Library Director Report: August 2023

Director Meetings and Activities

I spent a significant amount of time in July administering to the Grutzmacher Collection Loan Agreement with the Mukwonago Historical and Museum Society. This included making updates to the Loan Agreement, executing the Agreement, creating a comprehensive inventory to attach to the final packet, creating a condition report to attach to the final packet, and creating signage for the Red Brick Museum as per the terms of the Agreement. Happily, the Village Administrator asked me to speak at the Rotary Club and I received great engagement about my presentation on the Grutzmacher Collection and the Library's compliance with NAGPRA.

I have begun to work on staff reorganization steps now that the Library Board has approved moving forward. I have finished writing all the job descriptions and am working on classing them using the tools provided by the Village. I surveyed all the libraries identified in our 2018 GovHR Compensation Study to find current compensation numbers. Nine of the 15 libraries responded which will provide good data in preparing the 2024 budget. On a logistical level, I'm working with Emily and Mary Jo to begin cross-training the Circulation Clerks on Thingery maintenance which will remove the basic maintenance from May Jo's job. In anticipation of cross-training the Circulation Clerks on inter-library loan procedures, Cathryn, Emily, and I are working with Bridges to be one of the first libraries in the system to implement improvements to the process via a new NCIP integration between our system and the WisCat state lending software. A lot of the work I'm doing now with the reorganization is the foundational pieces to allow me to start shifting duties and implementing new job descriptions later in fall.

I am conducting my staff annual evaluations now. It has created a weird schedule for this last year, but my staff has been understanding. With my own evaluation being on this new timeline, this will complete the Library's shift toward aligning evaluations with the budgeting schedule to enable implementing merit pay.

We have had a couple NAGPRA consultations scheduled in the last month. One consultation ended with the recommendation to contact several other Tribes who might be interested in the items under consideration, which resulted in further contact with other Tribes and requests for photographs from several Tribes. It's great that the Tribes are identifying cultural items under our control with the potential for repatriation, but it does create a lot of administrative work for me. One of the goals of the staff reorganization is to get an Associate Director of Collections & Programs who would be trained to be the point person on NAGPRA and the Grutzmacher Collection, with the Adult Services Librarian as backup. Not only would this get some of these administrative tasks off my plate, but it would create a clear chain of command and redundancy of knowledge and duties from the Director down two levels so that this important Collection and administration of federal law is always properly taken care of.

Circulation (Emily Ceithamer)

We're almost done with the Summer Library Program and with summer comes an increase of items being circulated. Even with the increase in numbers for summer, the circulation team did not miss checking in a single item from bin delivery in June (the report comes a month later). This is a huge accomplishment as we have an increase in items and an increase in patron visits.

We also had another big accomplishment in July. We had every single item put away on the shelves in mid-July!! This is the first time in the year and a half I have worked here that this has happened. Plus, the fact we were able to accomplish this in the middle of summer makes me extra proud. We're continuing to make things more efficient and with the increase in our shelving hours, these two things have helped us achieve this accomplishment.

We are saying goodbye to our summer shelver, Nick. He has been helping us shelve, empty bin delivery, and put holds away. He's been working 20 hours a week and has been a great help. This was my first summer with a summer shelver and it was instrumental in our success this summer.

2023 Summer Reading Challenge recap:

#participants: 855

#minutes read: 584, 439

#completions: 290

The Summer Reading Challenge may be over but reading encouragement for school-age children and teens continues with Beanstack's Back to School Reading Challenge for a chance to win a $50 gift card to Domino's Pizza. The challenge runs August 1-September 30, 2023.

Looking ahead to Fall, Bubble Boogie, Discovery Time, and Paws to Read return. Special events include Back to School Open Houses, Storytime on the Bus, a Barbie Show and Tell Storytime, a Superhero Show and Tell Storytime, a Pokemon Card Swap, Wildlife in Need, Trick or Treating at the Library, and two Tree Lightings. Plans are in the works to offer an Eclipse/Solar Telescope program and a Dinovember program. Stay tuned.

Reference and Adult Services (Chris Stape)

The Summer Reading Program is winding down, and I think it went quite well. Overall adult participation is up from last year and that includes the number of program completions, which is fantastic. I was worried about our Chopped Challenge contest as we hadn't received many entries, but as usual, they are starting to come in last minute now. I'm hoping our Community Photo Contest will be similar. During the summer, residents of the Haase House attended our biweekly Bingo events, and all in attendance seem to really enjoy them. Two weeks ago we had the largest turnout we've ever had for Bingo with, unfortunately, some folks turning away due to lack of seats. One of our most fun events this summer was a recent presentation by the garage band, Mourning Dayze. They have been together since 1965 and told stories and played music for 2.5 hours. Those in attendance were dancing and singing along—it really was a great time.

Technical Services and Thingery (Mary Jo Isely)

408 new items were processed and cataloged in July. Continued the reviewing & editing of the troubleshooting manual for Thingery items as well as the Tech Services Manual. Thingery returns are expending much of our time in Tech Services. Mondays we are predictably high in returns and taking on an average of 5+ hours to inventory, sanitize, and troubleshoot; and, that represents only 1 day of 5 in the week. Troubleshooting has also increased as we need to follow-up on missing pieces and haphazardly returned items (i.e. mixing kit parts & more tech related issues). An astronomy S.T.E.A.M. Ki, "Explore the Night Sky" was placed in circulation-the kit includes astronomy binoculars, a basic astronomy book and laminated sheets of common constellations. The influx in Thingery maintenance has put the weeding project on hold.

MetaSpace 511 & Technology (Nancy Aycock)

MetaSpace 511 has had a busy summer with programs for tweens and adults and makerspace appointments. Tween Maker Time was new this summer, and there was a great response from this age group. They learned printmaking, how to make polymer clay and Shrinky Dink jewelry, and how to create Cyanotypes (sun prints). The Thingery was a big help to the Cyanotype program, since it was cloudy outside, we checked out the large photo studio box and turned it into a darkroom with UV LED lights to expose the light-sensitive paper. Learning about an old photography process and a little about what a photography darkroom is like was new for the Tweens and they enjoyed the experience.

There has been a lot of experimentation with trying new ideas and projects in the makerspace by patrons and staff. We had a successful laser marking test which is exciting.

Since the laser is not powerful enough to laser engrave metal, we have to use a special marking spray (that has to be sprayed outside since there is not a spray booth in the makerspace). The spray interacts with the laser to leave permanent black marks on metal like stainless steel. We've experimented with this for a while and had a successful project. Lead Innovator Nancy also found a solution when a laser engraved pattern may not have cut through entirely in spots.

Using the tip from an artist patron Nancy purchased a jewelry saw and fine blades that could cut through the wood and acrylic.

Lead Innovator Nancy attended the Play Make Learn Conference in Madison, WI, in July and attended various sessions over two days. We can implement many great ideas from the conference in MetaSpace 511, like combining our STEAM Design Lab program with coding using technology and low-tech supplies, which will allow us to offer the combination of coding and STEAM design. Combining coding and STEAM Design will be helpful since we need more computers and staff than we have to teach these separately. There was also an excellent presentation about making the makerspace more inclusive and accessible, and Nancy brought back a lot of ideas and notes.

Community Engagement Coordinator (Eric Huemmer)

Community Engagement: July and the first few days of August saw the last half of our Summer Library Program. Again, we're fortunate to have the support of local sponsors as Jane and Chris contact our Summer Reading Challenge winners, with the aim of taking photos of the winners (if willing) so that we can thank our partners/encourage and grow next year. Director Armour asked me to prepare a Summer Library Program Feedback Survey which we launched at the end of July to learn how we can improve the program for next year.

We've seen some great outreach opportunities this month. Ms. Jane has received multiple requests for storytimes in the community: The Garden Market, Kid's Connection, and Mukwonago YMCA. Same, too, with building connections with new businesses: Oddwillow's Game Haven will be opening mid-August and they are excited to work with us on joint programming and events. We're also connecting with the Job Center of Wisconsin and Educators Credit Union to discuss opportunities to share further financial and job resources.

For our community groups out there, the Mukwonago Farmers' Market had a spate of Canadian Wildfire smoke and thunderstorms on the Wednesdays we were scheduled to attend, but the times we do make it we always feel welcome and we tend to get great turnout/engagement. As for Rotary, we had not one but two opportunities to speak: beginning of July we invited Angela Meyers from Bridges to speak to the Memory Cafes and Story Corp, and the end of the month, the Village asked Director Armour to speak to the Grutzmacher Collection and NAGRPA.

Events & Programs: For July, I ran Family Movies on Mondays that were well attended. Teen Dungeons & Dragons remained popular as ever with a growing waitlist. Teen Tuesdays saw varied results based on program themes that were chosen by our TAB; some like the LEGO Free Build were well attended, while others like the Video Game Social only had a few. We wrapped up with a Harry Pottery Escape Room (they escaped in 43 minutes).

Librarians from Bridges including myself, were invited by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction (DPI) to attend the Play Make Learn conference in Madison to run some D&D demonstrations for attendees. I attended some fantastic sessions when not running demos, as well as spoke on a panel about the Design and Use of Roleplaying Games in Educational Spaces, highlighting the growth of D&D at the MCL and how it helped revitalize teen engagement, leading to the formation of an active Teen Advisory Board. Every seat was filled with standing room only in the back!

Finally, we were invited to attend the National Night Out event by the Mukwonago Police Department. With it being our first time attending, we were excited to learn more about this annual community event - it was incredible! They had at least 1,000 people attend, with nearly half stopping by the Library's booth to answer silly questions, play some plinko for small prizes, and learn about the Library and our new Post SLP Survey.

The Library Board and the Public Records Law

Wisconsin's public records law provides that almost all records of state and local government (which includes public libraries) be available for inspection and/or copying by the public.

Responding to Requests

Your library must respond to all requests to view or copy public records made by any person (except most requests from individuals who are committed or incarcerated). The request need not be in writing, and the requester need not be a resident of the state. Generally, you cannot require the requester to give his/her name or the purpose of his/her request. Acceptable identification may be required only when necessary for security reasons or when required by federal law or regulation.

Public records requests must be responded to "as soon as practicable and without delay." Any denial of a written request for records must include a written statement of the reasons for denying the request and must inform the requester that the determination is subject to review by mandamus (a writ from a court ordering performance of an act) or upon application to the attorney general or district attorney.

What Records must be Made Available for Viewing or Copying?

Except as otherwise provided by law, any requester has the right to inspect or receive a copy of any public record. This applies to records in any format—paper, computer file, recording, email, etc.

An important exception to the public records law for libraries is the statutory prohibition on release of records that identify an individual who uses a publicly funded library (Wisconsin Statutes Section 43.30). This information can be released only with the consent of the individual or by court order, to other libraries for interlibrary loan purposes (under certain circumstances), or to a collection agency or law enforcement agency (in the case of delinquent accounts of any individual who borrows or uses library materials or services). Any record produced in response to a public records request that contains patron information in addition to information which must be disclosed must first be edited to remove any information which could identify an individual library patron, such as a patron's name, address, or phone number, and any release of records to a collection agency or law enforcement agency must be limited to the individual's name, contact information, and the amount owed to the library.

The law does not require public access to staff notes, drafts, and similar items prepared for staff personal use. Also excluded are purely personal property having

In This Trustee Essential

- Actions all boards must take to comply with the law—before and after receiving records requests
- Records that must be available to the public—and records that are confidential no relation to the owner's public office and material to which access is limited by copyright, patent, or bequest.

Records Custodian Responsibilities

Every public library board must approve a resolution designating one or more legal custodians to respond to public records requests. If the board has failed to make such a designation, the library board president and the director are responsible for responding to public records requests. The mayor, village president, or town chair of your community may have the option of appointing the legal custodian for library records. The records custodian(s) must designate one or more deputies to act in his or her absence.

The library board must also approve and prominently display in the library a notice identifying the legal records custodian(s), establishing the time, place, and method for requesting records, and indicating any copying costs. Generally, public records must be available for inspection during all regular office hours.

Personnel Records

Common law (judge-made law) allows the denial of certain requests for access to public records if the balance of interests favors nondisclosure. Some of the cases in which the courts have upheld nondisclosure involve certain personnel records of public employees; however, the Wisconsin Supreme Court has also held that personnel records are not automatically excluded from disclosure.

The records custodian is required to balance the public interest in disclosure of the record against the interests that may weigh against disclosure. See the League of Wisconsin Municipalities page on personnel records and the public records law for more information.

If, after conducting the balancing test, you determine that a requester is entitled to the release of personnel records or other records with information compromising the privacy or reputation of a person, you should contact your municipal or county attorney. It is likely that you will be required to notify the person who is the subject of the records and give that person an opportunity to contest the release of the records in court.

You should also be aware that employees and former employees have the right to inspect some of the records in their personnel file. The limits to this right are spelled out in Wisconsin Statutes Section 103.13.

If you receive any request for access to personnel records, requests for information about applicants for a library position, or any other request that involves personal privacy interests, it is recommended that you consult with your municipal or county attorney.

Personal Information Practices Act

This part of the Wisconsin public records law (Sections 19.62 to 19.80) requires state and local government organizations (including libraries) to develop procedures to protect the privacy of personal information kept by the organization.

Libraries (and all other government organizations) are required to develop rules of conduct for employees involved in collecting, maintaining, using, and providing access to personally identifiable information. You are also required to ensure that employees handling such records "know their duties and responsibilities relating to protecting personal privacy, including applicable state and federal laws."

Can We Charge for Copying and Other Costs?

You may charge a fee not to exceed "the actual, necessary and direct cost" of reproduction and mailing. A locating fee may be charged only if the "the actual, necessary and direct cost" of locating the records exceeds $50.

Records Retention

The law strictly prohibits destruction of records that are the subject of a pending or recently handled records request.

Municipal and county governing bodies can adopt ordinances that provide for the destruction of obsolete public records. However, the period of time for retention provided by these ordinances cannot be less than seven years for most records. Library system official records need to be retained at least ten years, as required by the Wisconsin Administrative Code.

Libraries are advised to adopt a record retention schedule. The Wisconsin Public Records Board has approved a retention policy that may be used by local libraries. A library board must first formally adopt the Record Retention Schedule, with or without modifications. Then, the Notification of Adoption can be completed and submitted, with two copies, to the State Archivist. Once the form is returned with approval of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin and the Wisconsin Public Records Board, the library may dispose of records in accordance with the approved schedule.

Tape recordings of meetings may be destroyed 90 days after the minutes have been approved and published, if the purpose of the recording was to make written minutes of the meeting.

Prior to destroying public records, you must give the State Historical Society at least 60 days written notice. The Historical Society may, upon application, waive this notice requirement. The Historical Society will preserve any records it determines to be of historical interest.

Penalties for Violations

An organization or legal custodian that improperly denies or delays a request may be ordered to pay the requester's attorney fees and other actual costs, besides damages of not less than $100. In addition, an organization or legal custodian that arbitrarily and capriciously denies or delays response to a request, or charges excessive fees, may be required to forfeit not more than $1,000 in punitive damages. In addition, there are criminal penalties for destruction or concealment of public records with intent to injure or defraud or for deliberately altering public records.

Discussion Questions

- 1. What purpose is served by Wisconsin's public records law?
- 2. Why are library patron records kept confidential?
- 3. If the local press requests records related to disciplinary action taken against the library director, must those records be disclosed? Why or why not?
- 4. How long do we need to retain library board meeting minutes? How long should we retain library board meeting minutes?

Records Retention Policy & Schedule for the Mukwonago Community Library

APPROVED: 10 October 2019 Page 1 of 12

Policy

Wisconsin legislative policy favors the broadest practical access to government. Providing citizens with information on the affairs of the government is one of the strongest declarations of policy found in the Wisconsin statutes.<sup>1</sup>

The Mukwonago Community Library Board of Trustees recognizes its responsibility to maintain the public records of the library and to make such records available for inspection and reproduction. The Mukwonago Community Library hence recognizes the importance of orderly management, retrieval, and disposal of all official public records, and the need for a documented records retention schedule adopted in accordance with the Wisconsin Public Records Law for local municipalities.

The Mukwonago Community Library Board has adopted and will adhere to the records retention schedule Record Retention Schedule for Wisconsin's Public Libraries, as recommended by the Wisconsin Public Records Board. This retention schedule establishes the timeframe for the disposal of records that are no longer required for administrative, financial, or legal purposes. The adoption of the schedule also enables the Mukwonago Community Library to dispose of records without prior approval of the Wisconsin History Society. The retention schedule remains in effect until June 12, 2027 or until it is formally amended or superseded.

Records created by the Mukwonago Community Library that are not included in the adopted Record Retention Schedule for Wisconsin's Public Libraries will then follow the Village of Mukwonago's records retention schedule.

The official records of the Mukwonago Community Library are retained at the Mukwonago Community Library located at 511 Division Street Mukwonago, WI 53149. The official custodian of the Mukwonago Community Library records is the Mukwonago Community Library Director.

The definition of a public record is found in Chapter 19.32 (2) of Wisconsin Statutes, and includes any document in any format that is created or received by, or comes under the jurisdiction of, the Mukwonago Community Library, that documents the organization, function, policies, decisions, procedures, operations, or other activities of the library. All records of the library meeting this definition are public unless they, or parts of them, are specifically exempt from disclosure under Wisconsin or federal law.

Records created and stored electronically are subject to the same retention schedule as their paper counterparts, along with the hardware and software necessary to access them. Duplicate files, duplicate copies, library materials, and community forms, booklets, or pamphlets originally intended for distribution are not considered to be official public records.

APPROVED: 10 October 2019

A public record may not be destroyed if any litigation, claim negotiation, audit, public records request, administrative review, or other action involving the records is initiated before the expiration of the retention period set in the Records Retention for Wisconsin's Public Libraries.

Upon request, all public records responsive to the request, and not exempt from disclosure, will be prepared within a reasonable amount of time and made available for inspection to any person during regular business hours at the library. Copies of requests may also be mailed or sent electronically. The requester of public records will be charged the actual cost of reproducing and delivering the information.

Whenever there is a doubt as to whether information may or may not be released in response to a public records request, the Mukwonago Community Library Director will seek the counsel of the Village attorney's office. Any denial of a public record request will include an explanation, including legal authority. If a public record contains information that is confidential or exempt from the duty to permit public inspection or to copy the public record, the Library Director will redact the confidential or exempt information and will make available all the information within the public record that is not exempt or confidential.
