroots strategies that have proven effective in other communities we serve. These efforts will include:

- Hosting open houses, community forums, and family nights to hear directly from families about their aspirations and concerns;

- Facilitating breakfast roundtables and stakeholder convenings with faith leaders, neighborhood advocates, and civic partners to surface insights and foster collaboration;

- Building relationships with early childhood education providers, including Broward County Head Start programs and school readiness networks, to ensure alignment on early learning goals and transitions into elementary education.

Working alongside organizations that have deep cultural competency and a strong local presence is essential to authentically serving families. These partnerships will inform programmatic design, student and family support, and overall school culture.

Finally, to best build partnership with our families, we will complete home visits for all of our newly registered families prior to the start of the school year. These home visits provide us with an opportunity to learn more about our families and students, and include sharing information, collecting a written vision statement for each guardian's hopes and dreams for their child, answering any questions, and administering a short assessment to better understand the child's strengths and learning needs.

By building trusted relationships with Broward County families and institutions, KIPP will ensure that its schools reflect the values, voices, and vision of the communities they serve. This collaborative, community-centered approach is central to our mission of delivering equitable, high-quality education to all students.

3. Describe how the Hope Operator will recruit students from the persistently low-performing school(s) within the vicinity and ensure that families understand the process for enrolling in the proposed School of Hope. The description should include a projected timeline that includes the major milestones or activities related to recruitment activities.

KIPP South Florida - Broward plans to open an elementary school and a middle school in the 2027-28 school year, and will have an initial enrollment of approximately 308 students in Kindergarten through 2nd grade and 6th grade. We will prioritize outreach to families zoned for persistently low-performing schools in the area, as defined by the Florida Department of Education.

Our outreach efforts will focus on neighborhoods within a 5-mile radius of the identified persistently low-performing school and are in the targeted Economic Opportunity Zones to ensure those most in need are reached. Some of our key strategies include direct community outreach in neighborhoods surrounding low-performing schools through door-to-door canvassing, school-zone visibility events, and presentations at local apartment complexes, community centers, and grocery stores. We will also use printed outreach, including multilingual mailers, flyers, and visible advertisements in high-traffic areas (e.g., bus stops, strip malls, laundromats, and community bulletin boards).

Additionally we have found digital campaigns including geo-targeted social media ads, email newsletters, and family-friendly video explainers on the enrollment process to be helpful especially for families who are new to school choice and application processes.

Finally we have found that strategic partnerships with local nonprofits, community organizations and HOAs have really supported us in the past to get information to families. We hope to build these kinds of partnerships in Broward County.

Finally to support families through the enrollment process, we will host in-person and virtual information sessions beginning in Fall 2026. Once families apply and are accepted, we will assign family liaisons to guide parents step-by-step through the process. Finally we will conduct home visits in summer 2027 to meet newly enrolled families, answer questions, share information about the school, and learn each guardian's hopes and dreams for their child.

Below is a timeline of the key enrollment milestones:

Projected Recruitment Timeline

4. Describe the strategies the school will employ to involve parents in their children's education and the expectations related to parental involvement. Describe what steps will be taken to ensure that these expectations do not pose a barrier to access for any family seeking enrollment.

We know that parents are our students' first teachers and believe that parent involvement and communication are critical. This is why each student's experience with KIPP begins with a home visit for our founding students, or at minimum, a one-on-one family touchpoint with a staff member or teacher.

During this time, a school staff member (teacher, leader, etc.) shares our Commitment to Excellence, which outlines the expectations we hold for our teachers, families, and students. This document communicates the following expectations for parental involvement:

- We will make sure our child arrives on time to KIPP every day.
- We will ensure that our child attends every day of the extended school year, which begins in August and ends in June (dates may vary year to year).
- We will always support our child to the best of our ability and do whatever it takes for them to learn. This includes checking their homework each night, allowing them to call the teacher if there is a problem with the homework, reading with them when possible, and limiting time spent on television, video games, and social media to no more than one hour per day.
- We will make ourselves available to our child, their teachers, and the school by signing and returning daily and weekly reports, carefully reading all forms sent home, and attending parent-teacher conferences and administrative meetings.
- We will call the school when our child is going to be absent or late and, when possible, avoid scheduling appointments that interfere with instructional time.
- We will ensure our child comes to school every day with the materials they need to succeed (e.g., pens, pencils, paper).
- We will allow our child to participate in KIPP field trips.
- We will ensure our child follows the KIPP dress code.
- We will partner with the school to follow up on any behavioral or academic issues and will hold our students accountable for poor choices related to behavior or academic engagement.

If parents express concerns about any expectation, we work with them to find a solution. These expectations are never used as a barrier to enrollment. We also share with families the expectations we hold for our students and staff. One key expectation for staff is being consistently available via phone or email. Once families are assigned a teacher, they receive that teacher's email address and cell phone number to facilitate direct communication.

We use FOCUS Parent Portal to stay connected with families. This app provides real-time updates throughout the school day on what their child is doing in class and how they are progressing toward behavioral or academic goals. Teachers can send group messages or individual texts to families, and the school posts announcements and flyers to the portal's message board.

We host quarterly report card nights, where families meet with teachers to review academic progress. Report card conferences are scheduled over two afternoons and evenings to accommodate family schedules. Additionally, schools host quarterly town halls, with targeted meetings for specific grade levels—3rd grade families participate in sessions on standardized testing, and 8th grade families join meetings focused on the high school transition.

We also offer a variety of family-centered events throughout the year, including a Back to School Barbecue, Back to School Night, Multicultural Celebrations, and student performances. Other celebrations include awards ceremonies, Spelling Bees, Algebra Bowls, and numerous events recognizing students who earn incentives for behavior, academics, or attendance. While we strive to host families in person for all events, when that is not possible, we live stream them so families can still participate.

Our mission at KIPP South Florida - Broward is to serve the students who need us most. To remove barriers to enrollment, we proactively canvas neighborhoods and share school information widely. If a family's contact information is no longer active, we visit their home to help them complete the enrollment process. If a family cannot attend registration events at school, we bring the necessary paperwork to their home. We also conduct outreach to families living in shelters or facing other challenging circumstances to ensure they have access to our school and support.

Section F: Organizational History of Success

1. Describe your organization's history, philosophy, and approach to education.

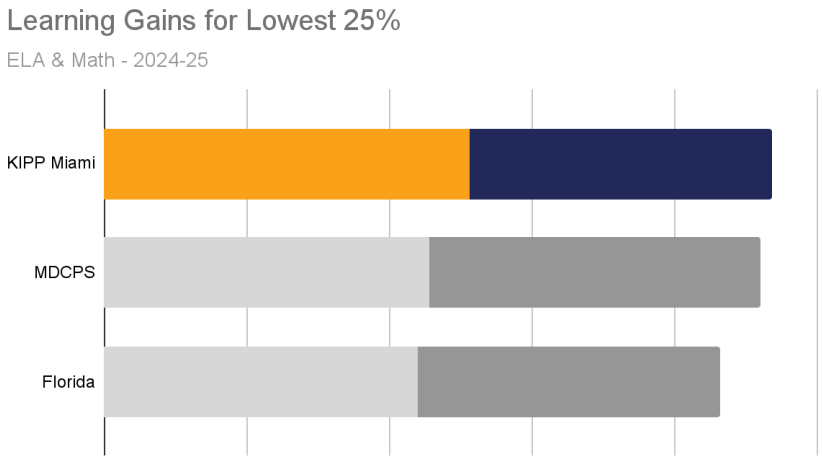
KIPP National

KIPP TEAM and Family operates KIPP Miami, KIPP Newark, KIPP Camden and KIPP Paterson schools, which are all part of the national KIPP (Knowledge is Power Program) network. KIPP is a national nonprofit network of 278 high-performing schools enrolling over 120,000 students in 21 states and the District of Columbia. This network includes:

- 28 KIPP regions, which are 501c3 organizations governed by a local board and led by a local executive director. KIPP regions oversee the schools in their community and manage external relationships, including fundraising
- 278 schools within these regions. In each KIPP school, the school leader (principal) is the instructional leader who is responsible for student achievement, staff development, student and staff culture, and family relationships
- KIPP Foundation, the national non-profit entity that provides ongoing support services and resources for all KIPP regions and schools, such as professional development for leaders and teachers; tools and resources for academics, character, finance and operations, facilities, community engagement, etc.; and financial resources

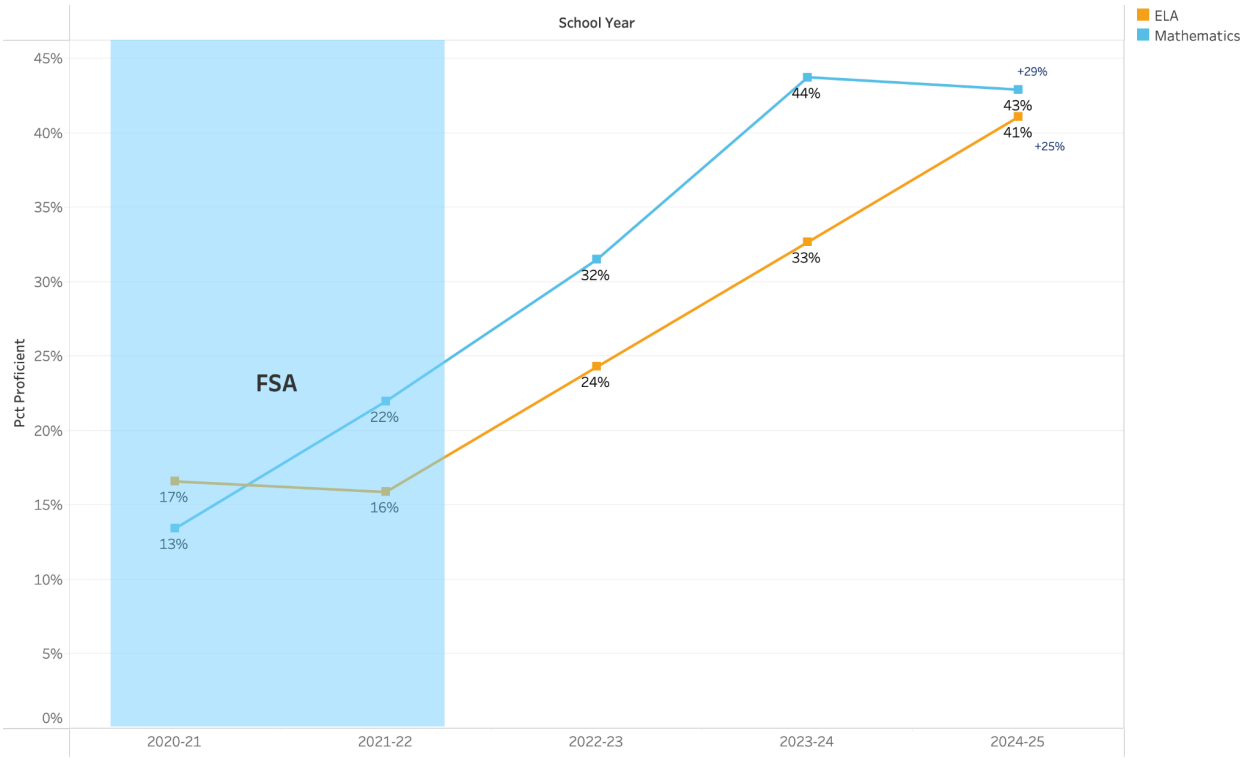
The KIPP approach is based on five key elements, which are used as the foundation for all KIPP schools nationwide:

1. High Expectations. KIPP schools have clearly defined and measurable high expectations for all students, which prepares them for success. Students, parents, teachers, and staff create and reinforce a culture of achievement through robust supports that ensure every KIPP student will succeed.
2. Choice and Commitment. The team and family of each KIPP school is comprised of students, parents, and educators who choose to participate in the program. All members of the team and family make a commitment to one another to put in the time and effort required to achieve success.
3. More Time. There are no shortcuts when it comes to success, and an extended school day, week, and year, have been consistent hallmarks of the KIPP approach. Not only does this additional time enable students to acquire the academic knowledge and skills that will prepare them for competitive high schools and colleges, it also builds the collective spirit of the team and family crucial to facilitate every student's success.
4. Focus on Results. KIPP schools relentlessly focus on high student performance on standardized tests and other objective measures, to support students to achieve a level of academic performance that will enable them to succeed in college and in life.



2. Provide a narrative description of your organization's success in providing a high-quality education to low-income students and students with similar demographics to the students in the persistently low-performing public school identified on the cover sheet and Attachment A, if applicable.

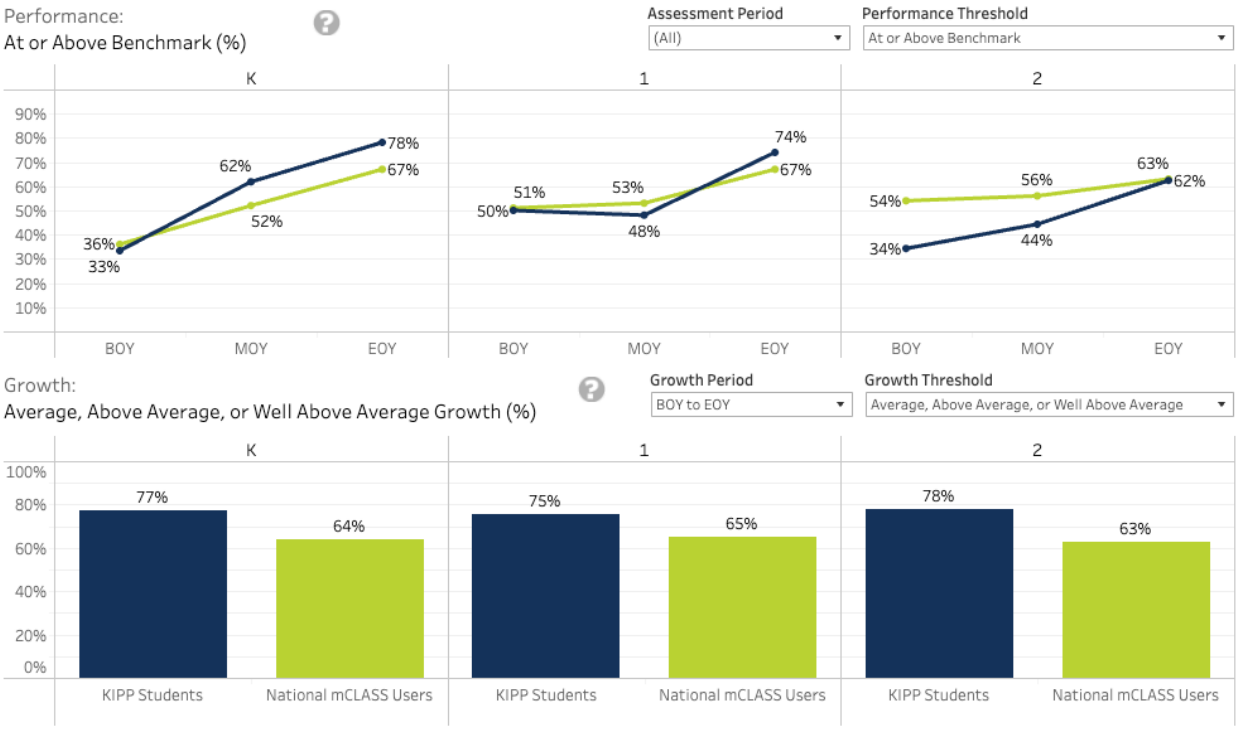
Overall



KIPP TEAM and Family's schools in Florida and New Jersey have a track record of success in boosting student achievement for low-income students with similar demographics to those in our targeted zones. What follows below is a summary of the success of our organization in each region as well as the national.

KIPP Miami, Inc.

When we decided to open new KIPP schools in Miami, we worked with the local school district leadership to target the communities most in need of high performing schools and therefore with the highest concentration of low income households with students struggling to pass state tests. So we chose Miami's Liberty City as the site of our first schools. Liberty City is one of the poorest zip codes in Miami-Dade county, and only about 16% of households have a college degree. So our schools today enroll 99% students of color, 100% of which qualify for free or reduced lunch, 12% receive special education services, and 11% have English as a second language. We knew this would present challenges in showing strong results early in our time in Miami, but we chose this type of neighborhood because it's our mission to change those outcomes.



Opening those first schools during the pandemic was indeed a challenge, but after making some strategic changes to implement Florida approved and aligned curriculum, improving our use of data in real time to make instructional decisions, and differentiating our coaching we have seen a rapid improvement in results. We are now meeting or beating the results of many of the other educational options in the community and are making key adjustments to staffing and coaching in some of the grade levels and content areas where performance is not improving as fast as we would like. The table below shows KIPP Miami's results on FSA and FAST PM testing over the last 5 years.

The next table below shows KIPP Miami's performance in each of the state accountability system's reporting categories. Many of the families who choose KIPP Miami have students who were struggling and were behind academically 2 or more grade levels at their previous school. Our learning gains scores have been high over the past 2 years and our data indicates that when families choose and stay with KIPP, we have been able to close learning gaps and move students to on grade level performance.

The DIBELS data shown below indicates that our K-2 reading performance and growth is now outperforming the national average for all DIBELS test takers and ranks highly within the KIPP national network. Since making strategic changes to use mCLASS and DIBELS to monitor language acquisition we have seen improvements in the number of students who are at or above benchmark.

New Jersey

In New Jersey, we manage 19 schools in Newark, Camden and Paterson – three of the state's poorest cities, two of which were taken over by the state in recent years to improve performance. In Newark and Camden, our schools have been both engines and collaborators for citywide educational transformation initiatives for nearly 24 and 12 years, respectively.

In Newark, our 12 schools now educate about 6,500 students–greater than 10% of the entire public school system in the city. Eighty-eight percent of our students are low-income and nearly 100 percent are black or hispanic. Our Newark schools routinely out-perform the local traditional public schools, with 45% of students in grades 3-8 testing proficient in ELA in SY 2024-25, compared to the district's SY 2024-25 proficiency rate of 34%; and 35% of KIPP Newark students are proficient in grades 3-8 math over the district's 21% proficiency rate from SY 2024-25. Our Newark high schools have routinely sent more black students to college every year than any other high school in the city, and they graduate from college at roughly 2-3X the rate of their high poverty high school peers.

In Camden, our five schools educate roughly 2,200 students and comprise almost 20% of the city's entire public school enrollment. Ninety-two percent of our Camden students are from low-income households and here too, nearly 100 percent are black or hispanic. These schools post state tests scores that are routinely almost double the proficiency rate of the traditional public schools in the city. Last year, 29% of students in grades 3-8 were proficient in ELA versus 14% for the traditional public schools. In math, 26% of our students tested proficient versus just 9% for the traditional public schools.

In the 2025-2026 school year, we expanded to Paterson, New Jersey, where we currently serve 525 students in both elementary and middle schools. In just four months of operation, on-grade level proficiency increased from 12% to 41% in reading and from 3% to 27% in math. Over the next five years, we plan to grow to serve 2,100 students across five schools. If we continue the trajectory our teachers have started and build on our proven track record in Newark and Camden, we believe we can double the college graduation rate for students across the city of Paterson.

Numerous third party studies have documented the outsize impact of our schools in Newark and Camden over the years–not just for our own students, but also capturing the ripple effect of our growth in partnership with the entire citywide education system. Data from the most recent national study by Stanford University's Center for Research on Education Outcomes (CREDO) found that KIPP's New Jersey schools provided students with the equivalent of an additional 68 days of learning in ELA and 74 days of learning in Math, which would qualify the network for "gap-busting" status in CREDO's parlance. A recent study by the a Washington DC-based think tank found that Camden and Newark led the way as cities where the expansion of school choice has made a demonstrable impact in closing achievement gaps. Also in Newark specifically, our work as one of the largest charter operators in the city has contributed to its status as home to the most "beat the odds" public schools in America (meaning schools that out-perform demographic expectations) in studies from both 2015 and 2020.

KIPP National

Nationally, 278 KIPP schools serve over 120,000 students in grades K-12. Ninety-three percent identify as African American or Latino, 13 percent qualify for special education services, 20 percent are eligible for English Language Learner services, and 88 percent are eligible for federal free or reduced price lunch. KIPP Broward will leverage the network's tools and strategies, intending to replicate KIPP's proven track record of gap-closing student performance and operational sustainability and efficacy.

- 94% of KIPP alumni graduate from high school and 82% matriculate to college[1].
- 44% of students who completed eighth grade at a KIPP middle school ten or more years ago have graduated from a four-year college. This is a higher college completion rate than the average of all students across all income levels nationwide (29%)[2], and more than four times the rate for comparable students from low-income communities across the country (8%)[3].
- KIPP students across the country are outperforming local and state averages and their more affluent peers across the country in 2018-2019.

[3] Tom Mortenson, "Unequal Family Income and Unequal Higher Education Opportunity 1970 to 2013." Published September 2014.

- Across all grade levels and subject areas, the majority of KIPP students outperform the national average annual growth on the NWEA MAP.
- The KIPP high school graduation rate is 15 percentage points higher than the national average for low-income students.
- Nationwide, as of 2015, 89% of students stayed at a KIPP school from year to year or completed the highest grade at their school.

KIPP Elementary Schools

The KIPP network includes over 110 elementary schools, with the first school founded in 2004. KIPP South Florida - Broward school leaders will work closely with leaders at the highest-performing elementary schools in KIPP's network to identify and implement their effective strategies to replicate their results. The curricula being adopted at KIPP Broward, approach to science of reading, intervention structure, and teaching fellow model for the elementary grades are already being used in KIPP elementary schools that serve a similar demographic.

KIPP elementary schools' results include:

- KIPP Comienza Community Prep in Los Angeles, where 91% of students are eligible for free or reduced price meals, ranks as the highest performing elementary school in the state of California serving a majority of low-income students.
- In 2015, the U.S. Department of Education named KIPP Raíces in Los Angeles a National Blue Ribbon School, the only public school within the Los Angeles Unified School District to receive this distinction.
- KIPP DC Promise Academy in Washington, D.C. is an elementary school where 99% of students are African-American and 13% receive special education services. In 2014-15, Promise Academy third grade students boasted the fifth highest math scores in the state on the PARCC exam
- Mathematica has found that "KIPP elementary schools have positive, statistically significant, and educationally meaningful impacts on three of four measures of students' reading and mathematics skills"
- All KIPP elementary schools throughout the nation boast lower than average attrition rates, with student mobility as low as 2% as some sites.

3. Provide copies or links to any independent studies or research that examined the impact of the charter schools operated by your organization.

In 2023, Mathematica Policy Research firm published a report analyzing the effects of attending both a KIPP middle school and a KIPP high school. In their rigorous, multi-year research on KIPP, Mathematica has found that:

- Students who attended KIPP for both middle and high school were nearly twice as likely to persist and graduate from a four-year college compared to their peers who did not attend KIPP.
- KIPP middle and high schools have a combined effect of approximately 19 percentage points on college completion rates for a group of students that is majority Black or Hispanic students; Thus, the impact of attending a KIPP middle and high school, extrapolated nationwide, would be large enough to close the degree completion gap for Black students and nearly close the degree completion gap for Latino students in the United States.

- KIPP's college-preparatory support contributed to these promising outcomes through rigorous high school experience where Advanced Placement (AP) courses are available to all students, robust support in the college application and financial aid processes, and continued support for KIPP alumni through advisors or peer mentors.

KIPP South Florida - Broward will leverage the experience, support, and resources of a nationwide network of schools that have achieved these results with a similar student population in similar communities.

Numerous other studies have assessed the impacts of KIPP programs:

- 2023: Stanford University's Center for Research on Education Outcomes (CREDO) updated national study on the impact of charter schools on student learning found that KIPP results had largely held firm: nationally KIPP schools produced an additional 55 days of learning in math, and 46 days of learning in reading.[4] KIPP's national results also earned the title of "gap-busting" charter management organization for "mov[ing] their achievement ahead of their respective state's average performance."
- 2018: The US Department of Education's What Works Clearinghouse published a meta-analysis of approximately 13 different studies on the effectiveness of KIPP's programs. This meta-analysis showed that KIPP had positive effects on mathematics achievement and English language arts achievement, and potentially positive effects on science achievement and social studies achievement for middle and high school students.[5]
- 2017: Stanford University's Center for Research on Education Outcomes (CREDO) study utilizes student-level data from 25 states and Washington D.C. to determine the average rate of math and reading growth for 240 Charter Management Organizations (CMOs) and 54 Vendor Operated School Networks (VOS Networks) between 2012-13 and 2014-15. That study found that KIPP schools produced student learning gains that were the equivalent of 57 additional days of learning in Math, and 46 additional days of learning in Reading.[6]

The operating budget located in Attachment D assumes maximum enrollment. The funding notice KIPP South Florida - Broward submits to the state will reflect the actual enrollment that the facilities can accommodate, with a maximum of 1,176 students in a K-8 facility and 1,848 students in a K-12 facility.

As noted previously, these grade levels will open across multiple campuses that are still to be determined, with a goal of locating our first schools within 5 miles of a PLP or in an OZ as district facilities allow. We aim to serve at least 10 percent of the PLP student population within the radius of whichever PLP we locate closest to.

Section I: Staffing Plan

1. Provide an organizational chart that shows the school governance, management, and staffing structure. The organizational chart should clearly define command structure.

KIPP TEAM & Family Schools, Inc. as the approved School of Hope operator will contract with KIPP Miami, Inc. d/b/a KIPP South Florida. to run and operate KIPP Broward Schools. As described earlier, KIPP TEAM & Family will enter into a CMO agreement with KIPP Miami Inc. d/b/a KIPP South Florida to provide school management, financial management, administrative, support and other management services through a CMO agreement. KIPP TEAM & Family and KIPP Miami, both nonprofit, 501c3 organizations, are governed by separate boards of directors. The KIPP Miami Inc. d/b/a KIPP South Florida board will ultimately be responsible for the success of the school operation. The KIPP Miami Inc. d/b/a KIPP South Florida board contracts with KIPP TEAM & Family to provide management and oversight of the KIPP Miami Inc. d/b/a KIPP South Florida school operation. The KIPP Managing Director of Schools and Managing Director of Operations are directly managed by the CMO. The KIPP South Florida Managing Director of Schools will manage school leaders of KIPP South Florida schools and/or campuses. School Leaders and assistant school leaders directly manage teaching staff.

2. Provide a staffing plan for each year of the charter term that includes all anticipated personnel, is aligned with the school's projected enrollment, and will ensure the school maintains compliance with class-size maximums provided for in Section 1003.03, Florida Statutes, calculated at the school-wide average.

See below for staffing models for a K-5 grade levels, a 6-8 grade levels for our maximum enrollment size (can be reduced by half for a lower enrollment model) and 9-12 grade levels. See additional details and assumptions on the staffing model in Attachment D.

Staffing Model	K-5	6-8	9-12
Students	672	504	560
Teachers - lead	24	21	20
Teachers - in - Residence	9	4
Teachers - special	6	3	4
Teachers - SPED	4	3	2
School Leader	1	1	1
Assistant Principals	3.5	3.5	2
Social Worker/Counselor	1	1	1
Receptionist	.5	.5	1
Dir. School Ops	1	1	1
School Operations Manager	1	1	1
Campus Facilities Manager	.5	.5	1
KIPP Through College Director			1
KIPP Through College Counselor			3
Total Staffing	51.5	39.5	38

3. Indicate whether the school will utilize non-Florida certified instructional personnel, as provided for in Section 1002.333(6)(d), Florida Statutes. If the school will utilize non-certified instructional personnel, describe the qualifications for instructional personnel and the method by which the school will evaluate their preparedness to teach and their effectiveness in the classroom.

KIPP South Florida - Broward plans to continue to support our teachers to fulfill and achieve their Florida state certification. We plan to leverage the exemption in cases where we find highly qualified teachers who are certified in other states and can start immediately, but need time to pursue the requirements in the state of Florida. Additionally we will allow for uncertified teachers in the case of our “Teacher In Residence” program which is a pipeline to staff our lead teacher roles. Our Teachers in Residence are first year teachers who will start working with us in some cases without certification status but under the tutelage of an experienced teacher over the course of the year. We have a robust system of required professional development and observations that are part of their first year. Additionally they will work during that year towards the goal of becoming a lead classroom teacher in their second year. We also understand that finding talent in hard to staff content areas (science and math) might cause us to leverage this statute and hire someone who is not certified but support them in their eventual certification process. We also offer stipends to teachers in these critical areas to ensure we are hiring and retaining the best talent and rewarding them for the maintenance of their certification. We ensure the preparedness of our teachers by conducting a robust selection process, which includes extensive interviews, observations of the teacher’s current classroom instruction, sample demonstration teaching lessons with our students and reference checks. Additionally once on staff, teachers engage in a month of professional development prior to the start of the school year, including one additional intensive week of training for educators new to KIPP. Throughout the teaching year, we have a robust system of ongoing professional development, observation and feedback cycles, and performance management to ensure classroom effectiveness. All ESE and ESOL teachers are fully certified and we make no exemptions for the status of those particular roles.

(S-I-R) - When add/sub decimals, line up the decimal points before doing so - When multiplying decimals, count the decial places - When dividign decimals, bring the decimal up. - MAKE SURE THEY KNOW WHAT TO DO .... but use the calculator :) Habits: - Convert all rational numbers in a given problem into a common unit (all in fractions, all in decimals, all in percents, etc.) -- This may look like converting all mixed numbers into improper fractions. - Anything done on calculator needs to be written on student paper "

Key Points:
- Identify the shape
  *Circles, Trapezoids, Parellelograms, Rhombi, Cylinders, Prism
  *Use the reference sheet to find the formulas
-Know the difference between Perimeter, Area, Volume, Surface area
  *Perimeter/Circumference = distance around the shape
  *Area = space inside a 2D shape and measured in units squared
  *Volume = space you can occupy inside 3D shape and is measured in units cubed
  *Nets = unfold the faces of a 3D shape (helps with Surface Area)
  *Surface area = Area of all faces - similar to area it is measured in units squared
- Use the reference sheet to find the formulas
- Decompose as needed
  *Decompose into trinagles and rectangles so students really only need to know Triangle and Rectangle formulas
- Relabel ALL sides
  *If decomposing, each new shape needs to be relabled and then re-added all together.
- Re-write the formula and substitute known values
- Double check for correct units
- If finding area of composite figures or a decomposed shape, write the area inside each part to keep track of everything
- Add all the areas of the composite figure or decomposed shape to find the total area. (this applies to SA as well)

Habits:
- Identify the shape
- Identify the knownand unknown values (REWRITE THEM)
- Rewrite the formulas you need
- Substitute the known values
- Use expression rules to solve for any missing values."

ATTACHMENT C

Attachment C: Sample daily schedule and school annual calendar, including the annual number of days and hours of instructional time.

Sample calendar and schedules are screenshot below:

- Annual Calendar
- Elementary School Schedule
- Middle School Schedule

	KIPP South Florida - Broward	BCPS
Calendar Days	Our 2025-2026 calendar has the following number of days: ● 183 days for entry grades ● 182 days for non-entry grades	BCPS's calendar for 2025-2026 has 180 days.
Elementary School Hours	1,271 hours per year (76,260 minutes) of instructional time (see calculation below)	1,087 hours per year (65,220 minutes) (see calculation below)
Middle School Hours	1,271 hours per year (76,260 minutes) of instructional time (see calculation below)	1,138.14 hours per year (68,288.4 minutes) (see calculation below)

This translates to a total of almost 25 additional 7.5-hour days of school for students in grades K-5 and almost 18 additional 7.5-hour days of school for students in grades 6-8.

Calculations:

KIPP South Florida - Broward Hours:

- 47 half days
- 135 full days
- ES Hours:
    - 8:00-3:30 = 7.5 hours x 135 days = 1,012.5 hours
    - 8:00-1:30 = 5.5 hours x 47 days = 258.5 hours
    - Total ES hours = 1,271 hours (76,260 minutes)
        - Difference from BCPS = 76,260 - 65,220 = 11,040 additional ES minutes at KIPP
            - 11,040 / (7.5 x 60) equates to 24.5 additional full ES school days at KIPP
- MS Hours:
    - 8:00-3:30 = 7.5 hours x 135 days = 1,012.5 hours
    - 8:00-1:30 = 5.5 hours x 47 days = 258.5 hours
    - Total MS hours = 1,271 hours (76,260 minutes)
        - Difference from BCPS = 76,260 - 68,288.4 = 7,971.6 additional MS minutes at KIPP
            - 7,971.6 / (7.5 x 60) equates to 17.7 additional full MS school days at KIPP

Broward County Public Schools - Hours:

Elementary - 8:45am - 3:00pm = 6.25 x 142 days = 887.5 hours per year

Elementary - 8:45am - 2:00pm = 5.25 x 38 days = 199.5 hours per year
Total Elementary = 1,087 hours per year (65,220 minutes)

Middle School - 9:30am - 4:04pm = 6.57 x 142 days = 932.94 hours per year
Middle School - 9:30am - 2:54pm = 5.4 x 38 days = 205.2 hours per year
Total Middle = 1,138.14 hours per year (68,288.4 minutes)

(i) The Federally Connected Student Supplement provides additional funding for students on federal lands that receive Section 8003 impact aide pursuant to s. 1011.62(10), F.S.

(j) Funding based on student eligibility and meals provided, if participating in the National School Lunch Program.

(k) Consistent with s. 1002.33(20)(a)3, F.S., a school's sponsor may not charge or withhold any administrative fee against a charter school for any funds specfically allocated by the Legislature for teacher compensation.

(l) Consistent with s. 1002.33(20)(a), F.S., for charter schools with a population of 75% or more ESE students, the administrative fee shall be calculated based on unweighted full-time equivalent students.

Administrative fees:

Administrative fees charged by the school district pursuant to s. 1002.33(20)(a), F.S., shall be calculated based upon 5% of available funds from the FEFP and categorical funding for which charter students may be eligible. To calculate the administrative fee to be withheld for schools with more than 250 students, divide the school population into 250. Multiply that fraction times the funds available, then times 5%. For charter schools within a charter school system that meets the requirements in s. 1002.33(20)(a)2.a.(II), F.S., do the same calculation based for up to and including 500 students.

For high performing charter schools, administrative fees charged by the school district shall be calculated based upon 2% of available funds from the FEFP and categorical funding for which charter students may be eligible. To calculate the administrative fee to be withheld for schools with more than 250 students, divide the school population into 250. Multiply that fraction times the funds available, then times 2%.

Other:

FEFP and categorical funding are recalculated during the year to reflect the revised number of full-time equivalent students reported during the survey periods designated by the Commissioner of Education.

Revenues flow to districts from state sources and from county tax collectors on various distribution schedules.

District Comprehensive Evidence-Based Reading Plan

Overview:

We are using the FLDOE tool to complete our District Comprehensive Evidence-Based Reading Plan. Below you will find roles and responsibilities, along with Benchmarks to completion. Please reach out to either Courtney Bethel or D'Juana Miller-Brown if you have any questions and/or need additional support.

Objectives:

1. We must create a clear system that can be replicated yearly around our Reading Plans and decisions.
2. The various stakeholders must have clear inputs and timelines that are coordinated by T&L with a final review by The Arc.

Guiding Principles:

- Data & Impact: What has shown evidence of meeting the intended outcomes and timelines consistently?
- Scalability: Does it live at the regional level as we grow beyond 1 campus or will schools decide as we scale?
- Replicability: To what extent can this be replicated? How does this build capacity in people?
- Collaboration: What are the structures for collaboration and accountability to ensure all teammates hold their weight and hit our goals?

District Comprehensive Evidence-Based Reading Plan

Annually, school districts must develop a Comprehensive Evidence-Based Reading Plan (CERP) that outlines the components of the district's comprehensive system of reading instruction. In order to assist districts, the Florida Department of Education (Department) has developed the attached format for district reading plans. Districts may utilize the Department's format or an alternative developed by the district school board. The CERP must be approved by the governing board or authority prior to submitting to the Department by August 1 for approval.

The District CERP depicts and details the role of administration (both district and school level), professional learning, assessment, curriculum and instruction in the improvement of student learning of the Benchmarks for Excellent Student Thinking (B.E.S.T.) English Language Arts (ELA) Standards as provided in Rule 6A-1.09401, Florida Administrative Code (F.A.C.), Student Performance Standards. This information is reflected for all schools and grade levels and shared with all stakeholders, including school administrators, literacy leadership teams, literacy coaches, classroom instructors, support staff and parents.

1) Contact Information

The Main District Reading Contact will be the Department's contact for the District CERP and is responsible for the plan and its implementation. Other contacts are those who work primarily with an area covered within the plan. Indicate the contacts for your district.

2) District Expenditures

Comprehensive System of Reading Instruction Expenditures (Rule 6A-6.053(8)(b)3.b., F.A.C.)
The reading funding included in the Florida Education Finance Program (FEFP) base funding is intended to provide comprehensive reading instruction to students in prekindergarten (PreK) through grade 12. Districts will include salaries and benefits, professional learning, assessment, programs/materials, tutoring and incentives required to effectively implement the district's plan. The expenditures must prioritize K-3 students who have a substantial reading deficiency or characteristics of dyslexia.

B. Plan Implementation and Monitoring (Rule 6A-6.053(9), F.A.C.)

Districts must monitor the implementation of the District CERP at the district and school level, including charter schools sponsored by a district.

1. Provide an explanation of the following:

Grades K-5	District Level	School Level
Data that will be collected and frequency of review	Data collection will include diagnostic data from FAST, STAR, i-Ready, and DIBELS three times per year along with quarterly assessments three times per year, and bi-weekly benchmark assessments. These data are reviewed after each administration by regional leaders and school leadership teams on a weekly basis during regional leadership data meetings, DKI (Data and Key Initiative Meeting).	Along with district level data, schools will collect daily standard-aligned exit tickets and administer growth monitoring assessments each 30 days after i-Ready AP1 and AP2. School leadership teams and the SST review data after each administration and on a weekly basis during school academic progress meetings.

2. Describe what has been revised to improve literacy outcomes for students in the district's CERP based upon the District CERP Reflection Tool and a root-cause analysis of student performance data.

Based on the analysis of the K-12 CERP Reflection Tool and root-cause analysis of student performance data, the following indicators will be revised to improve literacy outcomes:

• Literacy coaches and achievement directors analyze progress monitoring data from bi-weekly assessments, i-Ready Diagnostic data, and DIBELS to plan Tier 2 and Tier 3 small-group, differentiated instruction aligned to reading skills.
• Tier 1 students are provided with enrichment activities and instruction at and above grade level to reinforce mastery of grade level skills and standards.
• Teachers utilize progress monitoring screening data from DIBELS to target students who display significant reading deficiencies (two or more grade levels below) to provide targeted reading instruction
• Tier 3 interventions are provided one-on-one or in small groups (1-3 students) only by reading endorsed or certified teachers. Tier 2 and Tier 3 students in grades 6-12 are placed in an intensive reading course with a "strong" Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) rated evidenced-based curriculum.
• School-based administrators are provided regular professional learning sessions on the science of reading and evidence-based literacy instruction, materials, and assessment.
• Principals provide training to help teachers integrate phonological awareness, phonics, word study and spelling, fluency, vocabulary, and text comprehension strategies into an explicit, systematic, and sequential approach to reading instruction, including multisensory intervention strategies.
The following areas have been identified as top priority to develop:
1. Continue providing teachers with in-depth professional development and job-embedded training on the new Florida's Benchmarks for Excellent Student Thinking (B.E.S.T.) through the use of our core instructional materials to provide teachers with instructional tools to help remediate and accelerate all students to their full academic potential.
2. Continue to strengthen knowledge of all school-site administrators with a focus on the Science of Reading.
3. Continue to ensure all students have access to a rigorous, evidence-based curriculum for reading and writing, and teachers use curriculum with fidelity as evident through site-based monitoring data.
4. Continue providing monthly professional development and targeted job embedded support to Instructional Coaches utilizing the Just Read, Florida Coaching Model in conjunction with our internal Cohesive Coaching Cycle (Lesson planning and internalization, Observation and Real-time Coaching, and Looking at Student Work meetings).

3. Describe the process used by principals to monitor implementation of the reading plan, including frequent reading walkthroughs conducted by administrators.

The principal monitors the implementation of the school-level reading plan very diligently through the use of the Framework of Effective Instruction (FEI) along with the data obtained from the core and intervention progress monitoring assessment data. All administrators have access to teacher and student reading data gathered from formative and diagnostic assessments via the region's internal data platforms. Observational data gathered by school site administrators during core and intervention instruction is shared with the teacher within a day of the walkthrough. Data drives the conversation and instructional decisions are made in collaboration with the school site, region, and district to assist the school to meet the needs of the students.

4. In addition, describe how principals monitor collection and utilization of assessment data, including progress monitoring data, to inform instruction and support needs of students.

Progress monitoring data is obtained and analyzed on an ongoing basis by school-site administrators to inform instruction and support student needs. Action/support plans are created with the teacher based on the areas observed to provide further guidance and support to strengthen instructional delivery to improve student outcomes.

Principals create a strategic walkthrough and classroom observation plan based on student data and to support priority classrooms and teachers. The instructional coach and principal co-development the support plan for teachers identified as needing the most support.

C. Literacy Coaches (Rule 6A-6.053(4), F.A.C.)

The Just Read, Florida!Lliteracy coach model delineates the roles and responsibilities of literacy coaches.

1. Is the district using the Just Read, Florida! Literacy Coach Model?
   Yes/No

Yes, in conjunction with our internal Cohesive Coaching Cycle Framework which consists of: 1. Lesson Internalization and Intellectual Preparation Meeting, 2. Instructional Observations, 3. Observation Debrief/Coaching Meeting, 4. Data Analysis/Looking at Student Work Meeting.

2. If no, please describe the evidence-based coach model the district is using.

n/a

3. How is the literacy coach model being communicated to principals?

The Just Read, Florida! Coaching model in conjunction with the Cohesive Coaching Cycle Framework is communicated to principals via summer and ongoing professional development. After professional development is delivered to principals, the coaching model is reinforced through:
• Weekly Principal Professional Development
• Weekly Coaching Meeting with Direct Supervisor (Head-of-Schools)
• Weekly Principal Instructional Walkthroughs
• Weekly Instructional Meeting with the Literacy Achievement Director and Managing Director of Teaching and Learning Instructional Supervisor)
• Middle of Year and End of Year Performance Management Reflection Meeting

4. How does the district support literacy coaches throughout the school year?

KIPP Miami supports Literacy Coaches through our internal Performance Management System that focuses on building leadership competency and skill by direct observation of the Just Read, Florida! Coaching Model and our internal Cohesive Coaching Model. The Cohesive Coaching Model consists of 1. Lesson Planning and Internalization, 2. Instructional Observations, and 3. Looking at Student Work Meeting. The Cohesive Coaching Model in alignment with our Leadership Competency Model focuses on building teacher instructional strategies and pedagogy to improve student learning. Each teacher receives a weekly action step based from literacy coaches that are logged into Whetstone along with a microgoal to improve student learning week-over-week. Literacy Coaches aggregate action steps and microgoals and use these data to plan instructional professional development. Along with teachers and literacy coaches participating in job-embedded, ongoing professional development, all staff receive a weekly coaching meeting from direct managers with an emphasis on analyzing student data. During professional development, lesson planning and internalization meetings, and weekly coaching meetings, an in-depth study of Florida's B.E.S.T. standards and the district's literacy core curriculum are used to plan academic interventions and respond to student data. Regional Leaders including the Executive Director, Managing Director of Schools, and Managing Director of Teaching and Learning observe Instructional Coaches facilitating weekly coaching meetings, content team meetings, and weekly data meetings and receive feedback on their practices (planning, facilitation, and execution).

5. How is the district supporting coaches with prioritizing high impact activities, such as conducting data analysis with teachers to establish goals and create action plans, coaching and providing professional learning based on need?

The district supports literacy coaches through weekly academic progress monitoring meetings and on-going professional development. The Cohesive Coaching Cycle and the district's internal assessment calendar enables managers to directly support literacy coaches in consistently collecting highest-leverage data on a weekly basis. Literacy coaches and district regional directors participate in weekly instructional walkthroughs along with instructional walkthrough debriefs to determine the highest-leverage action step for each teacher. The regional leadership team disaggregates both instructional walkthrough data and student performance data on current progress monitors such as bi-weekly assessments, exit tickets, and quarterly assessments to plan reteach and student intervention plans. Literacy coaches, principals, and regional leaders create weekly teacher support plans along with weekly professional development. Priority teachers are selected based on most recent data and data trends over time to determine the highest impact of support.

6. How does the district monitor implementation of the coach model?

The district manages the implementation of the coaching model through joint weekly instructional walkthroughs with regional leaders, weekly data meetings with principals, literacy coaches, and the managing director of teaching and learning. All literacy coaches, principals, and regional leaders log observation feedback in Whetstone that is shared with coaches' supervisors and analyzed by regional leaders. Each literacy coach is observed weekly and have weekly coaching meetings with either the Managing Director of Schools, Managing Director of Teaching and Learning, or the school principal.

4) Assessment, Curriculum and Reading Instruction

A. Florida's Formula for Reading Success (Rule 6A-6.053(3)(a), F.A.C.)

K-12 reading instruction will align with Florida's Formula for Reading Success, 6 + 4 + T1 +T2 + T3, which includes:

- Six components of reading: oral language, phonological awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary and comprehension.
- Four types of classroom assessments: screening, progress monitoring, diagnostic and summative assessment.

- Three tiers of instruction that are standards-aligned; include accommodations for students with a disability, students with an Individual Educational Plan (IEP) and students who are English language learners; and incorporate the principles of Universal Design for Learning as defined in 34 Code of Federal Regulations 200.2(b)(2)(ii).
    - Core Instruction (Tier 1): provides print-rich explicit and systematic, scaffolded, differentiated instruction and corrective feedback; builds background and content knowledge; incorporates writing in response to reading.
    - Supplemental Instruction/Interventions (Tier 2): provides explicit, systematic, small group teacher-led instruction matched to student need, targeting gaps in learning to reduce barriers to students' ability to meet Tier 1 expectations; provides multiple opportunities to practice the targeted still(s) and receive corrective feedback; occurs in addition to core instruction.
    - Intensive, Individualized Instruction/Interventions (Tier 3): provides explicit, systematic individualized instruction based on student need, one-on-one or very small group instruction with more guided practice, immediate corrective feedback and frequent progress monitoring; occurs in addition to core instruction and Tier 2 interventions. Tier 3 interventions must be provided to students identified as having a substantial reading deficiency. All intensive reading interventions must be delivered by instructional personnel who possess a literacy micro-credential as provided in s. 1003.485, F.S., or are certified or endorsed in reading.

1. Describe how the district will align K-12 reading instruction to Florida's Formula for Reading Success for all students including students with a disability and students who are English language learners.

KIPP Miami has aligned reading instruction in all grades to Florida's Formula for Success by adopting Florida aligned curriculum and establishing a criteria that appropriately aligned instructional resources and courses to students' needs based on a triangulation of data from FAST, STAR, i-Ready, and DIBELS. Both English Language Learners (ELL) and Student with Disabilities (SWD) are placed in appropriate courses and receive instructional support such as academic interventions as well as related services.

All students are provided grade level Tier 1 instruction via their core instructional ELA periods. Tier 2 and Tier 3 are based on their achievement level from state assessments along with progress monitoring and screening data.

2. Describe your public school PreK program's plan for assessment, standards, curriculum, instruction and support to meet the needs of all learners.

KIPP Miami does not currently have a VPK program.

B. Assessment/Curriculum Decision Trees (Rule 6A-6.053(8)(b)4., F.A.C.)

Districts are required to develop Assessment/Curriculum Decision Trees to demonstrate how data will be used to determine specific reading instructional needs and interventions for all students in grades K-12. Use Assessment/Curriculum Decision Trees to address ALL students. The template can be used for grade bands or for individual grades.

The Decision Trees must contain the following information:

- Name of each assessment, targeted audience, component(s) of reading assessed, type of assessment, the frequency of data collection and the method and timeframes by which assessment data will be provided to teachers and parents. For students in VPK through grade 10, the FAST must be administered pursuant to s. 1008.25(9)(b), F.S.
- and included as a component of the Assessment/Curriculum Decision Trees.
- Performance criteria used for decision-making for each assessment at each grade level.
- Evidence-based instruction and strategies.
- Specific criteria for when a student is identified to receive intensive reading interventions, what intensive reading interventions will be used, how the intensive reading interventions are provided and assurance that intensive reading interventions are delivered by a teacher who is certified or endorsed in reading or instructional personnel who possess a literacy micro-credential.
- Identification of the multisensory interventions provided to students in grades K-3 who have a substantial reading deficiency or characteristics of dyslexia, including a description of the intensive, explicit, systematic and multisensory reading interventions which will be provided to students in grades K-3.

Note: Evidence-based instructional materials and strategies have a significant effect on improving student outcomes and meet strong, moderate or promising levels of evidence as defined in 20 United States Code (U.S.C.) s. 7801(21)(A)(i):

(A) …an activity, strategy or intervention that –
(i) demonstrates a statistically significant effect on improving student outcomes or other relevant outcomes based on –
(I) strong evidence from at least 1 well-designed and well-implemented experimental study;
(II) moderate evidence from at least 1 well-designed and well-implemented quasi-experimental study; or
(III) promising evidence from at least 1 well-designed and well-implemented correlational study with statistical controls for selection bias.

2. Students with a Substantial Reading Deficiency (Rule 6A-6.053(5), F.A.C.)

Students identified with a substantial reading deficiency must have an individualized progress monitoring plan that is designed to address the student's specific reading deficiency and that meets the minimum requirements set forth in s. 1008.25(4)(c), F.S.

Students with qualifying disabilities covered by an IEP or a 504 Plan are exempt from the requirement to have a progress monitoring plan, if the IEP or 504 Plan addresses the student's reading deficiency. Nothing in Rule 6A-6.053(5), F.A.C., should be construed to require or prohibit an IEP or 504 Plan or the contents of the CERP. Districts and charter schools are authorized to develop individualized progress monitoring plans for students with IEPs or 504 Plans that address the student's reading deficiency.

A K-3 student is identified as having a substantial reading deficiency if:

- The student is identified as in need of Tier 3 interventions;
- A student in grades K-3 demonstrates through progress monitoring, formative assessments or teacher observation data, minimum skill levels for reading competency in one or more of the six (6) components of reading; and
    - For kindergarten, the student scores below the tenth (10^{th}) percentile or is unable to complete the practice items on the designated grade-level assessment at the beginning, middle or end of the year on the coordinated screening and progress monitoring system pursuant to s. 1008.25(9), F.S.;
    - For grades 1 and 2, the student scores below the tenth (10^{th}) percentile or is unable to complete the practice items on the designated grade-level assessment for the specified testing window of the coordinated screening and progress monitoring system pursuant to s. 1008.25(9), F.S.; or

- For grade 3, the student scores below the twentieth (20th) percentile at the beginning or middle of the year on the coordinated screening and progress monitoring system pursuant to s. 1008.25(9), F.S.

- A student in grade 3 scores a Level 1 on the end-of-year statewide, standardized ELA assessment pursuant to s. 1008.22(3)(a), F.S.

2a. Describe the district's process for identifying grades K-3 students in need of Tier 2/Tier 3 interventions. Tier 3 interventions must be provided to students identified as having a substantial reading deficiency.

The district identifies students with a deficiency in reading following the state's criteria. The district created a criteria to appropriately place students with substantial reading deficiencies in Tier 2 and Tier 3 academic reading interventions. Literacy coaches assist principals with determining the proper placement and support of students who are identified as needing additional academic support. The literacy leadership team uses both previous year's data along with current reading data from PM1 and PM2 to either maintain current reading intervention placement or make necessary adjustments to academic programming. Throughout the year, students take the i-Ready Reading and DIBELS screeners and progress monitoring assessments that target the six components of reading (oral language, phonological awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary and comprehension).

All students scoring two or more grade levels below on each assessment and screener are identified as Tier 3 students. These students receive intensive reading support through small group and one-to-one support in interventions.

2b. Describe the district's process for identifying grades 4-5 students in need of Tier 2/Tier 3 interventions.

The district identifies students in grades 4-5 for Tier 2 and Tier 3 academic interventions by using previous years' performance data, screeners, and diagnostic data. If a student has been retained in a previous grade, these students are automatically placed on Tier 3 intervention watch. The established criteria for Tier 2 and Tier 3 consists of using data from state assessment and i-Ready Diagnostic. Students obtaining a level 1 or 2 on FAST and who are one grade or two grades below on i-Ready are placed in Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions.

All students scoring two or more grade levels below on each assessment and screener are identified as Tier 3 students. These students receive intensive reading support through small group and one-to-one support in interventions.

3. Students with Characteristics of Dyslexia (Rule 6A-6.053(6), F.A.C.)

Students who have characteristics of dyslexia must be covered by one of the plans described in s. 1008.25(4)(b), F.S.

3a. Describe the district's process for identifying grades K-3 students with characteristics of dyslexia. Tier 3 interventions must be provided to students identified as having characteristics of dyslexia.

The district uses assessment data from the i-Ready diagnostic and DIBELS screener to identify students who display characteristics of dyslexia. Students who score two or more grade levels below on i-Ready and well-below grade level on DIBELS, are given the Dyslexia screening assessment in a one-on-one setting. Based on student data, the literacy coach meets with the students' reading teacher and parents/guardians to provide resources and instruction to support the student.

3b. Describe the district's process for providing additional screening to students with characteristics of dyslexia pursuant to s. 1008.25(9), F.S.

Literacy coaches and assistant principals of special education, schedule one-on-one testing schedules for students meeting the criteria for dyslexia screening. Once students are identified as needing additional testing, teachers contact parents to notify them of the students' data as well as parental rights and choices. Once parents confirm and approve additional testing, the assistant principal over special education prepares dyslexia screening materials by printing resources directly from i-Ready. The administrator assesses the students and scores their assessments in conjunction with i-Ready reading diagnostic results. Depending on the results of the assessment, the administrator follows the appropriate next steps.

Grades K-5 Decision Tree
Elementary schools (K-5) must teach reading in a dedicated, uninterrupted block of time of at least 90 minutes daily to all students. The reading block will include whole group instruction utilizing an evidence-based sequence of reading instruction and small group differentiated instruction in order to meet individual student needs.
Beginning of year data
IF student meets the following criteria at the beginning of the school year: Students show proficiency in reading as evidenced on the FAST assessment.
THEN TIER 1 Only
Core Instruction Indicate the core curriculum and how the program is supported by strong, moderate or promising levels of evidence. Amplify CKLA (Knowledge and Skills) is the core curriculum used for grades K-2, and McGraw Hill Florida Wonders is used for grades 3 - 5 for a total of 90-minutes of uninterrupted reading instruction that includes explicit, systematic, and differentiated instruction in both whole group and small group instruction. The program is based on the science of reading and is grounded in developing both students' word recognition and language comprehension. In connection with Florida's Formula for Success, Amplify CKLA and Wonders supports instruction in the science of reading by delivering grade level content and reading skills through several activities that teachers use to build word recognition (phonological awareness, decoding, and sight recognition) and language comprehension (vocabulary, background knowledge, language structures, verbal reasoning, and literacy knowledge).
List performance criteria that indicate Tier 1 is sufficient for at least 80% of students. The performance criteria is a passing score of 70% or higher on quarterly assessments and 80% on bi-weekly assessments. Also, students scoring a level 3 on FAST/STAR and on-grade level in i-Ready are also considered as meeting grade level expectations.
Explain how the effectiveness of Tier 1 instruction is monitored. The effectiveness of Tier 1 instruction is being monitored through weekly instructional walkthroughs, daily exit tickets, looking at student work meetings, and standards aligned bi-weekly assessments.
What procedures are in place to identify and solve problems to improve effectiveness of Tier 1 instruction? 1. Pre-identified weekly instructional walkthroughs. 2. Weekly academic data meetings that include analyzing the following data: student work, exit tickets, bi-weekly assessments, and quarterly assessments. 3. Bi-weekly reteach action plans based on student performance 4. Ongoing targeted small group instruction that scaffolds grade level content 5. Differentiated activities based on student performance data 6. Reteach whole group lessons for exit tickets and student assessments lower than 60% mastery

Performance criteria that prompt the addition of Tier 2 interventions for students not meeting expectations/benchmarks during the school year: The performance criteria that prompts the addition of Tier 2 intervention is consistently scoring below 80% on standards-based bi-weekly assessments or scoring one grade level on any i-Ready Diagnostic Assessment.
Beginning of year data
IF student meets the following criteria at the beginning of the school year: Student scores a Level 1 or 2 on the FAST PM3 assessment or scores one or more grade level below on any i-Ready Diagnostic Assessments.

THEN TIER 1 Instruction and TIER 2 Interventions
Supplemental Instruction/Interventions Indicate the programs and practices used in Tier 2 interventions and how the programs and practices are supported by strong, moderate or promising levels of evidence. i-Ready for grades K-5 meets the ESSA requirements and encompasses promising evidence to support foundational skills for tier 2 and tier 3 interventions. Tier 2 interventions encompasses foundational reading skills that are systematically and explicitly taught in both whole group and small group settings. The i-Ready reading program supplements reading skills through ancillary resources such as Phonics for Reading for Decoding, and Magnetic Reading for Phonics, Vocabulary, and Comprehension. i-Ready Reading utilizes Phonics for Reading and Magnetic Reading to provide students with systematic oral language instruction through daily practices of reading, listening, and speaking activities. Students practice grade level sight words in both reading and speaking activities. Teachers encourage students to engage in academic discourse to share thinking and responses and listen to peers speak. Students also participate in phone articulation activities and instruction that requires students to segment and isolate sounds and blend sounds daily to build phonemic awareness and oral language development. i-Ready Reading's Magnetic Reading and Phonics for reading provides daily explicit instruction in decoding skills. Phonics for Reading has three levels of instruction aligned to students' Reading Diagnostic assessment. Students begin the program at their instructional level and are guided in small groups to practice decoding skills that ensure students are proficient readers by the end of the program. i-Ready's Magnetic Reading provides students practice with vocabulary and comprehension. Students practice before, during, and after reading fix-up strategies to independently read and comprehend grade level texts.
Indicate the evidence-based programs and practices implemented for students with a disability, students with an IEP and students who are English language learners, as applicable. The district supports students with IEPs and ELL students by utilizing i-Ready Reading and DIBELS to support foundational reading skills dependent upon students' diagnostic and screening results. i-Ready reading includes lessons and passages in students' first language and provide students with multiple strategies to support language development. iReady Reading and DIBELS provides activities that engage students in developing reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills. The recommended resources are student-centered focusing on the strengths and needs of ELLs and are aligned to the WIDA English Language Development standards.
For K-3 students who have a substantial reading deficiency or characteristics of dyslexia, identify the multisensory interventions provided. The district uses assessment data from the i-Ready diagnostic and DIBELS screener to identify students who display characteristics of dyslexia. Students who score two or more grade levels below on i-Ready and well-below grade level on DIBELS, are given the Dyslexia screening assessment in a one-on-one setting.
Number of times per week interventions are provided: Five times per week
Number of minutes per intervention session: 60 minutes per session
Explain how the effectiveness of Tier 2 interventions are monitored. Tier 2 interventions are monitored through the instructional usage and lesson quiz score reports. Students are expected to complete a minimum of 45 minutes per week and pass two lessons with a score of 80% or higher. Standard Mastery quizzes are used as progress monitors based on Florida's ELA B.E.S.T. standards to measure the effectiveness of previously taught standards and provide intensive reading support of grade level standards and content.

What procedures are in place to identify and solve problems to improve effectiveness of Tier 2 interventions?

- Weekly instructional walkthroughs and coaching meetings
- Weekly data meetings with assistant principals and literacy coach
- Ongoing professional development in ELA B.E.S.T. standards
- Ongoing professional development to support instruction for tier 2 students
- Student score a level 1 and 2 at the end of the year on F.A.S.T. PM3 ELA

Performance criteria that prompt the addition of Tier 3 interventions for students not meeting expectations/benchmarks during the school year:
Students not making academic progress between AP1 and AP2 on i-Ready Diagnostic and DIBELS progress monitoring. Students who score two or more grade levels below and have demonstrated growth in small group instruction based on tier 2 interventions.

4. Summer Reading Camps (Rule 6A-6.053(7), F.A.C.)
Requirements of Summer Reading Camps pursuant to s. 1008.25(8), F.S., include:

- Providing instruction to grade 3 students who score Level 1 on the statewide, standardized ELA assessment;
- Implementing evidence-based explicit, systematic and multisensory reading instruction in phonemic awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary and comprehension; and
- Providing instruction by a highly effective teacher endorsed or certified in reading.
    - Note: Instructional personnel who possess a literacy micro-credential may not be assigned to these students.

4a. Describe the district's plan to meet each requirement for Summer Reading Camps required by s. 1008.25(8), F.S. Include a description of the evidence-based instructional materials that will be utilized,as defined in 20 U.S.C. s. 7801(21)(A)(i).

The district uses i-Ready as the core academic program for Summer Reading Camp to provide targeted whole group and small group instruction at students' grade and instructional level. i-Ready Reading's My Path provides students with individualized instruction based on the diagnostic performance and placement. Teachers provide whole group explicit instruction using Ready instruction books that include Florida's ELA B.E.S.T. standards. In small group instruction, teachers group students by instructional level and provide explicit instruction in targeted skills shared homogeneously by students in each group. Teacher progress monitors students' performance in fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension on a weekly basis.

4b. Districts have the option of providing Summer Reading Camps to students in grades K-5 with a reading deficiency. Will the district implement this option?
Yes/No

Yes, summer reading camps are provided to rising first grade through rising fifth grade students including third grade students who did not meet the criteria for retention who demonstrated a reading deficiency as evidenced by a level 1 on the PM3 ELA fast or score below a 534 scale score on the i-Ready Reading AP3.

6. Describe the district's process for identifying grades 6-8 students in need of Tier 2/Tier 3 interventions.

The district identifies students with a deficiency in reading following the state's criteria. The district created a criteria to appropriately place students with reading deficiencies in Tier 2 and Tier 3 academic reading interventions. Literacy coaches assist principals with determining the proper placement and support of students who are identified as needing additional academic support. The literacy leadership team uses both previous year's data along with current reading data from PM1 and PM2 to either maintain current reading intervention placement or make necessary adjustments to academic programming.

Grades 6-8 Decision Tree

• Analyze student work and exit tickets to plan reteach lessons
• Adjust scope and sequence to allocate supplemental instructional tools and resources to support core curriculum
• Provide differentiated instruction to students in core classes in response to ongoing progress monitoring

Performance criteria that prompt the addition of Tier 2 interventions for students not meeting expectations/benchmarks during the school year:
• A level 1 and 2 on the previous year's F.A.S.T. PM3
• A level 1 on the current year's F.A.S.T. PM1
• No growth or decline on i-Ready reading diagnostic between AP 1 and AP 2

Beginning of year data

IF student meets the following criteria at the beginning of the school year:

Students that score at level 1 – 2 on the F.A.S.T. PM3

THEN TIER 1 Instruction and TIER 2 Interventions

Supplemental Instruction/Interventions
Indicate the programs and practices used in Tier 2 interventions and how the programs and practices are supported by strong, moderate or promising levels of evidence.

The district uses i-Ready as the Tier 2 intervention program for grades 6-8. i-Ready includes explicit, systematic, and differentiated instruction in both whole group and small group instruction. i-ready is promising in scaffolding grade level instruction for students reading below grade level.

The i-Ready Reading program provides systematic and explicit instructional resources for students in both whole group and small group instruction as well as instructional materials for differentiated instruction.

Indicate the evidence-based programs and practices implemented for students with a disability, students with an IEP and students who are English language learners, as applicable.

The district supports both ELL and students with an IEP by utilizing i-Ready and Imagine learning. For ELL students, i-Ready provides instruction in most students' home language with supplemental resources to connect instruction from students' first language to English and provides support in each domain. For SWD, i-Ready differentiates lessons for students and provides a comprehensive diagnostic report to aid in providing students with explicit and systematic instruction to support learning. Along with SWD and ELL students participating in intervention through i-Ready, staff reinforce students' learning through instructional strategies where appropriate and applicable.
Imagine Learning provides students' scaffolded instruction at their instructional level with multi-sensory and multi-tier support.

Number of times per week interventions are provided:

The district uses a block schedule that consists of students receiving intervention two or three times a week for 90 minutes of instruction each day.

Number of minutes per intervention session:

The number of minutes per intervention ranges from 180 – 270 minutes depending on the week for block scheduling and 250 minutes for traditional scheduling.

Explain how the effectiveness of Tier 2 interventions are monitored.

Tier 2 interventions are monitored through the instructional usage and lesson quiz score reports. Students are expected to complete a minimum of 45 minutes per week and pass two lessons with a score of 80% or higher. Standard Mastery quizzes are used as progress monitors based on Florida's ELA B.E.S.T. standards to measure the effectiveness of previously taught standards and provide intensive reading support of grade level standards and content.

What procedures are in place to identify and solve problems to improve effectiveness of Tier 2 interventions?

- Weekly instructional walkthroughs and coaching meetings
- Weekly data meetings with assistant principals and literacy coach
- Ongoing professional development in ELA B.E.S.T. standards
- Ongoing professional development to support instruction for tier 2 students
- Student score a level 1 and 2 at the end of the year on F.A.S.T. PM3 ELA

Performance criteria that prompt the addition of Tier 3 interventions for students not meeting expectations/benchmarks during the school year:

- Student scores at F.A.S.T. PM3 ELA level 1 and 2 at the end of the year
- No growth on i-Ready Reading diagnostics, AP1 and AP2
- All students who score 2 or more grade levels below on i-Ready AP1, AP2, and AP3

Beginning of year data

IF student meets the following criteria at the beginning of the school year:
All students that score at level 1 – 2 on the F.A.S.T. PM3 and need remediation with foundational reading skills.

THEN TIER 1 Instruction, TIER 2 Interventions and TIER 3 Intensive Interventions

Intensive, Individualized Instruction/Interventions
Indicate the programs and practices used in Tier 3 interventions and how the programs and practices are supported by strong, moderate or promising levels of evidence.

Students who demonstrate a substantial reading gap or deficiency in reading participate in Tier 3 intervention groups that include explicit, systematic, and differentiated instruction in both whole group and small group instruction. The district uses DIBELS to identify the early literacy skills that are impeding students from making adequate growth and progress on diagnostic assessments.

Indicate the evidence-based programs and practices implemented for students with a disability, students with an IEP and students who are English language learners, as applicable.

These subgroups of students utilize the same reading intervention program as general education students. The intervention program includes strategies and scaffolds designed for ELL and SWD students. The intervention program works at the students' instructional and independent levels. The curriculum is personalized to meet the individual needs of all students especially our ELL and SWD subgroups.

Number of times per week interventions are provided:

The district supports Tier 3 students in their 90 minute block schedule two to three times per week.
Number of minutes per intervention session: The number of minutes per intervention ranges from 180 – 270 minutes depending on the week for block scheduling.
Explain how the effectiveness of Tier 3 interventions are monitored. Tier 3 interventions are monitored through weekly progress monitoring assessments based on the intervention type. For students demonstrating significant delays on phonics, students OPM include weekly sight words and decodable assessments. For students experiencing fluency gaps, OPM includes weekly fluency passages. Students also participate in comprehension tasks to determine if reading skills are improving to aid in comprehension.
What procedures are in place to identify and solve problems to improve effectiveness of Tier 3 interventions? • Weekly instructional walkthroughs and coaching meetings • Weekly data meetings with assistant principals and literacy coach • Ongoing professional development in ELA B.E.S.T. standards • Ongoing professional development to support instruction for tier 2 students • Students score a level 1 and 2 at the end of the year on F.A.S.T. PM3 ELA • Students receive resources from the New Worlds Reading Initiative to support reading at home and outside of school

5) Professional Learning (Rule 6A-6.053(8)(b)3.f.-j., F.A.C.)

Describe the literacy professional learning that will be provided by the district and/or schools, aligned to the requirements below:

- Provide professional learning required by ss. 1012.585(3)(f) and 1012.98(5)(b)11., F.S., which includes training to help teachers integrate phonemic awareness, phonics, word study and spelling, fluency, vocabulary and text comprehension strategies into an explicit, systematic and sequential approach to reading instruction, including multisensory intervention strategies;
- Provide professional learning in B.E.S.T. ELA Standards and evidence-based reading practices and programs;
- Provide professional learning to help instructional personnel and certified PreK teachers funded in the FEFP earn a certification, a credential, an endorsement or an advanced degree in scientifically researched and evidence-based reading instruction;
- Differentiate and intensify professional learning for teachers based on progress monitoring data;
- Identify mentor teachers and establish model classrooms within the school; and
- Ensure that time is provided for teachers to meet weekly for professional learning.

Explicit, systematic, and sequential instruction is covered for all reading components: Oral Language, Phonological Awareness, Phonics, Fluency, Vocabulary, and Comprehension in the following courses: • Reading Competency 1 - Foundations of Reading Instruction

• Reading Competency 2 – Applications of Research-based Instructional Practices
• Reading Competency 3 – Foundations of Assessment
• Reading Competency 4 – Foundations and Applications of Differentiated Instruction
• Reading Competency 5 – Demonstration of Accomplishment

Professional development opportunities in these competencies are provided through the collaboration between the district, collegiate partners, and Just Read! Florida via Reading Endorsement Pathways: UF Flamingo Literacy Matrix and FSU/FCRR Reading Foundations and Evidence-Based Instructional Practices Strategies. These professional development opportunities ensure that instruction through multisensory activities is embedded in all reading development courses. Additionally, teaching Reading to Students with Dyslexia through Multisensory Strategies is offered to all teachers virtually and through online platforms.

The district also participates in professional development training for teachers in grades K-2 provided by Lexia®. The Language Essentials for Teachers of Reading and Spelling (LETRS) training develops teachers in the foundations of literacy and language development. The program entails a systematic, explicit, hands-on and job-embedded PD sequence on the science of reading: phonological awareness, phonics, fluency, vocabulary, comprehension, and written language. Teachers complete the program in two years and receive a certificate with no expiry date.

6) Tutoring Programs to Accelerate Literacy Learning (Rule 6A-6.053(9)(b), F.A.C.)

Describe any tutoring programs available within your district and include targeted grade levels (e.g., RAISE High School Tutoring).

The district allocates funds to schools through various entitlement grants such as Title I and Title II, to provide extended learning opportunities to students before-school, after-school and Saturday. Targeted grade levels includes grades 2 and 3 as priorities along with targeted subgroups of students including, but not limited to ESL and SWD. Students who do not show adequate progress between PM1 and PM2 on FAST and STAR and AP1 to AP2 on i-Ready are recruited to participate in extended learning opportunities.

7) Family Engagement (Rule 6A-6.053(8)(b)3.o., F.A.C.)

In accordance with the list outlined in s. 1008.25(5)(d), F.S., describe the district's plan for notifying parents of students identified with a substantial reading deficiency. Include literacy partnerships or programs the district utilizes to increase support for families to engage in literacy activities and reading at home (e.g., New Worlds Reading Initiative).

The district notifies families after each assessment period via students' data reports as well as quarterly report card conferences where families must attend in person to discuss students' progress. At report card conferences families meet with teachers and discuss students' academic performance in conjunction with state assessments and progress monitors. Families are notified of students' on-track/off-track academic status and are provided instructional and academic resources and support such as New World Reading Initiative, extended learning opportunities, and i-Ready at home usage to increase student performance. Literacy Coaches and instructional assistant principals provide direct training and resources on Florida's B.E.S.T standards using the district's adopted curriculum for Reading and interventions.

The district also provides quarterly Town Hall meetings and parent support academy facilitated by school liaisons and the Director of Community engagement. At these events, parents receive information regarding current community partnerships and available wrap-around services. The Director of Student Experience provides families with socio-emotional support and resources to ensure that students are supported to thrive academically and socially in and outside of school. Parents receive on-going communication via weekly progress reports, report cards and district newsletters.

8) Assurances (Rule 6A-6.053(8)(b)2., F.A.C.)

District Comprehensive Evidence-Based Reading Plan (CERP) Assurances: Initial next to each assurance (a.—i.). The [Local Educational Agency Chief Executive Officer, or his/her authorized representative] assures the following:

Section I: Introduction to Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS)

Overview

A Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) is an evidence-based framework that uses a data-based problem-solving process to integrate academic and behavioral instruction and intervention across multiple tiers of support. The purpose of MTSS is to ensure that all students receive instruction and interventions matched to their individual needs in order to accelerate performance and achieve or exceed proficiency.

MTSS represents a comprehensive system of support designed to improve outcomes for every student. Instruction and interventions are delivered along a continuum of increasing intensity, ensuring that resources are aligned to student need and that support is provided in a timely and responsive manner. This framework allows schools to systematically address both academic and behavioral needs through structured, data-driven decision-making.

At KIPP Miami Charter Schools, the MTSS framework reflects our commitment to All Means All (AMA). This commitment ensures that every student—regardless of starting point, ability, or background—receives access to high-quality instruction, targeted intervention, and the academic, behavioral, and social-emotional support necessary to thrive.

Purpose of This Manual

This manual is designed to guide KIPP Miami Charter Schools in the implementation of a cohesive and effective MTSS framework. It establishes a common understanding of expectations, structures, and processes to ensure consistency across schools while allowing for responsiveness to individual student needs.

Specifically, this manual provides guidance on:

- Foundational principles and expectations for MTSS implementation
- A standardized problem-solving process to guide decision-making
- Clear definitions of Tier 1, Tier 2, and Tier 3 supports

- Data use, progress monitoring, and intervention planning
- Fidelity of implementation across all tiers
- Roles and responsibilities of school-based personnel
- Structures for family communication and collaboration

The intent of this manual is to ensure that MTSS is implemented with integrity and consistency across KIPP Miami Charter Schools, resulting in improved outcomes for all students.

MTSS Framework at KIPP Miami

The MTSS framework at KIPP Miami is grounded in a set of core principles that guide both instructional practice and decision-making. These principles ensure that the system remains focused on equity, responsiveness, and continuous improvement.

At KIPP Miami, MTSS implementation is guided by the following:

- All Means All: Every student will receive the level of support necessary to succeed.
- Data-Based Decision Making: Instructional and intervention decisions are driven by multiple data sources.
- Early Identification and Intervention: Student needs are identified as early as possible to prevent widening gaps.
- Layered Supports: Interventions are provided in addition to, not in place of, core instruction.
- Fidelity of Implementation: Instruction and interventions must be delivered as designed to ensure effectiveness.
- Continuous Progress Monitoring: Student response to instruction and intervention is monitored regularly to inform next steps.
- Collaboration: Effective MTSS implementation requires collaboration among educators, specialists, and families.

These principles ensure that MTSS is not implemented as a discrete initiative, but as the foundation for how instruction and support are delivered across the organization.

What MTSS Is and Is Not

A clear and consistent understanding of MTSS is essential for effective implementation. The following distinctions help clarify the purpose and function of the framework:

MTSS IS	MTSS IS NOT
A proactive, data-driven framework for supporting all students	A pathway to special education
A system for delivering instruction at varying levels of intensity	A process only for struggling students

A structure for identifying and responding to student needs early	A one-time intervention or event
A continuous cycle of problem-solving and progress monitoring	A compliance-only initiative

Integration of Academic and Behavioral Supports

MTSS at KIPP Miami integrates both academic (RtI:A) and behavioral (RtI:B) systems of support. Academic and behavioral success are interconnected, and student performance must be addressed holistically to ensure meaningful and sustained growth.

Within this framework, academic supports focus on skill acquisition, content mastery, and closing achievement gaps, while behavioral supports focus on teaching, reinforcing, and sustaining appropriate behaviors through systems such as Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS). Both academic and behavioral data are used in the problem-solving process to ensure that interventions are aligned to the full range of student needs.

Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) Tiers

The MTSS framework is organized into three tiers of support, each representing a different level of instructional intensity.

Tier 1: Core Instruction (Universal)
Tier 1 consists of high-quality, standards-aligned instruction provided to all students. Instruction is differentiated to meet the diverse needs of learners within the general education setting. Effective Tier 1 instruction is designed to meet the needs of approximately 80% of students.

Tier 2: Targeted Intervention (Supplemental)
Tier 2 provides additional instruction and intervention for students who are not meeting grade-level expectations in Tier 1. These supports are delivered in small group settings and focus on specific skill deficits. Tier 2 interventions are provided in addition to Tier 1 instruction and are monitored regularly to determine effectiveness.

Tier 3: Intensive Intervention (Individualized)
Tier 3 provides the most intensive level of support for students with significant academic and/or behavioral needs. Instruction is highly targeted and individualized, with increased time, frequency, and intensity. Tier 3 supports require ongoing data analysis and may inform consideration for further evaluation when appropriate.

Commitment to Equity and Access

KIPP Miami Charter Schools are committed to ensuring that all students have equitable access to high-quality instruction and support. The MTSS framework supports this commitment by ensuring that instructional decisions are based on data rather than assumptions, and that interventions are provided in a timely and responsive manner.

This includes:

- Providing targeted support based on student need
- Monitoring progress and adjusting supports accordingly
- Eliminating barriers that prevent access to grade-level content
- Ensuring consistency in how students are identified and supported

Summary

The MTSS framework at KIPP Miami Charter Schools is designed to ensure that every student receives the instruction and support necessary to succeed. Through a structured, data-driven, and collaborative approach, schools are able to identify and respond to student needs effectively and consistently.

MTSS is not a separate initiative; it is the foundation of how KIPP Miami delivers instruction, supports students, and fulfills its commitment to All Means All.

Section II: Components of the Problem-Solving Process

Overview of the Problem-Solving Model

The Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) at KIPP Miami Charter Schools is grounded in a structured, data-based problem-solving process used to guide instructional and intervention decisions across all tiers. This process ensures that decisions are not based on assumptions or isolated data points, but instead reflect a comprehensive understanding of student need.

At its core, the problem-solving process provides a systematic approach for identifying performance gaps, analyzing root causes, designing targeted interventions, and monitoring student response over time. This model is applied consistently across multiple levels of the system, including school-wide practices, grade-level planning, classroom instruction, and individual student support.

By using a consistent problem-solving framework, KIPP Miami ensures that all instructional decisions are aligned, data-driven, and responsive to the specific needs of students.

The Four-Step Problem-Solving Process

Step 1: Define the Problem

The first step in the problem-solving process is to clearly define the discrepancy between expected and actual student performance. This requires identifying both the performance standard and the student's current level of performance in measurable terms.

A well-defined problem ensures that teams are focused on the correct area of need and prevents misalignment between the identified issue and the intervention selected.

Key questions that guide this step include:

- What is the expected level of performance?
- What is the current level of performance?
- What is the gap between expected and actual performance?
- Is the problem occurring at the individual, group, or system level?

To answer these questions, teams must rely on objective data sources, including:

- Universal screening assessments (FAST, i-Ready)
- Classroom assessments
- Progress monitoring data
- Behavioral data (attendance, referrals, conduct grades)

Step 2: Analyze the Problem

Once the problem has been clearly defined, the next step is to determine why the problem is occurring. This step requires a deeper level of analysis to identify the root cause of the performance gap.

At KIPP Miami, problem analysis is guided by the ICEL Framework, which ensures that teams consider all possible contributing factors before attributing the issue to the student alone.

ICEL Framework

Domain	Guiding Focus	Key Questions
Instruction	How instruction is delivered	Is instruction explicit, systematic, and aligned to standards?
Curriculum	What is being taught	Is the curriculum appropriate and aligned to grade-level expectations?
Environment	Where learning occurs	Are classroom routines, expectations, and conditions supporting learning?
Learner	Student-specific factors	Does the student have the prerequisite skills needed?

Teams must systematically analyze each ICEL domain to ensure that instructional and environmental variables are considered before concluding that the issue is learner-based.

RIOT Matrix for Data Collection

To support a comprehensive analysis, teams use the RIOT Matrix to gather data from multiple perspectives. This ensures that conclusions are based on a variety of data sources rather than a single method.

Method	Description
Review	Analyze existing data (assessments, grades, work samples)
Interview	Gather input from teachers, students, and families
Observe	Observe instruction and student behavior in context
Test	Conduct additional assessments if needed

Using both the ICEL framework and the RIOT matrix ensures that problem analysis is thorough, accurate, and aligned to the student's actual needs.

Step 3: Develop and Implement a Plan

After identifying the root cause, the team develops a targeted plan designed to address the identified need. This plan must be intentional, structured, and aligned directly to the problem identified in Step 2.

An effective intervention plan includes:

- Clearly defined goals aligned to the identified need
- Evidence-based instructional strategies or interventions
- Defined frequency, duration, and group size
- Identification of the staff member responsible for implementation
- A clear progress monitoring plan

In developing the plan, teams should consider:

- What intervention will address the identified need?
- How often will the intervention occur?
- Who will provide the intervention?
- Where will the intervention take place?
- How will progress be measured?

All interventions must be implemented:

- In alignment with the identified root cause
- With fidelity to the intended design
- In addition to Tier 1 instruction

Step 4: Evaluate Effectiveness

The final step in the process is to evaluate whether the intervention is producing the desired outcome. This step relies on ongoing progress monitoring data to determine whether the student is making sufficient progress.

Evaluation focuses on:

- The student's rate of improvement over time
- Whether the performance gap is closing
- Whether the current intervention is effective

Key questions include:

- Is the student making progress toward the goal?
- Is the rate of progress sufficient to meet expectations?
- Should the intervention be continued, modified, or intensified?

This step is continuous and ensures that instruction remains responsive to student needs.

Decision Rules for Response to Intervention

To ensure consistency across schools and teams, KIPP Miami Charter Schools apply standardized decision rules when evaluating student response to intervention.

Response Type	Description	Action Steps
Positive Response	Student is progressing at a rate that will close the gap	Continue intervention; consider gradual fading of support
Questionable Response	Student is making some progress but not at an adequate rate	Increase intensity (time, frequency, focus); monitor more frequently
Poor Response	Student shows minimal or no progress	Reconvene team; significantly modify or redesign intervention; consider Tier 3

These decision rules ensure that instructional decisions are consistent, equitable, and based on clearly defined expectations.

Data Sources for Problem-Solving

Effective problem-solving requires the use of multiple data sources to ensure that decisions are comprehensive and accurate.

Academic Data

- FAST assessments (PM1, PM2, PM3)
- i-Ready Diagnostic and Growth Monitoring
- Classroom formative and summative assessments
- Student work samples

Behavioral Data

- Attendance records
- Office discipline referrals
- Conduct grades
- Early warning indicators

Intervention Data

- Progress monitoring data
- Intervention attendance logs
- Fidelity of implementation data

The use of multiple data sources ensures that decisions are not based on a single measure and reflect a complete picture of student performance.

Establishing Data-Based Decision-Making Rules

School-based teams must establish consistent decision-making rules to guide movement between tiers and adjustments to interventions. These rules ensure that all students are supported equitably and that decisions are transparent and consistent across classrooms and schools.

These rules should clearly define:

- Criteria for entering Tier 2 and Tier 3
- Expected rates of progress
- Frequency of progress monitoring
- Conditions for modifying or intensifying interventions
- Criteria for exiting interventions

Fidelity of Implementation

The effectiveness of the MTSS process depends on fidelity of implementation. Fidelity ensures that both the problem-solving process and the interventions themselves are executed as intended.

Fidelity includes:

- Fidelity of the problem-solving process
- Fidelity of instruction and intervention delivery

To ensure fidelity, teams must verify that:

- Interventions are delivered as designed
- Instructional time is protected
- Data is collected consistently and accurately

If a student is not responding to intervention, fidelity must be reviewed before any changes are made to the plan.

Summary

The problem-solving process is the foundation of MTSS at KIPP Miami Charter Schools. It ensures that all instructional and intervention decisions are:

- Data-driven
- Systematic
- Responsive to student needs
- Implemented with fidelity

By consistently applying this process, schools are able to accurately identify student needs, implement effective interventions, and improve academic and behavioral outcomes.

Section III: Defining the Tiers of Instruction

Overview

The Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) at KIPP Miami Charter Schools is designed to provide instruction and intervention at varying levels of intensity based on student need. This system ensures that all students receive high-quality core instruction, while additional supports are layered in response to identified gaps in academic or behavioral performance.

Instruction is organized across three tiers—Tier 1, Tier 2, and Tier 3—which differ in terms of intensity, time, and level of individualization. Movement between tiers is fluid and based on student response to instruction and intervention, as determined through ongoing progress monitoring and the problem-solving process.

The goal of this tiered system is to ensure that every student receives the level of support necessary to meet grade-level expectations and demonstrate meaningful growth.

Tier 1: Core Instruction (Universal)

Tier 1 represents the foundation of instruction and is provided to all students. It consists of high-quality, standards-aligned instruction delivered within the general education setting. Instruction at this level must be designed to meet the needs of a diverse student population through differentiation, flexible grouping, and the use of evidence-based instructional practices.

Effective Tier 1 instruction includes:

- Explicit and systematic teaching aligned to grade-level standards
- Differentiated instruction based on student data
- Opportunities for guided and independent practice
- Ongoing formative assessment to inform instruction

Tier 1 instruction is expected to meet the needs of approximately 80% of students. When this benchmark is not met, schools must focus on strengthening Tier 1 instruction before increasing Tier 2 placements.

Tier 2: Targeted Intervention (Supplemental)

Tier 2 provides supplemental instruction for students who are not meeting grade-level expectations through Tier 1 alone. These interventions are designed to address specific skill deficits and are delivered in small group settings.

Tier 2 instruction is provided in addition to Tier 1 and is aligned to the content and expectations of core instruction. The purpose of Tier 2 is to accelerate student learning and close identified gaps.

Key characteristics of Tier 2 include:

- Small group instruction, typically consisting of 3–6 students
- Targeted focus on specific academic or behavioral skills
- Additional instructional time beyond Tier 1
- Use of evidence-based intervention strategies

Students receiving Tier 2 support are progress monitored regularly to determine whether the intervention is effective and whether adjustments are needed.

Tier 3: Intensive Intervention (Individualized)

Tier 3 provides the most intensive level of support for students with significant academic and/or behavioral needs. Instruction at this level is highly individualized and designed to address persistent skill deficits.

Tier 3 interventions are implemented when students demonstrate insufficient progress in Tier 2 or when data indicates a need for immediate intensive support.

Key characteristics of Tier 3 include:

- Instruction delivered in very small groups (1–3 students) or individually
- Increased instructional time and frequency
- Highly targeted and explicit instruction aligned to diagnostic data
- Frequent progress monitoring to guide instructional adjustments

Tier 3 may also inform consideration for further evaluation when appropriate, particularly when students demonstrate limited response to intervention despite documented fidelity.

Differentiation Across Tiers

The primary distinction between Tier 1, Tier 2, and Tier 3 is the intensity of instruction and intervention. Intensity is defined by the amount of instructional time, the specificity of the skill focus, and the level of support provided.

Component	Tier 1	Tier 2	Tier 3
Students	All students	Some students	Few students
Group Size	Whole group / flexible groups	Small group (3–6)	Very small group (1–3) or individual
Instructional Time	Core instructional block	Additional time beyond Tier 1	Significant additional time
Focus	Grade-level standards	Targeted skill deficits	Intensive, individualized needs
Intensity	Universal	Increased	High

As students move across tiers, instruction becomes more focused, more frequent, and more individualized.

Instructional Expectations Across Tiers

Across all tiers, instruction must:

- Be aligned to grade-level standards
- Be informed by student data
- Be implemented with fidelity
- Include ongoing progress monitoring

Interventions must:

- Be directly aligned to identified student needs
- Be implemented consistently across settings
- Be adjusted based on student response

The effectiveness of each tier depends on the integrity of implementation and the alignment between instruction and student need.

Commitment to Equity and Access

KIPP Miami Charter Schools are committed to ensuring that all students have equitable access to high-quality instruction and intervention. The MTSS framework supports this commitment by ensuring that students are identified early, provided with appropriate supports, and monitored consistently.

This includes:

- Using data to drive instructional decisions
- Providing timely and targeted interventions
- Ensuring consistency across classrooms and schools
- Eliminating barriers to accessing grade-level content

Summary

The tiered system of instruction within MTSS ensures that all students receive the level of support necessary to succeed. By providing high-quality Tier 1 instruction and layering targeted and intensive supports as needed, KIPP Miami Charter Schools are able to respond effectively to student needs.

This structure ensures that instructional decisions are consistent, data-driven, and aligned to student outcomes, reinforcing KIPP Miami's commitment to All Means All.

Section IV: MTSS Flowchart and School-Based Problem-Solving Process

Overview

The MTSS process at KIPP Miami Charter Schools is a structured, data-driven cycle used to identify student needs, implement interventions, monitor progress, and adjust supports. This process operates continuously throughout the school year and is aligned to established assessment windows and reporting cycles to ensure consistency across schools.

The MTSS framework integrates data collection, intervention implementation, progress monitoring, and team-based decision-making into a cohesive system. Through this structure, schools are able to respond to student needs in a timely and systematic manner. Implementation of this process occurs through Grade Level MTSS Meetings and Student Support Team (SST) meetings, supported by clearly defined roles, expectations, and accountability systems.

MTSS Cycle

The MTSS process follows a consistent and repeating cycle designed to ensure that instructional decisions are grounded in data and aligned to student need. This cycle includes:

- Data collection through universal screening, classroom performance, and behavioral indicators
- Data analysis conducted during Grade Level MTSS Meetings
- Intervention planning and implementation aligned to identified skill deficits
- Ongoing progress monitoring
- Review and decision-making during SST meetings

This cycle is repeated throughout the school year and is aligned to key data points, including:

- Beginning of Year (BOY)
- End of Quarter 1
- Middle of Year (MOY)
- End of Year (EOY)

Each cycle represents a complete round of intervention and serves as a structured opportunity to evaluate student progress and determine next steps.

Beginning of Year: Data Collection, Placement, and Family Notification

At the start of the school year, schools establish the foundation for MTSS implementation by collecting and analyzing baseline data and identifying students in need of support.

Universal screening assessments, including FAST and i-Ready, are administered to all students. These results, along with prior year performance data, are used to identify students who require Tier 2 or Tier 3 interventions. Intervention groups are then established, and supports begin immediately.

Tier 2 Parent Notification

For all students identified for Tier 2 intervention, parents/guardians must be notified in writing. The Tier 2 Intervention Notification Letter must clearly communicate:

- The student's identified area(s) of need
- A description of the intervention being provided
- The frequency and duration of the intervention
- The method of progress monitoring

This early communication ensures that families are informed and able to support their child's learning from the beginning of the intervention cycle.

Immediate Tier 3 Placement

Certain students require immediate placement in Tier 3 at the beginning of the school year. This includes:

- Retained students
- Students with significant deficiencies based on prior year data

These students do not require a Tier 2 trial and must begin intensive intervention immediately. They are prioritized for frequent progress monitoring and ongoing review through the MTSS process.

Tier 2 Implementation and Monitoring

Tier 2 interventions begin immediately following identification and are designed to provide targeted support for students not meeting Tier 1 expectations. These interventions are delivered in small group settings and focus on specific skill deficits aligned to student data.

Tier 2 instruction is provided in addition to Tier 1 and is monitored consistently to ensure effectiveness. Progress monitoring occurs at least monthly and includes multiple data sources such as i-Ready, FAST, and classroom assessments. This data is used to determine whether students are responding appropriately to intervention.

Grade Level MTSS Meetings

Grade Level MTSS Meetings serve as the primary problem-solving structure for Tier 1 and Tier 2 instruction. These meetings provide a structured opportunity for teams to review data, evaluate intervention effectiveness, and make instructional adjustments.

During these meetings, teams analyze student performance and determine whether current supports are sufficient. The focus is on ensuring that instruction is aligned to student need and that interventions are implemented with fidelity.

Decision-Making at Grade Level MTSS Meetings

At each meeting, teams consider:

- Whether the student is responding to intervention
- Whether the intervention is being implemented with fidelity
- Whether instructional adjustments are necessary

Based on this analysis, teams determine whether the student should:

- Continue in Tier 2
- Receive an adjusted intervention
- Be referred to the SST for Tier 3 consideration

Meeting Cadence

Grade Level MTSS Meetings occur four times per year, aligned to major data cycles:

- Beginning of Year (BOY)
- End of Quarter 1
- Middle of Year (MOY)
- End of Year (EOY)

Each meeting coincides with the completion of an intervention cycle and serves as a formal decision point for determining next steps.

Student Support Team (SST) Meetings

SST meetings are conducted for students requiring more intensive intervention and individualized planning. These meetings are led by the Program Specialist and include key members of the instructional and student support teams.

Participants typically include:

- Grade Level Chair
- Assistant Principals of Instruction and/or Culture
- Teachers and interventionists
- Student support personnel

The purpose of SST meetings is to review comprehensive student data, verify the fidelity of prior interventions, and develop or revise Tier 3 intervention plans. These meetings also serve as the decision point for determining whether additional supports or evaluation should be considered.

Tier 3 Intervention and IPMP

Students who demonstrate insufficient progress at Tier 2 are considered for Tier 3 intervention. Tier 3 provides intensive, individualized support focused on the most critical skill deficits.

Tier 3 interventions are:

- Delivered in very small groups or individually
- Implemented with increased time and intensity
- Monitored weekly or more frequently

Individualized Progress Monitoring Plan (IPMP)

For students identified with a substantial deficiency in reading (K–3) and/or mathematics (K–4), an Individualized Progress Monitoring Plan (IPMP) must be developed in accordance with Florida Statute 1008.25.

The IPMP must include:

- Specific skill deficits
- Measurable goals and benchmarks
- Description of interventions
- Progress monitoring schedule
- Strategies for family support

The IPMP must be developed within 45 days of assessment data availability, and interventions aligned to the plan must begin immediately.

Family Communication

Parents must be notified at the time a student is identified for Tier 3 support. Schools must provide:

- Written notification of the deficiency
- A description of the intervention plan
- Resources for supporting learning at home

Parents must also receive progress updates at least monthly, including any changes to intervention or support.

Fidelity Monitoring

The effectiveness of the MTSS process depends on fidelity of implementation. All interventions must be delivered as designed to ensure accurate evaluation of student response.

Fidelity checks include:

- Adherence to intervention design
- Appropriate group size and instructional time
- Consistent delivery of instruction

- Accurate and consistent data collection

If a student is not making progress, fidelity must be verified before any changes are made to the intervention.

Accountability Systems

KIPP Miami Charter Schools use structured systems to monitor the implementation of MTSS and ensure consistency across schools.

Academic Accountability

- i-Ready Diagnostics (BOY, MOY, EOY)
- FAST/STAR assessments
- Classroom performance data

Behavioral Accountability

- Behavior intervention documentation
- Progress monitoring logs
- Behavior tracking systems

MTSS Process Accountability

- Intervention tracking tools
- SST documentation
- Case review processes

The Program Specialist and school leadership are responsible for ensuring that all systems are implemented with fidelity and in alignment with expectations.

Consideration for Evaluation

A student may be considered for evaluation when:

- There is a persistent lack of response to Tier 3 intervention
- Interventions have been implemented with fidelity
- Multiple data sources indicate significant need

This decision must be made by the SST and documented appropriately.

Summary

The MTSS process at KIPP Miami Charter Schools provides a structured and consistent approach to identifying student needs, implementing interventions, and monitoring progress. Through clearly defined cycles, roles, and decision-making structures, schools are able to respond effectively to student needs.

Grade Level MTSS Meetings occur four times annually and serve as the primary structure for reviewing data and determining movement between tiers. This system ensures that decisions are intentional, data-driven, and aligned to student outcomes.

This process reinforces KIPP Miami's commitment to All Means All, ensuring that every student receives the support necessary to succeed.

Section V: Academic Progress Monitoring Across All Tiers

Purpose of Progress Monitoring

Progress monitoring is a central component of the MTSS framework at KIPP Miami Charter Schools and serves as the primary mechanism for evaluating student learning over time. It provides educators with ongoing insight into whether students are responding to instruction and intervention, and whether the supports in place are sufficient to close identified performance gaps.

At KIPP Miami, progress monitoring is not a separate or isolated activity. Instead, it is embedded within daily instruction and aligned to structured MTSS cycles. Data collected through this process allows educators to make informed, timely decisions about instruction, intervention, and student movement between tiers.

Progress monitoring ensures that instructional decisions are:

- Data-driven
- Timely and responsive
- Aligned to student need

Statutory Alignment

In accordance with Florida Statute 1008.25, schools are required to systematically monitor student progress toward grade-level expectations and provide targeted intervention when students demonstrate deficiencies.

This includes:

- Identifying students with substantial deficiencies in reading and mathematics
- Providing appropriate Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions
- Developing and implementing an Individualized Progress Monitoring Plan (IPMP) for qualifying students
- Communicating progress and intervention efforts to families

Within the MTSS framework, progress monitoring serves as the primary method for meeting these statutory expectations.

Key Features of Effective Progress Monitoring

Effective progress monitoring at KIPP Miami Charter Schools is characterized by consistency, alignment, and intentional use of data.

At all tiers, progress monitoring must:

- Occur at a frequency aligned to the intensity of support
- Use multiple, reliable data sources
- Be aligned to the student's identified skill deficits
- Be analyzed regularly through structured team processes
- Inform clear instructional decisions based on student response

Data is not collected for compliance purposes alone—it is used to actively guide instruction and improve student outcomes.

Progress Monitoring Across Tiers

Progress monitoring varies in frequency and intensity depending on the level of support a student receives. As intervention becomes more intensive, the frequency of monitoring increases to allow for more immediate instructional adjustments.

Tier	Frequency	Purpose
Tier 1	3x per year	Evaluate core instruction and identify students below benchmark
Tier 2	At least biweekly to monthly	Monitor effectiveness of targeted interventions
Tier 3	Weekly or more	Track individualized progress and adjust intervention rapidly

Tier 1 Progress Monitoring (Universal Screening)

At Tier 1, progress monitoring focuses on evaluating the effectiveness of core instruction and identifying students who may require additional support.

Universal screening assessments are administered three times per year:

- Beginning of Year (BOY)
- Middle of Year (MOY)
- End of Year (EOY)

These assessments, along with classroom-based data, provide a comprehensive view of student performance.

Data sources include:

- FAST assessments (PM1, PM2, PM3)
- i-Ready Diagnostic assessments
- Classroom formative and summative assessments

This data is used to:

- Determine whether Tier 1 instruction is effective
- Identify students below benchmark
- Inform differentiation and grouping within the classroom

Tier 2 Progress Monitoring (Ongoing Monitoring)

At Tier 2, progress monitoring focuses on determining whether targeted interventions are effective in closing identified skill gaps.

Monitoring occurs at least monthly and may be more frequent based on student need. Data collected at this level must be aligned to the specific skill deficits being addressed.

Common data sources include:

- i-Ready Growth Monitoring
- Intervention program assessments
- Classroom-based assessments

This data is used to:

- Evaluate student response to intervention
- Adjust instructional strategies and groupings
- Inform decisions during Grade Level MTSS Meetings

Parent Communication (Tier 2)

Families must be informed when students are receiving Tier 2 interventions and should receive ongoing updates regarding progress.

Communication should include:

- Student progress toward intervention goals
- Any changes to intervention strategies
- Guidance for supporting learning at home

This communication may occur through:

- Report Card Conferences (RCC)
- Progress reports
- Direct teacher outreach

Tier 3 Progress Monitoring (Intensive Monitoring)

At Tier 3, progress monitoring becomes more frequent and targeted to support individualized intervention planning.

Monitoring occurs weekly or more frequently and focuses on tracking student progress toward specific goals identified through diagnostic data.

Data sources may include:

- Intervention-specific assessments
- i-Ready Growth Monitoring
- Diagnostic assessments
- Behavioral tracking tools (when applicable)

This data is used to:

- Monitor progress toward individualized goals
- Inform decisions during SST meetings

- Adjust or intensify interventions as needed

IPMP and Progress Monitoring (Statutory Requirement)

For students identified with a substantial deficiency in reading (K–3) and/or mathematics (K–4), progress monitoring must align to the requirements of the Individualized Progress Monitoring Plan (IPMP), as outlined in Florida Statute 1008.25.

This includes:

- Monitoring progress toward clearly defined, measurable goals
- Using data to determine whether the student is on track to close the gap
- Adjusting interventions based on student response

Parent Notification (Tier 3 / IPMP)

In alignment with Florida Statute 1008.25, parents must be:

- Notified immediately in writing when a substantial deficiency is identified
- Provided with:
    - A description of the deficiency
    - The interventions being implemented
    - The student's IPMP

Additionally, parents must receive:

- Progress updates at least monthly
- Information on student growth and any changes to intervention

Data Analysis and Instructional Decision-Making

Progress monitoring data is used at all levels of the MTSS framework to guide instructional decisions.

At the classroom level, teachers use data to adjust instruction and respond to student needs in real time. At the grade level, teams analyze data to determine the effectiveness of Tier 1 and Tier 2 supports. At the SST level, data is used to evaluate intervention effectiveness, monitor fidelity, and determine next steps.

This ensures that all decisions regarding student support are intentional, data-driven, and aligned to student outcomes.

Decision-Making Based on Student Response

Student response to intervention is evaluated using standardized decision rules to ensure consistency across schools.

Response Type	Description	Action
Positive Response	Student progressing at expected rate	Continue or reduce support
Questionable Response	Progress is inconsistent or slow	Adjust and intensify intervention
Poor Response	Minimal or no progress	Redesign intervention and/or escalate support

Fidelity and Progress Monitoring

Progress monitoring data must be interpreted in conjunction with fidelity of implementation. Without fidelity, it is not possible to determine whether an intervention is effective.

Before modifying or intensifying an intervention, teams must verify that:

- The intervention is being delivered as designed
- Instructional time and frequency are consistent
- Group size aligns with expectations
- Data collection is reliable and consistent

Role of Grade Level MTSS Meetings in Data Review

Grade Level MTSS Meetings serve as the primary structure for reviewing progress monitoring data and evaluating student response to intervention.

These meetings:

- Occur four times per year
- Align to key data cycles (BOY, Q1, MOY, EOY)
- Represent the conclusion of each intervention cycle

During these meetings, teams review:

- Universal screening data
- Progress monitoring data
- Classroom performance data
- Intervention implementation data

Teams then determine whether students should:

- Continue current supports
- Receive adjusted interventions

- Be escalated to Tier 3
- Be considered for additional supports

Connection to System Accountability

The use of structured progress monitoring and Grade Level MTSS Meetings ensures that:

- Decisions are consistent across classrooms and grade levels
- Movement between tiers is intentional and data-driven
- Intervention effectiveness is evaluated regularly
- Schools remain aligned to MTSS expectations and compliance requirements

Summary

Progress monitoring at KIPP Miami Charter Schools ensures that student learning is continuously measured and that instruction and interventions are adjusted based on data. Through consistent and structured data collection, schools are able to evaluate the effectiveness of both core instruction and targeted supports, ensuring that all students are making meaningful progress toward grade-level expectations.

This process supports timely and informed decision-making, ensures alignment with Florida Statute 1008.25, and reinforces the importance of family engagement through ongoing communication. By maintaining a strong connection between data, instruction, and intervention, KIPP Miami Charter Schools are able to implement MTSS with consistency and fidelity across all schools.

Section VI: MTSS for Behavior (RtI:B)

Overview

At KIPP Miami Charter Schools, the Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) includes a comprehensive behavioral framework designed to support students' social, emotional, and behavioral development. Behavioral supports are integrated within the MTSS framework to ensure that students receive consistent, proactive, and data-driven support aligned to their needs.

The MTSS for Behavior framework, also referred to as RtI:B, provides a continuum of supports across three tiers. This structure ensures that all students receive the level of behavioral support necessary to be successful within the school environment.

Behavioral supports at KIPP Miami are grounded in a preventative and instructional approach. This includes the explicit teaching of expected behaviors, the consistent reinforcement of those behaviors, and the use of data to guide decision-making. Systems such as Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS) provide the foundation for Tier 1 practices, while more targeted and intensive supports are layered as needed.

Behavioral MTSS Framework

Behavioral supports are delivered across three tiers, each defined by the level of intensity and individualization required to meet student needs.

Tier	Students	Focus	Examples of Support
Tier 1	All students	Prevention and skill-building	Schoolwide expectations, PBIS, routines
Tier 2	Some students	Targeted intervention	CICO, counseling, social skills groups
Tier 3	Few students	Intensive, individualized support	FBA, BIP, individualized plans

Tier 1: Universal Behavioral Supports

Tier 1 establishes the foundation for behavioral expectations across the school and is designed to support all students. The goal of Tier 1 is to create a positive, structured, and predictable environment that promotes appropriate behavior and reduces the need for more intensive interventions.

Effective Tier 1 systems include clearly defined expectations, consistent routines, and schoolwide reinforcement systems. Instruction at this level focuses on explicitly teaching students what appropriate behavior looks like and providing consistent opportunities for practice and reinforcement.

Core components of Tier 1 include:

- Clearly defined schoolwide behavioral expectations
- Consistent classroom procedures and routines
- Implementation of PBIS practices
- Explicit teaching of expected behaviors
- Reinforcement systems to promote positive behavior

Data is used to evaluate the effectiveness of Tier 1 supports and includes:

- Attendance data
- Conduct grades
- Office discipline referrals (ODRs)
- Early warning indicators

Tier 1 is considered effective when it meets the needs of approximately 80% of students. When a significant number of students require additional support, schools must strengthen Tier 1 systems before increasing Tier 2 interventions.

Tier 2: Targeted Behavioral Interventions

Tier 2 provides additional behavioral support for students who are not responding adequately to Tier 1 expectations. These interventions are designed to address specific behavioral needs and are implemented in a structured and consistent manner.

Students may be considered for Tier 2 when data indicates patterns of concern, including repeated minor behaviors, increased discipline referrals, or difficulty meeting expectations across settings.

Common Tier 2 interventions include:

- Check-In/Check-Out (CICO)
- Small group counseling
- Social skills instruction
- Behavior contracts
- Mentoring

Tier 2 supports must be:

- Delivered in small group or structured formats
- Focused on specific behavioral skills
- Implemented consistently across all settings
- Reinforced through ongoing feedback

Progress Monitoring (Tier 2 Behavior)

Progress monitoring for Tier 2 behavioral interventions occurs at least monthly and includes:

- Behavior tracking tools
- Attendance data
- Teacher reports

Data is reviewed during Grade Level MTSS Meetings to determine whether interventions are effective and whether adjustments are needed.

Parent Communication (Tier 2 Behavior)

Families must be informed when students receive Tier 2 behavioral support. Communication should clearly explain the behavioral concern, the interventions being implemented, and how families can support behavior at home.

Ongoing updates should include:

- Student progress
- Effectiveness of supports
- Any changes to intervention strategies

Tier 3: Intensive Behavioral Interventions

Tier 3 provides individualized, intensive support for students with significant behavioral needs. These supports are implemented when students demonstrate limited or no response to Tier 2 interventions or when behavioral concerns significantly impact learning or safety.

Students may be placed in Tier 3 when they demonstrate:

- Chronic or severe behavioral concerns
- Significant disruption to the learning environment
- Lack of response to Tier 2 interventions

Functional Behavior Assessment (FBA)

An FBA is conducted to determine the function of a student's behavior and identify the underlying cause of the behavior.

Parent/guardian consent must be obtained prior to initiating the FBA process.

The FBA process includes:

- Identification of target behaviors
- Analysis of antecedents and consequences
- Determination of the function of the behavior
- Data collection and observation

Behavior Intervention Plan (BIP)

The Behavior Intervention Plan (BIP) is developed based on the results of the FBA and outlines a structured plan for addressing behavior.

The BIP is designed to:

- Replace inappropriate behaviors
- Teach appropriate replacement behaviors
- Modify environmental factors that contribute to behavior

Key components of the BIP include:

- Clear definition of the target behavior
- Identification of replacement behaviors
- Intervention strategies
- Reinforcement systems
- Progress monitoring plan

Progress Monitoring (Tier 3 Behavior)

Progress monitoring at Tier 3 is conducted weekly or more frequently to ensure that interventions are effective and responsive to student needs.

Data sources may include:

- Behavior tracking systems
- Daily point sheets or logs
- Observation data

This data is reviewed during SST meetings to guide decision-making.

Parent Communication (Tier 3 Behavior)

Parents/guardians must be actively involved in the Tier 3 process. This includes both notification and participation in intervention planning.

Parents must be:

- Notified when Tier 3 supports are being considered or implemented
- Invited to participate in SST meetings when appropriate
- Included in the development of the Behavior Intervention Plan (BIP)

Parent/guardian consent is required prior to conducting an FBA.

Ongoing communication must include:

- A clear explanation of behavioral concerns
- Description of interventions being implemented
- Strategies for supporting behavior at home
- Regular updates on student progress

The development and implementation of Tier 3 supports must reflect a collaborative partnership between the school and family.

Decision-Making for Behavioral Supports

Behavioral decisions follow the same MTSS decision rules used for academic interventions.

Response Type	Action
Positive Response	Continue or fade intervention
Questionable Response	Adjust intervention and increase intensity
Poor Response	Redesign plan and consider additional supports

Fidelity and Accountability (Behavior)

The effectiveness of behavioral interventions depends on fidelity of implementation. Interventions must be implemented consistently across all classrooms and settings to ensure that student response can be accurately evaluated.

Fidelity includes:

- Consistent implementation of strategies
- Alignment across instructional settings
- Accurate and reliable data collection

Behavioral data is reviewed during:

- Grade Level MTSS Meetings (Tier 2)
- SST meetings (Tier 3)

Consideration for Additional Supports

When students demonstrate persistent behavioral challenges despite Tier 3 interventions, the SST may consider additional supports.

This may include:

- Adjusting or intensifying intervention plans
- Increasing levels of support
- Considering additional services or evaluation

All decisions must be based on data and documented through the MTSS process.

Summary

The MTSS for Behavior framework at KIPP Miami Charter Schools ensures that behavioral supports are implemented in a structured, consistent, and data-driven manner. Through a tiered system of support, students receive the level of intervention necessary to develop appropriate behaviors and succeed in the school environment.

This framework emphasizes proactive instruction, targeted intervention, and ongoing progress monitoring, while ensuring that families are engaged as partners throughout the process. By maintaining strong behavioral systems across all tiers, KIPP Miami Charter Schools are able to create positive learning environments that support both academic and social-emotional success.

Section VII: MTSS Infrastructure and Roles

Overview

Effective implementation of the Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) at KIPP Miami Charter Schools requires clearly defined roles, aligned responsibilities, and shared accountability across instructional and student support teams. A strong infrastructure ensures that both the problem-solving process and the implementation of interventions are executed with consistency and fidelity across all schools.

At KIPP Miami, the MTSS framework is intentionally designed to distinguish between ownership of the process and ownership of instructional and behavioral implementation. This distinction ensures that decision-making remains data-driven while maintaining accountability for high-quality instruction and intervention delivery.

The MTSS framework operates through:

- Defined role ownership
- Structured collaboration across teams
- Shared responsibility for student outcomes

Within this structure:

- The Program Specialist owns the SST process
- Instructional and culture leaders own intervention implementation and fidelity
- Grade-level leadership structures support data-driven decision-making

MTSS Infrastructure at KIPP Miami

The MTSS framework is supported by a comprehensive school-based team structure. Each role contributes to the effective implementation of MTSS by ensuring that data is used appropriately, interventions are aligned to student needs, and systems are implemented with integrity.

The MTSS team structure includes:

The Grade Level Chair also guides decisions related to:

- Tier 2 placement
- Intervention adjustments
- Escalation to SST

Assistant Principals of Instruction (APIs)

The Assistant Principals of Instruction are responsible for ensuring the effective implementation of academic instruction and interventions. Their role is critical in maintaining the alignment between student data, instructional practices, and intervention strategies.

APIs ensure that academic interventions are:

- Aligned to student data
- Targeted to specific skill deficits
- Implemented consistently across classrooms

They are also responsible for monitoring instructional quality and ensuring that intervention practices are implemented with fidelity.

In addition, APIs oversee documentation processes, ensuring that intervention data is accurately tracked and maintained within the FOCUS platform.

    - Align to student needs
    - Include measurable goals
    - Are implemented with fidelity

Assistant Principal of Culture (APC) and Culture Team

The Assistant Principal of Culture and Culture Team are responsible for the selection, implementation, and monitoring of behavioral interventions. This role ensures that behavioral supports are aligned to the function of student behavior and implemented consistently across all settings.

The APC and Culture Team collaborate with teachers to:

- Identify behavioral concerns
- Select appropriate Tier 2 interventions

They ensure that behavioral interventions are:

- Implemented consistently across all classrooms
- Aligned to the function of the behavior
- Monitored for effectiveness
- Documented with fidelity in the FOCUS platform

Behavioral Intervention Coordination

The APC and Culture Team maintain consistency across classrooms and ensure that behavioral supports are implemented as intended. They monitor the effectiveness of interventions and make adjustments based on student response.

Teachers and Interventionists

Teachers and interventionists are responsible for the direct implementation of instruction and interventions. Their role is essential in ensuring that students receive consistent and high-quality support aligned to their needs.

Teachers are responsible for:

- Delivering Tier 1, Tier 2, and Tier 3 instruction
- Monitoring student progress
- Collecting, documenting, and maintaining data
- Communicating with families
- Collaborating with APIs, APC, and the Program Specialist

Assistant Director of Exceptional Student Achievement

The Assistant Director provides strategic support to instructional leadership and ensures that academic systems are aligned and effective.

This role supports APIs in:

- Data analysis

- Problem-solving

School Psychologist and School Counselor

The School Psychologist and/or School Counselor provide expertise in behavioral analysis and intervention planning. Their role is essential in supporting students with more complex behavioral needs.

Responsibilities include:

- Identifying behavioral trends and patterns
- Supporting the development of appropriate interventions
- Conducting Functional Behavior Assessments (FBA)
- Obtaining parent consent prior to initiating the FBA process
- Providing expertise related to social-emotional needs

Collaboration Across Roles

Effective MTSS implementation depends on strong collaboration across all roles. This ensures that both academic and behavioral supports are aligned and implemented with fidelity.

Academic Collaboration

- Teachers work closely with APIs to implement and adjust interventions
- APIs collaborate with the Assistant Director to analyze data and refine strategies
- The Program Specialist facilitates SST meetings and ensures process integrity

Behavioral Collaboration

- Teachers collaborate with the APC and Culture Team to address behavioral needs
- The APC works with the School Psychologist and Counselor to analyze behavior and determine appropriate supports
- The Program Specialist ensures that SST decisions are aligned to data and properly documented

Role-Based Accountability

Role	Primary Ownership

Program Specialist	SST process and data quality within SST meetings
Grade Level Chair	Grade-level data meetings and tier movement decisions
APIs	Ensures academic interventions are being implemented with fidelity, ensures parent communication meets statutory requirements, and ensures data is being documented with fidelity by the teachers

Summary

The MTSS infrastructure at KIPP Miami Charter Schools ensures that roles are clearly defined and aligned to areas of expertise, allowing for consistent and effective implementation across all schools. By distinguishing between ownership of the MTSS process and responsibility for intervention implementation, the framework promotes both accountability and collaboration.

Through structured roles, data-driven decision-making, and shared responsibility for student outcomes, KIPP Miami ensures that interventions are implemented with fidelity and that all students receive the support necessary to succeed.

Section VIII: MTSS Timeline and Documentation

Overview

The MTSS framework at KIPP Miami Charter Schools operates on a structured annual timeline aligned to assessment windows, intervention cycles, and reporting periods. This timeline ensures that student data is collected, analyzed, and used consistently to inform instructional decisions and intervention planning.

By organizing MTSS implementation around defined cycles, schools are able to systematically monitor student progress, evaluate the effectiveness of interventions, and make timely adjustments to supports. This structure also ensures that required documentation is completed in a consistent and compliant manner across all schools.

The MTSS timeline is designed to create predictable opportunities for data review, intervention planning, and decision-making, ensuring that student support is both proactive and responsive.

Annual MTSS Timeline

The MTSS process is organized around four primary data cycles that guide implementation throughout the school year.

Cycle	Timeframe	Focus
Beginning of Year (BOY)	August – September	Data collection, placement, and initiation of interventions
End of Quarter 1	October	Review of initial intervention effectiveness
Middle of Year (MOY)	January – February	Mid-year adjustment of supports
End of Year (EOY)	April – May	Final evaluation and planning

Each cycle represents the completion of an intervention round and provides a structured opportunity to review student data and determine next steps.

MTSS Implementation Timeline

Beginning of Year (BOY)

Focus: Data Collection, Placement, and Compliance Requirements

At the beginning of the school year, schools establish the foundation for MTSS implementation through comprehensive data collection and initial student placement.

Universal screening assessments, including FAST and i-Ready, are administered to all students. In addition, prior year data—including retention status and intervention history—is reviewed to ensure continuity of support.

Based on this data, students are identified for Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions, and intervention groups are established. Supports must begin immediately to ensure timely response to student needs.

Tier 2 Parent Notification (BOY)

For all students identified for Tier 2 support, parents must be notified in writing. The Tier 2 Intervention Notification Letter must clearly communicate the student's area of need, the intervention being provided, the frequency and duration of support, and the method of progress monitoring.

This communication ensures that families are informed early and are able to support their child's learning throughout the intervention cycle.

Immediate Tier 3 Placement (BOY)

Students with the most significant needs must begin Tier 3 intervention at the start of the school year. This includes retained students and those with documented substantial deficiencies based on prior year data.

These students do not require placement in Tier 2 prior to receiving Tier 3 support. Instead, they begin intensive intervention immediately and are prioritized for frequent progress monitoring and ongoing review.

IPMP Requirements (Beginning of Year)

In accordance with Florida Statute 1008.25, students identified with a substantial deficiency in reading (K–3) and/or mathematics (K–4) must receive an Individualized Progress Monitoring Plan (IPMP).

At the beginning of the year:

- Students identified through BOY assessment data must have an IPMP developed
- The IPMP must be completed within 45 days of assessment results becoming available
- Interventions aligned to the IPMP must begin immediately upon identification

Parents must be notified in writing of the deficiency and provided with the IPMP, along with resources to support learning at home. Ongoing communication must include progress updates at least monthly.

Quarter 1 (September – October)

Focus: Initial Intervention Cycle

During Quarter 1, schools implement Tier 2 and Tier 3 interventions and begin collecting progress monitoring data. Grade Level Meetings are conducted to review early data and monitor the effectiveness of supports.

Schools also conduct Report Card Conferences (RCC), providing an opportunity to communicate student progress and reinforce family engagement.

End of Quarter 1 Review

At the conclusion of Quarter 1, teams analyze student performance data to determine the effectiveness of interventions. Students who are not demonstrating adequate progress are identified for further support.

At this point, teams may:

- Adjust or intensify interventions
- Regroup students based on need
- Refer students to SST meetings for additional problem-solving

Quarter 2 and Quarter 3 (November – March)

Focus: Ongoing Monitoring and Adjustment

During this phase, schools continue to implement interventions and monitor student progress. The focus shifts to refining supports and ensuring that interventions are aligned to student response.

Progress monitoring occurs:

- Monthly for Tier 2
- Weekly or more frequently for Tier 3

Grade Level Meetings and SST meetings continue throughout this period to ensure that data is reviewed consistently and that instructional decisions are responsive.

Middle of Year (MOY)

Focus: System-Level Adjustment

At the middle of the year, schools administer mid-year assessments, including FAST PM2 and i-Ready diagnostics. These assessments provide a comprehensive view of student progress and inform adjustments to Tier placement and intervention plans.

This data is used to evaluate both individual student progress and the effectiveness of school-wide instructional systems.

End of Year (EOY)

Focus: Evaluation and Planning

At the end of the year, schools conduct final assessments and evaluate the overall effectiveness of interventions across all tiers. This process informs decisions about student support for the following school year and supports long-term planning.

Documentation Requirements

Accurate and timely documentation is essential to both instructional effectiveness and compliance. Documentation provides evidence of intervention implementation, student progress, and decision-making throughout the MTSS process.

Required documentation includes:

- Tier 2 Intervention Notification Letters
- Individualized Progress Monitoring Plans (IPMPs), when applicable
- Progress monitoring data

- Intervention plans and implementation logs
- SST meeting documentation
- Behavioral documentation, including FBA and BIP when applicable

Documentation Expectations by Role

Clear ownership of documentation ensures consistency and accountability across the MTSS process.

The Program Specialist is responsible for maintaining SST documentation, ensuring that all data presented is accurate and aligned, and verifying compliance with MTSS processes.

The Assistant Principals of Instruction ensure that Tier 2 parent notifications are completed, monitor IPMP development and implementation, and verify academic intervention documentation.

The Assistant Principal of Culture and Culture Team maintain behavioral documentation, ensure fidelity of behavior supports across classrooms, and support the development and implementation of FBA and BIP processes.

Teachers are responsible for maintaining progress monitoring data, documenting intervention implementation, implementing IPMPs as required, and communicating with families.

Data Tracking and Accountability

Schools must maintain systems to track student progress and ensure that interventions are implemented with fidelity. Data systems must provide visibility into student performance across tiers and support ongoing decision-making.

Schools are responsible for tracking:

- Student progress across tiers
- Intervention participation and attendance
- Fidelity of implementation
- Movement between tiers

Data must be updated regularly, reviewed during Grade Level Meetings and SST meetings, and used to inform instructional decisions.

Compliance and Timelines

To ensure alignment with Florida Statute 1008.25, schools must adhere to established timelines and documentation requirements.

This includes:

- Identifying students with substantial deficiencies in a timely manner
- Developing IPMPs within 45 days of identification
- Providing required parent notification and ongoing communication
- Maintaining documentation that demonstrates intervention implementation and progress monitoring

Summary

The MTSS timeline and documentation systems at KIPP Miami Charter Schools provide a structured approach to implementing and monitoring interventions across the school year. By aligning data collection, intervention cycles, and decision-making processes, schools are able to respond effectively to student needs while maintaining compliance with state requirements.

This structure ensures that student progress is consistently monitored, instructional decisions are made at defined intervals, and documentation supports both effective practice and accountability across all schools.

Section IX: Family Communication and Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

Overview

Families are essential partners in the MTSS process at KIPP Miami Charter Schools. Effective communication ensures that families understand their child's needs, the supports being provided, and how they can actively contribute to their child's success.

Consistent with Florida's MTSS framework, family engagement is a critical component of successful implementation. Schools must ensure that families are not only informed, but actively included in the problem-solving process. This includes providing clear and accessible information, maintaining ongoing communication, and creating opportunities for meaningful participation in decision-making.

Family communication within MTSS must be timely, consistent, and aligned to student data. Communication should provide families with a clear understanding of their child's progress, the interventions being implemented, and the steps being taken to support academic and behavioral growth.

Family Communication Expectations Across Tiers

Tier 1 (Core Instruction)

At Tier 1, communication with families focuses on providing regular updates regarding student performance and progress toward grade-level expectations. This communication ensures that families remain informed about their child's academic and behavioral development within the general education setting.

Families are informed through:

- Report cards
- Progress reports
- Parent-teacher conferences

Communication at this level focuses on academic performance, behavioral expectations, and overall progress toward grade-level standards.

Tier 2 (Targeted Intervention)

When a student is identified for Tier 2 support, families must be formally notified that additional intervention is being provided. This ensures transparency and provides families with an opportunity to support their child's progress.

Parents/guardians must receive a Tier 2 Intervention Notification Letter that includes:

- The student's identified area(s) of need
- A description of the intervention being provided
- The frequency and duration of support
- The method of progress monitoring

Ongoing Tier 2 Communication

Following initial notification, families must continue to receive updates regarding their child's progress and the effectiveness of interventions. This ongoing communication ensures that families remain informed and engaged throughout the intervention cycle.

Updates should include:

- Progress toward intervention goals
- Effectiveness of the intervention
- Any changes to instructional strategies

Communication may occur through Report Card Conferences (RCC), progress reports, or direct communication from teachers.

Tier 3 (Intensive Intervention)

When a student is identified for Tier 3 support, family involvement becomes an essential component of the intervention process. Parents must be informed immediately and included as active participants in planning and decision-making.

Families must:

- Be notified when Tier 3 supports are being considered or implemented
- Be invited to participate in SST meetings when appropriate
- Be included in the development of intervention plans

IPMP Communication (Statutory Requirement)

In accordance with Florida Statute 1008.25, when a student is identified with a substantial deficiency in reading (K–3) and/or mathematics (K–4), specific communication requirements must be met.

Parents must be notified immediately in writing and provided with:

- A description of the identified deficiency
- The interventions and supports being implemented
- The student's Individualized Progress Monitoring Plan (IPMP)

In addition, parents must receive ongoing progress updates at least monthly. These updates must include information on student progress toward goals and any changes to intervention or support.

Behavioral Supports (Tier 2 and Tier 3)

For students receiving behavioral interventions, communication with families must reflect both the nature of the concern and the supports being implemented.

Families must be informed of behavioral concerns and included in the intervention process, particularly at Tier 3. Parent consent is required prior to conducting a Functional Behavior Assessment (FBA), and families must be included in the development of Behavior Intervention Plans (BIPs).

Communication should include:

- A description of behavioral concerns
- Interventions being implemented
- Strategies for reinforcing behavior at home
- Ongoing updates on student progress

Family Partnership Expectations

KIPP Miami Charter Schools are committed to building strong partnerships with families as part of the MTSS process. Effective partnerships ensure that interventions are supported both at school and at home, increasing the likelihood of positive student outcomes.

Schools support family engagement by:

- Providing clear explanations of the MTSS process
- Offering strategies for supporting learning and behavior at home
- Creating opportunities for families to participate in meetings and planning

- Ensuring communication is respectful, accessible, and responsive

Family engagement is essential to ensuring that interventions are implemented consistently and effectively across environments.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

What is MTSS?

MTSS is a framework used to provide different levels of academic and behavioral support based on student need. It ensures that all students receive the instruction and intervention necessary to succeed.

How are students identified for intervention?

Students are identified through multiple data sources, including universal screening assessments, classroom performance, progress monitoring data, and behavioral indicators.

Can students move between tiers?

Yes. Students may move between Tier 1, Tier 2, and Tier 3 based on their response to instruction and intervention.

Is MTSS the same as special education?

No. MTSS is a general education framework designed to support all students. Special education eligibility requires a separate evaluation process.

When will I be notified if my child needs support?

Parents are notified at different points depending on the level of support. Tier 2 notifications occur when intervention begins, while Tier 3 and IPMP notifications occur immediately upon identification of significant need.

What is an IPMP?

An Individualized Progress Monitoring Plan (IPMP) is a plan required for students with substantial deficiencies in reading (K–3) and/or mathematics (K–4). It outlines goals, interventions, and progress monitoring expectations.

How often will I receive updates?

Families receive regular updates throughout the MTSS process. Students receiving Tier 3 support or an IPMP will receive updates at least monthly.

How can I support my child at home?

Schools provide strategies, resources, and guidance to help families support learning and behavior at home. These supports are aligned to the student's intervention plan.

Can I request a meeting about my child?

Yes. Families may request a meeting at any time to discuss concerns, progress, or supports.

Summary

Family communication at KIPP Miami Charter Schools is designed to ensure that families are informed, engaged, and actively involved in the MTSS process. Through consistent communication, clear expectations, and opportunities for collaboration, families are able to partner with schools to support student success.

This approach ensures that communication aligns with both instructional practices and statutory requirements, while reinforcing the role of families as essential partners in helping students achieve positive academic and behavioral outcomes.

Conclusion and Contact Information

Conclusion

The Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) at KIPP Miami Charter Schools represents a comprehensive and aligned framework for ensuring that all students receive the academic and behavioral support necessary to succeed. Through the consistent application of a data-based problem-solving process, schools are able to identify student needs, implement targeted interventions, and monitor progress in a structured and responsive manner.

This manual is intended to serve as the guiding document for MTSS implementation across all KIPP Miami schools. It establishes a common understanding of expectations, roles, and systems, ensuring that instructional and intervention practices are aligned, equitable, and effective. Successful implementation of MTSS requires a shared commitment across all staff to use data intentionally, implement interventions with fidelity, and collaborate to support student outcomes.

MTSS is not a separate initiative, but the foundation of how KIPP Miami Charter Schools deliver instruction and support students. Through this framework, schools are able to ensure that resources are aligned to need and that all students are provided with meaningful opportunities to achieve academic success.

This manual should be viewed as a living document and may be updated as needed to reflect changes in policy, practice, or state requirements.

Established 1915 BROWARD County Public Schools | Educating Today's Students to Succeed in Tomorrow's World

Topic: Meeting: June 9, 2026 - RSBM
Topic: M-4.) Performance-Based Agreement- KIPP Miami, Inc.

Staff Follow-up: 4/12 on agreement- Years 3 and on as 1000+ students. How will they fit that many students in addition to the students we have on the campus?

Response: The KIPP TEAM and Family Notice of Intent (NOI) and Performance-Based Agreement (PBA) submission does not identify a specific site for the proposed School of Hope. The submission does, however, include the school's anticipated enrollment projections, which are preliminary and subject to change. These enrollment figures are contingent upon final decisions related to facility capacity and space allocation.

Staff is currently working on a plan for the school to co-locate on the William Dandy Middle School campus; however, this plan has not yet been finalized or formally approved.

The school's final enrollment will be determined once the Shared Facility Plan is completed. This plan will establish the parameters for classroom space, administrative offices, and shared common areas, and will ultimately define the physical capacity of the campus to support the School of Hope. Until the Shared Facility Plan is finalized, enrollment numbers and site-specific details should be considered tentative.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

2026-27 Opening and Closing School Bell Times

Board Meeting Date: June 9, 2029

Requested Action:

Approve the school opening and closing bell times for the 2026-27 academic year.

General Information

The following information outlines the governing authority, districtwide implications, historical background, strategic alignment with the 2027 goals and guardrails, and the anticipated measurable outcomes and return on investment related to this agenda item.

District-zone Impact/Board Member: District-wide
School Board Policy Requirement	• Not Applicable
Statutory Requirement	• The proposed bell time modifications comply with all applicable state statutes, instructional minute requirements, collective bargaining considerations, and transportation regulations governing public school operations. The District will continue to ensure that instructional time requirements for elementary, middle, and high school students are fully met. [F.S. 1011.60(2), F.S. 1011.61(1), F.A.C. Rule 6A-1.045111, F.S. 1003.02, F.S. 1001.42]
If the School Board votes "Yes"	• The school bell schedules will be implemented for the upcoming academic year. Transportation routes and operational schedules will be adjusted accordingly. The recommended times will improve alignment of instructional programming across school levels. Transportation efficiencies will increase through optimized staggered scheduling. These times support the operational needs of the combination schools and provide advanced communication to families, employees, and community stakeholders.
If the School Board votes "No"	• The existing bell schedules will remain in effect. Transportation inefficiencies and increased operational pressures may continue. Challenges associated with accommodating new school configurations and program expansion may persist. Opportunities to streamline transportation routing and reduce costs may be delayed. Scheduling inconsistencies among schools and programs may remain unresolved.

Alignment to the 2027 Strategic Goals and Guardrails	• Guardrail 1: Safety
Measurable Outcome(s)/Return on Investment	The proposed bell time adjustments are expected to provide measurable operational and educational benefits, including: • Improved transportation efficiency and route optimization, • Reduced operational and fuel costs through more effective bus utilization, • Enhanced on-time arrival and dismissal performance, • Better alignment of instructional schedules across the school district, • Increased capacity to support future student growth without significant expansion of transportation resources, and • Improved operational coordination among traditional, magnet, K–8, and 6–12 schools.

Background/History
Each year, the Student Transportation & Fleet Services Department develops the open and closing school times for Board approval. School bell times are strategically scheduled to maximize the efficient use of District transportation resources while ensuring compliance with mandated student transportation requirements. Staggered start and dismissal times allow the District to utilize existing bus fleets and personnel more effectively, thereby helping to reduce operational costs and minimize the need for additional transportation resources.

The proposed updates to current bell schedules are designed to:

- Maintain consistency among elementary performing arts magnet schools,
- Align middle school instructional schedules to support academic programming and required instructional minutes,
- Support the operational needs of newly established K–8 combination schools and 6–12 schools under the District's Redefining Our Schools initiative, and
- Enhance overall transportation routing efficiency while supporting student safety and timely arrival and dismissal procedures.

These adjustments reflect the District's continued commitment to operational effectiveness, equitable access to educational programs, and responsible stewardship of District resources

Section 1002.33(6)(b)5, Florida Statutes, states that "[u]pon approval of an application, the initial startup shall commence with the beginning of the public-school calendar for the district in which the charter is granted. The anticipated student population to be served by our proposed charter school aligns seamlessly with the school's mission, emphasizing the integration of humane sciences, compassion, and responsible global citizenship. We envision a diverse and inclusive student body that encompasses a broad range of backgrounds and characteristics, fostering an environment of mutual respect, understanding, and collaborative learning.

Alignment with the School's Mission:

Diversity of Backgrounds: Our anticipated student population reflects the rich diversity found in the Broward community, including a mix of racial, ethnic, socioeconomic, and cultural backgrounds. This diversity aligns with our mission to cultivate empathy and cultural sensitivity among students, preparing them to engage thoughtfully in a globalized world. Broward's current demographics of 243,553 school aged children enrolled in BCPS during 2024-2025 are: 39.1% Hispanic, 38.1% Black/African American, 16.1% White, 3.7% Asian, 2.6% Multiracial and 0.2% American Indian/ Native Alaskan. The current population of economically disadvantaged students in Broward County is 53.2%.

Empathy and Compassion: Students joining our school are expected to come with an inherent curiosity and willingness to explore humane sciences, showcasing their genuine interest in understanding and addressing societal and environmental issues. This resonates with our mission to inspire compassion and ethical awareness, nurturing their sense of responsibility for both human welfare and the well-being of all living beings.

Commitment to Ethical Decision-Making: The student population is anticipated to include families who value ethical decision-making and the development of strong moral character. Our mission aligns perfectly with this commitment by infusing ethics and integrity into every aspect of education, empowering students to make principled choices.

Global Awareness: Students who enroll in our school are likely to share an interest in global perspectives and cross-cultural understanding. Our mission dovetails with this by fostering a broader outlook on the interconnectedness of the world, preparing students to contribute as responsible global citizens.

Environmental Consciousness: Given Broward's environmental concerns and its relevance in Florida's ecosystem, our anticipated student population will likely include families who value environmental sustainability. This aligns with our mission to nurture a sense of responsibility for ecological harmony and the well-being of the planet.

Enrollment Preferences and Limitations:

In accordance with the provisions of section 1002.33(10)(d) & (e), F.S., we acknowledge that our charter school may be allowed to give enrollment preferences or implement limitations based on certain student populations, such as students within specific age groups or grade levels and students who reside within a reasonable distance of the school, subject to certain provisions described in the law.

In Section 14 of our application, we will provide a detailed description of our intended enrollment preferences, ensuring that they are in full compliance with state regulations and are aligned with our mission to foster an inclusive, compassionate, and diverse learning environment. These preferences will be designed to further our commitment to equal educational opportunities while addressing the unique needs and circumstances of specific student populations as permitted by law.

B. If a facility has not been identified in the Facilities section of this application, state the geographic area which the applicant intends to serve.

In Section 16 of our application, we acknowledge that a facility has not yet been identified. However, we are committed to serving the educational needs of the Broward County community. The geographic area we intend to serve encompasses neighborhoods and districts within Broward County and possibly within the Hollywood area. Our goal is to provide accessible and quality education to a diverse range of students from various neighborhoods, ensuring that our charter school becomes a valuable resource for families throughout the broader Broward area. As we progress in our application process and secure a facility, we will provide specific details regarding the physical location and its accessibility to the community we intend to serve.

Enter explanation here

The charter school will serve no more than the Certificate of Occupancy of the facility states as a maximum. Furthermore, the applicant will notify the sponsor in accordance with the Florida Statutes of projected changes to enrollment.

Enrollment projections for the K-8 school were developed through a combination of demographic data analysis, local population trends, and educational demand considerations. Although some charter schools in Broward County have opened with less students than we have projected, we must take into consideration the increase in population.

Demographic Analysis: Data was collected on the current population of school-aged children in the County of Broward and the surrounding areas. This analysis, conducted by CBRE LLC, included factors such as age distribution, household composition, and racial/ethnic backgrounds. The goal was to understand the potential pool of students that the school could draw from.

Population Trends: Historical and current population trends in Broward were examined to identify any growth or decline patterns in the school-aged population. This information helped project how the student population might change over the coming years. Information was gathered using US Census data as well as information from established projection models.

Educational Demand: Market research and surveys were conducted to assess the demand for a K-8 school with a focus on humane sciences in the Broward area. This included gauging parent interest, preferences for alternative education approaches, and the alignment of the proposed curriculum with community values.

Local Factors: Consideration of local factors, such as nearby schools, their capacities, and educational offerings, played a role in estimating the enrollment for the new school. Additionally, economic conditions and employment opportunities in the area impact enrollment projections.

Community Engagement: Input from the community, including potential parents, educators, and stakeholders, was gathered through meetings, focus groups, or surveys. This assisted in understanding the community's level of interest and support for the school.

Comparable Schools: Most enrollment projections and school-based demographics information was derived from the FLDOE Broward County Report Card for the 2024-2025 school year. Similar charter schools or educational institutions in other areas, their enrollment patterns, ESE and ELL populations and experiences were considered to inform projections for the new school.

Adjustments and Scenarios: Enrollment projections involved multiple scenarios based on different assumptions, such as varying rates of growth, marketing effectiveness, and community engagement outcomes. These scenarios helped account for uncertainties and plan for different contingencies.

Expert Consultation: Education experts, demographers, and data analysts have been consulted to provide insights and expertise in projecting enrollments, considering factors like birth rates, migration patterns, and educational trends.

Feedback Loops: As the school becomes established, the enrollment projections will be continuously refined based on actual enrollment numbers, feedback from parents and students, and other real-world factors that emerge.

It's important to note that enrollment projections are estimates and can be influenced by various factors. Flexibility in accommodating different enrollment outcomes is often built into the school's planning and budgeting processes.

E. Briefly explain the rationale for the number of students and grade levels served in year one and the basis for the growth plan in subsequent years as illustrated in the table above.

Enter explanation here

The decision regarding the number of students and grade levels served in year one, as well as the growth plan for subsequent years, is rooted in a strategic approach to ensure a smooth and impactful launch while maintaining the quality of education and the integrity of our mission.

Year One (Initial Year):

In the first year, we have chosen to begin with a focused enrollment, serving a limited number of students in each grade level. This approach allows us to establish a strong foundation for our educational programs, develop a close-knit school community, and ensure personalized attention to each student. By commencing with a manageable student population, we can effectively refine our curriculum, teaching methodologies, and administrative processes, thereby setting the stage for sustainable growth.

Growth Plan (Subsequent Years): The growth plan outlined in subsequent years is informed by the following factors:

Educational Excellence: As we expand grade levels in subsequent years, we prioritize maintaining the quality of education and preserving our commitment to humane sciences, compassion, and global awareness. Gradual growth enables us to ensure that each new grade level receives the same high standard of education that our initial cohorts experienced.

Faculty and Resources: Our growth plan takes into account the recruitment and professional development of qualified educators who resonate with our mission. Scaling up in a thoughtful manner ensures that we can adequately support our faculty and provide students with the attention and resources they deserve.

Physical Facilities: The growth plan considers the identification and preparation of appropriate physical facilities. We aim to secure a facility that accommodates the growing student population, adheres to safety standards, and fosters an environment conducive to our educational goals.

Community Engagement: Each phase of growth involves engaging with the community, parents, and stakeholders to ensure that the expansion aligns with the evolving needs and expectations of the Broward area.

Sustainability: The growth plan is designed to be sustainable, both academically and financially. Gradual expansion allows us to maintain fiscal responsibility and avoid compromising the quality of education or the unique ethos of our school.

In summary, our approach balances the desire to provide transformative education with the need to ensure a strong foundation for our students and school community. We are committed to a thoughtful and deliberate growth trajectory that aligns with our mission, values, and the educational aspirations of our students and families.

A response that meets the standard will present an educational program design that:

- An educational program design that:
  - Is clear and coherent;

Form Result

A. Describe the proposed charter school's educational program.

The proposed charter school's educational program is designed to offer a unique and comprehensive learning experience centered around humane sciences, fostering empathy, critical thinking, and responsible global citizenship. Our program integrates traditional subjects with the principles of humane sciences, cultivating a holistic approach to education that prepares students for success in an interconnected world. Here's an overview of our educational program:

Humane Sciences Curriculum: Our curriculum places a strong emphasis on humane sciences, encompassing a range of subjects that explore the interconnectedness of life, ethical decision-making, and global challenges. Students learn about animal welfare, environmental sustainability, social justice, and cultural diversity. This interdisciplinary approach encourages students to think critically and reflect on their role in promoting positive change.

Integrated Learning: We believe in the power of integration. Core subjects such as language arts, mathematics, science, and social studies are interconnected with humane sciences concepts. For example, students might explore literature that highlights empathy, analyze data related to environmental issues in mathematics, or study historical events through a lens of social responsibility.

Experiential Learning: We embrace experiential learning as a key pedagogical approach. Students engage in hands-on projects, field trips, and community service initiatives that allow them to apply their learning to real-world situations. Whether it's participating in local environmental conservation efforts or volunteering at animal shelters, students gain a deeper understanding of the impact they can make.

Cultural Enrichment: Cultural diversity is celebrated through our curriculum. Students learn about different cultures, traditions, and perspectives, fostering respect and empathy for others. Activities, festivals, and guest speakers create a dynamic and inclusive learning environment.

Ethical Education: Ethical education is woven into every facet of our program. Through discussions, case studies, and reflective practices, students develop strong moral character, ethical reasoning, and the ability to make principled decisions in both personal and societal contexts.

Environmental Awareness: Given our commitment to environmental sustainability, students learn about ecological systems, conservation, and sustainable practices. Outdoor activities, nature studies, and eco-friendly initiatives contribute to a sense of responsibility for the planet.

Global Perspectives: Our program encourages students to think globally. Through projects, virtual exchanges, and collaborations with schools around the world, students gain a deeper understanding of global issues and develop the skills to collaborate on solutions.

Individualized Support: We recognize the uniqueness of each student. Our educators provide differentiated instruction to meet diverse learning styles, abilities, and interests. Small class sizes ensure personalized attention, fostering both academic growth and well-being.

In summary, the proposed charter school's educational program is a pioneering blend of humane sciences, traditional subjects, experiential learning, and ethical education. Through this innovative approach, we aim to nurture compassionate, informed, and globally aware individuals who are well-equipped to create positive change in their communities and beyond.

B. Describe the basic learning environment (e.g., classroom-based, independent study, blended learning), including rationale for class size and structure and how the learning environment supports and is consistent with the mission.

Our proposed charter school offers a dynamic and engaging learning environment that combines classroom-based instruction with experiential learning and blended learning strategies. This approach ensures a well-rounded education that aligns with our mission of nurturing empathy, critical thinking, and responsible global citizenship.

Classroom-Based Instruction: Classroom-based instruction forms the foundation of our learning environment. In these spaces, students engage in interactive discussions, collaborative projects, and hands-on activities that foster deeper understanding and connection with the curriculum. Expert educators facilitate these sessions, providing guidance and personalized support.

Experiential Learning: We believe that learning is most impactful when students directly engage with the subject matter. Experiential learning takes place through field trips, community service, and hands-on projects. This approach allows students to apply classroom concepts to real-world situations, reinforcing the values of empathy and responsible citizenship.

Blended Learning: To accommodate diverse learning styles and prepare students for technology-driven environments, we incorporate blended learning approaches. This entails a combination of in-person instruction and digital resources, allowing students to access learning materials, conduct research, and collaborate online. Blended learning enhances self-directed learning skills while maintaining the benefits of traditional classroom interactions.

Our choice of class size and structure is guided by our mission to provide individualized attention, foster a sense of community, and create a supportive environment for each student's holistic growth.

Smaller Class Sizes: We maintain smaller class sizes to ensure personalized attention and meaningful interactions between educators and students. This allows educators to address individual learning needs, promote active engagement, and build relationships that facilitate development. Our class sizes are not based on averages but a true 18:1 or 22:1 ratio.

Collaborative Structure: Our classrooms are designed to encourage collaboration and open dialogue. Group discussions, peer collaborations, and team projects enable students to learn from one another's diverse perspectives, promoting a deeper understanding of the interconnectedness of the world.

The learning environment aligns seamlessly with our mission:

Empathy and Collaboration: The classroom-based and collaborative structure nurtures empathy and effective communication, values that are essential to responsible global citizenship.

Experiential Learning: The experiential learning component reinforces the principles of compassionate action and environmental stewardship, directly reflecting our mission's emphasis on empathy and ethical responsibility.

The educational program of our proposed charter school is informed by a well-rounded research base that draws from various educational theories, methodologies, and best practices. Our approach is founded on a synthesis of educational research that supports the integration of humane sciences, experiential learning, and holistic development.

Humane Sciences and Ethical Education: Research on humane education, ethical reasoning, and character development underpins our focus on empathy, compassion, and ethical decision-making. Studies emphasize the importance of nurturing these qualities to create responsible citizens.

Experiential and Project-Based Learning: The use of experiential and project-based learning is supported by research that highlights its effectiveness in promoting deeper understanding, engagement, and retention of knowledge. These methodologies align with our goal of fostering real-world connections and practical application.

Life Skills and Wellness: Our program incorporates life skills and wellness principles to foster emotional intelligence, self-awareness, and interpersonal skills, aligning with our mission to nurture holistic growth.

Global Citizenship Education: The concept of global citizenship education is informed by research on cultivating global awareness, intercultural competence, and a sense of responsibility for the planet. Our program draws from this research to prepare students as responsible, active global citizens.

Inquiry-Based Learning and Critical Thinking: Research on inquiry-based learning and critical thinking underscores their role in developing problem-solving skills, curiosity, and analytical thinking. These aspects are integrated into our curriculum to encourage students to think critically about complex global issues.

Multidisciplinary and Integrated Curricula: The use of multidisciplinary and integrated curricula is informed by research showing that these approaches foster connections between subjects, leading to a deeper understanding of the material. Our program uses this approach to weave humane sciences into traditional subjects.

As we move forward, we remain committed to ongoing reflection and refinement based on the latest educational research to continually enhance our students' learning experiences.

C. Describe the research base used to design the educational program.

The educational program is grounded in a comprehensive research base and designed to align closely with Florida statutes and the specific requirements of the Broward County Pupil Progression Plan and Reading Plan. This alignment ensures a high-quality educational experience that meets state standards and local expectations while supporting high achievement, engagement, and student growth. Drawing on educational psychology, developmental learning theories, and evidence-based instructional practices, the program emphasizes a balanced approach to academics, life skills learning, and critical thinking. Some of the research used in planning the educational design is published by National Institute of Health, The Aspen Institute and The Learning Policy Institute.

Core elements include differentiated instruction, allowing students to progress at individual paces, supported by Florida Statute § 1008.25, which mandates remediation and progression protocols to support student achievement. The use of formative assessments is integral to this model, ensuring alignment with state requirements and enabling instruction tailored to student needs—a practice extensively supported by research showing that personalized learning enhances achievement and motivation.

Cognitively based strategies, such as spaced repetition and active learning, are also employed, following evidence indicating these methods enhance retention and mastery over time. Additionally, the program integrates project-based learning (PBL), rooted in constructivist theories, to foster collaborative problem-solving skills. This approach supports the development of skills essential for long-term success, including communication, teamwork, and adaptability, as outlined in the Broward County Pupil Progression Plan's emphasis on skill mastery and real-world readiness.

A strong focus on reading development is built into the program, directly aligned with the Broward County Reading Plan and Florida Statute § 1003.4156, which outlines reading intervention and proficiency goals. Targeted reading strategies and interventions address diverse literacy needs, ensuring students achieve benchmarks that support their progression.

Lastly, character education is a critical pillar of the program, based on research showing the long-term impact of life skills learning on academic and personal success, in alignment with Florida’s character education requirements.

With this strong foundation in state and local guidelines and research-based strategies, the educational program is innovative, inclusive, and impactful, ensuring that all students are prepared for success within the classroom and beyond.

E. Explain how the services the school will provide to the target population support attainment of the state-adopted standards, as required by section 1002.33, F.S.

The services that our proposed charter school will provide to the target population are carefully designed to support the attainment of state-adopted standards as required by section 1002.33, F.S. Our educational approach, which integrates humane sciences with traditional subjects, is strategically aligned with state standards to ensure that our students meet and exceed the academic expectations while also fostering the values and skills outlined in our mission. Here's how our services support the attainment of state-adopted standards:

Curriculum Alignment: Our curriculum is intentionally aligned with state-adopted standards for each subject area. While integrating humane sciences, we ensure that the core concepts and skills required by the state standards are covered. This alignment is achieved through careful mapping of curriculum objectives and cross-referencing them with the relevant standards.

Rigorous Learning: Our approach emphasizes academic rigor by addressing the cognitive demands outlined in state standards. Through engaging activities, thoughtful assessments, and challenging projects, students are exposed to complex ideas and encouraged to apply critical thinking skills, ensuring their preparedness for standardized assessments.

Transdisciplinary Learning: We believe that real-world issues often require a multidisciplinary understanding. By incorporating humane sciences across subjects, we encourage students to make connections between different content areas. This approach not only promotes holistic understanding but also supports the development of higher-order thinking skills.

Experiential Learning and Application: Our focus on experiential learning and application is closely tied to state standards that emphasize practical skills and real-world relevance. Students apply their learning through projects, investigations, and community engagement, demonstrating mastery of both content and skills.

Individualized Support: Services such as differentiated instruction, tutoring, and academic interventions are provided to meet the diverse needs of our student population. This personalized approach ensures that every student has the opportunity to grasp and excel in the subject matter, aligning with standards for equitable access and achievement.

Assessment and Progress Monitoring: We assess student learning through a variety of methods, including formative and summative assessments. Assessments are designed to align with state-adopted standards, providing valuable data to measure progress and inform instructional decisions.

Life Skills and Wellness: Supporting students' development aligns with the state's emphasis and requirements per statute on whole-child education. Wellness services help students manage emotions, develop interpersonal skills, and maintain a positive attitude towards learning, contributing to overall academic success.
In summary, our school's services are intentionally structured to align with state-adopted standards, ensuring that students not only meet academic expectations but also develop the values, skills, and competencies outlined in our mission. The integration of humane sciences, experiential learning, and individualized support creates a comprehensive educational experience that is both academically rigorous and values-driven, preparing students for success in both their academic endeavors and their contributions to society.

Currently their scheduling is in violation of state statute 1003.455. Elementary Physical Education must be provided 150 minutes weekly. Currenly their scheduling practices have physical education alternating with music, meaning students are only receiving 40-60% of the required time.

Our school's curriculum is meticulously designed to align with Florida standards in the core academic areas while infusing the principles of humane sciences. In English Language Arts (ELA), Mathematics, Science, and Social Studies, our curriculum maps content, skills, and benchmarks align to state standards. This alignment ensures that students gain the knowledge and skills needed to succeed academically and prepare for standardized assessments. The school will adopt State approved curriculum as well as District and State Assessments upon approval of application from the latest adoption lists.

English Language Arts (ELA): Our ELA curriculum emphasizes reading comprehension, writing, and effective communication through a 90-minute uninterrupted reading block. Through literature (fiction and nonfiction), students analyze diverse perspectives, fostering empathy and cultural understanding. They practice evidence-based writing, critical analysis, and language conventions, skills that align with ELA standards. The school will also be implementing the Science of Reading in the foundational skills teaching and support.

Possible Planned Textbooks at time of Application: MyView by Savvas or Benchmark K-5 by Benchmark Education. Benchmark Intervention Kits and Phonics or Read180 for intervention. MyPerspectives (6-8) by Savvas Learning Company LLC, formerly Pearson K12 Learning LLC. Phonics for Reading (Intensive Reading 6-8) by Curriculum Associates.

Mathematics: The mathematics curriculum focuses on conceptual understanding, problem-solving, and real-world applications. Students engage in hands-on activities, group discussions, and digital resources, aligning with state mathematics standards. The curriculum builds a strong mathematical foundation while nurturing critical thinking skills. In response to legislative changes, such as House Bill 7039 (2023), the School has implemented measures to identify and support students with substantial deficiencies in mathematics. This includes systematic and explicit instruction tailored to individual student needs, progress monitoring, and collaboration with parents to develop individualized progress monitoring plans.

Planned Textbook at time of Application: Envision (K-8) by Savvas Learning Company LLC, formerly Pearson K12 Learning LLC. For Advanced Math, Savvas Envision Algebra 1. Intensive Mathematics Curriculum will be Ready Toolkit and Ready Grade Level Materials by Curriculum Associates.

Science: In science, students explore the interconnectedness of life, ecosystems, and environmental challenges. Inquiry-based learning and hands-on experiments foster scientific inquiry, aligning with state science standards. Students develop critical thinking and data analysis skills, preparing them for scientific literacy.

Planned Textbook at time of Application: Elevate/Expedition (2026) (K-8) by Savvas Learning Company LLC, formerly Pearson K12 Learning LLC.

Social Studies: Our social studies curriculum examines historical contexts, cultural diversity, and global citizenship. Students analyze primary sources, engage in discussions, and explore current events, aligning with state social studies standards. This curriculum fosters critical thinking, civic engagement, and a deep understanding of societies.

Planned Textbook at time of Application: Gallopade for Florida (Series K-5) and Cengage Learning (6-8).

Mathematics (some proposed ideas of instructional strategies):

Our mathematics program is aligned to the Florida B.E.S.T. standards and delivered in a daily block with a brief number-sense routine, a concise concept launch, small-group rotations, and a synthesis/exit ticket. A dedicated 30–45 minute "WIN" period occurs 3–5 days per week for targeted acceleration or intervention without pulling students from core instruction. Teachers use curriculum-embedded exit tickets, common unit assessments, and FAST (PM1–PM3); data are reviewed in bi-weekly PLCs to regroup students within a schoolwide MTSS framework (Tier 1 for all, Tier 2 strategic, Tier 3 intensive). ESE and ELL students access grade-level content through UDL, co-teaching, scaffolded language objectives, visuals, and accommodations per plan.

For students performing at grade level or higher, teachers use a problem-based, B.E.S.T.-aligned core with enrichment that emphasizes DOK 3–4 tasks, math discourse, error analysis, and real-world modeling (e.g., Desmos/GeoGebra). Flexible grouping, curriculum compacting, and choice projects extend learning; readiness-based acceleration in grades 6–8 provides advanced pathways (e.g., Pre-Algebra/Algebra 1), with placement adjusted as data show mastery. Opportunities such as Math Circles, investigations, and clubs/competitions further challenge students.

For students performing below grade level, Tier 2 provides small-group, standards-aligned intervention 3–5 times weekly (20–30 minutes) on prerequisite skills (number sense, operations, fractions). Tier 3 delivers explicit, systematic instruction 4–5 times weekly (30–45 minutes) following a Concrete-Representational-Abstract sequence with cumulative review. Instruction features I do–We do–You do modeling, immediate feedback, daily fluency practice, manipulatives and visual models, schema-based strategies for word problems, front-loaded vocabulary with sentence frames, and short pre-teach/re-teach cycles; adaptive practice tools are used purposefully and monitored.

Progress is monitored bi-weekly with curriculum-based measures and skill probes, with monthly fidelity checks; students enter/exit tiers based on clear criteria (e.g., two consecutive data points at/above target and common assessment performance). School goals include sustaining or moving more students to FAST Levels 4–5 and increasing Algebra 1 proficiency by grade 8 where offered. Families receive brief, plain-language updates after each FAST window and unit assessment, along with aligned home resources for both enrichment and skill reinforcement.

Primary Instructional Strategies:

Our primary instructional strategies reflect our commitment to experiential learning, inquiry-based exploration, and technology integration. These strategies are appropriate for our anticipated student population as they:

- Promote Engagement: Experiential learning, such as field trips and hands-on projects, captivates students' curiosity and makes learning relevant to their lives.
- Foster Critical Thinking: Inquiry-based learning encourages students to ask questions, investigate problems, and develop analytical skills.
- Enhance Digital Literacy: Technology integration prepares students for the digital age and enables them to access diverse learning resources.
- Cultivate Empathy: Literature discussions, group activities, and community engagement instill empathy and an understanding of diverse perspectives.

Differentiated Instruction and Multi-Tiered Support to meet the diverse needs of students:

- Differentiation: Teachers employ various instructional methods, materials, and assessments to address individual learning styles, abilities, and interests.
- Student Entry Below Grade Level: Students entering below grade level as per FAST data or other screening tools used, receive additional support through targeted interventions, small group instruction, and personalized learning plans. Parents are immediately made aware of the deficiencies and strategies being used for remediation.

MTSS: Summit Academy Charter School III will implement a robust Multi-Tiered System of Supports (MTSS) to assist students performing below grade level. The MTSS framework will provide a structured, data-driven approach to identify students in need of additional academic or behavioral interventions and ensure they receive timely, targeted support to improve their performance. The process will include the following key components:

Identification of Students Needing Support: Summit Academy Charter School III will utilize various evaluation tools to identify students who are below grade level. Initial identification will be based on results from FAST progress monitoring, classroom assessments, teacher observations, and other diagnostic tools such as iReady and STAR assessments. Additionally, the school will analyze state PM3 data to identify trends in student achievement and flag students needing immediate interventions.

Once students are identified, Summit Academy Charter School III will initiate the MTSS process by placing students in the appropriate intervention tier based on their needs. The school will ensure this process is collaborative and involves teachers, parents, and staff to create individualized intervention plans.

Tier 1: Core Instruction: Tier 1 represents the core academic instruction provided to all students. Summit Academy Charter School III will ensure that core instruction is rigorous, standards-aligned, and differentiated to meet the diverse needs of students. Teachers will incorporate evidence-based strategies to promote mastery of grade-level content and reduce the number of students needing additional interventions.

Tier 1 instruction will be monitored through classroom formative assessments, progress monitoring tools, and regular data chats between teachers and school leadership. These data chats, conducted at least once a month, will ensure that instructional practices are adjusted to address any gaps in learning before students fall significantly behind.

Tier 2: Targeted Small-Group Interventions: Students who demonstrate difficulty mastering grade-level standards despite receiving high-quality Tier 1 instruction will be moved to Tier 2. At this level, students will receive additional targeted interventions in small groups. Interventions may include strategies such as:

- Guided reading and math groups
- Focused phonics instruction for students struggling with foundational reading skills
- Use of online adaptive learning programs to address skill gaps
- Targeted practice sessions based on specific standards

The effectiveness of Tier 2 interventions will be tracked using progress monitoring tools, including biweekly assessments, classroom data, and student work samples. Progress will be reviewed during biweekly meetings of Summit Academy

Charter School III's Collaborative Problem-Solving Team (CPST), a dedicated team of teachers, instructional coaches, and administrators. The CPST will analyze data to determine whether students are making adequate progress or if they need to move to Tier 3 interventions.

Tier 3: Intensive Individualized Interventions: Students who do not show sufficient progress with Tier 2 interventions will be moved to Tier 3, where they will receive more intensive, individualized support. Tier 3 interventions may involve one-on-one instruction, pull-out sessions with specialized interventionists, and the development of individualized learning plans.

At this stage, Summit Academy Charter School III will use additional diagnostic tools to identify the root causes of learning difficulties, including assessments for specific learning disabilities, behavioral challenges, and other barriers to success. Interventions at Tier 3 will be closely monitored through weekly progress checks to ensure students are receiving the necessary support to make meaningful gains.

Evaluation Tools and Data-Driven Decision Making: Summit Academy Charter School III will use a variety of tools to evaluate the effectiveness of interventions across all tiers, including:

- FAST Progress Monitoring Assessments to track ELA and Math proficiency
- iReady Diagnostic Assessments to identify specific learning gaps
- STAR Assessments to monitor reading and math growth
- Classroom Assessments and Formative Tools to provide real-time feedback on student progress

Data from these tools will be reviewed during data chats with teachers and leadership to adjust instructional practices and interventions as needed. The CPST will meet biweekly to review student progress, adjust intervention plans, and make data-driven decisions about moving students between tiers.

Collaborative Problem-Solving Team (CPST): The CPST will be a cornerstone of Summit Academy Charter School III's MTSS process. This team will meet every two weeks to:

- Review progress monitoring data
- Analyze the effectiveness of current interventions
- Identify students needing additional support
- Develop action plans to address learning gaps
- Ensure interventions are implemented with fidelity

The CPST will include classroom teachers, intervention specialists, instructional coaches, school counselors, and administrators. The team will collaborate to ensure that every student receives the necessary support to succeed academically.

Summit Academy Charter School III's use of the MTSS system ensures that no student falls through the cracks. By systematically identifying students below grade level, providing targeted interventions, and utilizing progress monitoring tools, the school will ensure that all students receive the support they need to achieve academic success. The biweekly CPST meetings and regular data chats will foster a collaborative and data-driven culture focused on continuous improvement and positive student outcomes.

The development of our curriculum is grounded in a strong research base and foundation materials that support our mission to integrate Humane Sciences principles into all aspects of education. The research base encompasses various fields, including education, ethics, psychology, and Humane Sciences. The curriculum development process involves selecting and adapting resources that align with our mission and vision. Here's how we've used or will use the research base and foundation materials:

Ethical Education Research: We draw on research in ethical education to inform the integration of ethical decision-making, empathy, and character development into our curriculum. Studies on effective methods for nurturing ethical reasoning and empathy guide our approach to teaching these essential skills.

Humane Sciences Literature: We refer to literature in Humane Sciences to identify core principles and concepts that underpin our curriculum. Research on the interconnectedness of life, animal welfare, environmental sustainability, and human well-being informs our curriculum's content.

Interdisciplinary Research: The curriculum integrates findings from interdisciplinary research that highlights connections between Humane Sciences and various academic disciplines. We adapt strategies from interdisciplinary education research to create learning experiences that bridge subjects and foster critical thinking.

Curriculum Design Frameworks: We use curriculum design frameworks rooted in educational research to ensure coherence, alignment, and student-centered learning experiences. Research-based principles for curriculum design, such as backward design and constructivist approaches, guide the creation of engaging lessons.

Character Education Resources: We incorporate character education resources that are grounded in research on positive youth development, empathy-building, and fostering life skills and wellness. These resources help us infuse our curriculum with character education components that align with our mission.

Pedagogical Approaches: The curriculum development process considers research-based pedagogical approaches that promote active learning, inquiry-based learning, and collaborative learning. Educational research on these approaches guides the design of instructional strategies that engage and empower students.

Assessment Strategies: Informed by research on formative and summative assessment, aiming to provide meaningful feedback and track student progress effectively.

Professional Development Resources: Educators are provided with professional development resources rooted in research to enhance their understanding of Humane Sciences, ethics, and effective instructional strategies.
In summary, our curriculum development is informed by a rich research base spanning various fields. This research ensures that our curriculum aligns with best practices in education, ethical education, Humane Sciences, and interdisciplinary learning. E. Describe proposed curriculum areas to be included other than the core academic areas.

Enter description here

In addition to the core academic areas, our proposed curriculum encompasses a range of subject areas that align with our mission to cultivate Humane Sciences principles, ethical decision-making, and holistic student development. These curriculum areas are designed to provide students with a well-rounded education that fosters empathy, critical thinking, and a deep understanding of the interconnectedness of life. Here are the proposed curriculum areas to be included:

Humane Sciences Studies: This dedicated curriculum area focuses on exploring the principles and concepts of Humane Sciences, including ethical considerations, animal welfare, environmental sustainability, and social justice.

Character Education: A comprehensive character education curriculum is integrated into all grade levels to nurture qualities such as empathy, compassion, integrity, and responsible citizenship.

Ethics and Values: This curriculum area delves into ethical theories, values, and decision-making processes. Students engage in discussions, case studies, and reflective activities to develop their ethical reasoning skills.

Global Citizenship: Students learn about global issues, cultures, and social justice topics to foster an understanding of their role as responsible global citizens.

Service Learning: Service learning is a vital component of our curriculum, allowing students to engage in community service projects that apply Humane Sciences principles in real-world contexts.

Environmental Studies: This curriculum area explores environmental science, sustainability, and the impact of human activities on the planet. Students develop an appreciation for environmental stewardship.

Life Skills and Wellness: A comprehensive curriculum helps students develop emotional intelligence, interpersonal skills, and strategies for managing stress and challenges.

Arts and Expression: The arts are integrated to encourage creativity, self-expression, and a deeper understanding of emotions and diverse perspectives.

Interdisciplinary Projects: Regular interdisciplinary projects encourage students to apply knowledge and skills from various subjects to address real-world challenges.

Physical Education/Health: The Physical Education (PE) courses impart knowledge, offer group experiences, teach the value of good sportsmanship as well as the value of effort and achievement, and build lasting recreational interests. The PE program seeks to develop an appreciation for sports from the standpoint of a spectator, a reader of sports, as well as a participant. The health and safety competencies will focus on educating students to develop habits of health that contribute to the continued good functioning of the body. The P.E. program will consist of a standards-based, balanced, sequential and progressive program involving moderate to vigorous physical activity during the required 150 minutes per week for elementary students and the equivalent of one class period per day of physical education for one semester of each year that is required for students enrolled in grades 6 through 8, (as per F.S. 1003.455). Adaptive PE will be available for any students who may require it.

Music: The music curriculum, aligned with the Florida Standards (FS), includes both vocal and instrumental music. Teachers will introduce students to both skills and knowledge of various genres. Skills and techniques will be developed throughout all grade levels and will focus on music instruction in skills and techniques involved in singing and playing instruments, practice in musical interpretation, and training in creative expression.

Art –The primary goal in art education is to provide all students with an opportunity to develop and explore their creative potential. The art curriculum includes planning, developing, and implementing the fine arts as outlined in the FS.

Humane Sciences in Literature: Students explore literature that highlights Humane Sciences themes, fostering critical analysis and empathy.

Technology and Ethics: This curriculum area addresses the ethical considerations related to technology use, privacy, and digital citizenship.

Leadership and Advocacy: Students learn about effective leadership, advocacy, and communication skills to make positive changes in their communities.

Career and Education Planning Course- Section 1003.4156, Florida Statutes, requires students to complete a Career and Education Planning course to be taken in sixth, seventh, or eighth grade. The school will use one of the approved courses to meet this requirement. This course will be customizable, internet-based, include research-based assessments, and be easy to use per F.S. 1003.4156 (1) (e). The students will complete a personalized academic and career plan.

World Languages: The school recognizes that there is a growing international interdependence among nations, which demands that the United States develop global citizens with a sound understanding of international and cross-cultural issues and the ability to communicate in more than one language.

Incorporating these diverse curriculum areas enriches students' education by providing a comprehensive understanding of ethical decision-making, empathy, environmental sustainability, social justice, and more. These areas align with our mission to cultivate a holistic educational experience that prepares students to become compassionate and responsible members of society.

F. Discuss the system and structures the school will implement for students at risk of not meeting academic requirements or of dropping out.

Enter content here

The school provides a supportive and inclusive learning environment for all students, including those at risk of not meeting academic requirements or dropping out. Our comprehensive system and structures aim to identify, support, and empower these students to succeed academically, socially, and emotionally. Here's how we will implement a robust support system:

Early Identification: Our teachers and staff will closely monitor students' academic performance, behavior, and attendance to identify those who may be at risk. Data analysis and regular progress assessments will help us proactively identify students who need additional support.

Intervention Teams: We will establish intervention teams comprising teachers, counselors, administrators, and other specialists to collaborate on strategies for at-risk students.

Individualized Support Plans: For students at risk, we will develop individualized support plans that outline specific goals, strategies, and interventions tailored to their needs.

Academic Interventions: Targeted interventions may include additional tutoring, small-group instruction, differentiated assignments, and access to academic support resources.

Wellness Support: Counseling services, peer mentoring, and life skills and wellness programs provide students with tools to manage stress, build resilience, and navigate challenges.

Parent and Guardian Engagement: Regular communication with parents and guardians will foster collaboration and provide a support network to help students succeed.

Attendance and Engagement Initiatives: Initiatives to improve attendance and student engagement may include rewards programs, interactive lessons, and involvement in extracurricular activities.

Progress Monitoring: Continuous monitoring of students' progress and the effectiveness of interventions will guide adjustments and ensure their success.

Data-Driven Approach: Our support system will rely on data to identify trends, effectiveness of interventions, and areas for improvement.

Collaboration with Families and Community Partners: Collaboration with families, community organizations, and agencies will provide a comprehensive support network for at-risk students.

In summary, our school's system and structures for students at risk of not meeting academic requirements or dropping out are rooted in early identification, individualized support, targeted interventions, and collaboration among educators, families, and the community. By creating a supportive and responsive environment, we aim to empower all students to overcome challenges and achieve their full potential.

Evaluation Criteria: Curriculum and Instructional Design

Reviewers will look for a curriculum and instructional program design, whether fully developed or not, that:

Performance Goals

A. Describe the expected incoming baseline of student academic achievement of students who will enroll in the school. Based upon the expected incoming baseline performance, describe the school's goals for academic growth and improvement that students are expected to show each year and the rationale for those goals. Describe how the school's academic goals and objectives for improving student learning will be revised if the actual incoming baseline is substantially different than the expected baseline. Describe how success will be evaluated, and the desired overall results to be attained through instruction.

Enter description here

The expected incoming baseline of student academic achievement for Summit Academy Charter School III reflects the most recent PM3 data from Broward County, which we understand will not serve as a benchmark for the 2026-2027 school year. However, according to this data, 63.7% of students are proficient in English Language Arts (ELA), with 14.8% scoring a Level 1 and considered non-passing. In Math, 64.9% are proficient, with 15.2% at Level 1. Science proficiency stands at 63.5%, with 14.4% scoring a Level 1, while Civics has the highest proficiency rate at 77.5%, with 9.5% at Level 1. For specific subgroups, English Language Learners (ELL) have a proficiency rate of 48.9% in ELA and 58.0% in Math, while Exceptional Student Education (ESE) students achieve proficiency rates of 36.6% in ELA and 42.4% in Math.

Summit Academy Charter School III's academic growth and improvement goals are ambitious yet achievable, reflecting the school's commitment to excellence. The academy aims to surpass the district averages by a minimum of 5% in both ELA and Math, 3% in Science, and 10% in Civics.

For ELL students, the goal is to increase ELA proficiency by 10% and Math proficiency by 7%. Similarly, the school seeks to improve ESE proficiency rates by 10% in both subjects. These goals are rooted in the belief that targeted instructional strategies, data-driven interventions, and high expectations can significantly boost student performance.

For subsequent years in the charter, the goal is to continue the percentage gains above the district averages identified above. Although percentages are not required to be identified at this time for subsequent years, the charter school expects to continue to make adequate annual progress.

The rationale for these goals lies in Summit Academy Charter School III's mission to foster academic excellence and close achievement gaps. The school will employ evidence-based practices, including differentiated instruction, intensive progress monitoring, and individualized support for ELL and ESE students. Additionally, Summit Academy Charter School III will provide professional development for teachers to ensure they are equipped with effective strategies for meeting the diverse needs of all learners. By setting high but realistic goals, the school aims to prepare its students for long-term academic success and to exceed state and district expectations.

Revising Goals for Different Baseline: If the actual incoming baseline significantly differs from the expected baseline, we will undertake a thorough analysis to understand the factors contributing to the difference. In collaboration with our instructional leadership team, teachers, and stakeholders, we will adjust our academic goals and objectives accordingly.

Flexibility is key to ensuring that our goals remain realistic and attainable while addressing the specific needs of our students.
Evaluation of Success: The success of our academic goals will be evaluated through a comprehensive assessment process that includes both formative and summative measures. We will use a combination of classroom assessments, standardized tests, progress monitoring, and other data sources to track student performance and growth.
Desired Overall Results: Through instruction, our desired overall results are:

- Demonstrable Growth: All students, regardless of their starting point, should show consistent growth in their academic abilities each year.
- Equitable Outcomes: We aim to eliminate achievement gaps and provide equitable opportunities for all students to excel.
- Mastery of Standards: Students should demonstrate mastery of state standards and essential skills in their respective grade levels.
- Critical Thinking and Problem Solving: Our instruction will foster critical thinking, problem-solving, and application of knowledge.
- Love for Learning: We aspire to instill a love for learning and a sense of curiosity that continues beyond the classroom.

In summary, our school's academic goals are closely tied to the expected incoming baseline of student achievement. Our commitment to continuous improvement, data-driven decision-making, and flexible goal setting will ensure that we provide effective instruction and support to every student, enabling them to achieve their academic potential and become lifelong learners.

In summary, our mission-specific educational goals encompass a holistic approach to education, focusing on Humane Sciences principles, ethical decision-making, well-being, community engagement, cross-disciplinary understanding, student agency, and collaboration. The measures we plan to use include a combination of assessments, observations, projects, and reflective activities that align with our mission and vision, providing a comprehensive understanding of students' growth and development beyond academic achievements.

Placement and Progression

C. Describe the school's student grade level and course placement procedures.

Enter content here

Our school's student grade level and course placement procedures are designed to ensure that students are placed in the appropriate grade level and courses that align with their academic abilities, needs, and prior educational experiences. These procedures aim to provide a supportive and engaging learning environment for each student. Here's how our placement procedures work:

Enrollment Information Gathering: During the enrollment process, parents and guardians provide information about the student's prior education, transcripts, assessment results, and any records.

Review of Records: Our administrative team reviews the students' academic records, transcripts, and any available standardized test scores to assess their academic background and achievements.

Assessment: Depending on the grade level and courses, students may take placement assessments in subjects like mathematics and language arts to determine their current academic levels.

Individualized Placement: Placement decisions are made based on a combination of factors, including prior academic performance, assessment results, and teacher recommendations.

IEP and 504 Plan Consideration: For students with Individualized Education Plans (IEPs) or 504 plans, their specialized accommodations and goals are considered when determining appropriate grade level and course placements.

Differentiation and Advanced Placement: Gifted and talented students are placed in advanced courses and enrichment programs to challenge and nurture their abilities.

Parent Input: We value parental input and consider any insights parents provide about their child's learning style, strengths, and needs.

Communication: Placement decisions are communicated to parents and students, with an opportunity for discussion and clarification if needed.

Continuous Monitoring: Students' progress is closely monitored throughout the school year. Adjustments may be made based on ongoing assessments and feedback from teachers.

Transition Support: Students transitioning from different educational settings, such as new students joining our school, will receive additional support to ensure smooth adjustment.

Collaboration with Teachers: Teachers play a vital role in assessing student readiness and abilities. Regular communication between teachers and administrators informs placement decisions.

In summary, our school's student grade level and course placement procedures involve a comprehensive approach that considers academic records, assessment results, teacher recommendations, individualized needs, and parent input. By placing students in appropriate courses and grade levels, we aim to create a supportive and challenging learning environment that fosters academic growth and personal development.

F. Discuss how and when promotion and graduation criteria will be communicated to parents and students.

Enter content here

Promotion and graduation criteria will be communicated to parents and students through multiple channels to ensure clarity and understanding. At the beginning of the academic year, the criteria will be introduced during orientation sessions, where parents and students can ask questions and discuss expectations. A detailed outline of these criteria will be included in the student handbook, which is distributed to families and available online for easy access throughout the year.

Teachers will review the promotion and graduation requirements with students during classroom discussions, ensuring students understand the benchmarks for academic progress. Parents will also be informed during parent-teacher conferences, where individual student progress can be discussed in relation to promotion or graduation criteria.

The criteria will be highlighted in quarterly progress reports and report cards, giving families a clear indication of how their child is performing relative to the school's expectations. Information will also be shared via school newsletters, email notifications, and the school's website, ensuring that parents and students are kept up to date on any changes or reminders regarding these requirements.

For students at risk of not meeting the criteria, individualized meetings with parents, students, and school counselors will be arranged to develop action plans and provide additional support. Furthermore, workshops or informational sessions may be held to guide families through the promotion and graduation process, ensuring a comprehensive understanding of academic expectations.

Assessment and Evaluation

G. In addition to all mandatory assessments, identify the primary interim assessments the school will use to assess student learning needs and progress throughout the year (including baseline assessments) including a proposed assessment schedule as Attachment F. Provide the rationale for selecting these assessments, including an explanation of how these assessments align with the school's curriculum, performance goals, and state standards.

Enter content here

In addition to all mandatory state assessments, the school will implement a comprehensive set of interim assessments to monitor student learning needs and progress throughout the year. These assessments include baseline, formative, and summative evaluations, which will guide instructional adjustments and interventions to meet each student's needs.
Curriculum Growth Assessments:

- Purpose: To measure students' academic progress in reading, math, and language arts from kindergarten through 8th grade. These adaptive tests provide immediate data on individual student performance and growth.
- Rationale: All curriculum is aligned with state standards and offers personalized insights into student achievement, allowing teachers to tailor instruction. It also tracks student growth over time and provides predictions for performance on state assessments.
- Schedule: Administered three times per year—Fall (baseline), Winter (mid-year progress check), and Spring (end-of-year assessment).

i-Ready Diagnostic:

- Purpose: To assess students in reading and mathematics, providing insight into specific skill gaps and instructional needs.
- Rationale: i-Ready is closely aligned with Florida State Standards and integrates directly with classroom instruction, allowing for targeted interventions based on detailed data. It offers personalized learning paths for students to address identified gaps.
- Schedule: Administered three times a year—beginning of the year (BOY), mid-year (MOY), and end of year (EOY).

FAST Progress Monitoring (F.A.S.T.)/ STAR:

- Purpose: To monitor student progress in foundational skills, reading, and mathematics in grades K-8, using the Florida Assessment of Student Thinking (FAST) system and the STAR Assessments.
- Rationale: FAST/STAR align with Florida state standards and provides detailed insights into early literacy and math skills. The assessments track student progress throughout the year to ensure students are on track to meet state benchmarks.
- Schedule: Administered three times annually, in Fall, Winter, and Spring.

Benchmark Assessments:

- Purpose: To evaluate student understanding of key standards in core subject areas.
- Rationale: These district-level assessments provide a uniform measure of progress toward mastery of grade-level standards and prepare students for state-mandated assessments. They align with the school's curriculum and performance goals.
- Schedule: Administered at the end of each academic quarter to monitor progress and readiness for state assessments.

Teacher-Developed Formative Assessments:

- Purpose: To provide frequent, classroom-level data on student progress toward mastery of specific skills and standards.
- Rationale: These assessments allow teachers to adjust instruction in real time based on student performance and ensure that the curriculum is being effectively implemented.
- Schedule: Ongoing, administered weekly or bi-weekly, based on instructional pacing and unit goals.

Assessment Schedule: A detailed proposed assessment schedule is provided as Attachment F, which will outline the timing of each assessment throughout the school year, ensuring adequate time for instruction, review, and preparation.
Rationale for Selecting These Assessments: These assessments were selected because they align with the school's curriculum, performance goals, and state standards. They provide a holistic view of student progress, enabling targeted interventions and personalized learning plans. Additionally, they offer actionable data that can be used to track growth, meet the diverse learning needs of students, and prepare them for success on mandatory state assessments.
The combination of baseline, formative, and summative assessments will ensure that the school is responsive to student needs and can continuously adjust instruction to maximize student achievement. Please see Attachment F.

This will enable them to make informed decisions, adapt instruction, and drive continuous improvement in student learning outcomes.

J. Describe the corrective actions the school would take if it falls short of student academic achievement expectations or goals at the school-wide, classroom, sub-group, or individual student level. Explain what would trigger such corrective actions and who would be responsible for implementing it.

Enter content here

Our commitment to student academic achievement is unwavering, and we have established a comprehensive system of corrective actions to address any shortfalls in meeting school-wide, classroom, sub-group, or individual student academic achievement expectations or goals. These actions are designed to identify challenges early, provide targeted interventions, and continuously improve our educational practices. Here's an overview of the corrective actions we would take:

Early Identification of Shortfalls: Regular data analysis will be conducted to identify any deviations from academic achievement expectations. These analyses will be carried out at the school-wide, classroom, sub-group, and individual student levels.

Data Review and Root Cause Analysis: Upon identifying a shortfall, a team of instructional leaders, administrators, and teachers will conduct a detailed root cause analysis to understand the underlying factors contributing to the shortfall.

Targeted Interventions: Based on the root cause analysis, targeted interventions will be developed and implemented to address the specific challenges hindering academic achievement. These interventions may include additional tutoring, differentiated instruction, and more.

Professional Development: Teachers may receive additional professional development to enhance their instructional strategies, ensuring alignment with best practices and students' needs.

Individualized Support Plans: For students experiencing academic challenges, individualized support plans will be developed to outline strategies for improvement, involving teachers, counselors, and parents or guardians.

Parent Communication: Parents or guardians will be informed of their child's academic challenges and involved in the development and monitoring of intervention strategies.

Data-Driven Progress Monitoring: Interventions will be closely monitored through ongoing data analysis to assess their effectiveness. If an intervention is not producing the desired results, adjustments will be made.

Collaboration with Stakeholders: The entire school community, including teachers, parents, administrators, and students, will collaborate to address shortfalls in academic achievement.

Individualized Academic Plans: For students requiring intensive support, personalized academic plans will be created with specific goals, strategies, and milestones.

Frequent Check-Ins: Regular check-ins and progress reviews will be scheduled to evaluate the effectiveness of corrective actions and make informed decisions for further adjustments.

Continuous Improvement Culture: A culture of continuous improvement will be fostered, emphasizing a proactive approach to addressing academic challenges.
Transparency and Accountability: School leadership will take responsibility for the implementation of corrective actions, ensuring transparency and accountability in the process.
Advisory Board Involvement: If needed, the school's advisory board will provide insights and guidance on corrective actions, leveraging their expertise and perspectives.
Evaluation and Documentation: The outcomes of corrective actions, their effectiveness, and any modifications made will be thoroughly documented for future reference.
By promptly identifying academic achievement shortfalls, implementing targeted interventions, involving stakeholders, and maintaining a culture of continuous improvement, we aim to ensure that every student's academic needs are met.

A. Provide the school's projected population of students with disabilities and describe how the projection was made.

Enter content here

Our projected population of students with disabilities is based on careful analysis of historical data, local demographics, and prevailing trends. We are committed to providing an inclusive and supportive educational environment that meets the needs of students with disabilities. While specific numbers may vary, we anticipate the following projected population based on our research and analysis:

Projected Population of Students with Disabilities: Approximately 16.6% of the total student population.

Methodology for Projection:

Historical Data: We have reviewed data from local schools and the FLDOE to understand the percentage of students with disabilities in the region. This historical context helps inform our projection.

Local Demographics: We have considered the local demographic trends, birth rates, and population growth in the catchment area. This analysis was conducted by CBRE, which aids in estimating the potential number of students with disabilities.

Community Outreach: Discussions with parents, caregivers, and community organizations have provided additional insight into the potential number of students with disabilities who may enroll in our school. Three focus groups were conducted in March, May and July of 2025.

Comparable School Data: We have examined data from comparable schools or charter organizations using the FLDOE Broward County Report Card to understand their enrollment trends among students with disabilities.

Legal Requirements: We have ensured that our projected population aligns with legal requirements for providing special education services as mandated by state and federal laws.

Individualized Education Plans (IEPs): We anticipate students with existing IEPs who may be seeking a school environment that meets their needs.

It's important to note that our projection is an estimate based on available information, and the actual population of students with disabilities may vary. Our commitment to providing a full continuum of services and to providing the least restrictive environment while providing inclusive education remains unwavering, and we are prepared to provide appropriate support and services to all students with disabilities who enroll in our school.

B. Describe how the school will ensure that students with disabilities will have an equal opportunity of being selected for enrollment in the charter school.

Enter description here

Our school provides equal opportunities for all students, including those with disabilities, to enroll and thrive in our charter school. We are committed to upholding the principles of inclusivity, accessibility, and equitable treatment. Here's how we will ensure that students with disabilities have an equal opportunity of being selected for enrollment:

Non-Discrimination Policy: Our enrollment policies strictly adhere to federal and state laws that prohibit discrimination based on disability. We do not discriminate against any student with disabilities during the enrollment process.

Open and Transparent Enrollment Process: Our enrollment process is open and transparent, ensuring that information about our school, application procedures, and deadlines is readily available to all prospective families.

Inclusive Application Process: We make accommodations in the application process to ensure that students with disabilities, including mental impairments, can apply without facing barriers. This may include providing alternative formats for application materials or extending application deadlines upon request.

No Disadvantage Due to Disability: Students with disabilities are evaluated based on their qualifications and not their disabilities. We do not consider disabilities as a factor in determining enrollment. The sample student enrollment application is included as Attachment S.

Random Selection and Lottery: In cases where demand exceeds available space, our school uses a random selection or lottery process to ensure fairness. All eligible students, including those with disabilities, have an equal opportunity to be selected.

Individualized Education Plans (IEPs): We work closely with families and educational professionals to ensure that students with IEPs receive appropriate accommodations and services, as required by law. Our commitment to providing a supportive learning environment is extended to all students with disabilities.

Reasonable Accommodations: Our school will make reasonable accommodations to ensure that students with disabilities can fully participate in all aspects of the educational experience, including access to curriculum, extracurricular activities, and school facilities.

Accessibility Considerations: Our physical facilities and digital resources will be designed to be accessible to students with various disabilities. This includes features such as ramps, elevators, assistive technology, and accessible content.

Ongoing Communication: We maintain open lines of communication with families of students with disabilities to understand their needs, provide updates on enrollment procedures, and answer any questions they may have.

Collaboration with Advocacy Groups: We collaborate with local advocacy groups and organizations that support individuals with disabilities to ensure that our enrollment processes align with best practices and legal requirements.

In summary, our commitment to inclusiveness and equal opportunity ensures that students with disabilities are afforded the same consideration and access to enrollment as any other student. We will continuously strive to create a welcoming and supportive environment that promotes the success and well-being of all students, regardless of their abilities.

C. Describe how the school will work with the sponsor and through the Individual Education Plan (IEP) process when necessary to ensure students with disabilities receive a free appropriate education (FAPE) in the least restrictive environment (LRE).

Enter description here

Our school is dedicated to collaborating with the sponsor, families, and educational professionals to ensure that students with disabilities receive Free Appropriate Public Education (FAPE) in the least restrictive environment (LRE) as mandated by federal and state laws. We recognize the importance of individualized support and tailored education for students with disabilities. Here's how we will work through the IEP process to achieve these goals:

Collaborative Approach: We maintain a collaborative relationship with the sponsor to ensure that our school's policies and practices align with the sponsor's guidelines and expectations for serving students with disabilities.

Identifying Students in Need of Support: We actively identify students who may require special education services through careful assessment, observation, input from families, and previous educational records. If necessary, we will collaborate with the sponsor and families to initiate the IEP process.

Individualized Education Plan (IEP) Development: For students identified as needing special education services, we will convene a team, including parents, educators, and relevant professionals, to develop an IEP. The IEP will outline specific goals, accommodations, modifications, and services tailored to the students' needs and strengths. This same team will be responsible for immediate collaboration with all stakeholders when a new student enrolls with an existing IEP.

Least Restrictive Environment (LRE): We are committed to providing an educational environment that is as inclusive and integrated as possible. We ensure that students with disabilities are placed in the LRE where they can interact with non-disabled peers to the maximum extent appropriate while receiving necessary supports.

Ongoing Monitoring and Support: Our educators, special education professionals, and IEP teams will continuously monitor the progress of students with disabilities and adjust their educational plans as needed to meet their evolving needs.

Professional Development: Our educators will receive ongoing professional development in special education practices, IEP development, and strategies for supporting students in the LRE.

Regular Communication: We maintain open lines of communication with families to ensure that their input is valued in the development and implementation of IEPs. Regular meetings will be scheduled to discuss progress, adjustments, and concerns.

Sufficient Resources and Accommodations: We provide the necessary resources, assistive technology, and accommodations outlined in IEPs to support students with disabilities in their academic pursuits and overall growth.

Advocate for Students' Rights: We uphold the rights of students with disabilities and their families, ensuring that they receive the appropriate services, accommodations, and supports they are entitled to under the law.

Annual Review and Revision: Each student's IEP will be reviewed annually, and if necessary, revised to reflect changes in goals, progress, and needs.

In summary, our school is committed to working collaboratively with the sponsor, families, and professionals to ensure that students with disabilities receive a FAPE in the least restrictive environment. Through a tailored IEP process, ongoing support, and a commitment to inclusivity, we aim to create an educational environment where all students can thrive academically and socially. Although the district does not attend annual IEPs, nor does the district sign as the LEA on the IEP, a district representative will attend and participate in staffing to assist the team in determining eligibility, waiver meetings, and change of placement meetings.

D. Describe the methods the school will use to identify students with disabilities that have not yet been identified

Enter description here

Our school is dedicated to identifying and providing support for students with disabilities who may not yet have been identified. Early intervention and timely identification are crucial to ensuring that these students receive the appropriate resources and accommodations to succeed academically and socially. Here are the methods we will use to identify such students:

Observation and Data Analysis: Teachers, counselors, and other school staff will be trained to observe students' behavior, academic performance, and social interactions. Regular data analysis will help identify students who may be struggling academically or behaviorally.

Universal Screening: We will implement universal screening measures to assess all students' academic and behavioral progress. These screenings can help us identify students who may need additional support or evaluation.

Response to Intervention (RTI): Our school will implement an RTI framework that provides a tiered approach to addressing students' academic and behavioral needs. Through RTI, we can identify students who do not respond to standard interventions and may require targeted support.

Parent and Teacher Input: We value the insights of parents and teachers who interact with students on a daily basis. We will encourage open communication and collaboration to identify students who may need additional assistance.

Classroom and Behavioral Assessments: We will use various assessment tools to evaluate students' academic performance and behavior in the classroom. This can help us identify students who may be struggling and require further evaluation.

Individualized Observations: Special education professionals will conduct individualized observations of students who are suspected of having disabilities. These observations can provide valuable insights into their learning and behavioral patterns.

Review of Records: We will review students' academic records, previous assessments, and any relevant medical or psychological reports to identify potential disabilities that may not have been previously recognized.

Collaboration with Outside Agencies: We will collaborate with external agencies, healthcare professionals, and specialists who may have insights into students' needs and disabilities.

Early Childhood Screening: For students entering our school at an early age, we will implement early childhood screening to identify developmental delays and potential disabilities.

Professional Development: Our staff will receive ongoing professional development on recognizing signs of potential disabilities, ensuring they are equipped to identify students in need.

In summary, our school is committed to a proactive approach to identifying students with disabilities who may not have been previously identified. By using a combination of observation, data analysis, screenings, collaboration, and assessment, we aim to provide early intervention and support to ensure that all students have the opportunity to reach their full potential.

E. Describe the programs, strategies, and supports the school will provide, including supplemental supports and services and modifications and accommodations to ensure the academic success of students with disabilities whose education needs can be met in a regular classroom environment with at least 80% of instruction occurring in a class with non-disabled peers.

By embracing inclusive practices, individualized support, and a commitment to diversity, we aim to create an environment where all students thrive academically and socially.

F. Describe how the school will work with the sponsor and through the IEP process to determine whether a student with a disability whose education needs require a regular classroom and resource room combination (between 40-80% of instruction occurring with non-disabled peers) can be provided FAPE by the school.

Enter description here

Our school is committed to working collaboratively with the sponsor and through the Individualized Education Plan (IEP) process to determine whether a student with a disability whose education needs require a regular classroom and resource room combination (between 40-80% of instruction occurring with non-disabled peers) can receive a Free Appropriate Public Education (FAPE). We recognize the importance of individualized support and tailored education to meet the unique needs of each student. Here's how we will ensure the provision of FAPE:

Collaborative Decision-Making: Although the district does not attend annual IEPs, nor does the district sign as the LEA on the IEP, a district representative will attend and participate in staffing to assist the team in determining eligibility, waiver meetings, and change of placement meetings. We will collaborate closely with the sponsor, families, and IEP teams to make informed decisions regarding the placement and services needed for students with disabilities.

Evaluation and Assessment: Through thorough evaluation and assessments, we will determine the student's strengths, challenges, and specific needs. This process will guide the development of the student's IEP.

Individualized Education Plan (IEP) Development: The IEP will outline the student's goals, accommodations, modifications, and services needed to ensure their academic success and overall growth. This plan will be developed collaboratively with input from parents, educators, and specialists.

Placement Considerations: We will consider the appropriate balance between regular classroom instruction and resource room support to meet the student's educational needs. Our goal is to provide the least restrictive environment while ensuring access to the necessary services.

Ongoing Monitoring and Progress Assessment: We will closely monitor the student's progress and regularly assess the effectiveness of the support and accommodations outlined in the IEP. Adjustments will be made as needed to ensure the student's success.

Communication and Transparency: We will maintain open lines of communication with parents, keeping them informed of the student's progress, adjustments to the IEP, and changes in services.

Collaboration with Resource Room Staff: Resource room staff and general education teachers will collaborate to ensure a cohesive approach to instruction and support. Regular discussions and sharing of strategies will help provide a seamless experience for the student.

Parental Input and Decision-Making: Parents' input and preferences will be valued in the decision-making process regarding the student's placement and services. Decisions will be made collectively with their involvement.

Regular IEP Meetings: IEP meetings will be scheduled at least annually to review the student's progress, discuss adjustments to the IEP, and determine if the placement is still appropriate.

Professional Development: Our educators will receive ongoing professional development to enhance their skills in providing support and accommodations to students with disabilities.

In summary, our school is committed to a collaborative and student-centered approach when determining the appropriate balance between regular classroom and resource room instruction for students with disabilities. By working together with the sponsor, families, and IEP teams, we aim to provide a FAPE that ensures academic success, growth, and a positive learning experience for every student.

G. Describe how the school will work with the sponsor and through the IEP process to determine whether a student with a disability whose education needs require a separate classroom (less than 40% of instruction occurring with non-disabled peers) can be provided FAPE by the school.

Enter description here

Our school is committed to working collaboratively with the sponsor and through the Individualized Education Plan (IEP) process to determine whether a student with a disability whose education needs require a separate classroom (less than 40% of instruction occurring with non-disabled peers) can receive a Free Appropriate Public Education (FAPE). We recognize that each student's needs are unique, and our goal is to provide the necessary support and resources for their academic success and overall development. Here's how we will ensure the provision of FAPE:

Collaborative Decision-Making: We will collaborate closely with the sponsor, families, and IEP teams to make informed decisions regarding the most appropriate placement and services for students with disabilities.

Comprehensive Evaluation and Assessment: Through thorough evaluation and assessments, we will gain a deep understanding of the student's strengths, challenges, and specific needs. This information will guide the development of a tailored IEP.

Individualized Education Plan (IEP) Development: The IEP will outline the student's goals, accommodations, modifications, and services needed to ensure their academic success, growth, and overall well-being. This plan will be developed collaboratively with input from parents, educators, and specialists.

Consideration of Least Restrictive Environment (LRE): While some students may require a separate classroom, we will always consider opportunities to include them in general education settings to the extent possible, even if at a minimal level.

Intensive Support and Differentiation: For students requiring alternate classroom setting, we will provide intensive support, individualized instruction, and differentiation to meet their unique learning needs. Highly qualified educators and specialists will work collaboratively to deliver appropriate instruction.

Regular Progress Monitoring: We will consistently monitor the student's progress and assess the effectiveness of the support and accommodation outlined in the IEP. Regular adjustments will be made as needed.

Parental Involvement and Communication: Parents will be active in the decision-making process and will be kept informed of their child's progress, adjustments to the IEP, and changes in services.

Transition Planning: Transition planning will be a critical component of the IEP process for students in separate classrooms. We will collaborate with families and students to create a plan that ensures a smooth transition between educational settings when appropriate.

Regular IEP Meetings: IEP meetings will be scheduled at least annually to review the student's progress, discuss adjustments to the IEP, and determine if the placement meets the student's needs.

Professional Development: Our educators and specialists will receive ongoing professional development to enhance their skills in providing support and accommodations to students with disabilities in separate classroom settings.

In summary, our school is committed to providing a collaborative, student-centered approach when determining the appropriate educational placement for students with disabilities requiring a separate classroom. By working closely with the sponsor, families, and IEP teams, we aim to provide a FAPE that promotes academic success, growth, and a positive learning experience for each student.

H. Describe the plans for monitoring and evaluating the progress and success of students with disabilities to ensure the attainment of each student's goals as set forth in the IEP or 504 plan, including plans for promoting graduation for students with disabilities (high schools only).

Enter description here

Our school is dedicated to the continuous monitoring and evaluation of the progress and success of students with disabilities to ensure the attainment of each student's goals as set forth in their Individualized Education Plan (IEP) or 504 plan. We understand the importance of tracking progress, making data-informed decisions, and making necessary adjustments to support each student's growth. Here's how we will ensure effective monitoring and evaluation:

Data Collection and Progress Tracking: Our educators and specialists will consistently collect data on students' academic performance, behavioral development, and growth. Regular assessments will be conducted to measure students' progress against their IEP goals and objectives.

Individualized Support Plans: For students with IEPs, individualized support plans will be developed to outline specific strategies, accommodations, and services to help them meet their goals. These support plans will be monitored regularly to ensure their effectiveness and relevance.

Goal Review and Adjustments: IEP teams will at least convene annually to review the progress of students with disabilities and discuss the attainment of their goals. Adjustments will be made to the IEPs, if necessary, based on the student's progress and changing needs.

Ongoing Communication: Regular communication will be maintained with parents and caregivers to keep them informed about their child's progress and any adjustments made to their IEP. Parent-teacher conferences, progress reports, and open lines of communication will ensure that families are engaged partners in their child's education.

Data-Informed Decision-Making: Data collected through assessments and observations will be analyzed to inform decisions about instructional strategies, interventions, and supports. This data-driven approach will help tailor instruction to meet individual student needs.

Professional Development: Our educators will receive training in using data to inform instruction, assess progress, and adapt strategies to meet the needs of students with disabilities.

Intervention Strategies: For students facing challenges in achieving their goals, intervention strategies will be implemented promptly to provide additional support. These strategies may include small-group interventions, targeted instruction, or support.

Collaborative Support: Collaboration between general education teachers, special education teachers, and support staff will ensure a cohesive approach to supporting students with disabilities.

Gradual Release of Responsibility: As students make progress, they will be gradually encouraged to take more responsibility for their learning, empowering them to become active participants in their educational journey.
Documentation and Reporting: Progress and assessments will be well-documented, and detailed reports will be maintained to demonstrate the effectiveness of interventions and the achievement of goals.
Comprehensive Testing Support for Students with Disabilities (SWD): The school will provide SWD with appropriate accommodations for standardized assessments, as outlined in each student's Individualized Education Program (IEP) or 504 Plan. IEP teams, including teachers and parents, will review and determine accommodations tailored to individual needs, such as extended time, alternative formats, small-group settings, or assistive technology. Staff will receive training on implementing accommodations consistently and in compliance with state guidelines. Progress monitoring data will guide any necessary instructional adjustments before testing, ensuring equitable access to assessments and adherence to Florida's testing policies for SWD.
Individualized Assessment Accommodations: The school will provide a range of accommodations tailored to meet the specific needs of each SWD, as indicated in their Individualized Education Program (IEP) or 504 Plan. Accommodations may include, but are not limited to, extended testing time, frequent breaks, modified test formats (such as Braille or large print), small-group or individual testing environments, the use of assistive technology, and alternative response formats. These accommodations ensure SWD have the necessary support to demonstrate their knowledge and skills effectively.
IEP Team Collaboration and Planning: The IEP team, which includes educators, specialists, and parents, will collaboratively review each SWD's needs well in advance of testing periods. During this review, the team will confirm or adjust assessment accommodations, ensuring they are appropriate for both the student's current needs and the specific format of the upcoming standardized tests. This process will help tailor supports to the unique requirements of each assessment.
Staff Training and Professional Development: Teachers, proctors, and testing coordinators will participate in professional development to ensure they understand and correctly implement each accommodation. Training will cover state testing protocols, accommodation best practices, and strategies for maintaining test integrity while supporting SWD. Additionally, staff will learn to monitor student well-being during testing to create a supportive, stress-minimized environment.

Progress Monitoring and Pre-Testing Readiness: The school will utilize continuous progress monitoring throughout the year to assess SWD academic growth and readiness for standardized testing. Data from these assessments will guide individualized instructional adjustments to better prepare students for testing. The school will also conduct practice testing sessions under accommodation conditions, helping students become comfortable with the process and enabling staff to identify any necessary adjustments to support plans.

Adherence to State Guidelines and Compliance: The school will strictly adhere to Florida's Department of Education guidelines for testing accommodations for SWD, ensuring compliance with both state and federal laws, including the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act. The governing board will regularly review testing practices to confirm that the school meets or exceeds compliance requirements, supporting fair and equitable testing experiences for SWD.

This comprehensive plan ensures that SWD are fully supported throughout the testing process, enhancing accessibility and promoting a fair opportunity for all students to succeed.

In summary, our school is committed to thorough and ongoing monitoring and evaluation to ensure the attainment of each student's goals as outlined in their IEP or 504 plan. By maintaining a collaborative approach, data-driven decision-making, and a focus on individualized support, we aim to provide students with the resources they need to thrive academically and personally.

A. Describe how the school will meet the needs of English Language Learners as required by state and federal law, including the procedures that will be utilized for identifying such students, ensuring that they have equitable access to the school's programming and communicating with their families.

Enter description here

Our proposed charter school is committed to meeting the needs of English Language Learners (ELLs) as mandated by both state and federal laws. Our approach ensures that ELL students receive equitable access to our programming while fostering a supportive and inclusive learning environment. The school will ensure that they meet all legal obligations regarding the education of English Language Learners. Here's an overview of how we will address these requirements:

Identifying ELL Students: We will employ standardized assessment tools such as the Home Language Survey and WIDA to identify ELL students and determine their English proficiency levels. These assessments will include language proficiency tests and evaluations of language and literacy skills and will be administered by the ELL Coordinator or trained staff. Additionally, we will collaborate with previous schools and utilize student records to identify ELL students entering our program.

Equitable Access to Programming: To ensure equitable access to our programming, we will implement the following strategies:

ESOL Curriculum Integration: English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) instruction will be seamlessly integrated into the curriculum across subjects. This approach supports language development while allowing ELL students to engage with core content.

Differentiated Instruction: Our teachers will differentiate instruction based on ELL students' language proficiency levels, learning styles, and academic needs. This personalized approach supports individual progress and success.

Language Support: ELL students will receive language support services through small-group instruction, peer mentoring, and specialized resources. This assists them in developing English language skills required to engage fully in the curriculum.

Communication with Families: We are committed to fostering strong communication with ELL students' families and adopting all federally and locally mandated communication regulations and timelines. This will include but is not limited to:

Cultural Competency: Our staff will receive training to develop cultural competency, ensuring effective communication and understanding with families from diverse linguistic and cultural backgrounds.

Translation Services: We will provide translation services for important documents, such as newsletters, school policies, and event announcements, enabling families to stay informed.

Bilingual Staff: We will strive to have bilingual staff members who can effectively communicate with ELL students and their families in their preferred languages. Will also have an ELL interventionist for any language whose student population exceeds 15.

Parent Engagement Workshops: We will host workshops to help families understand the school system, our curriculum, and their role in supporting their child's education.

Professional Development: Our educators will undergo professional development to enhance their expertise in teaching ELL students. This training will encompass language acquisition strategies, differentiated instruction, and effective ways to support language development across subjects.

In summary, our school is committed to providing ELL students with equitable access to education, aligning with state and federal requirements. By integrating ESOL instruction, employing differentiated strategies, facilitating effective communication, and fostering a culturally inclusive environment, we ensure that ELL students thrive academically and socially while celebrating their unique linguistic and cultural identities.

B. Describe specific instructional programs, practices, and strategies the school will employ to ensure academic success and equitable access to the core academic program for these students, including those below, at, or above grade level.

Enter description here

Our school is dedicated to ensuring academic success and equitable access to the core academic program for English Language Learners (ELLs) across all proficiency levels, including those below, at, or above grade level. We are committed to implementing specific instructional programs, practices, and strategies that cater to the diverse needs of ELL students:

Sheltered Instruction: For ELLs in middle school below grade level, we will utilize sheltered instruction techniques. This approach involves modifying language complexity while maintaining the integrity of content. Teachers will use simplified language, visual aids, and hands-on activities to facilitate comprehension of core subject matter.

Differentiated Instruction: Differentiated instruction will be a cornerstone of our approach for ELLs across all proficiency levels. Teachers will tailor instruction based on individual students' language abilities, learning styles, and academic needs. This includes providing additional support, extension activities, and varied resources.

Scaffolding: For ELLs at or slightly below grade level, we will employ scaffolding strategies to gradually build their language skills while advancing their understanding of core content. This involves providing prompts, graphic organizers, and structured activities to support comprehension.

Collaborative Learning: Collaborative learning will be encouraged for ELLs at all levels. Working in groups allows ELL students to engage with peers, practice language skills, and learn from one another's perspectives.

Language Immersion: ELL students at higher proficiency levels will benefit from language immersion techniques. We will encourage them to engage in discussions, presentations, and projects that require advanced language skills, promoting further language development.

Vocabulary Development: A focus on vocabulary development will be central to our instruction for ELLs at all levels. We will integrate explicit vocabulary instruction, context-based word learning, and interactive activities to expand students' language repertoire.

Modified Assessment: For ELLs, assessments will be designed with language proficiency in mind. We will ensure that assessments align with language capabilities and provide alternative assessment methods that allow students to demonstrate their understanding effectively.

Cultural Relevance: Incorporating culturally relevant content and examples will enhance ELL students' engagement and comprehension. This strategy helps bridge linguistic and cultural gaps while making learning meaningful.

Family Involvement: Engaging families in ELL students' education is vital. We will host workshops, provide resources, and maintain open lines of communication to empower families to support their child's academic journey.

Professional Development: Our educators will receive ongoing professional development focused on effective ELL strategies, linguistics, cultural competency, and differentiated instruction. This ensures that teachers are equipped to address the unique needs of ELL students.

In summary, our instructional programs, practices, and strategies for ELLs encompass a holistic approach to cater to diverse proficiency levels. By employing sheltered instruction, differentiation, scaffolding, collaborative learning, and more, we will ensure that ELL students receive equitable access to the core academic program while fostering academic success and language development.

C. Provide plans for monitoring and evaluating the progress and success of ELL students, including exiting students from ELL services.

Enter content here

Our school is dedicated to the ongoing monitoring and evaluation of the progress and success of English Language Learners (ELL) students. Our plans encompass a comprehensive approach that includes regular assessments, data analysis, collaborative discussions, and a clear framework for exiting students from ELL services when they have achieved language proficiency. Here's an outline of our monitoring and evaluation plans:

Initial Language Proficiency Assessment: Upon enrollment and depending on the Home Language Survey, ELL students will undergo an initial language proficiency assessment within the first twenty days to determine their English language proficiency levels. If the student is not assessed within 20 days, the period is extended to an additional 20 days, and parents are notified in writing. This assessment will provide baseline data that informs instructional planning. (WIDA Screener)

Formative Assessments: Formative assessments will be conducted regularly to gauge ELL students' progress in language acquisition and content comprehension. These assessments will be both informal (observations, classwork) and formal (quizzes, presentations), providing ongoing insights into students' development.

Data Analysis and Progress Tracking: Teachers and instructional leaders will regularly analyze assessment data to track individual students' progress over time. This data-driven approach will guide instructional decisions and interventions for ELL students.

Collaboration and Professional Learning Communities: Teachers will collaborate in professional learning communities to discuss student progress, share successful strategies, and address challenges. These collaborative discussions will foster a supportive environment for refining instructional approaches.

Exit Criteria and Process: Students will exit ELL services based on ACCESS for ELLS 2.0 for the State of Florida. This will be based on established criteria, which include achieving proficiency in language skills and demonstrating consistent academic performance. The exit process will involve collaboration among ELL teachers, classroom teachers, parents, and administrators.

Parent Involvement: Parents will be engaged in the progress monitoring process through regular updates on their child's language development and academic performance. Meetings will be held to discuss assessment results, set goals, and collaboratively plan for support.

Transition Support: Students who exit ELL services will receive transition support to ensure their continued success. This may include ongoing monitoring, targeted intervention, and assistance in adapting to standard classroom expectations.

Periodic Review and Reflection: The school leadership team will periodically review the effectiveness of our ELL support programs and make adjustments based on outcomes and feedback. This ongoing review process ensures continuous improvement.

Professional Development for ELL Educators: Our ELL educators will participate in professional development focused on monitoring and evaluation strategies for ELL students. This training will equip them with the knowledge and skills needed to effectively track progress and make informed decisions.

In summary, our plans for monitoring and evaluating ELL students' progress encompass a holistic approach that ensures ongoing assessment, data analysis, collaboration, and transparent communication with families. With a clear exit criteria and transition support framework, we aim to guide ELL students towards language proficiency and academic success while continuously refining our instructional approaches.

D. Describe the staffing plan for the school's English Language Learner program, including the number of and proposed qualifications of staff.

Enter description here

Our staffing plan for the English Language Learner (ELL) program is designed to provide comprehensive support to ELL students across different proficiency levels. Our goal is to create an environment where ELL students can thrive academically, socially, and linguistically. The staffing plan includes the following components:

ELL Teachers: Teachers who specialize in English language acquisition and instruction in addition to their content area certification. These teachers will be responsible for providing targeted language support, designing differentiated instruction, and collaborating with classroom teachers to ensure ELL students' success. Proposed qualifications for ELL teachers include:

- A bachelor's or master's degree in English as a Second Language (ESL), TESOL (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages), or a related field.
- State certification in ESL or ESOL.
- Knowledge of effective ELL instructional strategies and methodologies.
- Strong communication skills and cultural sensitivity.

Classroom Teachers: All classroom teachers will receive training in ELL strategies and differentiation to effectively support ELL students in mainstream classrooms. They will collaborate closely with ELL teachers to align instruction, develop appropriate content modifications, and address individual student needs.

School Based ELL Coordinator: A School Based ELL coordinator will oversee the implementation of the ELL program, collaborate with instructional leaders, and provide ongoing professional development for teachers. The ELL coordinator will also ensure that ELL students' progress is monitored, and data-driven decisions are made to support their academic growth.

Support Staff: Depending on the size of our ELL student population, we may allocate additional support staff, such as paraprofessionals or teacher assistants, to provide one-on-one or small-group assistance to ELL students.

Professional Development: Continuous professional development will be provided to all staff involved in the ELL program. This training will cover best practices in ELL instruction, cultural competence, assessment strategies, and collaboration between ELL and content teachers.

Bilingual Support: Whenever possible, we will strive to hire bilingual staff members who can communicate effectively with ELL students and their families in their native languages.

Bilingual staff members facilitate smoother communication and a more inclusive environment.
Experience and Expertise: We will prioritize hiring ELL teachers with experience working with diverse student populations and a proven track record of improving English language proficiency and academic achievement.
Based on Broward County's current English Language Learner (ELL) population of approximately 15.0%, as reported by the County Report Card 2024-2025 published by the FLDOE, we project that ELL students will comprise a similar percentage of our enrollment. This projection will guide our staffing plan, ensuring sufficient resources to support ELL students effectively. Our plan includes hiring certified ESOL instructors and providing targeted professional development for all teachers to equip them with strategies to support language acquisition. Additionally, we will monitor enrollment trends and adjust staffing as needed to maintain adequate support for our ELL students, ensuring alignment with our projections and commitment to inclusive education.
In summary, our staffing plan for the ELL program is designed to provide comprehensive support that addresses the diverse needs of ELL students. Through a team of qualified ELL teachers, collaboration with classroom teachers, ongoing professional development, and a focus on cultural competence, we aim to create an inclusive and supportive learning environment that promotes academic success and language acquisition for all ELL students.

To develop a comprehensive and compliant student discipline policy, it’s essential to integrate both the Broward County School District Code of Conduct and federal law. Here’s how each element aligns:

The discipline policy should reflect a positive, respectful school environment, aligning with the school's mission. Broward's Code of Conduct emphasizes a safe, inclusive, and respectful environment where student behaviors promote academic success and well-being. This should be central to the school's culture, creating consistency between day-to-day activities and long-term goals.

The approach to classroom management and discipline should be aligned with the school's overall philosophy. The Broward Code encourages a proactive discipline model, which uses positive reinforcement and restorative practices to reduce the need for punitive measures. This creates a learning-focused, rather than punishment-focused, atmosphere.

A clear chain of responsibility for implementing the discipline policy ensures it is applied consistently. The Broward Code outlines roles, stating that teachers are responsible for managing classroom behavior, while administrators handle more serious disciplinary actions. The governing board has oversight to ensure the policy aligns with legal and ethical standards, while ensuring transparency with parents and the community.

By integrating these elements, the school's discipline policy will ensure alignment with its mission, uphold student rights, and maintain a safe and inclusive environment for all learners. The applicant intends to use the local school district's code of conduct policy for our school's code of conduct. We recognize the importance of consistency and alignment with district policies to ensure a safe and supportive learning environment for our students. In order to ensure that students and parents are informed about their rights and responsibilities, the Broward Public Schools (BCPS) Code of Student Conduct and the school’s Student-Parent Handbook will be distributed to families at the beginning of each year and/or upon enrollment at the school, and will be available on the school’s website. To ensure full compliance with the BCPS Code of Student Conduct, Summit Academy Charter School III will implement the following strategies:

Adoption of the Latest BCPS Code of Student Conduct: Summit Academy Charter School III will adopt the most current version of the BCPS Code of Student Conduct and will annually review it to ensure all policies, including SESIR (School Environmental Safety Incident Reporting) codes, are up to date. The school will incorporate any updates from BCPS to ensure that its discipline policies are fully aligned with district requirements. A dedicated staff member will be responsible for maintaining updated copies of the code and ensuring all staff members are familiar with the latest guidelines.

Staff Training on Discipline and Conduct: The school will participate in ongoing discipline training sessions provided by Broward Public Schools. This will include attending mandatory district discipline updates, professional development sessions, and any workshops related to behavior management and student discipline throughout the school year. These trainings will ensure that staff are well-versed in the latest discipline protocols and capable of implementing them effectively.

Implementation of SESIR Codes: Summit Academy Charter School III will use the most up-to-date SESIR codes as outlined by Broward Public Schools. Regular audits of SESIR data will be conducted to ensure accurate reporting and compliance with state and district guidelines.

Monitoring and Review of Discipline Procedures: The school will establish a system to regularly monitor adherence to the BCPS Code of Student Conduct. This includes reviewing discipline data, implementing corrective actions, and revisiting policies as needed to maintain compliance. The school's administrative team will meet quarterly to evaluate discipline procedures and make necessary adjustments to align with district expectations.

As a charter school operating within Broward County, we adhere to Florida Statutes regarding student discipline while maintaining our autonomy in developing specific policies. When a student is suspended or recommended for expulsion, we follow procedures outlined in Section 1006.09, Florida Statutes, which governs due process for student discipline.

In cases of suspension, the student will be informed of the reasons for the suspension and given the opportunity to respond. If the suspension is for a period of less than 10 days, the principal or their designee will notify the parent or guardian within 24 hours. Summit Academy Charter School III recognizes that only the Broward County School Board has the authority to expel a student. If a student is suspended for more than 10 days, or if expulsion is recommended, the school will provide written notice to the parent or guardian, and the student will be referred to the Broward County School Board with a recommendation for expulsion. In this event the school will work collaboratively with the school district to develop a plan for providing services to students who are out of school for more than ten days.

A student shall be subject to involuntary withdrawal from the school if (a) the student commits a material violation of the Broward County Code of Student Conduct (such as a Level III or IV offense), which complies with IDEA, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, and the Americans with Disabilities Act for students with disabilities, and (b) if applicable, it has been determined, through the procedures contained in Florida Admin. Code R. 6A-6.03312, that a student's behavior is not a manifestation of the student's disability or (c) the student fails to maintain eligibility, such as residency requirements. The school's dismissal policy affords students with due process, including written notice and an opportunity to challenge the grounds for removal. Summit Academy Charter School III's dismissal policy is more thoroughly described in the school's Student-Parent Handbook, which is included as Attachment G.

The school shall not withdraw a student involuntarily for poor academic performance or for a minor infraction of the Code of Conduct. Summit Academy Charter School III will ensure that no pressure, coercion, negotiation or other inappropriate inducement will be used to attempt to have parents or guardians withdraw students from the school.

For students with disabilities, all actions for dismissal shall be in compliance with IDEA, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, the ADA, and Florida law, including Florida Admin. Code R. 6A-6.03312.

By adopting these measures, Summit Academy Charter School III will ensure compliance with the Broward Public Schools Code of Student Conduct and maintain high standards of discipline and student behavior management. For additional information, please refer to the Student Code of Conduct found in Attachment G.

Enter explanation here

The school's plan for recruitment, selection, and development of a highly qualified and appropriately certified instructional staff is comprehensive and aligned with applicable federal laws, state requirements, and the school's design. This plan aims to ensure that the teaching staff is well-equipped to deliver high-quality education that aligns with the school's mission and goals.

Recruitment: The school will implement a rigorous and targeted recruitment strategy to attract highly qualified educators who align with the school's values and vision. The strategy will include advertising positions through various channels such as educational job boards, social media, and networking events. The school will actively seek out educators who have a passion for humane sciences and possess a strong commitment to student success.

Selection: The school will be nonsectarian in its programs, admission policies, employment practices, and operations. The selection process will involve a thorough evaluation of candidates' qualifications, experience, and alignment with the school's mission. A selection committee, consisting of school administration, curriculum specialists and lead teachers, will review applications and conduct interviews. Certification and Qualifications: The school will adhere to all applicable federal and state laws related to teacher certification. All instructional staff members will be required to hold the appropriate certifications and qualifications for their respective subject areas. The school will verify certifications and conduct background checks to ensure compliance with legal requirements. Some teachers will be dual certified and act in the capacity of more than one role. Professional Development: The school is committed to providing continuous professional development opportunities for its instructional staff. These opportunities will focus on enhancing teaching skills, staying updated on the latest educational practices, and aligning with the school's curriculum and pedagogical approach. Professional development will include workshops, seminars, conferences, and collaborative learning experiences.

As per Sherry Richmond, Human Resources Administrator:
Section E: Certification and Qualifications: It is stated in this section "All instructional staff members will be required to hold the appropriate certifications and qualifications for their respective subject areas.
Section P: Based on review of attachment P, the qualifications of guidance/school counselor indicates a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution. This is not correct as FLDOE requires a master's or higher degree with a graduate major in guidance and counseling or school counseling that includes a minimum of a six-hundred clock hours of supervised internship serving school-aged students in a prekindergarten, an elementary or a secondary school setting. Or, under Plan 2 a master's or higher degree with a graduate major in counseling other than guidance and counseling or school counseling that includes the a minimum of a six-hundred clock hours of supervised internship with school-aged children and their families with at least nine (9) semester hours of graduate credits in specific courses outlined at https://www.fldoe.org/teaching/certification/certificate-subjects/administrative-rules/6a-4-0181.stml. The job description should address the responsibilities of conducting behavioral threat assessments (BTAs) and suicide threat assessments (SRAs). If not able to secure a candidate certified or eligible for FLDOE certification in school counseling PK-12, can consider hiring a Department of Health (DOH) registered mental health counselor or FLDOE certified school social worker or school psychologist to fill this role since they can conduct BTAs and SRAs.

Section Q: Indicated under teacher job description in qualification section the following: "ESOL certified or endorse (this qualification may be waived in special situtations..." Teachers identified out-of-field for esol must get in compliance by completing the required training based on subject area being taught which is outlined in Florida State Statute 1012.42 (2) and 6A-1/0503 (3)(b)(1-3) and at https://www.browardschools.com/bcps-departments/human-resources/certification/esol-compliance-and-training-information

The Performance Salary Schedule (merit pay) includes salary adjustments for performance, which become a lasting part of the employee's base salary and includes salary supplements for specified job assignments or duties, but only remain in effect while the employee is performing those duties or assignments. The communities in Broward County vary in terms of racial and ethnic diversity, with some areas being less diverse than others. Understanding this, the school is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive learning environment that reflects the racial and ethnic composition of the community it serves. Our approach to achieving racial and ethnic balance aligns with the principles outlined in section 1002.33(7)(a)8., F.S., and is guided by a comprehensive plan that prioritizes equity and representation. Here's how we will achieve a racial/ethnic balance reflective of the community:

C. Describe the school's proposed enrollment policies and procedures, including an explanation of the enrollment timeline, any preferences for enrollment and lottery process. Provide proposed enrollment application as Attachment S.

Enter content here

Summit Academy Charter School III will implement transparent and equitable enrollment policies and procedures to ensure all students have an opportunity to apply. The enrollment process will begin with an open application period, which will be advertised through various channels, including the school's website, social media, and community outreach efforts.

Enrollment preferences will be given in accordance with s. 1002.33 (10)(d), F.S., including siblings of currently enrolled students, children of school employees and governing board members, children of an active-duty member of any branch of the United States Armed Forces, and children of a safe-school officer.

If the number of applications exceeds available seats, the school will hold a randomized lottery to determine admissions. The lottery will be conducted in a fair and transparent manner, with selected students notified and provided with a timeline to accept or decline their offer of admission. After the lottery, if any seats remain, they will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis.

The lottery process at Summit Academy Charter School III will be conducted in a fair and transparent manner when the number of applications exceeds available seats. Here's how the lottery will be handled:

- Open Application Period: Families will have a designated timeframe to submit enrollment applications. Applications received after the deadline will be added to the waitlist and considered only after all lottery-selected students have been placed.
- Public Lottery Drawing: If there are more applicants than available seats, a random lottery drawing will be held. The lottery will be open to the public, ensuring transparency, and may be conducted electronically or through a manual drawing process.
- Preferences: In accordance with state laws, enrollment preferences will be applied first. These preferences may include siblings of current students, children of staff, and students of military families, as applicable. Students who meet these criteria will be placed before the general pool of applicants is considered.
- Random Selection: After preferences are applied, the remaining seats will be filled through a random selection process. Each applicant in the general pool will have an equal chance of being selected.
- Waitlist: Once all available seats are filled, additional applicants will be placed on a waitlist in the order they were drawn. Should seats become available, students on the waitlist will be offered admission in the order they appear.

- Notification and Acceptance: Families of selected students will be notified of their acceptance and given a specified amount of time to confirm their child's enrollment. If they decline or fail to respond within the given timeframe, the seat will be offered to the next student on the waitlist.

This process ensures that admissions are handled fairly while maintaining compliance with state laws and the school's policies.
The proposed enrollment timeline and all application procedures will be made publicly available, ensuring families have clear guidance on how and when to apply in accordance with the law.
The proposed enrollment application is attached as Attachment S.

Include a description of how the dispute resolution procedures are designed to resolve and protect the rights of parents as enumerated in ss. 1001.42(8)(c)1.-6., 1002.20 and 1014.04, F.S.

The appointment of a representative to facilitate parental involvement and address parental concerns is a crucial aspect of our commitment to fostering a collaborative and inclusive school community. Our process is designed to ensure that parents have access to accurate information, a platform for resolving disputes, and a voice in their children's education. Here is an outline of the process and dispute resolution procedures:

Appointment of Parent Representative: The Governing Board will appoint an experienced and qualified individual to serve as the Parent Representative. The Parent Representative's role is to act as a liaison between parents, the school administration, and the Governing Board.

Communication and Access to Information: The Parent Representative will maintain an open line of communication with parents, providing them with accurate and timely information related to school matters. Regular updates will be provided through newsletters, emails, meetings, and other communication channels.

Dispute Resolution Procedures:

- Informal Resolution: Parents are encouraged to address concerns informally with the relevant teacher or staff member directly involved. If the concern remains unresolved, parents can reach out to the Parent Representative for assistance.
- Formal Dispute Resolution: If an issue remains unresolved after the informal stage, parents can formally present their concern to the Parent Representative. The Parent Representative will review the matter, gather information, and facilitate communication between the parties involved.
- Mediation: If resolution is not achieved through direct communication, the Parent Representative may suggest mediation as a voluntary and confidential process. Mediation involves an impartial third party who helps facilitate communication and assists in finding a mutually acceptable solution.
- Rights Protection: Throughout the process, parents' rights enumerated in relevant Florida statutes (ss. 1001.42(8)(c)1.-6., 1002.20, and 1014.04, F.S.) will be protected, including the right to express concerns without fear of retaliation and the right to a fair and impartial resolution process.
- Transparency and Communication: Parents will be informed of the progress of their concern's resolution at each stage of the process. The Parent Representative will maintain open communication with parents and ensure that their voices are heard.

By establishing a clear and comprehensive process, we aim to create an environment where parents feel empowered, informed, and confident in their ability to raise concerns and engage in meaningful dialogue. Our priority is to work collaboratively to address parental concerns while safeguarding the rights and well-being of all parties involved.
All parents have the right to seek relief for a concern regarding a student's welfare under §1001.42(8)(c)1-6, Fla. Stat., and to request appointment of a special magistrate if those concerns are unresolved.
This includes any complaints or disputes related to the following:

- Concerns over a change in the student's services or monitoring related to the student's mental, emotional, or physical health or well-being and the school's ability to provide a safe and supportive learning environment for the student.
- Concerns related to any school policies or procedures that are perceived to discourage or prohibit parental notification of and involvement in critical decisions affecting a student's mental, emotional, or physical health or well-being.
- Concerns over classroom instruction related to sexual orientation or gender identity, which is prohibited in grades K-8 and must be age-appropriate for all other grades.
- Concerns over student support services training developed or provided to school personnel that is believed to be out of compliance with guidelines, standards, and frameworks established by the Florida Department of Education.
- Concerns over parental notification at the beginning of the school year about healthcare services offered by the school, including the ability to opt-out or withhold consent for any such services.
- For grades kindergarten through third only, concerns over whether the school provided a well-being questionnaire or health screening form to the parent and sought their permission before it was administered to the student.

Any complaints presented by a parent related to concerns summarized above shall be addressed in the following manner: The parent shall notify the principal of any concerns related to the above areas. The principal (or designee) will provide a response to the parent within seven (7) days. If the parent remains aggrieved, the parent may present the dispute to the Broward County School District. The school district must attempt to resolve the dispute within thirty (30) days. If the dispute remains unresolved, a parent may request the appointment of a special magistrate utilizing the "Parental Request for Appointment of a Special Magistrate for Charter School Students." Parents will be provided information regarding where to get the form. For the purposes of this policy, "days" shall mean business days and exclude state, federal and school holidays.
The school shall fully cooperate in the school district's resolution procedures and comply with the school district's decision for resolution of the complaint. The principal shall be responsible for responding to inquiries by the Florida Department of Education regarding a request for appointment of a special magistrate and shall notify the Department of the principal's name and email address.

Describe the school's plan for transportation to ensure that transportation is not a barrier to equal access for all students residing within a reasonable distance of the school, s. 1002.33(20)(c) F.S.

Enter description here

Our school recognizes the importance of ensuring equal access to education for all students, regardless of their transportation needs. We have developed a comprehensive transportation plan and shall cooperate with the sponsor to ensure that transportation is not a barrier to equal access for all students residing within a reasonable distance (2 to 4 miles) of the school, as outlined in section 1002.33(20)(c) F.S. Here's an overview of our transportation plan:

Transportation Eligibility Assessment: We will assess the transportation needs of students by gathering information on student addresses and distances from the school.

Route Planning: Based on the data collected, we will design transportation routes that cover neighborhoods where students reside, ensuring efficient and convenient pick-up and drop-off points. Bus stops will be strategically located at safe and easily accessible points within the neighborhoods, reducing the need for long walks or inconvenient travel.

Collaboration with Transportation Providers: We will collaborate with local transportation providers, including school bus companies and public transportation authorities, to determine available options and services. The Management Company also has busses that they own and are willing to provide to the school for the initial five (5) years.

Transportation Schedules: Clear transportation schedules will be established, communicated to parents and students, and regularly updated.

Consideration of Student Needs: We will accommodate the needs of students with disabilities or special circumstances, ensuring that transportation is accessible and comfortable for all.

Communication and Information: Parents will receive detailed information about transportation routes, schedules, and procedures, ensuring transparency and ease of planning.

Parent Engagement: Parents will have the opportunity to provide input and feedback on transportation preferences, helping us tailor the transportation plan to their needs.

Alternative Transportation Options: For families living further away from the school, we will explore options such as providing carpool group information or providing information on public transportation routes without incurring liability or responsibility for these services.

Continuous Evaluation: We will continuously evaluate the effectiveness of our transportation plan, seeking feedback from parents and students to make necessary adjustments.

Our goal is to ensure that transportation does not pose a barrier to students' equal access to education. By providing safe, reliable, and accessible transportation options, we aim to support the diverse needs of our student population and promote an inclusive learning environment.

3. Food Service

Reviewer Instructions

The Food Service section should describe how the school will address these services for its student body.

Statutory Reference(s):
s. 1002.33(20)(a)1.
Evaluation Criteria:
A response that meets the standard will present:

- A food service plan that will serve all students and makes particular provisions for those students who may qualify for free or reduced price lunch.
- A food service plan that places an emphasis on quality, healthy foods.

Form Result

Describe the school's plan for food services, including any plans for contracting services or plans to participate in the National School Lunch Program. Explain how the school's food service plan will ensure healthy, well-rounded meals for students.

Enter description here

Our school is dedicated to providing students with nutritious and well-rounded meals that support their overall health and well-being. Our food services plan encompasses a holistic approach to ensure the availability of healthy meals and promote positive eating habits among students. All meals will be distributed to students using a point-of-sale accountability procedure. Here's an overview of our food services plan:

Nutrient-Rich Menu Planning: Our food services team collaborates with nutritionists and experts to design a menu that emphasizes nutrient-rich foods, incorporating a variety of fruits, vegetables, lean proteins, whole grains, and dairy products. For the past 4 years, the Board has partnered with nutritionist Severine Johnson for the meals of the school being replicated, Summit Academy.

Balanced Meals: Each meal will be designed to provide quality, healthy foods through a balanced combination of macronutrients and essential vitamins, ensuring students receive the necessary fuel for optimal physical and cognitive development. Meals will meet state and federal requirements including USDA Dietary Guidelines.

Local and Organic Options: We will strive to source locally grown and organic ingredients whenever possible, supporting local farmers and providing students with fresh, high-quality produce.

Reduced Processed Foods: Our menu will minimize the use of highly processed foods and artificial additives, focusing on whole foods to promote better health.

Allergen Considerations: We will accommodate students with food allergies and dietary restrictions, offering alternative options and ensuring a safe dining environment.

Student Involvement: Students' preferences and feedback will be taken into consideration when planning the menu, encouraging their active participation in choosing healthy meal options.

Nutrition Education: We will incorporate nutrition education into our curriculum, teaching students about the importance of balanced diets and making informed food choices.

Meal Presentation: Our food services team will ensure that meals are visually appealing and appetizing, encouraging students to try new foods and explore diverse flavors.

National School Lunch Program (NSLP): We will participate in the NSLP to provide students with access to federally funded, subsidized meals that meet nutritional guidelines. The school will implement an application and verification plan and during the verification period, the confirmation of eligibility for free and reduced priced meal benefits under the NSLP will be completed. The current population of economically disadvantaged students in Broward County is 77.8%. The school will process all NSLP applications and adhere to program operation and record keeping requirements. The school will disseminate lunch applications to all students upon enrollment and will have applications available throughout the year. If the school's application as a sponsor under the NSLP is not approved in time, the school will enter into a piggy-back agreement for the initial year.

Contracting Food Services: We will be contracting food services to experienced providers who share our commitment to nutrition and quality. As required by the NSLP, vendors will be selected by an open competitive process as prescribed by the USDA and the Florida Department of Agriculture. Vendors will be required to submit evidence of approval as a food service vendor for the NSLP.

Regular Menu Evaluation: Our food services plan will undergo regular evaluation to assess the nutritional value, variety, and overall quality of meals.

Parent and Community Engagement: We will involve parents and the community in the food services planning process, seeking input and collaboration to ensure a comprehensive approach.

The school facility will include a lunchroom, or, at a minimum, a seating area that meets nutritional and sanitation standards. The school will arrange for health inspections and shall maintain all required permits for food service.

Our food services plan aims to create an environment where students can enjoy nutritious, appealing meals that contribute to their well-being and academic success. By fostering healthy eating habits and providing access to wholesome foods, we are dedicated to nourishing our students' bodies and minds.

Outline the plan for school safety and security for students, staff, the facility, and property, especially as it relates to the applicable provisions in the Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School Public Safety Act.
Specifically:

A. Describe what steps the school would take to assure there is a safe-school officer present while school is in session, pursuant to section 1006.12, F.S.

Enter description here

The safety and security of our students, staff, and the school community are of paramount importance. The school will adhere to all school safety requirements applicable to charter schools, including the requirements set forth in Florida Admin. Code R. 6A-1.0017, 6A-1.0018, and 6A-1.0019, s. 1006.12 F.S and all applicable statutes. To ensure a safe learning environment, we have developed a comprehensive plan to have a qualified safe-school officer present while school is in session, in accordance with s. 1006.12, F.S. Here are the steps we would take:

Designated Safe-School Officer: We will designate trained personnel, such as a School Resource Officer (SRO) or security personnel, to serve as the safe-school officer.

Collaboration with Law Enforcement: We will collaborate with local law enforcement agencies to identify available officers who can fulfill the role of the safe-school officer.

Hiring and Training: If necessary, we will hire or contract a safe-school officer with the appropriate qualifications and training in school safety and security.

Roles and Responsibilities: The safe-school officer will be responsible for ensuring a safe environment during school hours, responding to security concerns, and collaborating with school staff and administrators.

Visibility and Presence: The safe-school officer will interact with and be visible to students, staff, and visitors, creating a sense of security and deterrence.

Emergency Preparedness: The safe-school officer will be trained to respond effectively to various emergencies, including lockdowns, medical incidents, and evacuation procedures.

Building Relationships: The safe-school officer will build positive relationships with students, promoting trust and open communication about safety concerns.

Crisis Intervention: The safe-school officer will receive training in crisis intervention and de-escalation techniques to address potential conflicts or disturbances.

Collaborative Approach: The safe-school officer will work collaboratively with school administrators, teachers, counselors, and support staff to address safety concerns and implement security measures.

Ongoing Training: The safe-school officer will undergo regular training to stay updated on the latest safety protocols and best practices.

Safety Drills: The safe-school officer will participate in safety drills, ensuring readiness for various scenarios.

Reporting and Documentation: The safe-school officer will maintain accurate records of safety incidents, interventions, and activities to inform future planning.

Communication with Law Enforcement: The safe-school officer will maintain open lines of communication with local law enforcement agencies to share information and collaborate on safety matters.

Enhanced Safety and Security: The school utilizes a comprehensive camera system throughout the campus to ensure the safety and security of students, staff, and visitors. Cameras provide continuous monitoring of high-traffic and sensitive areas, deterring potential incidents and allowing for swift response when needed. The camera system is strategically placed to maximize security while respecting privacy guidelines and adhering to legal standards.

Continual Improvement: We will regularly review the effectiveness of our safe-school officer program and make adjustments as needed to enhance security.

The school will adhere to the safety requirements outlined in s. 1006.07, F.S., including locking all gates and doors when not in use. If a gate or door is left unlocked, it will be actively supervised. Furthermore, the school, with assistance from the safe-school officer, will comply with all inspection and reporting requirements. All classrooms will have clearly marked shelter-in-place areas, and students will be informed of these spaces within the first 10 days of school.

Summit Academy Charter School III will actively promote the use of FortifyFL, the mobile suspicious activity reporting tool operated by the State of Florida. The school will ensure a link to FortifyFL is on its website, reference the service in at least two newsletters per year, and display posters on the community bulletin board. Furthermore, the application will be installed on all mobile devices issued to students, and the site will be bookmarked on all student-issued computer devices. The board of directors will designate one or more persons to receive tips through FortifyFL and maintain accurate, up-to-date contact information in the FortifyFL database. Advertising for FortifyFL will advise that persons who knowingly submits a false tip through FortifyFL may be subject to further investigation by law enforcement, and may be subject to criminal penalties. Within the first 5 days of each school year, students will be provided training on FortifyFL.

Our commitment to having a qualified safe-school officer present while school is in session reflects our dedication to maintaining a safe and secure learning environment. By working closely with law enforcement, providing ongoing training, and fostering positive relationships, we aim to ensure the safety and well-being of our students and staff.

B. Explain how the school will adopt an active assailant response plan and provide annual training on the plan, as required by section 1006.07(6), F.S.

Enter explanation here

The safety and security of our school community is a top priority, and we are committed to adopting a comprehensive active assailant response plan and providing annual training as mandated by section 1006.07(6), F.S. Our approach to this critical aspect of safety involves the following steps:

Active Assailant Response Plan Development: We will collaborate with law enforcement agencies, security experts such as School Guardians and State School Safety Inspectors, and stakeholders to develop a robust active assailant response plan.

Plan Components: Our plan will include detailed protocols for responding to an active assailant situation, communication procedures, lockdown procedures, evacuation routes, and guidelines for interacting with law enforcement. The plan will include plans and expectations for responding to an active assailant situation using three strategies: evading or evacuating, taking cover or hiding, and responding to or fighting back.

Tailored to School Environment: The plan will be tailored to the specific layout and features of our school building, ensuring that response strategies are effective in our unique context.

Training Materials and Resources: We will compile training materials, videos, and resources that support our active assailant response plan and provide a clear understanding of the procedures.

Annual Training Sessions: We will conduct annual training sessions for all staff members, including teachers, administrators, support staff, and custodians by October 1st of each year.

Participation of Law Enforcement: Local law enforcement agencies will participate in training sessions to provide insights, guidance, and demonstrations on responding to active assailant situations.

Hands-On Drills and Simulations: Practical exercises, drills, and simulations will be conducted to familiarize students and staff with response procedures and enhance their preparedness. The School will conduct all drills required under Florida Admin. Code R. 6A-1.0018(16).

Crisis Communication Training: Training will also cover communication protocols during an active assailant incident, ensuring effective coordination and dissemination of information.

Training for Students: Students will also receive training on age-appropriate safety measures and the importance of following instructions during emergencies. Maps showing fire drill escape routes will be posted in all school rooms and provided to students and staff upon request.

Scenario-Based Training: Training sessions will involve scenario-based simulations to replicate real-life situations and promote effective decision-making.
Family Reunification Plan: The board of directors shall, in coordination with local law enforcement agencies and local government, adopt a family reunification plan to reunite students and employees with their families in the event the school is closed or unexpectedly evacuated due to a disaster. The reunification plan will be reviewed annually and updated, if applicable.
Evaluation and Improvement: After each training session, we will gather feedback from participants to identify areas for improvement and refine the active assailant response plan.
Refresher Training: In addition to annual training, refresher sessions may be conducted throughout the year to reinforce knowledge and skills.
Community Engagement: We will engage with parents and the community to communicate our commitment to safety and involve them in the development and review of our active assailant response plan.
Continuous Updates: Our active assailant response plan will be reviewed and updated regularly to reflect the latest best practices and evolving safety considerations.
The school is fully committed to ensuring the safety and well-being of its students and staff. To achieve this, we are dedicated to complying with Alyssa's Law, which is aimed at enhancing school safety by implementing effective communication systems during emergency situations. Alyssa's Law requires schools to have panic alarms or alert systems that can quickly and discreetly notify law enforcement and first responders in the event of a threat or emergency. Additionally, the school will use the Florida Safe Schools Assessment Tool (FSSAT) to assess and address risks at the school. The school will implement recommendations made by law enforcement and first responders.
By adopting a thorough active assailant response plan and providing ongoing training, we are taking proactive steps to enhance the safety and preparedness of our school community. This approach reflects our dedication to ensuring a secure environment for learning and growth.

C. Explain how the school will establish a threat assessment team as required by section 1006.07(7), F.S.

Enter explanation here

Creating a threat management team is a crucial component of our commitment to maintaining a safe and secure school environment, in alignment with section 1006.07(7), F.S. and Florida Admin. Code R. 6A-1.0019. The primary purpose of the threat management team is to minimize the risk of violence at the school, and the team is responsible for coordinating resources and assessing and intervening with individuals whose behavior may pose a threat to the safety of the school.

Our threat management team will be composed of at least four individuals with diverse expertise, working collaboratively to identify and address potential threats. Here's how we will establish and operate our threat management team:

Team Composition: The principal will be responsible for appointing team members. Our threat management team will include key personnel with expertise in various areas, such as school administration, mental health, law enforcement, counseling, and student support. The team will also include a member with personal knowledge of the student of concern. Team members will meet the requirements of Florida Admin. Code R.6A-1.0019(4)(c).

Training: Team members will receive specialized training in the Florida Model, threat assessment procedures, identifying risk factors, behavioral analysis, and crisis intervention techniques.

Collaborative Approach: The team will work together to review and assess potential threats or concerning behaviors exhibited by students, staff, or individuals within the school community.

Information Sharing: Members of the threat management team will collaborate and share relevant information to gather a comprehensive understanding of the situation.

Early Intervention: The team will focus on early intervention and prevention, aiming to identify and address potential threats before they escalate.

Regular Meetings: The team will convene as often as needed to fulfill its duties of assessing and intervening with students whose behavior may pose a threat of harm to themselves or others, but no less than monthly. The team will maintain documentation of their meetings, including meeting dates, team members in attendance, cases discussed and actions taken.

Evidence-Based Assessment: The team will use evidence-based protocols to assess threats, taking into consideration behavioral indicators, social media activity, and other relevant information.

Decision-Making Process: Based on assessment findings, the team will collectively make decisions regarding appropriate interventions, referrals, and support services.

Student Support: For cases involving students, the threat management team will collaborate with counselors, teachers, and other support staff to provide necessary interventions and assistance.
Privacy and Confidentiality: The team will handle all information with utmost confidentiality, adhering to legal requirements and guidelines for sharing information.
Communication with Law Enforcement: If necessary, the team will liaise with law enforcement agencies to ensure a coordinated response to potential threats.
Documentation and Reporting: Detailed documentation of assessment findings, interventions, and outcomes will be maintained to inform future decision-making and review.
Continuous Training and Improvement: The threat management team will participate in ongoing training to stay updated on best practices and improve effectiveness of threat assessment processes.
Community Engagement: We will engage parents, students, and the community in understanding the role of the threat management team and promoting a collaborative approach to safety.
Regular Review: The threat management team's procedures and effectiveness will be regularly reviewed and updated to reflect evolving safety considerations and best practices.
By establishing a dedicated threat management team, we are proactively addressing potential threats and creating a supportive and secure environment for our school community. Our team's collective expertise and collaborative efforts will contribute to early intervention, prevention, and the overall safety and well-being of our students and staff.

D. Explain how the school will accurately and timely report incidents related to school safety and discipline as required by section 1006.07(9), F.S.

Enter explanation here

Accurate and timely reporting of incidents related to school safety and discipline is essential to maintaining transparency, addressing concerns, and ensuring the safety and well-being of our school community, as mandated by section 1006.07(9), F.S. We have developed a comprehensive approach to reporting incidents promptly and accurately. Here's how we will fulfill this requirement:

Incident Documentation: In accordance with the Florida Model Training, all incidents related to school safety and discipline will be promptly documented by staff members who witness or are informed about the incident. The principal, along with two or more staff members, will be trained in properly managing School Environmental Safety Incident Reports (SESIR). The School Safety Officer will also participate in FLDOE training to accurately report incidents.

Incident Categories: We will establish clear categories for different types of incidents, including bullying, harassment, fights, vandalism, and more.

Reporting Channels: Multiple reporting channels will be available to staff, students, parents, and stakeholders. This includes in-person reporting, written reports, online platforms, and dedicated email addresses.

Centralized Reporting System: We will implement a centralized reporting system where incidents can be documented and recorded, ensuring consistency and easy access to information. The school will ensure that all incidents which qualify for reporting under SESIR are reported to the FLDOE. More specifically, any incident occurring on the school campus, on school-sponsored transportation, during off-campus school-sponsored activities, or off-campus where the incident is accomplished through electronic means, if the incident substantially disrupts the educational process or orderly operation of the school, and which otherwise meets a SESIR definition, will be reported.

Incident Reporting Form: A standardized incident reporting form will be used to ensure that all relevant details are captured consistently.

Timely Reporting: Incidents will be reported promptly following the occurrence, ensuring that accurate information is documented while the details are still fresh.

Communication Protocols: We will establish clear communication protocols to ensure that relevant stakeholders are informed about incidents appropriately. This may include notifications to parents, staff, and appropriate authorities.

Incident Review and Analysis: Reported incidents will be reviewed and analyzed by designated personnel to identify trends, patterns, and potential areas of concern.

Privacy and Confidentiality: Confidentiality of sensitive information will be maintained in accordance with legal requirements when reporting incidents involving students.
Reporting to Authorities: If required by law or regulations, incidents will be reported to the appropriate authorities in a timely manner.
Communication with Parents: Parents will be promptly informed of incidents involving their children, ensuring open communication and transparency.
Annual Reporting: We will compile an annual report on incidents related to school safety and discipline, summarizing the data, trends, and actions taken to address them.
Continuous Improvement: Our reporting processes will be regularly reviewed and improved based on feedback, best practices, and emerging needs.
Stakeholder Engagement: We will engage with parents, students, staff, and the community to promote awareness of our reporting processes and encourage active participation.
By implementing a robust incident reporting system and prioritizing accuracy and timeliness, we are dedicated to promoting transparency, addressing concerns, and fostering a safe and supportive school environment for all members of our community.

D. Provide a detailed narrative description of the line-item revenue and expenditure assumptions on which the operating and start-up budget are based. The budget narrative should provide sufficient information to fully understand how budgetary figures were determined.

Enter content here

The operating and start-up budgets for the school are based on several key revenue and expenditure assumptions, outlined in Attachment X, to ensure a sustainable financial foundation during the initial years of operation. The primary revenue assumptions are based on projected student enrollment, with funding derived from per-student allocations through the Florida Education Finance Program (FEFP) and other local or state funding sources. The enrollment figures are estimated conservatively, with a focus on maintaining enrollment stability through effective marketing and outreach strategies. Additionally, revenue projections account for potential grants and philanthropic donations that may be secured in the first year, as well as possible reimbursements for federal programs such as Title I and IDEA. These revenue streams are projected with a degree of caution to ensure that the school can meet its obligations even if actual revenues fall short of initial projections.

On the expenditure side, the budget assumes essential costs for staff salaries, benefits, and operational expenses, such as rent, utilities, and instructional materials. Teacher salaries are based on competitive market rates, and the budget includes allowances for the recruitment of qualified staff with appropriate certifications. Operational costs are based on market research and historical data for similar schools, ensuring that the school can maintain quality facilities, technology infrastructure, and academic materials. Additionally, the budget includes start-up costs such as facility renovations, furniture, and initial marketing campaigns to establish the school's presence in the community. These expenditures are scaled according to the school’s revenue projections, ensuring that initial outflows are aligned with anticipated income, and will be adjusted if revenue targets are lower than expected. The budget also includes a contingency fund for unforeseen costs, such as legal fees or additional compliance-related expenses, to ensure that the school’s financial needs are met during its start-up phase and throughout the first year of operation.

E. Discuss the school’s contingency approach and plan to meet financial needs if anticipated revenues are not received or are lower than estimated. This may include budgets for 75% and 50% of revenue projections or a budget for whatever percentage the applicant considers the minimum percentage at which they could operate the educational plan presented.

Enter content here

If anticipated revenues are not received or are lower than estimated, the school will implement a contingency approach to ensure that financial needs are met and the educational plan can continue to operate. The school will prepare alternative budgets based on varying revenue scenarios, including budgets for 75% and 50% of projected revenue, as outlined in Attachments U, X, and Z. These contingency budgets will focus on reducing non-essential expenses, such as delaying capital expenditures, limiting administrative costs, and adjusting staffing levels to align with the reduced funding. In addition, the school will prioritize core educational services and ensure that funding is directed towards student programs and essential operational costs.

To further mitigate financial risks, the school will explore options for short-term financing, such as a line of credit or bridging loans, to cover any temporary cash flow gaps. The school will also actively seek alternative revenue sources, such as grants, donations, or additional student enrollment, to supplement the reduced funding. By closely monitoring financial performance and adjusting expenditures as needed, the school will ensure that it can continue to deliver its educational services even in the face of revenue shortfalls.

F. Explain in detail the year one cash flow contingency plan, in the event that revenue projections are not met (or not met on time).

Enter explanation here

In the event that revenue projections are not met or are delayed during the first year of operation, the school will implement a cash flow contingency plan to maintain financial stability. The plan will involve closely monitoring cash inflows and expenditures to identify any shortfalls early. If necessary, the school will reduce discretionary spending, delay non-essential capital expenditures, and temporarily defer or adjust staffing levels to align with available resources. Additionally, the school will explore options for short-term financing, such as a line of credit or bridging loans, to cover any gaps in cash flow until revenue targets are met. This proactive approach will ensure that the school can continue its operations smoothly while safeguarding its financial health.

Reduced budgets, as outlined in Attachment X, will serve as a guideline for adjusting expenditures if revenue projections are not met, ensuring that essential functions of the school are prioritized, and non-critical spending is minimized. The school will also work closely with its financial team to assess alternative revenue opportunities or additional funding sources that can help stabilize cash flow during the first year.

G. Provide monthly cash flow projections for the school's start-up period (i.e. from the date on which the application is approved to the beginning of the first fiscal year of operation) through the first year of operation.

To ensure compliance with Section 218.391, Florida Statutes (F.S.), in the selection process for an auditor, Summit Academy Charter School III will follow a thorough and transparent procedure in choosing a qualified auditor for the school's annual financial audit. This process will adhere to the legal and regulatory requirements outlined in the statute.

The school's governing board will establish an auditor selection committee consisting of members with relevant financial expertise, which may include at least one member of the governing board. The committee will be tasked with overseeing the entire selection process, reviewing proposals, and ensuring full compliance with Section 218.391, F.S.

The selection committee will develop clear, objective criteria for evaluating prospective auditors. Criteria will include qualifications, relevant experience with charter school audits, understanding of Florida public sector accounting, audit approach, and proposed fees.

In compliance with Section 218.391, F.S., the committee will publicly advertise a request for proposals (RFP) to ensure that all qualified auditing firms have the opportunity to submit proposals. The RFP will outline the scope of services and evaluation criteria in a way that ensures fairness and transparency.

After receiving proposals, the selection committee will evaluate each based on the established criteria. Proposals will be ranked according to the auditor's qualifications, experience, approach, and cost. The committee will then recommend the highest-ranked firm to the governing board.

Once the governing board approves the recommended auditor, the committee will proceed to negotiate the terms of the audit contract, ensuring that the terms are fair, compliant with Florida law, and align with the school's needs. The final contract will be submitted to the governing board for approval.
