Motion to approve made by Joanna Brace, seconded by Sebastian Trupiano. Motion approved unanimously.

4. New Business

4A. Arts and Culture Plan
Arts & Culture Manager, Ilana Lydia Holden, presented the Arts & Culture Plan, summarizing the ten-month development process, extensive public engagement, and the six long-term strategic priorities. Board discussion focused on ensuring the robustness of community input, clarifying how the plan aligns with the department's strategic plan, and balancing Buckeye's overall identity with the distinct character of individual neighborhoods. The Board expressed overall enthusiasm, with comments noting appreciation for the plan's inclusion of dynamic programming beyond static art. Joanna Brace made a motion to recommend the plan for City Council approval, which was seconded by Holly Roehl. Motion was passed unanimously.

4B. North Library Design
Library Manager, Liz Garcia, joined by architect Lee Swanson, presented the North Library & Community Center design update. The Board discussed desired features for the future facility, emphasizing the importance of flexible and inclusive spaces, separation of quiet and active areas, community meeting rooms, outdoor reading spaces, integration of public art, and considerations for diverse age groups and abilities. Members expressed interest in how community feedback from surveys and open houses would guide the architectural design as it moves into the next phase.

5. Community Services Director's Report

Community Services Director, Kelby Mieras, reported that the Events Division received multiple IFEA Pinnacle Awards, an economic impact study was presented to Council, and several recent arts and community initiatives were launched, including the unveiling of the "Four Seasons of Buckeye" mural and the Cultura en la Casa exhibit. The non-profit funding cycle concluded with recommendations for 19 partner organizations. Upcoming community events include Movie in the Park, the 86th Annual Halloween Carnival, and a cosmic trap shooting event.

6. Comments from Board Members

Chair Terry Vrabec: Thank you everyone for your presentations and comments.
Vice Chair Kathleen Rossetti: The Friends of the Library are huge participants in the Halloween Carnival. We hope to see you there!
Holly Roehl: Great presentation tonight. Can't wait to see the new library!
Joanna Brace: I'm so excited. It's a very dynamic period for Buckeye and I love to see the professionalism. Keep up the good work!
Riley Quinlan: No comment.
Anastazia McMurray: Looking forward to the new library, and smaller satellite libraries. I can't wait for the Halloween Carnival!
Sebastian Trupiano: I missed the Halloween Carnival last year and hope I don't miss it this year.
Jim Roth: While it is important that we have police, fire, and infrastructure, what we do is create community. I'm excited to see more.

7. Adjournment
